MAYOR HARRY W. VINE

MAYOR VINE'S INAUGURAL ADDRESS

Napanee, January 2nd, 1950

To the Council and Citizens of the Town of Napanee:

With the starting of the year 1950 we have many problems to meet that will require careful consideration.

Each committee of the Council will have their own duties to perform and they should report on their activities to the Council from time to time and as often as is necessary. Necessity demands that our many public services should be maintained and where possible be improved, throughout the year.

The new problems coming up will require careful consideration and these problems should be considered and discussed by the Council as a whole before any decisions are reached.

Care of the major improvements received at the present time is the repair and rebuilding of many of our sidewalks and a careful survey of all walks should be made as early in date as possible so that such work may be carried out during the year.

The question of numbering the homes and properties in the Town was considered by the Council of 1949 and was referred to the Council of the year 1950. Further consideration and action is the duty of the present year's Council.

No. 2 Highway (Dundas St.), and No. 41 Highway (Centre St.), are badly in need of resurfacing and if the Town, acting in conjunction with the Provincial Department of Highways, can arrange to have this work carried out during the present year, at a cost which is acceptable, then the work should be done to save these Highways from further disintegration.

Once the estimates for the year are arrived at, I would strongly urge that no Committee overexpend its appropriation except in case of emergency and only then with consent of the Council.

For the protection of the public I feel that Police Committee should consider the purchase of a Police Car for use during the nights to aid the Police in the performance of their duties.

H. W. VINE, Mayor

HEALTH UNIT GIVES ADVICE CONCERNING ANAEMIA

During the school physical examinations carried out by the Lennox and Addington County Health Unit a number of children have been found to present an anaemic appearance. There are many kinds of anaemia, a common type being that in which there is insufficient iron in the blood. This is called nutritional anaemia and is usually easy to correct.

Foods rich in iron which will overcome this type of anaemia are liver, lean meat, egg yolks, raisins and vegetables. Sunshine also helps in getting anaemia.

The anaemic person appears pale, has a degree of shortness of breath on mild exertion. He tires easily and has lowered resistance to infection. Sometimes the fact that the blood in these persons carries a smaller amount of oxygen than normal blood. Many pupils often have difficulty in keeping up with the other students in their school work. In severe cases diet rich in iron is not sufficient and medicinal iron or liver extract may be used. A balanced diet usually provides sufficient iron will prevent nutritional anaemia.

Record Volume Business Done At Local Post Office

Public Mailed Earlier During Xmas Period

The extra heavy mail was handled with a great deal of dispatch at the Napanee Office, during the past Christmas season. This was partly due to the fact that the public heeded warnings to mail earlier and also to the efficiency of the Staff. The regular staff was also augmented by six additional helpers, some of whom had had previous experience, and every effort was made to keep abreast, each day, with the distributing and dispatching of the mail.

Over 125,000 articles were put through the cancelling machine between Dec. 14 and Dec. 24, an increase of 10,000 over 1948. In addition a great many articles were handstamped.

2,322 Parcels were mailed at the Napanee Office in the ten days before Christmas and 125 bags of mail received daily at the office. Two mails from the night trains were sorted and in the boxes by 8.00 and both afternoon mails ready for distribution by 4:30 each day.

During the Christmas season 123,800 one cent stamps were sold across the wicket, besides a number of three and four cent stamps.

Dan Hunt, R.R. 2, Napanee, appeared before Magistrate Garvin in Napanee Police Court on Tuesday of this week charged with intoxication, parked on the east side of East Street, opposite the Empey Apartments on the evening of December 29th. However, he said, he had made attempt to contact the owner of the car and later had driven to the Queen's Hotel that Hunt had been in the beverage room during the evening and had left between 10.30 and 11.00 p.m. Mr. Waller, the owner of the damaged car, said the accident must have happened between 11.05 and 11.45 and J. B. Allison who lives on East St., said he heard a crash at approximately 11.30 p.m. Mr. Hunt could not remember when he left the beverage room but thought it was about 11.00 p.m. He said that he went straight down East Street, and after the crash and his attempt to notify the Police, he went to his home which he reached shortly after 11.00 p.m. He claimed to have gone down East St., and thence across Bridge Street to the Town Hall. Parts of Mr. Hunt's car were found by Constable Benn and Constable Baker on East Street and later a search of the area revealed up on Thomas Street, east of East Street, and was found to be a missing part on Hunt's car.

Constable Benn said he was on duty at the corner of John and Dundas Streets from about 10.50 to 11.20 and did not see Hunt's car come down John Street and turn east on Dundas Street, as Hunt claimed to have done.

The Magistrate, after hearing the evidence, said there were too many things Mr. Hunt could not remember and emphasized the fact that after the accident he should have left his car where it was following the crash and should have made sure to contact the Police. In place of doing so, Hunt did not notify the Police until the next day at 9.30 a.m.

Damage to Mr. Waller's car was estimated at $166 and to Hunt's car at $80.00.

SERVICE STATION BROKEN INTO

On Thursday night or early Friday before Christmas morning, thieves gained entrance to the service station operated by Mr. Jack Ballance, on Dundas Street, by breaking a glass in the basement window and ransacked the cash register of $27 in bills and silver.

The discovery was made when the station was opened at 8 o'clock on Friday morning.

BOATHOUSE, BOATS DESTROYED BY FIRE $10,000 DAMAGE

A disastrous fire, causing damage estimated between $8000 and $10,000 occurred on Tuesday evening, December 27th about 11 o'clock when a large boathouse and workshop situated at the foot of West Street, belonging to Cecil Denison, was almost completely destroyed.

The fire was discovered by neighbors, who turned in the alarm. When the firemen arrived the dense smoke and flames prevented them from entering the building. The blaze was fought by removing the metal from the sides of the building. Two lines of hose from the pressure pump on the fire truck were used to quell the fire.

The building itself was badly gutted and three motor boats, a speed boat "Bluebird 2" a Hydroplane which was a Gold Cup boat and a metal boat, were destroyed in addition to a boat which was under construction.

As well as the loss of the watercraft, Mr. Denison had considerable machinery and boat building material destroyed.

Neither Mr. Denison or his helpers were in the building on Tuesday and when they left on Monday evening about 9.30, everything was in order. The Fire Marshall was asked to make an investigation.

Firemen Called To Vine's Corners

On Thursday evening about 8.00 o'clock the firemen were called to the residence of James Lloyd near Vine's Corners where an oil stove had exploded and ignited the upper part of the frame building. The firemen were hampered by the lack of water as the nearest hydrant is located a long distance from the scene of the fire.

The blaze was confined to the attic and upper storey of the building and considerable damage was done to the second floor ceiling and roof. The furnishings were damaged by smoke and charred wood.

DELEGATE REPORTS 'H CLUB CONGRESS HELD AT CHICAGO

The following is a short report from the delegate from Lennox and Addington County to the 4-H Club Congress held in Chicago at the time of the Chicago International Livestock and Seed Show, November 26th to December 2nd. This is the first time that any 4-H Club County in Lennox and Addington was present on this trip and it was made possible by funds received by a grant from the County Council towards the extension of Junior work in the county. Mr. Rendell was chosen on his outstanding ability as a Junior leader, having been President of the Napanee Junior Farmers, President of Local and District branch Young Peoples' Leader of a Boys' and Girls' Club, and active in 4-H Junior projects. It is hoped that further delegates from this county may be prepared to attend this Congress in recognition of outstanding ability and the use of same in Junior work. — W. T. Ashton.

"My Trip to Chicago"

Recently, with thirty other people from Ontario, I had the privilege of attending the 28th annual 4-H Club Congress held in the Stockyards Hotel in Chicago. This is the largest hotel in the world with 3,000 rooms and the view from the upper balcony along the park drives on Lake Michigan, was magnificent. During the whole Congress, each delegate could not help but gasp at the sights and marvel at the entertainment provided.

This Congress is held partly as a reward for achievements of the 4-H Club boys and girls and partly as an annual conference to promote renewed enthusiasm. Different companies such as the Thomas Wilson Meat Company, Dearborn Motors, Firestone Tire and Rubber, and many others, give scholarships of Three Hundred Dollars as well as pay expenses to Chicago for national winners in different projects. Most of the boys and girls at the Congress had won their trip by the past six or seven years in club work in order to win the honour of going to Chicago. Some of the projects carry on from year to year and particularly with cattle, many boys have a herd of their own, when they are old enough to have a home of their own. Projects for the girls are also far reaching and broad. One day there was a fashion show with the winner from each state wearing a dress, suit or gown designed and made herself and the fashions were every bit as lovely as those seen in a swank Fifth Avenue store. The winners were all under twenty-one, many of them fifteen, and sixteen, and they have some idea about what their club work he'ps them to create things for themselves. Some of the projects are in safety features on the farm; others in leadership work, and in this connection, it is a fine thing to see boys and girls seventeen and eighteen years of age taking charge of a meeting with some two thousand delegates in attendance. At the Congress, the delegates were made to feel they were "at" themselves and yet to recognize the importance of the other person in every aspect of life.

Throughout the whole event, we, as visitors, were made to feel as one of the delegates and we could not help but marvel at the planning and work that goes into a congress of this size. It is on top experiences of my life and everyone at the Congress had the same feeling as this trip can only be taken once by each person.

I should like an opportunity to share this experience with others. If your organization would like a report of the trip in further detail, I should be pleased to arrange a visit with your group.

Salvation Army Santa Claus Fund Hampe

$375 Subscribed Santa Claus Fund Before Christmas

44 Homes Given Hampers And Gifts

Napanee folks have done it again! This year as in other years the Napanee Salvation Army Santa Claus Fund has received support. A total of $375.00 was subscribed as per list, the value of $175.00 were also received. This, coupled with the many of used clothing and toys, made it possible for us to bring Christmas to the form of grocery hampers and parcels for forty-four homes in Napanee and district. What a pleasure it was to see the expression on the faces of the children when they received parcels. One little girl, as she overjoyed with the doll she had expressed her joy in the form of a resounding kiss on the cheek of Lieutenant.

On the Thursday before Christmas, Lieutenant Gardner's attention was drawn to a small family who lived in a little two-roomed shack. The family had just been increased by the arrival of a little baby girl on Wednesday and because of the lack of funds, the wee baby was born at home, and on Thursday, the day following, the mother was up and around, doing her own work. On entering the home the Lieutenant observed the mother's bed had no mattress and that only a blanket was being used as a substitute. With the help of Gerald Plumley a good used mattress was located and donated by a local business firm. A parcel of toys for the other little girl in the family, who is three years old, was also taken. It brought much joy and happiness to this little home and the mother expressed the opinion to her neighbor that this was one of the happiest Christmases she had ever known.

It brings to one a great deal of personal satisfaction to take part in the bringing of Christmas cheer into the homes of others less fortunate, and to each and everyone who contributed in making this year's effort the outstanding effort it was, Lieutenant Phil. Gardner of the local Corps of The Salvation Army, wishes to sincerely thank you. Please remember that Old will never be in your debt. His b'essing will be abundantly upon you and you will be repaid in happiness and in the satisfaction that comes with a knowledge of your practical interest in others, this Christmas.

God Bless You!

HEALTH UNIT GIVES ADVICE CONCERNING ANAEMIA

During the school physical examinations carried out by the Lennox and Addington County Health Unit, a number of children have been found to present an anaemic appearance. There are many kinds of anaemia, a common type being that in which there is insufficient iron in the diet. This is called nutritional anaemia, and is usually easy to correct.

Foods rich in iron which will overcome this type of anaemia are liver, kidneys, egg yolk, raisins and green vegetables. Sunshine also helps in correcting anaemia.

Another common appears pale. There was a degree of shortness of breath on mild exertion. He tires easily and has no reserve energy. The shortness of breath is due to the fact that the blood in these persons carries a smaller amount of oxygen than normal blood. These pupils often have difficulty in keeping up with the other pupils in their school work. In severe cases the blood is not rich in iron is not sufficient, even medicinal iron or liver extract may be used. A balanced diet and sufficient iron will prevent nutritional anaemia.

FOUND GUILTY LEAVING SCENE OF ACCIDENT

Dan Hunt, R.R. 2, Napanee appeared before Magistrate Garvin in Napanee Police Court on Tuesday of this week charged with leaving the scene of an accident. Through his counsel, J. A. Regan, Mr. Hunt pleaded not guilty to the charge. He was found guilty on the evidence and was ordered to pay $10 fine plus costs.

Mr. Hunt admitted in his evidence that his car had collided with a car belonging to Wm. Waller of Hamilton, parked on the east side of East Street, opposite Tommy Apartments on the evening of December 29th. However, he said, he had made an attempt to contact the owner of the car and later had driven to the Town Hall to report to the Police.

Evidence was given by Wm. Oke, a waiter in the beverage room of the Queen's Hotel that Hunt had been in the beverage room during the evening and had left between 10.30 and 11.00 p.m. Mr. Waller, the owner of the damaged car, said the accident must have happened between 11.05 and 11.15 and J. B. Allison who lives on East St., said he heard a crash at approximately 11.30 p.m. Mr. Hunt could not remember when he left the beverage room but thought it was about 11.00 p.m. He said that he went straight down East Street and after the crash and his attempt to notify the Police, he went to his home which he reached shortly after 11.00 p.m. He claimed to have gone down East St., and thence across Bridge Street to the Town Hall. Parts of Mr. Hunt's car were found by Constable Benn and Constable Baker on East Street and later a piece of chrome was picked up on Thomas Street, east of East Street, and was found to be a missing part on Hunt's car.

Constable Benn said he was on duty at the corner of John and Dundas Streets from about 10.50 to 11.20 and did not see Hunt's car come down John Street and turn east on Dundas Street, as Hunt claimed to have done.

The Magistrate, after hearing the evidence, said there were too many things Mr. Hunt could not remember and emphasized the fact that after the accident he should have left his car where it was following the crash and should have made sure to contact the Police. In place of doing so, Hunt did not notify the Police until the next day at 9.30 a.m.

Damage to Mr. Waller's car was estimated at $106 and to Hunt's car at $80.00.

SERVICE STATION BROKEN INTO

On Thursday night or early Friday before Christmas morning, thieves gained entrance to the service station operated by Mr. Jack Ballance, on Dundas Street, by breaking a glass in the basement window and ransacked the cash register of $27 in bills and silver.

The discovery was made when the station was opened at 8 o'clock on Friday morning.

NINTH ANNUAL GIBBARD CHRISTMAS PARTY

About 450 persons attended the 9th annual Gibbard Christmas Party held in the Showroom at the Plant on Friday evening, December 23rd. The giant tree and the beautiful decorations were more attractive than ever. Santa Claus visited the Party during the evening and brought gifts for 165 children of members of the Staff.

Mr. J. H. Moffatt was master of ceremonies for the evening, and after community singing, the General Manager, Mr. D. S. Roffey, spoke a few words of greeting. Mrs. J. McPherson, President of the Company presented 25 year service pins to four of the employees, Clarence Gilbert, James Lloyd, Walter Storey and Don McMillan. With these new members there are now 44 members in the Gibbard Quarter-Century Club. Presentations to Mrs. McPherson and Mr. Roffey were made by Mr. W. E. Geddings, on behalf of the staff.

Entertainment and music for the evening were arranged for by Don Scott and some of the employees participated in the program. Some highlights of the programme were a number of the Gibbard Entertainers, songs by Joe Jocko, and a group of Irish numbers by Herb. Gaulin. A number of the children also took part in songs and tap dancing.

Following the programme Santa Claus arrived and distributed gifts to the children. Refreshments were then served both in the Showroom and in the reception Room. The evening closed with a dance.

Commend Hotels For Early Closing New Year's Eve

B. F. Davy, Chairman of the Police Committee of the Town of Napanee, has sent out letters to the Hotelkeepers in the town, commending them for closing their beverage rooms at 6:30 p.m. on December 31, instead of at 11:30 p.m., as allowed by law.

The letter stated that this action resulted in less automobile accidents and drunkenness than had prevailed in other years, when the hotels kept open until the later hour.

BOATHOUSE, BOATS DESTROYED BY FIRE $10,000 DAMAGE

A disastrous fire, causing damage estimated between $8000 and $10,000 occurred on Tuesday evening, December 27th about 11 o'clock when a large boathouse and workshop situated at the foot of West Street, belonging to Cecil Denison, was almost completely destroyed.

The fire was discovered by neighbors, who turned in the alarm. When the firemen arrived the dense smoke and flames prevented them from entering the building. The blaze was fought by removing the metal from the sides of the building. Two lines of hose from the pressure pump on the fire truck were used to quell the fire.

The building itself was badly gutted and three motor boats, a speed boat "Blitzbird 2" a Hydroplane which was a Gold Cup boat and a mail boat, were destroyed in addition to a boat which was under construction.

As well as the loss of the water craft, Mr. Denison had considerable machinery and boat building material destroyed.

Neither Mr. Denison or his helpers were in the building on Tuesday and when they left on Monday evening about 9.30, everything was in order. The Fire Marshall was asked to make an investigation.

Firemen Called To Vine's Corners

On Thursday evening about 8:09 o'clock the firemen were called to the residence of James Lloyd near Vine's Corners where an oil stove had exploded and ignited the upper part of the frame building. The firemen were hampered by the lack of water as the nearest hydrant is located a long distance from the scene of the fire.

The blaze was confined to the attic and upper storey of the building and considerable damage was done to the second floor ceiling and roof. The furnishings were damaged by smoke and charred wood.

DELEGATE REPORTS 4H CLUB CONGRESS HELD AT CHICAGO

The following is a short report from the delegate from Lennox and Addington County to the 4-H Club Congress held in Chicago at the time of the Chicago International Livestock and Seed Show, November 26th to December 2nd. This is the first time a delegate from the County of Lennox and Addington was present at this big event and it was only possible by use of funds received as a grant from the County Council and the extension of Junior work in the county. Mr. Rendall was chosen on his outstanding ability as a Junior leader, having been President of the Napanee Junior Farmers, President of the Sunday School and Church Young Peoples, leader of a Boys' and Girls' Club, and active in all Junior projects. It is hoped that further delegates from this county may be prepared to attend this Congress in recognition of outstanding ability and the use of same in Junior work. — W. F. Ashton.

"My Trip to Chicago"

Recently, along with thirty other people from Ontario, I had the privilege of attending the 28th annual 4-H Club Congress held in the Stevens Hotel in Chicago. This is the largest hotel in the world with 3,000 rooms and the view from the tower balcony during the drive out to Lake Michigan was magnificent. During the whole Congress, each delegate could see the big game at the sights and marvel at the entertainment provided.

This Congress is held partly as a reward for achievements of the 4-H Club boys and girls and partly as an annual conference to promote renewed enthusiasm. Different companies such as the Thomas Wilson Meat Company, Dearborn Motors, Firestone Tire and Rubber, and many others, give scholarships of Three Hundred Dollars as well as pay expenses to Chicago for national winners in different projects. Most of the boys and girls at the Congress had worked for the past six or seven years in club work in order to win the honour of going to Chicago. Some of the projects carry on from year to year and particularly with girls many boys have a herd of their own, when they are old enough to have a home of their own. Projects for the girls are dressmaking and cooking. One day there was a fashion show with the winner from each state wearing a dress, suit or gown designed and made herself and, the fashions were very bit as fancy as those seen in swanky stores. These winners were all under twenty-one, many of them fifteen, and sixteen so you many have some idea how their club work helped them to become fine young people.

All the Congress the delegates were made to feel important in themselves and yet to recognize the importance of the other person in every aspect of life.

Throughout the whole event, we, as visitors, were made to feel as one of the delegates and we could not help but marvel at the planning and work that goes into a congress of this size. It is on

44 Homes Given Hampers And Gifts

Napanee folks have done it again! This year as in other years the Napanee Salvation Army Santa Claus Fund has received support. A total of $375.00 was subscribed in cash an new, toys value of $175.00 were also received. This, coupled with the gift of used clothing and toys, made it possible for us to bring C cheer to the form of grocery hampers and parcels for boys and forty-four homes in Napanee and district. What a pleasure it see the expression on the faces of the children who got their parcels. One little girl so overjoyed with the new dolly she had s expressed her joy in the form of a resounding kiss on the cheek Lieutenant.

On the Thursday before Christmas, Lieutenant Gardner's attention was drawn to a small family who lived in a little two-roomed shack. The family had just been increased by the arrival of a little baby girl on Wednesday and because of the lack of funds, the wee baby was born at home, and on Thursday, the day following, the mother was up and around, doing her own work. On entering the home the Lieutenant observed the mother had no mattress and that only a blanket was being used as a substitute. With the help of Gerald Plumley a good used mattress was located and donated by a local business firm. A parcel of food for the other little girl in the family, who is three years old, was also taken. It brought much joy and happiness to this little home and the mother expressed the opinion to her neighbor that this was one of the happiest Christmases she had ever known.

It brings to one a great deal of personal satisfaction to take part in the bringing of Christmas cheer into the homes of others less fortunate, and to each and everyone who contributed in making this year's efforts the outstanding effort it was, Lieutenant Phil. Gardner of the local Corps of The Salvation Army, wishes to sincerely thank you. Please remember that God will never be in your debt. His blessing will be abundantly upon you and you will be repaid in happiness and in the satisfaction that comes with a knowledge of your practical interest in others. this Christmas.

God Bless You!

POWER FOR THE CHURCH'S TASK

on Text: Acts 2:1-4; 14-17, 37-41

ver! We live in a power-mind- e. We ad power mad. More e powerful trucks and er politics too. More pow- more aggressive na ions nations of nations! We nad!

ver has to do with man's gned, his craze for ere are those who manipulate and drive is one of the most strife. Rarely is en as an end in ded for is the power which wealth enables those who possess it to wield. Power, economic, political, mechanical, financial is a characteristic urge of this age.

Then too we must not forget military power, bigger guns, bigger planes, bigger tanks, bigger submarines, bigger atom bombs, bigger armies. The race for power and more power has invaded almost every area of life.

The church has a tremendous task. It has set her hand to change the whole of life, by eliminating selfishness and self seeking by transforming society and by establishing peace, justice and love in the world That takes a lot of power. A movement so ambitious, so all-embracing must have plenty of resources, plenty of drive, plenty of dynamite.

It did not appear to have much strength on the start. It began with a few people. He came to show the purpose of God for mankind. He never wrote anything about his plan, he demonstrated it, and was put to death for so doing. But he started a movement in the world which will not cease until it is finally fulfilled, and peace and good will is established on the earth. He surrounded Himself with a few men to whom he entrusted the success of his enterprise. They were stunned at first with the enormity of the task. They did not know how they would ever get power sufficient for such an undertaking. They were told to wait and power would come. It seemed like a strange order — just to wait for power. Still, they obeyed and when the day of Pentecost was come they had received that for for which they had been waiting. They received Power from on high.

That waiting period was not wasted. The few disciples met in a little upper room for fellowship and communion on God." That phrase, "waited on God," is an old and honored one. It means something. In our day we have forgotten a good deal, at least on this continent we must be always on the go. We judge the success of our religious enterprise by the things it does. It would be unwise to discount the activities of a church and yet there is a need in this practical age for a new emphasis on the contemplative habits. After all we need power to achieve God's purpose, and we can get that power only by waiting on God. The old fashioned prayer meeting had a real place in the church life. It was a sort of a generating station to generate power to drive the whole church enterprise.

We have a tendency in our day to tell God what to do. We tell Him what we want. We all too often think of God as a sort of glorified Santa Claus, who lives and moves for our own particular benefit. A waiting on God is about the greatest necessity in our modern church life and it is by waiting on God that power will come.

That was the way it was with the first little band of disciples. They waited on God and at Pentecost power came and what those few men accomplished is beyond belief. Peter a rather rough, unpredictable character, had power to do undreamed of things. He stood in the midst of the people on that day and inspired the whole congregation with a desire to go out and battle for God.

After he had finished his speech, the people crowded round crying "What shall we do"? Peter told them — repent and be baptized in the name of Jesus Christ. Peter had received the power from God to move men, to stimulate them to a new way of life. As a result of his preaching that day three thousand were added to the church.

We are living in a power mad age, but the power to create a new world, the one kind of power we need more than any other. We can get that only by waiting on God. The resources of God are inexhaustible. They lie just waiting to be tapped. We may have the finest machines in the world, but when the power is cut they are useless. We may have the best church organization in the world, but if power is cut off it will not go. The power of God is available to all who will avail themselves of it. It will be provided to all who wait on God.

DEMOCRACY

There is a lot of hypocrisy and inconsistency in the attitude of many of our citizens in their professed faith in Democracy. Democracy, the right of the people to govern themselves, did not fall from Heaven as a gift of the gods. It came as the result of a long and bitter struggle. Battles were fought against dictators, arrogant kings, and arbitrary rulers. The Common People, ill-equipped and with no power save the power of inherent personality, and numbers, struggled for generations to get the right to run their own affairs; to choose representatives who would serve for them in the Council's of State.

It was a long, slow, uphill process. But, bit by bit, power was taken from arbitrary rulers and handed over to the people. It is not so long ago that, in this country and in the Motherland, the right of women to a vote, was granted. Those who have lived through the past half-century will remember the battles that raged before this right was acknowledged and granted.

After all this struggle; after the great price that was paid by our ancestors for this precious right to vote, it seems incredible that it is so often abused, or ignored. In connection with the recent Municipal Vote in Toronto, full page advertisements were inserted in the Daily Press, urging people to exercise their right to vote. It is a general experience in this country, that particularly in the local elections, only a small percentage of the people get out to vote.

Naturally, when only a small proportion of the people vote, it indicates a great lack of interest in the affairs of the community. And when there is such apathy and disinterestedness, there is always an unwillingness of candidates to run for office. In our own town, this year, there was no election for membership on the Council. A contest was held, only, for the office of Mayor and Reeve. That is not a healthy civic condition. Civic health, and vigor is always reflected in contests for office. We need elections — more elections — and less acclamations.

A general election always stirs up more public interest than a local one. Yet, even in a general election, the percentage of voters casting their ballots is relatively small. That is to be expected when the interest in local elections is so lacking. The strength of Democracy lies in success with which it operates on the gross votes. The Municipal Council, the Township Councils, the County Council, are the legislative bodies that lie closest to the people. There can be no health or vigor in the body politics, unless Democracy works well in these Councils. All too often the attitude of the voter when nomination for these bodies comes round, is: "Oh, well! what difference does it makes who gets in?" So long as that attitude persists, there will be a dearth of men seeking election. Acclamations are not healthy, they reflect a general lack of interest in public affairs and ought to be resisted. A good, hot contest for every office, would be good for the public spirit of our community — of any community.

"ONLY"

It came as a distinct shock to hear a commentator discussing conditions, say that the death by accident this year, had been only so many, in comparison to the year previous. "ONLY" — what does he mean by "only"? So long as there was one person killed, that would be one too many.

The tendency to which we are, more or less prone is to read statistics and rule out the human factors involved in them. We read of an accident in which it is reported that only 'four or five' as the case might be, were killed. 'Only.' What would the one family which was bereaved say to that? It meant for them, in all probability, the breadwinner taken, the regular source of income at once, dried up. It meant the removal of the parent's hand which was so sorely needed to guide the destinies of the little growing family. It meant the loss of a loving father, a devoted husband, a kindly son: After all, statistics and percentages have their place. But they are, at best, cold and impersonal. If for example, only five hundred were killed in motor accidents last year, as compared to 600 in the previous year, that was an improvement. But it was no improvement for the five hundred — for the mothers, husbands, wives and children who were bereaved.

In reading statistics it is well to take into account all the human factors involved; to read them as though they applied to our own families or our own friends. "ONLY" one killed, but if that ONE is a relative of ours, what a difference it makes. Well, he or she is somebody's relative. This is the light under which we should read statistics of road accidents. — It might possibly help to reduce them, and to cultivate care, courtesy, and caution!

SOME TIPS FOR USING PUTTY

When using putty there are a few things to remember if the job is to be well done. Putty applied to frosty, wet or dirty sash is not going to form a good bond. It is important to see that the sash is dry and that all dirt and dried-out putty are brushed away. If the glass is loose, fix firmly with clips or glazing points. Use sufficient pressure with the knife to make good contact between the putty and the sash. When painting, the paint should lap slightly onto the glass. This assures a tight seal at the all-important edge where rain and dmap are likely to seep under the putty.

If glass has to be replaced, use liberal amounts of putty all around the inside of the ash. A thin continuous ribbon should come up around the glass when pressure is applied, indicating a complete bond between sash and glass. Each pane should be held firmly in place with sufficient putty to be held firmly in place with sufficient up the outside of the sash.

And remember, too, that water vapour in a heated or tightly closed building condenses on the interior surfaces of cold sash. This condition is a well-known cause for failure of work done in the late fall and winter. A damp closed building if often heated before the putty has had time to set or receive the first coat of paint. The sooner the job is done now, the better.

We NEED A Children's Hospital
to serve
Eastern Ontario

To the Citizens of Eastern Ontario:

Children from the Eastern Ontario area come to the present Kingston General Hospital for treatment. The facilities are not what should be available. These children merit everything that a children's hospital can provide.

The past support from citizens to the General Hospital itself has been appreciated. What has been accomplished would not have been possible without it. At this time, however, we are working toward a new modern children's hospital. Your attention is therefore drawn to the effort to provide a modern children's hospital for this area. This hospital will be called the "Angada Children's Hospital", and the building fund is being sponsored by the Shriners and generous citizens.

The plan is to construct the front section of the Children's Hospital in 1950, even if money has to be borrowed to do so. The request for support will have to continue until the building is paid for. We respectfully ask that every person, after due recognition is given of past support to the Victory Progress Plan, give thought to what he or she could do each year for a period of (say) five years for the Children's Hospital.

You may have children, your friends have children and you want these children to have the best possible service when they need it. THERE IS NO MODERN CHILDREN'S HOSPITAL IN EASTERN ONTARIO AT THE PRESENT TIME. IT IS A VERY URGENT NEED.

The Children's Hospital will be connected to the Kingston General Hospital and will therefore be able to make use of all the special life saving services such as Blood Bank, Laboratory, etc., etc.

I respectfully ask that when you consider your charitable gifts during this year and the next few years that you give thought to how you can help you can give toward providing a new Children's Hospital.

Sincerely yours,
P. H. SWALM,
Chairman, Board of Governors
Kingston General Hospital

An Appreciation of Miss Alma Brisco

(Conotributed)

On November the 29th, the death of Miss Alma Brisco — a life-long resident of Newburgh, took place at the Hotel Dieu Hospital, in Kingston. The news of her passing brought a sadness to a wide circle of friends.

Over a period of years her vital personality and youthful appearance gave a touch of color and freshness to the village streets, that will long be remembered. She took no account of years as such, and this attitude endeared her to the young people and children who accepted her without question as their friend and equal. She was never happier than when surrounded with the children and never tired of entertaining them.

Always abounding in hospitality her pretty home was wide open for much social activity, and her dispensing of good cheer amazed her friends by its vigor and merriment. Pre-eminently, she showed up best as a gracious hostess.

She retained her zest for healthy living until her last illness and, even when stricken with intense pain her humour added brightness to the hospital room. Here, was no gloomy outlook, but a certain triumph over physical infirmities that stimulated all who visited her.

The loyalties of a long and exemplary life centered around the historic United Church and so it was fitting that her funeral be directed from that edifice, conducted by her pastor, Rev. H. B. Herrington. Interment took place in the family plot in the Newburgh Cemetery.

Another landmark is gone, one who in her person linked the Old Newburgh with the present day Busy Village.

ANNUAL MEETING INSEMINATION UNIT WELL ATTENDED

The annual meeting of the Lennox and Addington Local of the Quinte District Artificial Insemination Unit, was held at the R&T Barns in Belleville on Tuesday afternoon, December 20th, with more than 80 breeders from the county of Lennox and Addington, present.

Mr. Harold Hough, the president, called the meeting to order shortly on one o'clock and after the reading of the minutes and adoption of same moved by Mr. J. B. Elliott, seconded by Mr. Wray McLaughlin, the president called on Mr. Roy Ormiston, Holstein Fieldman for Central Ontario, to discuss the qualifications of the various sires in the unit. After explaining the use of an extended pedigree, Mr. Ormiston discussed very completely the highlights of the various sires while the breeders encircled the pen in which the particular bull which were being discussed were enclosed.

On the completion of Mr. Ormiston's talk, the president called on Dr. McLean, Manager and Resident Technician of the Unit, to discuss the operation of the Unit and future plans. Dr. McLean related some of the information he had received from a recent trip to the States visiting Artificial Units and said that in applying some of the practices of the Quinte District Unit, it would appear that, non-returns to first insemination was likely to be increased from a high of 64 per cent. to date in this Unit to somewhere close to 75 per cent. which is especially good results. Dr. McLean urged all breeders to feed minerals to their breeding stock throughout the entire year. He also intimated that this county was one of the counties with the larger number of members and number of cows bred in the Quinte District and he felt that with the large attendance at this meeting, it showed a great deal of interest prevailing among the breeders. He complimented the local inseminator, Mr. Milford Creighton, very highly on his work in the county and felt that much of the success in Lennox and Addington was due to Mr. Creighton.

The new addition to the barns recently constructed are now in use and more sires will be secured in stock breeders and particularly to breeders of grade Holstein cattle. The membership fee of $25.00 is a life membership and can be passed on from father to son and the total inseminatron fee for most herds in the county would be less than the cost of keeping a sire. Under these conditions and because the sires used at the Unit are far superior to that which an ordinary breeder can afford to own, at least 85 per cent of the breeders in the County of Lennox and Addington should be members and, in fact, cannot afford not to belong to the Unit.

Membership in this Unit can be taken out any time at the office of your Agricultural Representative and any questions gladly answered.

Mr. Milford Creighton and Mr. Harold Withers spoke briefly to the group and expressed satisfaction with their job as inseminator. Following this, the election of officers was held. The meeting adjourned at 5:00 p.m.

President, Harold Hough, Napanee No. 2.

Vice-president, J. B. Elliott, Napanee No. 2.

MORVEN W. M. S. CHRISTMAS MEETING

On Wednesday afternoon, Dec. 14 Mrs. C. Craig opened her home for the meeting of the W.M.S. with the president, Mrs. I. M. Miller, in charge. Mrs. Pralick played quiet music to open the meeting and Mrs. Miller read the scripture, which was the Christmas message found in the gospel of St. Luke. The minutes of the last meeting were read and adopted and the treasurer's report was given, showing that the allocation had been met. The corresponding secretary reported having sent twenty-six letters during the year. Mrs. Pralick introduced the study book.

The Christmas programme then followed, which took the form of a candlelight service with Mrs. A. Winter lighting the candle of faith and Mrs. H. Hawley reading the statement of faith, which was followed by the singing of Hark the Herald Angels sing. The next candle was lighted by Mrs. C. Withers, Mrs. C. Craig and Mrs. W. Lake sang a duet Silent Night, Holy Night. Mrs. Wm. Bateman lighted the third candle, and Mrs. E. Denyes the fourth candle and all sang the carol Come Thou, Long - expected Jesus. Mrs. R. Reid gave an interesting reading on Christmas. The offering was taken and dedicated by the Rev. Coulter. Mrs. L. Perry gave the closing worship.

HOW TO KILL YOUR PREACHER

Someone has compiled the following list as a sure method to kill preachers :—

Don't attend evening service.
Don't attend the meetings.
Only hear him when 'convenient.'
Habitually come late.
Sit just inside the door.
Don't give him your attention.
Rush out as soon as the service ends.
Act cold to show your dignity.
Never thank him for his message.
Never appreciate his efforts.
Tell him what wonderful messages you hear elsewhere.
Criticize him before your children.
Don't make him welcome when he calls.
Criticize him for not calling.
Don't offer to help.
Don't take your Sunday guests to hear him.
Don't inform him when you are ill.
Don't pray for him.
Don't do what he says.

What about going over the list, thoughtfully again to see if you are guilty of some of these things.

SWEET MAGIC

Seventy of the industries we look to for the revival of our commerce depend on sugar. Motor fuel consumes it; it has a place in synthetic rubber tires; in plastics, in industrial alcohol; in waterproofing; in soap. The Incas want it; sugar candy is included in the iron ration the soldier carries with him for use in tight places. Fifteen men adrift on a raft keep themselves alive for four days on nothing else.

This unfailing stimulant, which has been called the 20th century's Aladdin's Lamp because it lights so many ways and supplies so many means, was first brought to us by soldiers, the Crusaders, home from Palestine. It reached there through Persia from India. Spanish and Persian sailors distributed the product to West Africa and the sugar cane to the Canaries, and Columbus carried it on his second voyage, to the West Indies.

For long sugar was a luxury weighed on the apothecary's scales. Now supplemented by beet sugar, the world is weighing it by the million tons, and yet cries out for more.

Seagulls rarely get far from shore. Eyes about 2 feet across the ocean keep a handy ship in sight for occasional rest-up perching.

PERSIA COMES BACK

We must cross out Iran and write Persia in our geography notebooks—and remember it for the exam — because that country has decided to revert to her former name owing to mistakes that have arisen through her neighbour being called Iraq.

The name Persia comes from Persis, the people of a province of the ancient Persian Empire afterwards called Fars. Iran comes from Ariana the Land of the Aryans.

These changes are a bit trying to a boy or girl at school. As for the Persian cat, she tilts her nose with a disdainful twitch; she would never have tolerated being called an Iranian cat anyway.

...y F. Perry Elected Warden By County Council

Inaugural Meeting Held Tuesday, Jan., 17th

Ray F. Perry, Reeve of the Township of North Fredericksburgh, was chosen Warden of the County of Lennox and Addington, at the inaugural session of the County Council on Tuesday afternoon, January 17th.

When Council assembled at 2:00 p.m. on Tuesday, a motion was moved that Reeve Cochrane of Amherst Island be Warden. An amendment was moved that Reeve Perry of North Fredericksburgh be Warden. When the votes on the amendment and the original motion were taken they were both tie...

The County Solicitor, G. F. Smith, was appealed to for a decision as to how to break the tie and on consulting the law gave a ruling that the Reeve of the Municipality with the largest assessment should cast the deciding vote. In this case, it would have been Reeve Sexsmith of Sydenham, who would have been called upon to break the tie.

However a motion was later passed that the original motions and amendment be reconsidered and when the votes were taken the decision was in favor of Reeve Perry.

Mr. Perry has been Reeve of North Fredericksburgh for the past six years and was re-elected for the seventh term at the recent election. He has been a member of the Township Council for thirteen years. He is a prominent farmer and is active in farm organizations.

UNICEF APPEALS FOR MORE HELP

It would be difficult to measure the value of one capsule of cod liver oil a day to an apple-cheeked Canadian boy or girl.

It is simple, however, to find its value to a tubercular child patient from Vienna who receives double rations from the United Nations Children's Emergency Fund and the government.

At UNICEF Ottawa headquarters, a report from the chief doctor at a hospital located at the edge of the Austrian Alps, showed the death rate among his patients had dropped from seven to one per cent in one year.

At UNICEF Ottawa headquarters this month, A. B. MacDonald, national chairman, expressed the hope that every Canadian would find it possible to contribute the cost of several of the life-saving capsules in the appeal being conducted at the present time.

Mother and Baby, Garage Employee Victims Of Fire

Albert Wienicke Seriously Burned

Three people were burned to death in a fire which broke out about 11:30 p.m., on Monday, January 16th, in a garage and dwelling about a quarter mile from Denbigh Village, 75 miles north of Napanee, in Lennox and Addington County.

The dead are: Mrs. Albert Wienicke, aged 24, her two-year-old daughter, Barbara and Wm. Storring, aged 21 years, an employee of Albert Wienicke, who lived at the Wienicke home.

Albert Wienicke was badly burned and broke a wrist after he jumped out of the second storey window and was taken to Renfrew Hospital where his condition was said to be serious.

The family had retired when the fire broke out and gained such headway that apparently the only way for Albert Wienicke to get out of the building was to jump from the second storey window. It is believed that he probably collapsed after the jump, when he broke his wrist, and probably lay on the ground in his pyjamas a short time before being able to make his way to the village, where he blew the horn of a truck to attract attention. The alarm was heard by Glen Hartman, who summoned help. However by the time the villagers arrived at the scene of the fire, the building was completely in flames.

In the garage, under the dwelling, was a School bus belonging to the Emerson Line at Tweed, a car and a small truck, all of which were completely destroyed.

Provincial Police from Napanee and Northbrook were called and conducted an investigation. Dr. D. R. Hall, Napanee, Coroner, also went to the scene of the fatality to take part in the investigation. Remains of the bodies, which were burned beyond recognition, were found in the debris.

Mr. and Mrs. Wienicke were both natives of Denbigh where they had lived all their lives. About four years ago Mr. Wienicke built the garage near the village.

MAGISTRATE'S COURT

Magistrate Garvin at the Thursday afternoon session of Police Court in Napanee found Wilbur Hart, of Napanee, guilty of being in charge of a motor vehicle while intoxicated and sentenced him to serve one week in gaol. In addition Mr. Hart was ordered to pay $34.00 Court costs. His car was impounded for three months and his driver's license was cancelled for three months.

Constable Baker in his evidence said that about 6.00 p.m. on December 20th, he noticed a car parked about 5 feet from the curb on the east side of Centre Street, just above Dundas. On investigation he found Mr. Hart slumped over the wheel. Failing to arouse Mr. Hart, Constable Baker called Provincial Constable Erskine and together they succeeded in getting Mr. Hart out of the car. He was taken immediately to the office of Dr. Galbraith. In his evidence, Dr. Galbraith stated that Hart was definitely intoxicated when brought to his office.

Mr. Hart was placed in the County gaol and at 8.40 p.m. was granted permission to have another examination by Dr. Hall. Dr. Hall stated that when Mr. Hart was brought to his office he was sober.

Mr. Hart stated on the witness stand that he had five or six drinks of rye during the afternoon of the day he was arrested, but claimed he was not intoxicated. He said that he had been unable to sleep for several nights previous and had taken the liquor to steady his nerves. At about 5.00 p.m. he said he went down town to pick up his wife at the A & P store and while waiting for her went to sleep.

Evidence was also given for Mr. Hart by several workmen employed by him and also by his wife and two guards at the Gaol.

Magistrate Garvin said that he was only concerned with Mr. Hart's condition at 6.00 p.m., when he was arrested and was convinced that at that time he was intoxicated. He also said there is an increasing disrespect for law and due to technicalities raised by defense counsel, it is also being more and more difficult to get convictions in Highway Traffic cases.

Mr. R. C. Jackson acted as Counsel for Mr. Hart and K. S. Ham, Crown Attorney conducted the case for the Crown.

Emerson York, Napanee pled guilty to leaving the scene of an accident and a fine of $10.00 and Court costs of $28.50 was imposed by Magistrate Garvin. York was driving a car belonging to Archie Alkenbrack, backed into a car belonging to Mr. Roy Hodgson, near Perry's Grocery and was later picked up at the home of Mrs. Claus on the Newburgh Road. At first he disclaimed any knowledge of the accident, but later admitted responsibility.

Archie Alkenbruck was also charged with leaving the scene of an accident, but no evidence was submitted by the Crown and the charge was withdrawn.

WARD HODGSTON'S PLANE TOTAL LOSS

Windstorm Causes Great Damage Over Large Area

Power Interrupted For Ten Hours

The storm which struck nearly all of Southern Ontario and the Northern part of the United States on Saturday, January 14th, did many thousand dollars damage to property in the County of Lennox and Addington. Hydro Electric Power was cut off from 8:00 a.m. until 6.00 p.m. in the whole district and telephone communication was interrupted in many sections of the County.

The most of the damage was done in the Southern part of this County. Every district reported trees blown down, fences levelled, chimneys blown off and roofing ripped off buildings.

Possibly the heaviest loss was sustained by Aubrey Davis, who lives about a mile from Napanee on the River Road and by Ward Hodgston of Napanee. Mr. Davis' barn was almost completely demolished and Mr. Hodgston's aeroplane is a total loss. Mr. Davis narrowly escaped injury when pieces of timber nearly struck him as he was running for shelter to his house. The roof of his barn was carried some distance and other debris was scattered over a wide area.

Ward Hodgston's plane was tethered to the ground in the hangar, situated west of the Selby Road, a short distance from Napanee. The South doors of the hangar were open and most of the plane was protruding from the opening. The force of the wind pulled the pegs to which ropes from the plane were attached and the plane whirled around in the hangar and then shot out into the field where it turned over several times. Mr. Hodgston estimates the value of the plane at $3000 and considers it a total loss. The plane had recently been reconditioned, and was considered to be in perfect shape. It was purchased new in 1946.

A large limb from a tall tree blew off and toppled over a chimney at Dr. Morden's home on John Street. Throughout the town a great many large trees were snapped off or pulled out by the roots causing damage to telephone and hydro poles and to buildings nearby. A large number of chimneys in the town were also damaged. The roof bridge over the Napanee River was damaged and made unsafe for traffic until it is repaired.

Buildings near the highway between Napanee and Deseronto suffered considerably. Two barns on the farm of Grayden Brommell had the coverings on the roofs partly removed. A shed on the farm of Mr. C. H. M. Church was also quite badly damaged. Two large trees near Edmund Dowlin's house were blown over and fell on the side of the house doing considerable damage.

On the Old Belleville Road, a high tension Hydro pole was snapped off and tree and poles which were snapped off interrupted traffic for some time.

Throughout the whole district it is estimated that miles of fence have been blown down, roofs of dozens of buildings and a great many chimneys were damaged.

People whose homes are heated with oil or use iron fireman stokers were without heat throughout the day, but realized that everything possible was being done by the Hydro employees to give them service.

The Hydro men did an excellent job in the town. Lines were repaired and ready for use shortly after noon in the town, but had to wait for the high tension lines outside the town to be repaired for the power to be turned on. A temporary line was arranged from Kingston during the day and about 5.45 p.m. power was again supplied to the town.

The only injury sustained, that has been reported so far, was to Mrs. Jas. Tracy of Empey Hill, who was hurt while at the barn and was taken to Belleville General Hospital for treatment.

Brig. Gage Was Special Speaker at Napanee District Ministerial

"Facing the Future" was the subject of an address by Brigadier R. W. Gage of the Salvation Army, last week's special speaker at Napanee District Ministerial Association.

When the great Jewish Patriot Nehemiah, was rebuilding the wall of Jerusalem after the Exile, his enemies tried to lure him down from the wall to engage in fruitless talk. So the world still says, "Come down" to the person trying to live up to Christian standards.

The speaker compared the christian minister to a soldier, to an athlete, and to a farmer, and drew from each comparison lessons for the ministers facing a new year's work.

The speaker was thanked by Rev. W. R. Merrick who said that organized religion might be in for a hard time and that the Church needs to plan for it.

Paul Craig, Switzerville, a member of the Older Boys' Parliament that met at Whitby during the Christmas holidays, spoke to the ministers about the Parliament. He spoke of the enthusiasm that marked this meeting of representatives of Ontario's church-affiliated boys' groups and of the decisive way in which they supported high christian standards. Among other decisions, they had pronounced strongly against commercial and other organized sports on Sundays. Mr. Craig expressed a determination to work to promote boys' activities in the churches of the county.

The meeting was held in St. Mary Magdalene's Church. The president, Rev. Noble Hatton, presided and conducted devotions.

Mr. Pringle, who is now 75 years of age, is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Clark Pringle. Mrs. Pringle, who is 72, is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. David Storr.

Dinner was served to 26 guests. The table was centred with a basket of yellow roses mums and daffodils, a gift from the grandchildren, and Mrs. Cretizman, a dear friend. Mrs. Pringle wore a corsage of gold mums and a corsage was given by a younger son, Mr. Nellis Pringle, to the bride and groom, and was responded to by both parents. Dinner was served to the immediate family by three granddaughters, Mrs. Bryce Moore, Bethany and David Hay, Napanee and Mrs. Clayton Brooks, Deseronto.

Immediately following dinner a family photo was taken by Mr. Skitch. Then the family gathered in the living-room where an address was read by Mrs. C. Wilbert, of Morven, the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pringle, and a presentation of two upholstered rocking chairs was made by Bryce Moore and Clayton Brooks, from the family.

The address read:

Dear Mother and Dad :— We have gathered here today to honour you on dear parents, on the occasion of your golden anniversary. Throughout the past fifty years you have seen many changes. Farmers Call Mass Meeting To Protest Price Drop

Expect Large Attendance At Town Hall, Wednesday, Jan. 25th

Sponsored by the Lennox and Addington Federation of Agriculture, a Mass Meeting of farmers will be held in Napanee Town Hall, on Wednesday, January 25th at 2:00 p.m., when protests will be voiced and resolutions considered regarding the drastic drop in the prices of farm produce. Dr. Charles McGinnis, President of the Dairy Farmers' Association will be present to address the meeting. Local members of Parliament are also expected to be present.

The present protests arise from the loss of markets for Canadian food stuffs, largely as a result of Britain's curtailment of purchases, due to the lack of dollars. As a result prices of cheese, eggs and hogs are dropping, while the same time manufactured products are remaining at the same high level of price and industry continues to enjoy government protection in the form of tariffs.

Similar meetings of protest have been held in other parts of Ontario and have been attended by large numbers of farmers. It is expected the meeting in Napanee will attract a large attendance.

IN A HURRY

We once heard the late Hon. J. Maxton, in the British House of Commons, describe the conditions under which the slum dwellers in his constituency lived, in Glasgow. He said I cannot wait too long to get these slums cleaned up — my people are dying there, now. I'm in a hurry!

Maybe it is that desire for a change that has got hold of the Italian farmer. He has been promised a decent break time and again, but nothing seems to happen. Now he is beginning to take matters in his own hands. This is the way a dispatch from Italy describes the situation:

"Despite the plans for widespread land reform in Italy, cutlined by the Gasperi Government — perhaps because of them — peasants have embarrassed the regime by staging wholesale land seizures in Calabria, Apulia, Silicy and even some regions of the north.

"Stimulated both by Communist leadership and by their age-old land hunger, peasant groups have dramatically signified their unwillingness to suffer delay. Many of them became convinced that de Gasperi did not mean to back up his promises by action. Others grew impatient because of the very idea spread by the government announcement of its programme of land distribution.

"Noting that the scheme, though drastic, called for aid only to some ten per cent of the peasantry, many thought their chance might be deferred for years unless they resorted to force and took land at once.

"The Government might welcome the seizures as a sharp warning to recalcitrant owners of large estates, were it not that an orderly, equitable division may be impossible if the disorders grow. The programme calls not only for the giving of land, but for scientific farming, co-operative use of machinery, and development of roads and markets to make each peasant holding economically successful.

"Consternation was thrown into Communist ranks, and new heart brought to non-Communist progressive elements when spokesmen for the E.C.A. threw the weight of its financial power and prestige, in late December, strongly behind the land reform programme and called for its rapid expansion."

SOMETHING ACCOMPLISHED

The Conference on Dominion and Provincial relations, which met at Ottawa, many not seem to have achieved very tangible results. But the Conference accomplished something worth while, nevertheless. Unlike former conferences, this one did not break up in a deadlock. There was some pretty straight talk at the conference, yet a good spirit prevailed. Ontario and Quebec, which had been the stumbling block to amicable conclusions at the earlier meeting, were in a mood to co-operate, this time, if that co-operation did not involve the sacrifice of any vital principle.

After all, it is this spirit of willingness to work together for the good of all, that is the important matter. Premier Duplessis of Quebec did not throw any monkey wrenches into the machine this time, and Premier Frost showed a genuine willingness to co-operate with all the others.

If nothing else was done at this Conference than to create a good spirit and an atmosphere of good will, it has been worth all the time and effort that was put upon it. The next meeting will be much more sure of success because of what was done at the one held last week. It is absolutely impossible to get anywhere with a group divided into two irreconcilable parties. The first requisite to success is to break down antagonism and to create the right spirit. This was the great achievement at Ottawa.

POWER SHORTAGE

The ten-hour disruption in the power service had two general results. In the first place there was the inconvenience. Everybody in the town and community was inconvenienced. Where auxiliary heating was available the situation was not too bad. At least there was some heat and cooking facilities even if they were of a more or less improvised nature. But where there was no heat, it was difficult to keep warm and to get meals.

Then too, the disruption makes aware in a rather vivid way, how much we are dependent on electricity. Electricity has become a necessity. The modern family heats the home with push-button ease. The old tallow-dip with its dim and spluttering flicker, made way for the oil lamp which, in turn, was supplanted by the electric light. Our homes are lighted with push-button ease, cooking, too, . . . Electricity has been so cheap and in such abundance that the wood, coal and oil stoves have been supplanted, in large measure, by the electric stove. Cooking is done, too with push-button ease. Vacuum cleaners, toasters, ironers, washers, refrigerators — all tend to make the modren housewife's work lighter and have really worked a revolution in housekeeping technique. No wonder then, that when the power goes off the inconvenience is great indeed.

Then, too, there is another conclusion from which it is impossible to escape, and yet it is one to which all too little attention is given. In the last analysis, we are all dependent on the forces of nature. When the rain fall is light, wells run dry, water has to be drawn for stock and crops are retarded. When rain fails to come at the proper time, streams run slowly, and Hydro electricity is in short supply. When a storm breaks, as it did on Saturday and Sunday, there is little that can be done about it. Trees fall, barns flatten out, roofs are torn off and in the aggregate, millions of dollars' damage is done — and often a tornado or hurricane leaves a trail of death and destruction in its trail. There is really nothing that can be done about it. There is only one thing left for us to do, and that is to try and understand nature and to co-operate to the use of its powers for the benefit of mankind. Always remembering that she has the last word.

NOT A BAD IDEA

Farmers, from time immemorial, have been known as individualists. They work alone a great deal of the time. Plowing alone, harrowing alone, doing the barn work alone, develops in them a sturdy independence that has always made the farmer the backbone of a Democratic country.

This independence, however, has certain drawbacks. It is only within quite recent times that the farmers, themselves, have recognized this and set out to eliminate them. The growth of agricultural societies: milk producers, egg producers, hog producers, apple growers, and many other organizations, indicate a willingness, indeed a determination to co-operate for the good of their industry — if it is permissible to refer to these as industries. At any rate, farmers are now organized and are able to talk, if not with one voice, with at most, two or three voices. That is all to the good!

Sweden was one of the earliest countries to develop co-operative producing and selling, and one of the first, if not the first, to establish folk schools where young farmers might take advantage of cultural training in their off months. In recent months a new development has taken place in Sweden, where Swedish agricultural societies are seeking light on methods pursued by farmers in other countries. Reginald Spink, writing from Stockho'm, says:—

"Farm workers in The Netherlands and Sweden are beginning to learn all they can about agriculture in each others' countries.

"The two nations are promoting schemes for exchange study visits. During 1949, ten Dutch farm workers were invited by the Swedish Agricultural Workers' Union to make a fortnight's study tour of Swedish farms and food-processing plants. Costs inside Sweden were borne by the Swedish organization, other expenses by Dutch groups. Ten Swedish farm workers will repay the visit in 1950, while ten British farm workers will go to Sweden.

"The Swedish union has also sent one of its members, with expenses paid, to work six months on a farm in The United States. Meantime, Dutch authorities are inviting foreign farm workers to spend three months in The Netherlands. The workers will receive pocket money and are expected to attend agricultural training colleges, besides working on the land."

It is really not a bad idea.

THE FIRST CHRISTIAN MARTYR

Lesson Text:
Acts 6: 8-15; 7: 54-60

As the number of converts to Christianity grew, naturally, the membership became more complex. It was a comparatively easy matter when there were only a small group for them to have all things in common, to pool their resources and share and share alike. But soon, there were spluttering: some people did not think they were getting as much as others. So it became necessary to have some sort of organization. . . Helpers were then chosen to help distribute the food and other necessities. Then some of the Greek Christians began to grumble because no Greek had been appointed. So these Greeks were asked to appoint seven of their own number. This they did, and one of the seven was Stephen.

Stephen seems to have been a devout, scholarly man. He soon rose to the top in the new organization. His ability and his worth were soon recognized. He saw what was involved in the religion of Jesus. As always happens in a religious organization, there were those who wanted to debate with the position of the leader. They got together and tried to tangle Stephen in debate. But Stephen was too smart for them — they could not withstand the wisdom and the spirit with which he spoke.

Then the next step was the one usually taken when reason fails. These men who were opposed to Stephen tried to get him. They stirred up the people against him. They got him before the council; and in evidence. Their main contention was that Stephen claimed that Jesus had changed the customs of Moses and the Old Testament elders. Of course, they had torn a phrase or two out of Stephen's speeches and, ignoring the context, trumped up this charge. Stephen really made little defense. He simply stated that he saw God and Jesus standing beside him. This was too much for the Old-timers. They refused to listen, and rushed him out and stoned him to death.

Why was Jesus put to death? Was it not because the champions of things as they are could not think of the old order as capable of change. Why was Stephen put to death? Was it not for exactly the same reason. Change, indeed even the suggestion of the possibility of change in religious beliefs and practices always stirs up resentment, bitterness, often fanaticism and cruelty. Hundreds of thousands of Christians have been persecuted and put to death, simply because they refused to conform to current of new interpretations from getting a hearing.

Of course, there are always the few who develop a martyr complex. They court persecution. It is a source of pleasure for them. That is certainly a bad frame of mind to get into. But the world owes a great debt to the genuine martyrs, like Stephen. It is still true that the death of the martyrs is the seed of the church.

Girls' and Boys' Club Work in Len. and Addington

In 1931, the first year of Club Work in the Dominion of Canada, there were 1215 clubs of various kinds with an enrolment of 21,242 members. In 1940, in the Province of Ontario alone, there were 1164 clubs with 10,405 members which gives some indication of the tremendous growth over the years in this work, notwithstanding the fact that during the war years, participation was cut down very ex enslvely. In the County of Lennox and Addington last year, there were six clubs organized with 92 members which is only a very small percentage of the number of people eligible for enrolment.

Membership in clubs is open to all farm boys and girls in the age group from 12 to 20 inclusive and included in the projects are clubs having to do with calves, both dairy and beef, swine, poultry, grain, potatoes, forestry and tractors. Special clubs for the girls known as Girls' Home Garden Clubs in which they receive vegetable and flower seeds are also organized.

Applications for membership in clubs may be accepted any time after the first of January and clubs start to the organization meetings held in March or early April and meetings are held during the summer months where some instructional work is given and practice in judging is had until Achievement Day when products of the clubs are exhibited a tthe local Fair depending on the locality in which the club has been organized.

Attractive cash awards are given to each and every participant who completes the project concerned and it is imperative that any boy or girl who enrols in any club does complete the project by exhibiting at the Achievement Day. We are fortunate in this county to have a number of special prizes in the form of silver trophies and merchandise of various kinds on offer for competition.

Each year a judging team of two members of any club of boys and girls between the ages and over may be chosen to go to Guelph to represent their club in judging competitions, the Poultry and Calf clubs, the best three calves in each club and the best three pens of poultry are shipped to compete as a group at both the Kingston and Ottawa Exhibitions and our calves in the past have made a very good showing.

Notices have been mailed to all last years' members of clubs with application forms to be filled out and are to be returned to the Department of Agriculture at Napanee on or before January 31st. No doubt there are eligible juniors who will not receive these circulars and for those people, a personal call at the office of a letter will be sufficient to get more detailed information about the Club work and is the only way in which we know that you are interested in becoming a member of a Club.

Bay Charge Annual Meetings

Congregational meetings have been held on all four appointments with but few changes being made in the officers of the organizations.

The Woman's Missionary Societies met their allocations for the past year, and all the W. A. treasurers reported substantial cash balances on hand.

The Official Board met on Monday evening, January 9th, at the home of Rev. E. F. and Mrs. Swayne in Napanee. All appointments were represented with eighteen persons present. Mr. Karl Sexsmith was appointed recording steward for the charge. The Board expressed appreciation of the Christmas gift to the churches of the charge by H. J. McFarland, of Picton.

Reference was made by the Minister to the 25th anniversary of the United Church of Canada. A committee was appointed to assist in arranging for a special outdoor service in June to commemorate the event. It was recalled that a service was held in Wilfred Miller's grove in June 1923, at the time of union, Rev. W. H. Truscott being minister of the charge.

A unanimous invitation was given Rev. E. F. Swayne to continue as Minister of Bay Charge.

Upon conclusion of business lunch was served and a period of fellowship was enjoyed.

Paul stated that he was very much impressed with the Parliament and stressed the fact that all boys should know about it and attend if at all possible.

Canadians are thinking of tomorrow

—NOW TOTAL MORE THAN TWO BILLION DOLLARS

This huge sum is a tribute to Canadians' foresight and thrift.

Ten years ago, B of M customers kept a total of $848,000,000 in their savings and current accounts. During the war years, these people took the opportunity to boost their 'Fund For Tomorrow' to $1,613,000,000.

Their habit of saving for the years ahead has not only persisted since the war but has gained in strength. Today, their deposits stand at more than two billion dollars — an all-time B of M record and the largest Canadian deposits of any bank. Of this money, well over a billion dollars is in savings.

The fact that the B of M's resources also have topped the two-billion mark during the past year proves one thing clearly — that the size of a financial institution such as the Bank of Montreal simply reflects the measure of confidence a million and a half Canadian men and women share in it.

And by thinking of tomorrow, these people are helping to build the Canada of today and tomorrow. For their savings determine the support the Bank can bring — through investments and loans — to the enterprise of men and businesses across the nation. Indeed, this year, loans made by the B of M are the highest they've ever been.

Working with the people of Canada for the past 132 years, the Bank has kept continually before it these two guiding purposes — to assist actively the nation's economic development and to justify always the confidence of its depositors.

WEDDING BELLS

JAMIESON - ROSE

Standards of mums and tall ferns formed a setting on Wednesday, December 28th, for the wedding of Dorothy Margaret Ann, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Rose, of Napanee, Ont., and Sheldon Jamieson, third son of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Jamieson, Close Avenue, Toronto. The marriage was solemnized by Rev. C. D. McLellan, of Grace United Church, Napanee, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Richardson, George Street, Belleville. Wedding music was played by Mrs. Leo Roluff of Belleville.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white satin and crepe and carried pink roses.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Golden Acres Inn, where Mrs. W. H. Richardson received in a gown of royal blue taffeta with accessories of gray. The groom's mother assisted in black lace with matching hat and corsage of cream roses.

For a wedding trip to points in Western Ontario, the bride chose a trim suit of grey with all black accessories, and fur coat with corsage of red roses. Following the honeymoon the groom's parents will hold a reception for the young couple on January 7th, at their home in Toronto. Wedding guests were present from Toronto, Peterboro and Napanee.

WAGAR - JERROM

St. Mark's Anglican Church, Winnipeg, was the scene of a very lovely wedding on Saturday, Dec. 17, at 4:30 p.m., when the Dean of Rupert's Land and Rector of St. John's Cathedral, Rev. John A. Anderson, united in the holy bonds of matrimony Marian Eleanor, eldest daughter of Mrs. F. S. Corner and the late Mr. Jerrom, and Lewis Norman Wagar, only son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Wagar, of Enterprise, Ont.

The bride was given in marriage by her step-father, Mrs. F. S. Corner on whose arm she entered the church, wearing a traditional gown of white cut velvet, off-the-shoulder effect with net yoke and long train. Her veil of French tulle illusion was in long train effect and fell softly from her Juliet cap of Honiton lace caught back from her face in points with seed pearls. She also wore a cameo pendant an heirloom of her mother's family and a rhinestone bracelet, the gift of the groom. Her flowers were a cascade bouquet of pale yellow Joannahill roses and white gardenia buds.

Mrs. William Robinson, of Victory Place St. Vital, her sister's matron of honor, wearing a turquoise blue floor-length taffeta gown, with shoulder length veil and mitts to match, carrying a cascade bouquet of white carnations edged with blue. Miss Helen Wilson of Greenwood Place, was bridesmaid, gowned in floor-length deep pink taffeta with shoulder-length veil of tulle illusion and mitts to match. She carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations, edged with pink.

Mr. William Robinson, brother-in-law of the bride, attended the groom as best man. The ushers were Mr. Omer Emerson and Mr. Wm. Corner of Winnipeg.

During the signing of the register, Miss Jean Burns sang 'O Promise Me' and The Lord's Prayer.

Following the ceremony a wedding reception was held at the home of the bride, where the bride's mother, Mrs. Corner, received the sixty guests gowned in a powder blue floor-length dress of silk and lace, with grey hat and corsage of Dorothy Perkins roses. She was assisted by the groom's mother, Mrs. G. A. Wagar, who wore a floor-length gown of wine crepe with cut steel trimming, black hat with wine trimming, and a corsage of orchids.

Mr. and Mrs. Wagar left for a short honeymoon in Manitoba and will return to Napanee by the first of the year, where they will reside.

For travelling the bride chose a grey suit with hat to match and wine accessories over which she wore a fur jacket.

Those from a distance attending were from Enterprise and Detroit, including the groom's mother and Miss Audrey Jarvis.

SHARP - SILLS

The marriage took place at Meaford on Thursday, December 22, of Marion P. Sills, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Sills of Napanee, and Ralph M. Sharp, younger son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude M. Sharps of Meaford, formerly of Napanee. Rev. Mr. Barker officiated at the ceremony.

The young couple will reside in Meaford.

Mr. Drew thanked the class and spoke very feelingly of the loyalty of the class to the work of the Sunday school and church and of their kindness to him during his ten years as teacher of the class. He then asked each member of the class to take his place at the front of the church and, on behalf of Mrs. Drew and himself, presented each of the twelve members with a leather-bound Bible. The presentation was brought to a close by all the members of the class repeating, in unison, the 22nd chapter of Proverbs, which is a favorite passage of scripture of their teacher.

Rev. G. H. McKenzie dismissed the school with prayer.

R. F. Perry Elected Warden By County Council

Inaugural Meeting Held Tuesday, Jan., 17th

Ray F. Prry, Reeve of the Township of North Fredericksburgh, was chosen Warden of the County of Lennox and Addington, at the inaugural session of the County Council on Tuesday afternoon, January 17th.

When Council assembled at 2:00 p.m., a motion was moved that Reeve Cocnrane of Amherst Island be Warden. An amendment was moved that Reeve Perry of North Fredericksburgh be Warden. When the votes on the amendment and the original motion were taken, they were both tie.

The County Solicitor, G. F. Smith, was appealed to for a decision as to how to break the tie and on consulting the law gave a ruling that the Reeve of the Municipality with the largest assessment should cast the deciding vote. In this case, it would have been Reeve Sexsmith of Tyendinaga, who would have been called upon to break the tie.

However a motion was later passed to the original motions and amendment be reconsidered and when the votes were taken the decision was in favor of Reeve Perry.

Mr. Perry has been Reeve of North Fredericksburgh for the past six years and was re-elected for the seventh term at the recent election. He has been a member of the Township Council for thirteen years. He is a prominent farmer and is active in fan organizations.

CHILDS' APPEAL TO BE HEARD NEXT MONDAY

The appeal filed by Alfred Childs for a new trial, following his conviction of murdering Elijah McQuaig, will be considered at Osgoode Hall, Toronto, next Monday, January 23rd.

UNICEF APPEALS FOR MORE HELP

It would be difficult to measure the value of one capsule of cod liver oil to an apple-cheeked Canadian boy or girl.

It is simple, however, to find its value to a tubercular child patient from Vienna who receives double rations from the United Nations Children's Emergency Fund and the government.

At UNICEF Ottawa headquarters, a report from the chief doctor at a hospital located at the edge of the Austrian Alps, showed the death rate among his patients had dropped from seven to one per cent in one year.

At UNICEF Ottawa headquarters this month, A. B. MacDonald, national chairman, expressed the hope that every Canadian would find it possible to contribute the cost of several of the life-saving capsules in the appeal being conducted at the present time.

Mother and Baby, Garage Employee Victims Of Fire

Albert Wienicke Seriously Burned

Three people were burned to death in a fire which broke out about 11:30 p.m. on Monday, January 16th, in a garage and dwelling about a quarter mile from Denbigh Village, 75 miles north of Napanee, in Lennox and Addington County.

The dead are: Mrs. Albert Wienicke, aged 24, her two-year-old daughter, Barbara and Wm. Storring, aged 21 years, an employee of Albert Wienicke, who lived at the Wienicke home.

Albert Wienicke was badly burned and broke a wrist after he jumped out of the second storey window and was taken to Renfrew Hospital where his condition was said to be serious.

The family had retired when the fire broke out and gained such headway that apparently the only way for Albert Wienicke to get out of the building was to jump from the second storey window. It is believed that he probably collapsed after the jump, when he broke his wrist, and probably lay on the ground in his pyjamas a short time before being able to make his way to the village, where he blew the horn of a truck to attract attention. The alarm was heard by Glen Hartman, who summoned help. However by the time the villagers arrived at the scene of the fire, the building was completely in flames.

In the garage, under the dwelling, was a School bus belonging to the Emerson Line of Tweed, a car and a small truck, all of which were completely destroyed.

Provincial Police from Napanee and Northbrook were called and conducted an investigation. Dr. D. R. Hall, Napanee, Coroner, also went to the scene of the fatality to take part in the investigation. Remains of the bodies, which were burned beyond recognition, were found in the debris.

Mr. and Mrs. Wienicke were both natives of Denbigh where they had lived all their lives. About four years ago Mr. Wienicke built the garage near the village.

Mr., Mrs. John Pringle Celebrate 50th Anniv.

A very happy reunion was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Pringle, Thomas Street, Napanee, on January 7th, on the occasion of their 50th wedding anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Pringle were married at Trinity Church parsonage on January 10th, 1900 by Dr. Crothers. They were attended by Miss Annie Pringle of Roblin and Mr. Wilbert Starr of Leinster. Mr. Pringle, who is now 75 years of age, is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Clark Pringle. Mrs. Pringle, who is 72, is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. David Starr.

Dinner was served to 26 guests. The table was centred with a basket of yellow roses mums and daffodils, a gift from the grandchildren, and Mrs. Creitzman, a dear friend. Mrs. Pringle wore a corsage of gold mums.

A toast was given by a younger son, Mr. Nellis Pringle, to the bride and groom, and was responded to by both parents. Dinner was served to the immediate family by three granddaughters, Mrs. Bryce Moore, Bethany, Mrs. David Hay, Napanee and Mrs. Clayton Brooks, Deseronto.

Immediately following dinner a family photo was taken by Mr. Skitch. Then the family gathered in the living-room where an address was read by Mrs. C. Wilmers, of Morven, the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pringle, and a presentation of two upholstered rocking chairs was made by Bryce Moore and Clayton Brooks, from the family.

The address read:

Dear Mother and Dad :— We have gathered here today to honour you our dear parents, on the occasion of your golden anniversary. Throughout the past fifty years you have seen many changes. You have had your difficult times, had many failures, and seen much sorrow. You have also had your happy times and the joy of living a full life.

Through the years you have been a source of comfort, peace and understanding to us all. When we needed a helping hand we always knew we could depend on you. You have striven together to make us a happy united family.

MAGISTRATE'S COURT

Magistrate Garvin at the Thursday afternoon session of Police Court in Napanee found Wilbur Hart, of Napanee, guilty of being in charge of a motor vehicle while intoxicated and sentenced him to serve one week in gaol. In addition Mr. Hart was ordered to pay $34.00 Court costs. His car was impounded for three months and his driver's license was cancelled for three months.

Constable Baker in his evidence said that about 6.00 p.m., on December 20th, he noticed a car parked about 6 feet from the curb on the east side of Centre Street, just above Dundas. On investigation he found Mr. Hart slumped over the wheel. Failing to arouse Mr. Hart, Constable Baker called Provincial Constable Erskine and together they succeeded in getting Mr. Hart out of the car. He was taken immediately to the office of Dr. Galbraith. In his evidence, Dr. Galbraith stated that Hart was definitely intoxicated when brought to his office.

Mr. Hart was placed in the County gaol and at 8.40 p.m. was granted permission to have another examination by Dr. Hall. Dr. Hall stated that when Mr. Hart was brought to his office he was sober.

Mr. Hart stated on the witness stand that he had five or six drinks of rye during the afternoon of the day he was arrested, but claimed he was not intoxicated. He said that he had been unable to sleep for several nights previous and had taken the liquor to steady his nerves. At about 5.00 p.m. he said he went down town to pick up his wife at the A & P store and while waiting for her went to sleep.

Evidence was also given for Mr. Hart by several workmen employed by him and also by his wife and two guards at the Gaol.

Magistrate Garvin said that he was only concerned with Mr. Hart's condition at 6.00 p.m., when he was arrested and was convinced that at that time he was intoxicated. He also said there is an increasing disrespect for law and due to technicalities raised by defense counsel, it is also being more and more difficult to get convictions in Highway Traffic cases.

Mr. R. C. Jackson acted as Counsel for Mr. Hart and K. S. Ham, Crown Attorney conducted the case for the Crown.

Emerson York, Napanee pled guilty to leaving the scene of an accident and a fine of $10.00 and Court costs of $28.50 was imposed by Magistrate Garvin. York was driving a car belonging to Archie Alkenbrack, backed into a car belonging to Mr. Roy Hodgston, near Perry's Grocery and was later picked up at the home of Mrs. Claus on the Newburgh Road. At first he disclaimed any knowledge of the accident, but later admitted responsibility.

Archie Alkenbrack was also charged with leaving the scene of an accident, but no evidence was submitted by the Crown and the charge was withdrawn.

Farmers Call Mass Meeting To Protest Price Drop

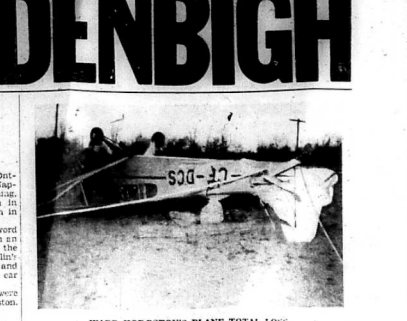
Expect Large Attendance At Town Hall, Wednesday, Jan. 25th

Sponsored by the Lennox and Addington Federation of Agriculture, a Mass Meeting of farmers will be held in the Napanee Town Hall, on Wednesday, January 25th at 2:00 p.m., when protests will be voiced and resolutions considered regarding the drastic drop in the prices of farm produce.

Mr. Charles McGinnis, President of the Ontario Hog Producers' Association will be present to address the meeting. Local members of Parliament are also expected to be present.

The present protests arise from the loss of markets for Canadian hogs and chicks, largely as a result of Britain's curtailment of purchases, due to the lack of dollars. As a result, quotations on cheese, eggs and hogs are dropping, while at the same time manufactured products are remaining at the same high level of price and industry continues to enjoy government protection in the form of tariffs.

Similar meetings of protest have been held in other parts of Ontario and have been attended by large numbers of farmers. It is expected the meeting in Napanee will attract a large attendance.



WARD HODGSTON'S PLANE TOTAL LOSS

Windstorm Causes Great Damage Over Large Area

Power Interrupted For Ten Hours

The storm which struck nearly all of Southern Ontario and the Northern part of the United States on Saturday, January 14th, did many thousand dollars damage to property in the County of Lennox and Addington. Hydro Electric Power was cut off from 8:00 a.m. until 6.00 p.m. in the whole district and telephone communication was interrupted in many sections of the County.

The most of the damage was done in the Southern part of this County. Every district reported trees blown down, fences levelled, chimneys blown off and roofing ripped off buildings.

Possibly the heaviest loss was sustained by Aubrey Davis, who lives about a mile from Napanee on the River Road and by Ward Hodgston of Napanee. Mr. Davis' barn was almost completely demolished and Mr. Hodgston's aeroplane is a total loss. Mr. Davis narrowly escaped injury when pieces of timber nearly struck him as he was running for shelter to his house. The roof of his barn was carried some distance and other debris was scattered over a wide area.

Ward Hodgston's plane was tethered to the ground in the hangar, situated west of the Selby Road, a short distance from Napanee. The South doors of the hangar were open and most of the plane was protruding from the opening. The force of the wind pulled the pegs to which ropes from the plane were attached and the plane whirled around in the hangar and then shot out into the field where it turned over several times. Mr. Hodgston estimates the value of the plane at $3000 and considers it a total loss. The plane had recently been reconditioned, and was considered to be in perfect shape. It was purchased new in 1946.

A large limb from a tall tree blew off and toppled over a chimney at Dr. Morden's home on John Street. Throughout the town a great many large trees were snapped off or pulled out by the roots causing damage to telephone and hydro poles and to buildings nearby. A large number of chimneys in the town were also damaged. The foot bridge over the Napanee River was damaged and made unsafe for traffic until it is repaired.

Buildings near the highway between Napanee and Deseronto suffered considerably. Two barns on the farm of Grayden Brummell had the coverings on the roofs partly removed. A shed on the farm of Mr. C. H. M. Church was also quite badly damaged. Two large trees near Edmund Dowlin's house were blown over and fell on the side of the house doing considerable damage.

On the Old Belleville Road, a big, tenchin Hydro pole was snapped off and trees and poles which were snapped off interrupted traffic for some time.

Throughout the whole district it is estimated that miles of fence have been blown down, roofs of dozens of buildings and a great many chimneys were damaged.

People whose homes are heated with oil or use iron fireman stokers were without heat throughout the day, but realised that everything possible was being done by the Hydro employees to give them service.

The Hydro men did an excellent job in the town. Lines were repaired and ready for use shortly after noon in the town, but had to wait for the high tension lines outside the town to be repaired for the power to be turned on. A temporary line was arranged from Kingston during the day and about 5.45 p.m. power was again supplied to the town.

The only injury sustained, that has been reported so far, was to Mrs. Jas. Tracy of Empey Hill, who was hurt while at the barn and was taken to Belleville General Hospital for treatment.

Brig. Gage Was Special Speaker at Napanee District Ministerial

"Facing the Future" was the subject of an address by Brigadier R. W. Gage of the Salvation Army, last week's special speaker at Napanee District Ministerial Association.

When the great Jewish Patriot Nehemiah, was rebuilding the wall of Jerusalem after the Exile, his enemies tried to lure him down from the wall to engage in fruitless talk. So the world still says, "Come down to us" in trying to live up to Christian standards.

The speaker compared the christian minister to a soldier, to an athlete, and to a farmer, and drew from each comparison lessons for the ministers facing a new year's work.

The speaker was thanked by Rev. W. R. Merrick who said that organized religion might be in for a hard time and that the Church needs to plan for it.

Paul Craig, Switzerville, a member of the Older Boys' Parliament that met at Whitby during the Christmas holidays, spoke to the ministers about the Parliament. He spoke of the enthusiasm that marked this meeting of representatives of Ontario's church-affiliated boys' groups and of the decisive way in which they supported high Christian standards. Among other decisions they had pronounced strongly against commercial and other organized sports on Sundays. Mr. Craig expressed a determination to work to promote boys' activities in the churches of the county.

The meeting was held in St. Mary Magdalene's Church. The president, Rev. Norman Hanna, presided and conducted devotions.

IN A HURRY

We once heard the late Hon. J. Maxton, in the British House of Commons, describe the conditions under which the slum dwellers in his constituency lived, in Glasgow. He said I cannot wait too long to get these slums cleaned up — my people are dying there, now. I'm in a hurry!

Maybe it is that desire for a change that has got hold of the Italian farmer. He has been promised a decent break time and again, but nothing seems to happen. Now he is beginning to take matters in his own hands. This is the way a dispatch from Italy describes the situation:

"Despite the plans for widespread land reform in Italy, outlined by the Gasperi Government — perhaps because of them — peasants have embarrassed the regime by staging wholesale land seizures in Calabria, Apulia, Silicy and even some regions of the north.

"Stimulated both by Communist leadership and by their age-old land hunger, peasant groups have dramatically signified their unwillingness to suffer delay. Many of them became convinced that de-Gasperi did not mean to back up his promises by action. Others grew impatient because of the very idea spread by the government announcement of its programme of land distribution.

"Noting that the scheme, though drastic, called for aid only to some ten per cent of the peasantry, many thought their chance might be deferred for years unless they resorted to force and took land at once.

"The Government might welcome the seizures as a sharp warning to recalcitrant owners of large estates, were it not that an orderly, equitable division may be impossible if the disorders grow. The programme calls not only for the giving of land, but for scientific farming, co-operative use of machinery, and development of roads and markets to make each peasant holding economically successful.

"Consternation was thrown into Communist ranks, and new heart brought to non-Communist progressive elements when Signor Scelba of the D.C.A. threw the weight of its financial power and prestige, in late December, strongly behind the land reform programme and called for its rapid expansion."

SOMETHING ACCOMPLISHED

The Conference on Dominion and Provincial relations, which met at Ottawa, many not seem to have achieved very tangible results. But the Conference accomplished something worth while, nevertheless. Unlike former conferences, this one did not break up in a deadlock. There was some pretty straight talk at the conference, yet a good spirit prevailed. Ontario and Quebec, which had been the stumbling block to amicable conclusions at the earlier meeting, were in a mood to co-operate, this time, if that co-operation did not involve the sacrifice of any vital principle.

After all, it is this spirit of willingness to work together for the good of all, that is the important matter. Premier Duplessis of Quebec did not throw any monkey wrenches into the machine this time, and Premier Frost showed a genuine willingness to co-operate with all the others.

If nothing else was done at this Conference than to create a good spirit and an atmosphere of good will, it has been worth all the time and effort that was put upon it. The next meeting will be much more sure of success because of what was done at the one held last week. It is absolutely impossible to get anywhere with a group divided into two irreconcilable parties. The first requisite to success is to break down antagonism and to create the right spirit. This was the great achievement at Ottawa.

POWER SHORTAGE

The ten-hour disruption in the power service had two general results. In the first place there was the inconvenience. Everybody in the town and community was inconvenienced. Where auxiliary heating was available the situation was not too bad. At least there was some heat and cooking facilities even if they were of a more or less improvised nature. But where there was no heat, it was difficult to keep warm and to get meals.

Then too, the disruption made aware in a rather vivid way, how much we are dependent on electricity. Electricity has become a necessity. The modern family heats the home with push-button ease. The old tallow-dip with its dim and sputtering flicker, made way for the oil lamp which, in turn, was supplanted by the electric light. Our homes are lighted with push-button ease; cooking, too. . . . Electricity has been so cheap and in such abundance that the wood, coal and oil stoves have been supplanted, in large measure, by the electric stove. Cooking is done, too with push-button ease. Vacuum cleaners, toasters, ironers, washers, refrigerators — all tend to make the modren housewife's work lighter and have really worked a revolution in housekeeping technique. No wonder then, that when the power goes off the inconvenience is great indeed.

Then, too, there is another conclusion from which it is impossible to escape, and yet it is one to which all too little attention is given. In the last analysis, we are all dependent on the forces of nature. When the rain fall is light, wells run dry, water has to be drawn for stock and crops are retarded. When rain fails to come at the proper time, streams run slowly, and Hydro electricity is in short supply. When a storm breaks, as it did on Saturday and Sunday, there is little that can be done about it. Trees fall, barns flatten out, roofs are torn off and in the aggregate, millions of dollars damage is done — and often a tornado or hurricane leaves a trail of death and destruction in its trail. There is really nothing that can be done about it, save to try and understand nature and to co-operate to the use of its powers for the benefit of mankind. Always remembering that she has the last word.

Farmers, from time immemorial, have been known as individualists. They work alone a great deal of the time. Plowing alone, harrowing alone, doing the barn work alone, develops in them a sturdy independence that has always made the farmer the backbone of a Democratic country.

This independence, however, has certain drawbacks. It is only within quite recent times that the farmers, themselves, have recognized this and set out to eliminate them. The growth of agricultural societies: milk producers, egg producers, hog producers, apple growers, and many other organizations indicate a willingness, indeed a determination to co-operate for the good of their industry — if it is permissible to refer to these as industries. At any rate, farmers are now organized and are able to talk, if not with one voice, with at least, two or three voices. That is all to the good!

Sweden was one of the earliest countries to develop co-operative producing and selling, and one of the first, if not the first, to establish folk schools where young farmers might take advantage of cultural training in their off months. In recent months a new development has taken place in Sweden, where Swedish agricultural societies are seeking light on methods pursued by farmers in other countries. Reginald Spink, writing from Stockholm, says:—

"Farm workers in The Netherlands and Sweden are beginning to learn all they can about agriculture in each others' countries.

"The two nations are promoting schemes for exchange visits. During 1949, ten Dutch farm workers were invited by the Swedish Agricultural Workers' Union to make a fortnight's study tour of Swedish farms and food-processing plants. Costs inside Sweden were borne by the Swedish organization, other expenses by Dutch groups. Ten Swedish farm workers will repay the visit in 1950, while ten British farm workers will so to Sweden.

"The Swedish union has also sent one of its members, with expenses paid, to work six months on a farm in The United States. Meantime, Dutch authorities are inviting foreign farm workers to spend three months in The Netherlands. The workers will receive pocket money and are expected to attend agricultural training colleges, besides working on the land."

It is really not a bad idea.

Int. Sunday School Lesson, January 22nd

THE FIRST CHRISTIAN MARTYR

Lesson Text:
Acts 6: 8–15; 7: 54–60

As the number of converts to Christianity grew, naturally the membership became more complex. It was a comparatively easy matter when there were only a small group for them to have all things in common, to pool their resources and share and share alike. But soon, there were murmurings: some people did not think they were getting as much as others. So it became necessary to have some sort of organization.

The apostles were then chosen to help distribute the food and other necessities. Then some of the Greek Christians began to grumble because no Greek had been appointed. So these Greeks were asked to appoint seven of their own number. This they did, and one of the seven was Stephen.

Stephen seems to have been a devout, scholarly man. He rose to rise top in the new organization. His ability and his worth were soon recognized. He saw what was involved in the religion of Jesus. As always happens in a religious organization, there were those who wanted to debate with the position of the leader. They got together and tried to "stump" Stephen in debate. But Stephen was too smart for them — they could not withstand the wisdom and the spirit with which he spoke.

Then the next step was the one usually taken when reason fails. These men who were opposed to Stephen tried to get him. They stirred up the people against him. They got him before the council; put up evidence. Their main contention was that Stephen claimed that Jesus had changed the customs of Moses and the Old Testament elders. Of course they had torn a phrase or two out of Stephen's speeches and, ignoring the context, trumped up this charge. Stephen really made little defense. He simply stated that he saw God and Jesus standing beside him. This was too much for the old-timers. They refused to listen, and rushed him out and stoned him to death.

Why was Jesus put to death? Was it not because the champions of things as they are could not think of the old order as capable of change. Why was Stephen put to death? Was is not for exactly the same reason. Change, indeed even the suggestion of the possibility of change in religious beliefs and practices always stirs up resentment, bitterness, often fanaticism and cruelty. Hundreds of thousands of Christians have been persecuted and put to death, simply because they refused to conform.

This bitterness, this resentment against any who think differently from the prevailing majority group, is not confined to any one generation. It is with us still. There are always those who think the world will go to pieces if a new interpretation of truth is suggested. And they will go to any lengths to prevent the exponent of new interpretations from getting a hearing.

Of course, there are always the few who develop a martyr complex, who court persecution. It is a source of pleasure for them. That is certainly a bad frame of mind to get into. But the world owes a great debt to the genuine martyrs, like Stephen. It is still true that the death of the martyrs is the seed of the church.

Girls' and Boys' Club Work in Len. and Addington

In 1931, the first year of Club Work in the Dominion of Canada, there were 1215 clubs of various kinds with an enrolment of 21,242 members. In 1949, in the Provinces of Ontario alone, there were 1164 clubs with 10,-635 members which gives some indication of the tremendous growth over the years in this work, notwithstanding the fact that during the war years, participation was cut down very ex ensively. In the County of Lennox and Addington last year, there were six clubs organized with 92 members which is only a very small percentage of the number of people eligible for enrolment.

Membership in clubs is open to all farm boys and girls in the age group from 12 to 20 inclusive and included in the projects are clubs having to do with calves, both dairy and beef, swine, poultry, grain, potatoes, forestry and tractors. Special clubs for the girls known as Girls' Home Guiden Clubs in which they receive special and flower seeds are also organized.

Applications for membership in club work are accepted any time after the first of January and previous to the organization meetings held in March or early April and meetings are held during the summer months where some instructional work is given and practice in judging is had until Achievement Day when products of the clubs are exhibited at the local Fair depending on the locality in which the club has been organized.

Attractive cash awards are given to each and every participant who completes the project concerned and it is imperative that any boy or girl who enrols in any club does complete the project by exhibiting at the Achievement Day. We are fortunate in this county to have a number of special prizes in the form of silver trophies and merchandise of various kinds to offer for competition.

Each year a judging team of two members of any club of boys and girls 16 years of age and over may be chosen to go to Guelph to represent this club in judging competitions. In the Poultry and Calf clubs, the best three calves in each club and the best pen of poultry are allowed to compete as a group at both the Kingston and Ottawa Exhibitions and our calves in the past have made a very good showing.

Notices have been mailed to all last years' members of clubs with application forms to be filled out and are to be returned to the Department of Agriculture at Napanee on or before January 31st. No doubt there are eligible juniors who will not receive these circulars and for those people, a personal call at the office or a letter will be sufficient to get more detailed information about the Club work and is the only way in which we know that you are interested in becoming a member of a Club.

THE NEW PLYMOUTH

Viewed from the front, rear or side, the new 1950 Plymouth models, which go on display Saturday, January 14 at Trudeau Motors Limited, Chrysler Plymouth, Fargo dealer for Napanee and district, present a longer, lower and more streamlined appearance, according to an announcement by Mr. John C. McGuire, General Sales Manager, Chrysler, Plymouth, Fargo Division, Chrysler Corporation of Canada, Limited.

Width of rear treads, — increased for greater stability and to ease tire-loading stress on curves, — enhance the car's general appearance. Thirty-two per cent larger than on previous models, the new rear window increases visibility for greater safety and adds to the new car's streamlined effect. Famous Plymouth comfort features, such as chair-high seats, head-room and leg-room to spare and large, convenient, front and rear doors, have been retained.

Rear fenders, detachable for economical removal if repairs are necessary, have been restyled and lengthened. The larger rear window, greater overall width, and alterations on the rear deck, provide a longer, heavier, road-hugging appearance for all models. The new grille has been simplified and been made more massive. It consists of two large horizontal bars with a curved-down top bar and a single vertical bar at the centre. Over the grille, the Plymouth name plate appears in large block letters, and a bigger, more colourful medallion has been placed over the name plate.

In addition to the increased area of the window, other safety features include the well-lighted, and easily-read instrument panel, safety-rim wheels and super-cushion tires, which are standard on all models. Among the many convenience features are ignition-key starting, rotary switches, and a spacious luggage compartment with a counter-balanced and self-centering lid and clear level loading floor.

"Sea-Leg" rear shock absorbers eliminate side-sway for a comfortable ride, and passengers in both front and rear, ride between the axles for additional riding comfort.

The powerful 97-Horsepower high compression engine delivers smooth quiet power at all speeds. Whether the engine is idling, cruising at moderate speeds, accelerating, or meeting the demand of heavy loads at high speeds, the Plymouth engine gives smooth, economical and powerful performance at all times.

"There are seven new Plymouth models; two in the Special DeLuxe and five in the DeLuxe series, including the all-metal, all-purpose Suburban", Mr. McGuire said. "We found from a study of the tastes of prospective buyers what they want in a new car. We have produced a complete line of Plymouth cars which we feel answers today's demands for true automotive styling".

FARM FORUM REVIEW

1950! — I suppose New Year resolutions are more or less outdated, so we won't mention them. Nevertheless the Farm Forum idea has taken the most encouraging forward movement of the season. During the holiday rush, naturally enough, there were few reports entered but those few had some sound ideas.

Yarty Lake Forum used Review Nite to discuss our new Canadian citizens. They decided that a welcome-hand should be extended to these newcomers whenever possible, to bring a more friendly and enjoyable relationship in the neighborhood. We believe that the above resolution is a real embodiment of their best remarks, which were: "We believe Christianity is definitely a fundamental part of the social and economic life of every community." A point well worth remembering now and later on, when the festivities good-will of Christmas has passed.

Bicknell's Corners met and listened to Mr. Garnet Brooks, of the district co-operative insurance agent. He explained the formation and constitution of co-operative life and automobile insurance and later answered the many interested questioners who were anxious to find out more about the recently formed co-operative company.

Several questions have arisen this season, so far, concerning Farm Forum. The first is: Why are we supposed to pay 50c per series, per family? Isn't that more than necessary? The answer is, no! Claire Burt writes that their postage is over $250 this year, so far. The Farm Forum Guides cost over $700 per series, the findings pads cost, 40c each; add to this office rent, telephone, wages for two full-time stenographers and Mr. Burt's salary, and the cost is readily seen to be considerable. If we are convinced the Forum is a worthwhile institution, we must pay for it. We can't expect a nation wide system such as the Forum, to exist and accomplish things on a shoestring budget. If we think a moment, all of us can recall expenditures which are not necessary or (to borrow from Aunt Enjoy's vocabulary) downright frivolous; at any rate, less worthy than support of the Forum.

Let us consider Ontario Farm Radio Forum, not merely as a time when we can beat Joe and the Wife playing euchre or fill up on Betty's delish food cake, but rather as a nation-wide system to improve and stimulate the farmers' opinions on production methods, marketing, or housing, or political problems. Let us use and appreciate this democratic system whereby constructive criticism or commendation may be given to the growth and development of Canada's technical and cultural advances.

Has your Forum sent in this series contribution? Don't forget the county fund, too! — Thanks.

The second question was: What has the Farm Forum accomplished by actual legislation? This is answered by Claire Burt who says, in part "it is difficult to pin down something that has been specifically responsible for forums. There are hundreds of examples where forums have assisted, usually their Federation of Agriculture in accomplishing these things. One good example was the increase in the price paid for pork last year on the British bacon contract, because of the resolutions and protests of forums that were sent in. When the seed grain crisis was at its peak, Herb. Hannon made the statement that Farm Radio Forum and its action has as much to do with the increase in price of nearly $4.00 a bushel wheat, than any other single effort. Our findings are always influencing legislation. The Federation of Agriculture bases its policy chiefly on Farm Radio Forum findings, and you'll note that this year, the theme of the Ontario Federation was, conservation. This year a Royal Commission was appointed to study the question, and action is taken directly. This followed the findings of the Forum, exactly. The co-operative medical services, which is rapidly growing, has been a direct result of Radio Farm Forum.'

It is quite apparent, then, that Farm Radio Forum findings do have some influence where it is needed, and we can be assured that the bigger and more extensive our forums are, the more readily their opinions and suggestions will be regarded.

This is the season of short courses and folk schools. Make a point to send a representative from your forum to some of these courses. It may mean a difficult bit of management at home, but the results are certainly worth it. You will find that these courses are attended by some of our most efficient and busy farmers, who realize that a few days away from home are more than compensated for by the mental stimulus received and fresh viewpoints and thoughts which these new surroundings achieve.

1950 Brings out three new Forums, which will hold their organization meeting in Centreville on Monday night. This County may be quite proud that it has the best record in the Province for percentage of new forums started and continuing old ones.

Let's keep that record, eh?

Longer peaked-crown rear fenders carried at their full height almost to the rear of the car, and a new grouping of tail light, stop light and turn signal, flush-mounted in each rear fender, give a clean, graceful appearance to the new rear end design.

Comfort features such as Chrysler's famous chair-high seats, generous head and leg-room, and ease of entrance and exit which have proven popular in previous models have been retained. The centre steering system with the high steering ratio between the steering wheel and the front wheels, and final equal length tie-rods to each wheel, make it possible to steer with minimum effort. Airplane type direct-acting shock absorbers provide a two-way control of spring and car action so necessary to smooth riding. They prevent abrupt spring action and stop car bouncing.

The L-head 115 Horsepower engine is quiet and smooth in operation. The air cleaner has a large silencer tuned to the engine. A long breather pipe on engine crankcase makes servicing easy; sealing of the cap gives maximum protection against dust. The reliability of the fuel system is assured by the high capacity of the fuel pump. The water-proofed ignition system gives quick starting in all types of weather.

Chrysler's famous Presto-Matic drive which eliminates shifting gears in all normal driving is standard on all Chrysler Windsor models, and is optional on Chrysler Royal models. The Presto-Matic transmission is simple; designed for easy servicing and is free of exterior control mechanisms. The safety clutch is retained for aid in parking and for easy manoeuvring in snow, sand, and icy roads.

In making the announcement, Mr. McGuire pointed out that "in these new Chrysler cars, the public is offered even finer performance, more safety and comfort in these finest and most beautiful automobiles ever produced in the history of the Chrysler Corporation of Canada, Limited.

MOSCOW MISSION BAND CHRISTMAS PARTY

The Christmas meeting and party for the Mission Band in Moscow United Church was held at the home of Mrs. C. A. Baker with an attendance of twenty members and visitors. In the absence of the president, Marlene Keech took charge of the meeting, which opened with all repeating the Membership Purpose and the Lord's Prayer. The secretary, Garry Drew, read the minutes, which were accepted as read and then the leader, Mrs. Baker, took charge of the business.

After welcoming all to the meeting Mrs. Baker asked the new Mission Band leader, Mrs. T. C. Armstrong to speak to the members. Mrs. Armstrong spoke very nicely to the children and said she hoped to have the meetings in the school on the last Friday afternoon of each month.

It was announced that the collection taken at the Mission Band has brought in $8.88, which brought the total amount raised to $27.43. This has been taken to Strathcona Paper Mill by Charles Darling, T. C. Armstrong, Roy Judge and C. A. Baker. Jean Baker called the roll.

A very fine Christmas worship service was given by the members with Duane Halliday acting as leader and Reg. McQuay reading the scripture. A Christmas dialogue was given by Jean and Jim Baker and Juanita McQuay played a piano solo. A short play The Cigarette That Jack Had, was given by several boys and girls. Christmas readings were given by Jean Baker, Mrs. Roy Judge and Mrs. Armstrong. The offering was received by Lorne Judge and dedicated by Mrs. Baker.

The election and installation of officers followed. The officers are: past-president, David Huffman; president, Jean McNeil; 1st vice-president, Garry Drew, and vice-pres., Marlene Keech; secretary, Jean Baker; treasurer, Reg. McQuay; roll call Duane Halliday.

Christmas Messages was given by thirteen children under the leadership of Mrs. Armstrong. Mrs. Ward Baker gave the Christmas chapter from the study book and the meeting was closed by the Mizpah benediction, after which the papers were given out and treats and a sing-song enjoyed.

GRACE CHURCH W. A. CHRISTMAS MEETING

The December meeting of the Woman's Association was held Thursday afternoon in the Sunday school room. Mrs. Arnold Rogers, president, presided. Mrs. W. G. Smith gave the report concerning the gowns that had been made for the Junior Choir and expressed appreciation to all those who had assisted in making them, and a special vote of thanks to Miss Emma VanAystyne, who had cut them out. The bill for the gowns was ordered to be paid. A donation was given to the W. M. S. and also towards the new piano that had recently been purchased.

Mrs. A. Lewis presented a life membership certificate to the W.M.S. to Mrs. J. Haggerty from the W.A.

The installation of officers was then taken by Rev. D. McLellan.

Mrs. C. D. McLellan had charge of the worship service, the topic of which was Darkness and Light.

Readings were given by Mrs. H. Laugford and Mrs. McLellan. Miss Reading by Mrs. D. Moore and the prayers by Mrs. Lorne Clark. Mrs. W. G. Smith also assisted. A vocal duet was given by Mrs. R. Wightman and Mrs. J. Ford. Mrs. F. Correll the treasurer, gave her yearly report, which was most encouraging and revealed that the Association had had a most successful year.

The meeting closed with the benediction by Mr. McLellan.

Less than five per cent of live births in Canada are illegitimate.

ENTERPRISE FRIENDSHIP CIRCLE CHRISTMAS MEETING

The Christmas meeting of the Friendship Circle of Enterprise United Church was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Vannest, with an attendance of forty-five.

H. E. Vannest presided for the business session with Mrs. Milo Jackson as secretary. Thank you cards were received from Mrs. William Loucks and Mrs. Edith Brown. Roy Hartman resigned as treasurer and Raymond Vannest was appointed to the position. The New Year meeting will be at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Kennedy, with Mrs. D. J. Walker, Mrs. Charles Davey and Mrs. R. C. Covert in charge of the programme.

Raymond Vannest conducted the Christmas Programme which was interspersed with carols led by Mrs. Raymond Vannest. Scripture reading were given by Mrs. Ralph Thompson, Mrs. D. J. Walker and Cecil Kennedy. Rev. K. J. Crawford led in prayer. Mrs. Howard Holland gave a reading entitled 'To-day is Christmas.' The meditation was read by Roy Hartman and prayer by Raymond Vannest followed. A surprise basket of Christmas gifts was presented to Rev. and Mrs. Crawford

SCIENTISTS SEEKS ISLAND

William Beebe, the naturalist, had his attention arrested by a black speck on the map. It indicated a small island in the Gesapfor group, and he went to seek out the island.

Arrived there, he was amazed at the riot of color which the tiny ... disclosed. Black no longer, the strata of the cliff flowed with yellow and olive, and pink and gray; over the broken rocks at the base of the cliff there scurried giant scarlet crabs; in the shallow water of the ocean, gorgeously colored angel-fish were grandfully swimming.

And I was seeing all these new beauties, says Beebe, at second hand, impulse of a tiny black dot on a map!

What holy impulses God gives to His people, and how often they come from small things; a bird note, a flower in a crannied wall, a sunset, a cliff, or blue in a stormclad sky! Sometimes a word in the Bible, a poet's line, a simple testimony, a prayer will serve.

If we follow out all our best impulses, what treasures of grace and glory may be ours.

NEW CITIES ARISING OUT OF DRAB MINING CENTRES

Amid the industrial hubbub of North-east England, two twentieth cities are all set in finery in one of the most challenging social experiments of our time. They are 'on their marks' in a race to build towns of quiet perfection, master-planned dream cities to abolish slums and bring the good life to miners and industrial workers of the dawning mid-century.

Planned by the people who live there today — the Smiths and Robinsons, workers and housewives — one of the towns is a 'makeover', bright as a new spring hat, of the grimy steel and chemical Yorkshire no-man's land of Middlesbrough.

The other town is Peterlee, fresh and virid as tomorrow, an entirely new centre for 60,000 people, designed to act a model example to all the repulsively ugly — and fast-dying — mining villages of drab, southwest Durham.

Says the architect, 'It will be a family town where hearts are light and gay. The women it will mean the end of chicken-coop living and household drudgery.'

Up a hillside in sight of the sea struggle the first few houses, with the advancing foundation trenches for many more. Tomorrow they will form merely a side - street amid broadening parks and gardens.

Second largest steel centre in the world, Middlesbrough took a leap back as its blitz rubble and red brick during the war, and decided it did not like what it saw.

Middlesbrough mushroomed round the coke - ovens and blast furnaces during last century's industrial boom. Street by street of densely - packed houses were put up merely to give house workers without thought of amenities or recreation. By modern standards one-third of the population is living in a festering slum.

This is the oldest area near the Tees River, where 90 per cent of the houses lack bathrooms and gardens, infant deaths are twice as high as in the suburbs, and the children have to play in the street for lack of school playgrounds.

Self - respecting housewives battle helplessly against a soot-fall measured at 460 tons per year, nine times heavier than in the suburbs. In many streets the density of the population is packed into the space occupied by a single house on the average new estate.

Nor is this all. In the sprawling haphazard suburbs 100,000 people had no cinemas, no shops, churches, public libraries or public space. Instead of living closely together, Middlesbrough folk noticed that lack of facilities kept them apart.

'Let's make a clean sweep of the lot!' said the townfolk, discussing the fate of the old Middlesbrough. And merely new department stores, a replanned town centre — but let's have a new city. And let's take our sterile suburbs in hand and mould a healthier pattern of neighbourhood life.

When the civic fathers obeyed the popular demand and swung into action, they found because the problems had to be solved before the new Middlesbrough could be planned and modelled.

Under the architect mayor, a team of young architects, town - planners, economists and geographers took up residence in Middlesbrough, to prepare a scheme on the spot.

These enthusiasts deliberately set out to meet the ordinary people of the town and invite their co-operation. Industrialists, clergy, teachers, shopkeepers, club leaders — all came forward to pool information. From the immense mass of data further facts emerged.

It took nine months to diagnose, in clarifying detail, just what was wrong and produce a redevelopment plan. Then 22,000 people—one-sixth of the population—studied the proposals and contributed criticism.

As a result the Middlesbrough plan has never been shelved. It springs from the hearts of the people and now the first 4,700 new houses are going up. Meanwhile, derelict and slum-age yards are disappearing, making space — among other things — for through motor roads that bypass the shopping streets.

The new neighborhoods will be like four outstretched fingers through green wedges of countryside. Rehousing 22,000 people from central areas, each community is to have its own clubs, shops, clinics, nurseries, libraries and other amenities.

The rise of Peterlee is no less dramatic. While Middlesbrough's essential problem was the making-over of an obsolete city, Peterlee springs from the hideous squalor of a score of mining villages.

Here again, regardless of smoke, dirt and noise, the houses had been monotonously packed round the collieries, each with a front-window view of its neighbors, a back-window view of the slag-heaps.

Fifty per cent lacked bathrooms, but this is a mere detail. Some streets had only one water tap for every-six houses, and sanitation was little better. Wives had nothing to do but work or gossip in the dead, empty streets.

So the townplanners got busy, and the brand-new town of Peterlee is springing up in all its brightness, striking contrast with the dreary villages it is replacing.

Modern Inventions Inspired

By studying the lives and habits of various animals, man has obtained much valuable information in architecture, mining, engineering, medical science, the art of camouflaging, military engineering and many other things.

From the study of the construction of the quills of birds, man learned how to make hollow metal tubes, combining strength with the minimum weight and size.

By studying bats, radar — long in use by these flying mammals — is one of man's newest inventions.

From the wasp and hornet man learned the art of making paper from wood pulp; from the nest wasp, he learned the value of mud as building material, and from the silk-worms he learned much about silk.

The snowshoe rabbit, the grouse and ptarmigan with their natural snowshoes, furnishes the inspiration for man to invent snowshoes, skis and skates.

Beyond doubt man obtained much valuable knowledge in the art of building dams and constructing canals from the famous dam builders, the beavers.

Medical science adopted the use of anaesthetic and hypodermic needles probably from observing wasps and slow-worms using them on victims.

Eagles, hawks and vultures gave man his idea for gliders. And the first ballconists and parachutists, capable of going many miles before alighting, are the common spiders.

Doubtless the idea of the submarine came from the diving spider which forms a bubble of air and goes down into the water with his tiny tank of oxygen.

From the skunk, man got his idea for gas as a weapon, and from the octopus, which discharges ink into the water disobeying it so escape from the enemy is made possible, the use of the smoke-screen was developed.

Some 2,000 or more years ago, military designers made a shell - like shield, similar to the turtle, which protected soldiers in battle. In more recent years, still copying from the turtle, tanks have come into great use.

Although man copied the helicopter from the dragonfly, no man-made machine will ever be so perfect as the living helicopter which changes its direction with great rapidity and with all ease while in flight, and which has perfect all-around visibility, and wonderweapons of offence.

Among the animals are wonderful examples of camouflage which no artist could ever equal. The walking-stick insect which looks so similar to a twig; butterflies which resemble leaves; owls which look like bark-covered wood. Young deer with their spotted hides, resemble light and shadows on the ground — these and many others have taught man the art of camouflage.

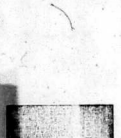
and what they mean in

EATON ADVERTISING



This is the text-book that guides our advertising writers in everything they say about our merchandise. It lays down hard-and-fast rules against exaggeration and misrepresentation, helps us to keep our advertising accurate and true.

Comparative Prices are common currency in advertising. They're expressed in many ways, in terms like "Regularly" — "Ordinarily" — "Originally" — "Made to sell for" — "Worth twice the price" — and so on . . . phrases that are some times meaningful, sometimes misleading, often hard to prove or understand.

We would like our Customers to know how we at EATON'S use comparative prices in our advertising . . . how we limit their use by strict regulations to ensure that their meaning will be consistently clear :

When we quote "comparative prices" — that is, compare an EATON special price with the ordinary price prevailing -- we shop the local market thoroughly — to make certain that the special price to be quoted is substantially lower than the price at which this article is presently being sold in other stores as well as our own. Only when this condition is fulfilled, will we quote comparative prices in our advertising.

Whenever we quote a "regular price," we refer to the last price at which the merchandise was sold at EATON'S . . . even though that price may have been a reduction on an earlier "regular price." Thus, if we sell an article at 4.95, reduce it to 3.98, and later on reduce it to 2.98 — it will be advertised as Regular 3.98, Special Price 2.98.

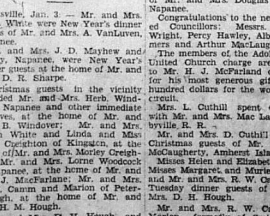
If we advertise an article "Regular 4.95, Special Price 3.25," we mean that this same article has been selling for some time on our counters for the regular price and has been reduced for some specific reason, which we state — such as: "ends of lines," or "Broken sizes," or "discontinued styles."

These strict limitations on the use of comparative prices represent only one of the many rules we rigidly adhere to in order to safeguard our Customers' interests

In this — and many other ways, we work hard to keep our advertising clear and true and accurate . . . because we value above all things your confidence . . . and we safeguard it by sticking to this simple, straight-forward rule :

EATON Advertising must mean what it says . . . . and says what it means !

What is EATON'S Reduction Rack ?



EATON'S Automatic Reduction Rack is your style assurance of fresh, up-to-the-minutes regular merchandise. . . . If a garment "over-stays its leave", it reaches the Automatic Reduction Rack and is subject, each Thursday, to a reduction of 10 per cent off the original selling price until it is sold. . . . You can readily see the advantage of watching EATON'S Automatic Reduction Rack for worth-while savings !

Several Cases Impetigo Among The Pupils In County Schools

In recent weeks a considerable number of cases of impetigo have been found in the pupils of the Lennox and Addington County schools during the examinations carried on by the County Health Unit. This skin disease is caused by staphylococcus or streptococcus germs, and is quite contagious.

Impetigo may be superimposed on ordinary cold sores or on scratches or scrapes on the skin. The commonest location is the face; but impetigo also occurs on the arms, legs and body. The lesions consist of most abraded areas covered by scabs and containing pus.

In order to successfully treat impetigo the scabs must be soaked off the sores and medication then applied. Children are excluded from school during the moist stage of this disease. When the scabs have been removed and the affected skin areas have dried up, the pupil is allowed to return to school. If the disease is found early and treated at once, the pupil does not lose much school time.

BATH, ENGLAND Expresses Gratitude BATH, ONTARIO

The Reeve of Bath, Mr. H. Bulch, and Mrs. Bulch, have recently received a very elaborate greeting card and an illustrated circular of Bath, England, from the Mayor of that place.

It will be remembered that a goodly sum had been accumulated for the City of Bath, England, at a garden party held at Fairfield House on the spacious lawns of the home of Mrs. Gutzeit and the late Dr. W. H. Gutzeit. There was over $500 raised for this bombed-out area, by the Bath War Workers, and forwarded to the residents there.

Mr. Bulch is very pleased with this expression of gratitude and proposes to have it framed and placed in the Municipal Hall, at an early date.

Record Number of Students For Ministry United Church Canada

Toronto, Jan. 9. — As The United Church of Canada enters its twenty-fifth year of union, it was announced today that at no other time in the past 25 years have so many young men and women been training to be ministers of The United Church of Canada.

Rev. Dr. W. Harold Young, Secretary of the Board of Colleges and Schools of The United Church of Canada said today that there are 498 men and women training in Theological Colleges compared with 450 a year ago. The number of candidates has jumped from 393 three years ago, to 498 this year. 122 of these being new candidates.

"This response of our youth should stir the whole church as we approach our anniversary year. It does not, by any means, save the problem of filling United Church pulpits," Dr. Young said. "We ought to have 650 men and women in our theological colleges each year in some phase of their training."

Nat. Temperance Study Course Prize Winners

The annual National Temperance Study Course under the National Sunday school and the Women's Christian Temperance Union, conducted in the Sunday schools of Canada, last October, a series of studies on temperance. The studies appeared in the Sunday school papers and were divided into Junior and Intermediate - Senior divisions.

Many of the scholars studied these lessons, but did not write. In the Counties of Hastings, Prince Edward and Lennox and Addington, some 110 sent in papers. Many were excellent and competition was very close. All receiving 65 per cent. and over are awarded honor certificates and 80 to 60 per cent., pass certificates.

Prizes are awarded the four highest in each division, from local Unions, County, Provincial and Dominion.

The Temperance work in the Sunday schools is made interesting throughout the year by the Temperance Secretary, in programmes of varied nature. Rev. H. J. Whitney says: "I call temperance a living issue because I believe, for many people it constitutes a vital personal problem—either for themselves or their loved ones."

The winners of prizes in Lennox and Addington are:

Intermediate — Wilma Wagar of Norwich, age 12, 96 per cent; Marilyn Stafford (Grace) Napanee, age 13, 97 per cent.

Open Meeting To Be Held To Form Hockey Association

Need Prompts Interested Citizens To Call Meeting

On Tuesday evening of next week, January 17th, a meeting will be held at The Gibbard Recreation Rooms, for the purpose of forming an Association to handle the Minor Hockey League, which are now operating in the Town and District. At the present time there are several divisions of boys playing in scheduled groups set up by a few interested citizens and fans and the need for an Association to see that the future stars of our Community are given all the assistance possible, is very evident, and we urge you to make an effort to be present and assist in any way you can.

In another column of this paper you will get an idea just how many youngsters are taking part in this winter pastime. The schedules you see are just a portion of the kids taking part. Besides the Bantams, Midgets and Juveniles, we have a multitude of boys classed as 'Pee Wees'.

The job of handling and looking after these 'fry' is not an easy one, even for an Association, much less a handful of men who are giving their valuable time and assistance in an effort to see that your youngster and mine can be taught the rudiments of being a hockey player, a gentleman and a good sport.

Financial assistance will be necessary, but it is not the most important item. The main item we refer to is the formation of a group of interested men into an Association that will not only be for the present year but to see that this activity is properly conducted, from year to year.

Other municipalities have accomplished what this district is now attempting, and with a great deal of success. Several years ago, we had Mr. Eddie Watts, who was the Chief of Police for the Town, and the work and effort of this one individual in promoting sport in Napanee, will long be remembered. The Town Hall steps and his office were the scene of many a gathering when 'Eddie' took the Kids to the rink or the ball diamond, for games.

This well - remembered scene can be repeated with very little effort by the individual, if he will lend his support to this much-needed venture. Citizens who have taken an active interest in promotion of athletics in the district, have been handed a special invitation to be present and the majority will be on hand to assist in the organization of the association.

Our present rink, even at its best in years gone by, is a bone of contention to all who love hockey and skating. There is no better way of getting something more suited to a progressive community than to have a public - supported association in operation to lead the way.

The meeting will get under way at 8:00 o'clock.

Don Fairbairn Radio Broadcaster Appeals For 'Uncief'

Speaking At Rotary Urges Campaign For Napanee

Don Fairbairn, who broadcasts the "Neighborly News" programme from Toronto, each Sunday morning, was in Napanee for a week and was the speaker at the weekly Rotary luncheon meeting. He spoke on the work of UNICEF — the United Nations Children's Emergency Fund. He made an appeal to Napanee, to raise money for the fund and, in his short address, gave some information regarding the needs of the organization and how the funds are administered.

"Uniect" was organized in 1946 by the United Nations Council and, since then, a tremendous job has been done toward relief for abandoned children throughout the world. In Europe, 1948 one new-fund was provided for four and a half million children and clothing was also supplied from funds raised by 'Unicef.' This year, Mr. Fairbairn said, twenty million children throughout the world will be in need of food, if they are to survive. If they are not fed, at least one-third of them will die before next spring.

To-day, in the world, there are a large number of agencies looking after children but none of them has the scope of 'Unicef.' This year an attempt is being made to raise from 40 to 50 million dollars for the fund. The governments of the United Nations will supply part of the funds, which will have to be supplemented by individual subscriptions. The Canadian Government will donate one million dollars this year and it is hoped three times that amount will be raised in Canada by public subscription.

No money is paid out for organizations or advertising. The money raised in any one Country never leaves the Country. It is spent for goods produced in the Country, which are shipped to lands where relief is to be given. Distribution of the goods is handled by the country added, under the supervision of a team from the United Nations.

Mr. Fairbairn said there is definitely an emergency now. Hordes of children in many lands are homeless and without food, clothing, education or medical care. If they are to be saved, quick action must be taken.

Mr. Fairbairn made a strong appeal for some organization being set up in Napanee, so that funds could be collected from interested individuals and societies.

The speaker was introduced by H. P. Wightman and was thanked by Doug. Mayhew.

Shannonville Man Threatens Neighbor— Overpowered by Police

Considerable excitement prevailed around the Shannonville district on Sunday, January 8th, when Provincial Police from Belleville and Napanee surrounded the home of John Cummings and arrested him after a complaint had been made that he threatened to shoot Mrs. William Doherty, a neighbor.

Cummings, who was decorated several times for overseas service, accused Mrs. Doherty of being responsible for the proposed eviction of his family from their home. He is alleged to have walked into Mrs. Doherty's home with a rifle and threatened to shoot her.

Cummings was overpowered by Constable John Hurry, who broke into the house and was faced by a rifle in Cummings' hands. In the gun was a .22 shell and in Cummings' pockets were 25 more shells.

Cummings was lodged in the Belleville gaol and is faced with the charge of pointing a gun at an officer.

The assault took place at the home of William Oke, on Christmas Eve, Knight claimed he was in drink at the time that he had no recollection of striking his wife, Mrs. Phyllis Knight that she and her husband had been dancing in the house and that for no apparent reason Mr. Knight struck his wife in the face, loosening her teeth and fracturing her nose.

County Member Boys' Parliament Reports On Session

Boys Tackle Many Current Problems

Ronald Craig, R.R. No. 4, Napanee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Craig, who was elected Member for Lennox and Addington constituency, attended the sessions of the Parliament, last week, and has written the following report on the proceedings of the Parliament:— The Ontario Older Boys' Parliament was held from Dec. 27th to 31st, in Ontario Ladies' College, Whitby, with 82 boys in attendance. These boys were elected in November to represent more than 8,000 boys across Ontario and Quebec.

This parliament is set up on the same principle as any parliament in the British Empire, with a Governor-General, Dr. Stanley Osborne, the Premier, Jim Coffee; a Premier, the Leader of the Government, Ronald Kay of Toronto; and a Leader of the Opposition, Val Van de Wall, from Barrie.

On the morning of December 27th, we registered and had a chance to meet the premier, the leader of the Opposition and other Parliamentary leaders. After lunch we signed the Oath of Allegiance to the King of Kings and were appointed our seats in the House.

Parliament got into full swing after the formal meeting when a debate on the Speech from the Throne gave every member a chance to present the troubles or a report of the work being done for boys in each constituency.

Breakfast was held at 8 o'clock in the morning and this was followed by an hour of intensive but interesting Bible study and an hour of leadership training. There was a House session each afternoon and evening. Many current problems of youth in Quebec were discussed and acted upon in these sessions. Some of the problems discussed [illegible] Open [illegible] Boys' Parliament [illegible]

Special Sunday Sports would not only be against the laws of God, but also would be a demoralizing influence on the generations to come.

Another question was the alarming increase in alcoholism in Ontario. It is now ecommonplace to see sixteen and seventeen year - olds drunk and drinking on the streets and at school gatherings. It was felt by the Parliament members that the Ontario Government should do something in an educational line, to try and stem this trend.

It was not all work at Parliament as we went swimming each evening after sessions and then we usually had a snappy game of basketball on the small girlish floor. What sleep we had was usually snatched between 4:00 A.M. and breakfast time, but we enjoyed ourselves immensely.

The closing ceremony was carried out with pomp and power, especially by the Opposition, who presented each member of the Cabinet of the Government with a very simple and humorous token of appreciation for their very fine work.

Many visitors were present at the sessions, including Members of Parliament from Ottawa and Toronto. It was their opinion that our members of parliament had more interest in what was going on during the sessions than any members they had in their [illegible] Parliaments.

Collegiate Board Re-elects P. Laidley 1950 Chairman

Only One New Member, Ross Allison From Adolphustown

At the Inaugural Meeting of the Napanee and District Collegiate Board, P. U. Laidley was elected Chairman of the Board and Mr. Hubert Simkins, Vice-Chairman. The Board is composed of the same personnel as last year, with the addition of Mr. Ross Allison, the representative of the Township of Adolphustown, which this year has come into the Collegiate District. Mr. Laidley, in assuming the chair, expressed his appreciation at being re-elected to the position. He commended the Board, for the interest taken by each member during the past year and looked forward to the same fine spirit in the Board for the coming year. He said that this promises to be a very busy year for the members as serious consideration must be given to the erection of a new Collegiate. He recommended that all members and, at least some of the teachers, should pay visits to other schools in the province to get ideas regarding a new school. The following committees composed of D. P. Roblin, W. A. McLeod and Mail and Jackson, brought in a recommendation which was accepted that the following be the members of the Standing Committees, the first named member to be the chairman:

THE STRATTON STORY

"Magnificent" is the word for the feature "THE STRATTON STORY", Monday's picture based on the spectacular career of Monty Stratton, former big league baseball star.

James Stewart and June Allyson play the lead roles as husband and wife in a cast which includes Frank Morgan, Agnes Moorehead and Bill Williams.

This feature is undoubtedly excellent to commend it to the baseball fans, who will thrill to the baseball action shots, but in addition a human interest story which will appeal to most all sections of the public.

The management thoroughly recommend this feature to all with the assurance that it will give them one of the most delightful hours of entertainment they have seen on the screen for a long time, coupled with the fact that all the critics are absolutely unanimous in their praise. Don't miss seeing this one of some of the year, it will rank high in the running for the coveted Academy Award.

Ont. Historical Sites To Be Emphasized As Tourist Attraction

History As A Tourist Attraction will be the theme of a conference being called in Toronto on January 11th by the Ontario Department of Travel and Publicity, according to an announcement by Hon. Louis P. Cecile.

Invitations are going forward to all historical organizations in the Province to meet with tourist leaders for the purpose of developing programme which, it is hoped, will result in more greatly intensified local efforts to develop and emphasize historical attractions and thus give Ontario's booming tourist industry with an additional lure for visitors.

In making the announcement, Mr. Cecile pointed out that officials of his Department have given this matter careful study over the past several years and are convinced that the Province possesses a tremendous untapped wealth of attractions which visitors are eager to see if only these matters of historical importance are developed and presented in an interesting fashion.

"We have been particularly interested in what has been done in Virginia and some of the New England States," said the Travel Minister. "Virginia, for example, has built a travel industry approximating equivalent to the total take of Canada, largely through the dramatization of its history. A few areas in our Province would just have some glorious pages in the history of the United States where the bulk of our tourist trade is centred, but with a host of local societies and other organizations, we can build this important industry into an extremely important one."

The Minister pointed out that a the present time the overwhelming number of American visitors to Ontario are on the 'sightseeing' circuit. In order to hold and increase the interest of our visitors in our Province, it is essential, Mr. Cecile said, that we undertake a vigorous programme of development of our historic attractions.

WILL BEAR WATCHING

The prices of many farm products are declining, or have to be maintained by government subsidy. This decline will bear watching. It would be tragic not only for farmers, but for the whole country, should the decline go unchecked. Before the Second World War, farm prices were shockingly out of line with the prices of other commodities. During the war this disparity was pretty well obliterated. Prices of most commodities were pegged, but the large per centage of farm products were allowed to find their own price level. The result was a boom for his products was thus more nearly in line with what he had to pay for the goods he purchased. The farmers prospered. This is as it should be. Nobody works as hard as the farmer, nor works as long hours, especially in the growing season. They are the backbone of our country, in spite of the unhealthy growth of some of our great centres of population.

The farmers, through their organization, have insisted that should the decline in prices go unchecked, unsupported by the government, they will begin to buy buying strike. They will refuse to purchase any more machinery until the wrong done them, is righted. This is a rather stern threat, and yet it is one which cannot be ignored. The time has gone by when highly organized business can count on the individualism of the farmer to maintain the price of manufactured products. It is well known, of course, that the farmer is, by the nature of his work, an individualist. He likes to work alone. But he has learned something during the past few years. He has learned the power and strength of organization and co-operation. The farmers now have large, successful co-operative enterprises. They have, too, a pretty full knit Dominion and Provincial Organization. They can speak with one voice. We are not in favor of strikes of any kind, if they can be avoided, but we are keeping abreast of modern trends, organization and strikes become necessary— ill, no doubt come them.

So long as prices are kept at somewhat near present level, a reasonable measure of prosperity the whole community is assured. No effort should spared by the Government, to keep them there.

THE MEERY-GO-ROUND

During the First World War Japan was our ally. During the Second World War, she was our enemy — is bitter, fanatical enemy, at that. Now it is seriously suggested that an alliance be made with Japan, so that she may become a bulwark against Communism, in the Far East. If ever we should have a Third World War, — which God forbid — the boys whose grandfathers fought alongside the Japanese and whose fathers fought against them, will once again be back with the Japanese the merry-go-round will be complete.

In Europe, it is not so very different. We fought Germans in the First World War, then helped to arm in the hope they would be a buffer against the Russians, but they turned against the Russians, and the Democracies lined up with a defeat Hitler. Now we are being informed that best way to stop Communism is to arm again — repeating the same policy that is followed after the First Word War. So that we will be back just where we started, and the merry-go-round will have made the complete circle.

What a stupid business it all is. There is no easy solution to the problem. There is a meeting now, of Foreign Secretaries of the Commonwealth, at Colombo, Ceylon, trying to form some sort of a policy for the Empire. It is to be hoped that they will get somewhere. The first hint from there is that they are out to stop Communism. We are in agreement with that. But the question they will have to answer is: how is that to be done? — Kaiserism, Hitlerism, and now Communism. The same old merry-go round. And if the same old tactics are followed, which have failed so often, we will be in another mess.

There must be another way. Surely men who have probed the constitution of the universe and produced the atom bomb, can find it. Our generation is not short on brains; it is short on the right attitudes and the right spirit.

WATERWAYS PLAN UNCHANGED

President Truman, in his State of the Nation address to Congress, last week, reiterated his policy with respect to the St. Lawrence Waterway Plan. Mr. Truman said that he would not sanction any partial treatment of the plan. He was in favor, he said of the St. Lawrence Waterway, but only if the deepening of the river for navigation was carried out along with the development of power.

The President gave, as his reason, the need for helping the whole country. Development of the power part of the scheme would help only New York, while the deepening of the waterways would help not only New York State but Atlantic seaboard communities, and cities in the Mid - West, as well. This is the whole loaf of bread that he demands. He will not be satisfied with a half loaf as a beginning.

It is hard to tell just how much this decision is influenced by politics. It will be remembered that Mr. Dewey, Governor of New York, is in favor of the half loaf. If it is impossible to get both the deepened St. Lawrence and the power development, then let Ontario and New York develop the power. For both Ontario and New York are in need of power. Ontario knows this and is ready to proceed. But the President says, no! It will not be forgotten that Mr. Dewey was Mr. Truman's opponent in the last Presidential election and, it may be there is just a bit of politics being played in this projected enterprise.

We are keeping a weather eye on all that happens as touching this great enterprise. For we, in Eastern Ontario, will benefit very greatly by it. There will be large sums of money spent; there will be a heavy demand for labor. Then, when completed, we in this section, will be close to the source of power and, in all probability, there will be many new industries established in Eastern Ontario, to take advantage of the availability of power.

Every president since Woodrow Wilson has been in favor of the project. But always when it comes up for discussion the issue is shelved or delayed. Powerful interests, the railroads and transportation groups particularly, are afraid the canal would hurt their business. It is almost a vain hope that this Congress will do any different from the others. There is always the future to look forward to. When the mines of Labrador get producing to full capacity, the United States will want the ore. Then the picture may change. Indeed, there are faint glimmerings even now, that a change may not be too far off.

DUMB! — LIKE A FOX

We always thought it was a bit unsporting for a lot of dogs to go out after one little fox. We have never really seen a fox hunt, or perhaps we would modify that judgement. There must be something fascinating about it, for the people on horseback and the dogs. What the emotional reactions of the fox are, can only be imagined. Anyway, it gives those interested a change, to get their red togs on and give the horses and the dogs a bit of-a do.

A report from Bernardville, N.J., tells of a fox hunt which was a bit unorthodox. That is to say, it did not conform to established custom or precedent. The dogs sort of got lost. The little fox which, according to the rules of the game should have been run to a frazzle, were the dogs only. They came home late, one by one, with their tails drooping, and a dejected look on their faces — such as only dogs can get.

Apparently it was a dumb sort of a fox. It did not stick to the runway, but dodged out on to the highway and wiggled in and out among the traffic. The sort of dogs that are used for this gentleman's sport are pretty good — or supposed to be, at picking up the fox scent ,but it would take a new breed of dogs to sort out the fox scent from all the gasoline exhaust odors that belch from the rear-end of the modern car, Anyway, after about two and a ha'f hours, the dogs not only did not get the fox, but the hunters couldn't find the dogs.

All of which goes to show that the fox is diligently and successfully adjusting his actions to this motorized age. It may be that the colorful hunt is on the way out, and that in the future the little red fox will have to be hunted from a jeep.

Workers In Dec. Highest In History Labor Minister Says

Unemployed Persons Totalled 261,000

The Hon. Humphrey Mitchell, Minister of Labour, presents the following factual statement in respect to Employment and Unemployment in Canada. The figures for late December, 1949 were:

The total labour force in December is estimated to be 5,200,000 persons. This figure, of course, is less than was the case when students were available earlier in the year and normally a large number of women do not wish to work in the winter. This figure of 5,200,000 is the highest figure for December in the history of Canada despite the fact that it is approximately 150,000 lower than was the case in September, 1949.

Of the 5,200,000 there were 261,100 unfilled applications registered with the National Employment Offices across Canada.

This number 71.1 per cent. were either in receipt of unemployment insurance benefits or were persons whose claims were being processed.

The Minister pointed out that persons actually being represented in the total labour force less the unplaced applicants — just under five million — is the highest number of employed persons for December in the history of Canada.

The number of unfilled vacancies on December 22nd, was 18,600.

The increase in workers looking for jobs registered at local National Employment Service Offices to a total of 261,000 at December 22, is due, the Minister observed, mainly to the usual seasonal fluctuations of production in many Canadian industries. A special factor present this winter is the falling off in employment in wood operations in Eastern Canada, where it is estimated that same 35,000 fewer men are employed this year, than last. The situation is largely due to a decline in the consumptive carry-over of pulpwood.

The 261,000 persons looking for jobs are those who have registered with the National Employment Service local offices. Some of these are persons with jobs who would like to make a change, while others may be workers who have located jobs but who have not informed the local office. It is also indicated that there are persons desiring work who do not come to the local National Employment Service offices. This occurs especially in rural areas where the coverage of unemployment insurance is not large. It might be added, the Minister said, that the latest quarterly labour force sample survey conducted by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, indicated that there were round 2,600 persons in Canada early in November who were seeking regular jobs and who did no work during the survey week. At that same date the number of persons registered for jobs through local National Employment Service offices was around 170,000. These figures, the Minister pointed out, indicate that the reports from the National Employment offices are not out of line.

In addition, the Minister mentioned, seasonal influences and the special circumstances already mentioned, a considerable portion of the current unemployment results from the continuing growth of the Canadian labour force rather than from any decline in employment. Over the past year the growth of the total labour force has amounted to around 120,000, while the number actually at work has increased by close to 100,000.

SKILFUL AT CANOE-MAKING

A centuries-old tradition among the Eskimos, who could always rely on their boats to provide a meal in an emergency, is gradually dying out. The kayak, the umiak, is a large open craft built of skin and driftwood. When cut up and boiled, it makes a jelly-like substance.

Now a Danish official, noting the Eskimos' tendency to replace their umiaks with pryontelerake, says regretfully: "Modern technique is outdistancing the national, the interesting and the picturesque among Greenland's Eskimos." For a pryontelerak, literally translated as a 'smelly, smoke-propelled boat,' is a motor boat; to-day it can be seen in increasing numbers in northern waters.

For their water transport the Eskimos have relied for centuries on two types of boats, the well-known kayak and the umiak.

The kayak, as we know, is the traditional single - seater craft of the north, highly manoeuvrable and faster even than the Indian-type canoe. Made of skins stretched over a light driftwood frame, it is entirely covered-in except for the hole in which the Eskimo sits. When he fastens his sealskin coat around this opening he is part of his craft, which is so watertight that he can roll over and hang head downwards in the water, and right himself again without taking a drop of water on board.

The umiak; on the other hand, is a large vessel varying in size from fifteen to forty feet, capable of carrying heavy loads. A loaded umiak is one of the wonders of the Arctic. Piled on board one finds furs, skins, food stores, tents, newly-killed seals, oil boxes, driftwood, oil lamps, and a varied assortment of old men, women, children, and even dogs! While a man sitting in the stern has the skilled but soft job of steering the clumsy-like vessel, women sit at the sides, paddling furiously.

Ask your friends to afternoon tea

"SALADA" TEA

The making of the umiak is an object lesson in the clever use of local materials. A wooden framework is made of driftwood and branches gathered from small bushes growing along the Arctic coasts. Then the skins of newly-killed seals, walruses, or white whales are stretched over the framework and sewn together with sinew.

The skin is put on without being "cured" with tanning chemicals, and when the hides dry they shrink to make a skintight, compact cover. The result is a boat which, for seaworthiness, resilient strength, shallowness of draught, ease of movements, and load-carrying ability has no equal.

But it is a sad day in the life of the Eskimos when, in some emergency in which they are without food, they must choose between starvation and eating their umiaks. The umiak is always last, for when the hides are cut into small strips and boiled to a jelly-like consistency, they make a delicious stew, rich in protein and flavor!

The Mayor's Mace Was Once Lethal Weapon

There was a time when the mayoral mace now carried with pomp and dignity in civic processions was a weapon to be feared.

The first people to carry them were warring priests who forbidden to shed blood with the sword, favored spiked steel clubs that could penetrate the strongest armor. In Norman times knights also preferred them to swords and bore them into battle; but when armor became obsolete maces assumed a ceremonial value.

In 1344 the House of Commons decreed that maces decorated with precious stones could be carried by the King's sergeant - at - arms but later that privilege was granted to mayors of cities like London and York, and various towns.

In some towns, however, maces took on different shapes. One at Grantham resembles a pole - axe, while Mayors of Chester, who also hold the rank of Admiral of the Dee, sport a silver oar as emblem of their civic power. Colchester also has a silver oar.

Maceberers in Britain have their own trade union. Founded in 1931, it now has over one hundred members and was recently a year ago after a period of comparative inactivity. When someone suggested recently that vergers and beadles of the City livery companies should be allowed to join, the secretary pointed out that they merely carried wands of office, whereas the macebearers bore weapons. He proved his case by stating that William Walworth, Lord Mayor of London, knocked down the rebel Wat Tyler on June 15th, 1381.

Today maces are among the most treasured items of civic regalia, but a century ago they were not so highly esteemed. In fact, it was not uncommon for a Town Council to pawn its mace to raise money quickly. Gravesend's mace, which is about 240 years old, did not belong to the town at all from 1851 to 1951. Sheriff's officers had seized it for debt and it was later redeemed from a pawnbroker's shop for £311 15s 5d (about $1,250).

RESTORING LIFE TO DEAD PLANTS

An Argentine botanist, experimenting with plant tissues, discovered that they will not die unless they are artificially destroyed by being torn apart or burned. He found that even dead flowers and leaves can be brought to life by treatment so that they remain, not only their original color but their texture and even their original odor.

The revitalized plants are not embalmed or artificially colored — we are alive by all standards and rest, growth and all other normal functions as soon as they have been treated.

Experiments are under way to bring dead animal tissue back to life. A piece of dinosaur skin has been treated in this way and the results are said to be successful. If these experiments continue successfully, Doctor Vega may have made a discovery which will be as significant to mankind as the invention of the atomic bomb.

BOY REPAIRS OLD CLOCK

The people of Long Itchington, in Warwickshire, England, were startled recently to hear the 101 year-old clock in the church tower striking the hour after ten years' silence. They soon discovered that a village boy, Harry Windsor, home from college, had climbe dthe ancient tower, found out what was the matter with the workings of the clock, and then, with the aid of a fretsaw and pieces of lead and steel, had managed to set it going once more.

Int. Sunday School Lesson, January 15

A NEW AND DARING FELLOWSHIP

Lesson Text: II: 42-47; 4: 31-35

[illegible]g man in a strange city, had been accustomed to [illegible]. I took the first seat I saw vacant. In a few minutes an [illegible]ame and requested I move to another pew. The woman whose [illegible]y had been hurt by my presence stood in the aisle while I was being ushered out. I thought of that last Sunday, when a Toronto preacher told how he had been introduced to certain people in a church at Edinburgh. On Monday as he made his way to the University where he was a student from Canada, these same people snubbed quite deliberately. When a church develops cliques or snubs, it is not a church as Jesus would have it. When the spirit of fellowship goes, then something else of altogether lovely, takes its place.

The strength of the early Church lay in its fellowship. The growth of the Christian Church has baffled students of history. It has been the subject of scores of books. But one word were needed to describe the secret of that amazing growth and development, that word is "fellowship." The Christians met in little groups. There were no churches, so they met in houses — not merely to skip or visit, but share their experiences, to engage in prayer together, and to partake of The Lord's supper.

One result of these little gatherings was that there was born in them a sense of responsibility. Fear — not of persecution — for as yet there was no persecution — went to the lions, singing as they went. They were beaten, torn limb from limb and died with a smile on their faces. There is nothing will hinder the man or woman who is filled with the Holy Spirit.

It was that which gave such power to the movement started by John Wesley. The original Wesleyans met in little groups and, as they met, these people, often ignorant and untutored, went out like the early disciples, filled with the Holy Spirit. They took England by storm and saved it from a bloody revolution. They inaugurated the greatest religious movement since the reformation — one which has not yet run its power. And it may just be that the modern Church, like the modern airplane, is so obsessed with statistics, with bigness, that it is overlooking the power and the possibilities of the small group. A church with a number of small groups or cells, sharing their experience and waiting on God, would change for good the complexion of any congregation. The Communists have appropriated much from Christianity, but nothing more valuable, nothing more vital than the small group, or cell idea. Maybe we need to get back to that in our Christian Church.

Aylsworth, Mrs. Wilmot Hoselton, Mr. Russell Gilligan and Mr. D. F. Aylsworth.

Those presiding for the opening were Mrs. Dora Smith, Mrs. Helen Graham, Mrs. Bessie Smith and Mrs. Frank Hamilton.

Before the installation, Mrs. Sarah Thompson presented Mrs. Grace Thompson, the Worthy Matron elect, with a corsage of red roses, which were given by her husband and Mrs. Sarah Thompson.

The following officers were installed: Worthy Matron, Mrs. Grace Thompson; Worthy Patron, Mr. John Craven; Asst. Matron, Mrs. Florence Burtch; Asst. Patron, Mr. D. F. Aylsworth; Secretary, Mrs. Pearl Aylsworth; treasurer, Mrs. Florence Smith; conductor, Mrs. Gladys Richmond; asst. conductor, Mrs. Norma Emmerson; marshal, Mrs. Mable Chamberlain; organist, Mrs. Mary Babcock; chaplain, Mrs. Neletta Miller; Ada, Miss Jean Carr; Ruth, Mrs. Florence Galt; Esther, Mrs. Jean Wright; Martha, Mrs. Pearl Snider; Electra, Mrs. Mildred Smith; warden, Mrs. Mary Smith; sentinel, Mrs. Rhoda Miller.

The organist for the installation was Miss Marion Wheeler and the soloist, Miss Etta Dowler. She contributed a vocal solo 'My Task' for the installation of the Worthy Matron and 'God Will Take care of You' for the installation of the chaplain.

The charges to the five star points were very beautifully given by Mrs. Eva Hamilton. She also presented each with suitable nosegays of carnations and to the Worthy Matron, a beautiful nosegay of red roses.

After the installation, Mrs. Eva Hamilton presented Mrs. Vera Young with the past matron's jewel and Mrs. Phyllis Thompson presented Mr. D. F. Aylsworth with the past patron's jewel. Mrs. Vera Young and Mrs. Phyllis Thompson were also presented with lovely gifts from the officers and members of the chapter.

Mrs. Mabel Bowman, of Kingston presiding D.D.G.M., was present and was welcomed by the Worthy Matron. The Worthy Matron also presented Mrs. Vera Young, P.M., with a floral matron's pin. Mrs. Young very suitably replied to this gift.

At the close of the meeting delicious refreshments were served by the committee in charge.

EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS
by Don Graham

You are unique!

Yes, it's a fact that there has never been and never will be anyone just like you in the world. Your own particular combination of gifts, aptitudes, likes, and dislikes and other personal characteristics cannot be duplicated.

But are you encouraging your individuality?

Too many people allow their personalities to be moulded like the products of this mass-production age. They conform to standard patterns of thinking and living. Even in their dress they follow slavishly the dictates of fashion.

When such people conquer their fear of what others will think and overcome the mental laziness that makes them imitators, they are transformed overnight!

The methods are simple. We can practice self-expression by not repeating the opinions of others or adopting them unthinkingly as our own. More important, we can be original in everything from our conversation to the way we decorate our homes. There are countless outlets for our individual talents which can help give our personality a unique "flavour".

Finally, we should have some definite ideas about our goals in life and the kind of people we want to be. Then our true selves can really emerge!

Every family, too, is unique. And each has its own particular set of needs for income in the future. That is why the services of the life insurance representative are so helpful in planning a program designed to meet those needs.

FARM FORUM REVIEW

The discussion period for January 9th was concerning these questions: Should a farmer change his production plans as the prices of his product change, or should he continue to produce whatever he has specialized in ? What factors interfere with the law of supply and demand in the products you sell?

The farmers in every forum agree that a farmer cannot change his production plans according to a rising or falling market. In the first place, the products a farmer specializes in are often limited to the nature of his farm and that specific product can be produced more cheaply and efficiently than any other. Then too, any production change cannot be accomplished without considerable cost whether it be in breeding stock, fences, machinery, building renovations or additional land. There is no guarantee that any such change effected will catch these rising markets, and if such is not the case, the farmer suffers a loss which his limited capital can scarcely stand.

However many forums decided that if major changes in a production schedule could be made without excessive cost, it should be done to try to alleviate any marked surplus. Centreville Forum has this thought: As long as there is a hungry nation, or a hungry child, there is no such thing as a food surplus. The fault lies not in over-production but with faulty marketing or barzaining agency with which we could trade our food for raw or manufactured materials.

Switzerville Forum says: Government should give farmers a certain period to reduce their stocks. During the war years they produced to the utmost with longer hours and harder work when machinery was difficult to get. It seems unfair that he should take such a beating now. Statistics show that it takes 4lc to produce a dozen eggs and their market price is now half of that. Farmers should elect more to Parliament. Mr. Gardiner's remarks that the Government refuses to go into the egg business has apparently struck a nerve in many a farmer. Riverside Forum says: In inflationary times there was ceiling price arbitrarily placed on food products to prevent excessive profit but now there is no mention of a floor price to prevent excessive loss.

A floor price would prevent first, a flood of cheap eggs by desperate farmers selling out their stock and then a violent upswing when poultry products are in short supply.

Farmers with good laying power form one of the best and most diversified markets for Canadian manufacturers. He buys a wider variety of machinery, clothes, furnishings and fuels than anyone else. No national economy can withstand a reduced agricultural buying power for long without a reduction in all prices and living standards. Thus it is rather short sighted to allow a big price drop in farm commodities if it can be helped.

A 'Buy British" Campaign might increase the United Kingdom's supply of dollars to the extent they could afford to increase their food purchases.

In answer to the second question many factors were cited which influenced the law of supply and demand in the farmer's products. (1) Weather was named as one of the most important factors because of its uncertainty. If nature smiles and there are bountiful crops, the price of cereals naturally declines and with the cereals, there follows a reduction in the price of poultry and pork resulting from the cheap feed. (2)— Price control was also listed as important. Price control played an important roll in keeping our standard of living index on a more even keel than that of our Southern neighbor. Still control should work both ways. It was right and necessary when it prevented the price of food from soaring to impossible heights and so allowed the urban worker to buy his food at a price comparable to his wage scale. Now it should work in reverse and prevent the urban worker from profiteering at the expense of the farmer.

THE MIDDLE MAN — Violet, Morven, Riverside and Centreville all suggested that the farmers should follow their produce through to the market. They would suggest a larger use of co-operative cold storage plants to absorb the surplus farm products, cheif and bacon and release them in times of scarcity, at popular prices to maintain a stable economy and avoid the "profiteering of the private packing companies."

Currency changes were also mentioned. Since our market in Great Britain depends on British dollars, surely the protective tariff could be lowered to allow a profitable balance of trade till the Canadian food markets adjust themselves.

If every person in Canada could absorb $30.00 worth of British goods, there would be enough dollars to buy every bit of our agricultural surplus.

Cartels and combines were also mentioned as factors affecting the laws of supply and demand. Several forums wondered if joint action by the forums could influence the government and endorsed the proposition, held in Walkerton. Violet and Bicknell's Corners thought that it wouldn't be a case of "not buying" but of not being able to buy.

This series of discussions is very timely and impartial. Evidence that our farmers think so is in the seven reports received this week, more than have been received before in any one week. The Forums in this County are concerned about the uncertain future facing farmers this year. The Canadian farmer has enjoyed a period of good times, of high buying power, and a series of successful crops. He is reluctant to give up his better living standard not only for personal motives, but because he knows that our Canadian prosperity hinges on the level of agricultural prosperity. He is concerned and worried and hopes that the Government will take some definite action to give Canadian farmers a better market for 1950, than the prospects now indicate.

Glad to have so many reports this week. Only wish that some were fuller in detail. Judge write every thing you can of interest about your discussion, both "pro and con". It all helps to make a better and more complete report from your Forum.

How can I save money?

That's what I asked the Government Annuity representative.

I was trying to balance the family books at the time and told him that, like most home-makers, I had so many places to spend my paychecks, my account was zero at the end of each month.

But . . . . .

He showed me a simple saving plan to provide an income in the future, that was as practical as a trip to the barber, and a plan which suited my budget.

Before you say—"It's a good idea, but I just can't afford it", talk it over with a CANADIAN GOVERNMENT ANNUITY representative, or write for information.

I'm glad I did!

SANITARY INSPECTOR'S REPORT FOR DECEMBER, 1949

During the month of December, a number of cheese factories were visited in the company of Dr. J. I. Jeffs. On the whole, these were found to be in a satisfactory condition. Those that have been closed for the winter will be inspected in the spring.

An incident which shows the interest of the public regarding health, occurred the other day. Two small boys passed the sanitary inspector on the street. One boy said 'Hi, Mr. Spade.' The other boy said, 'Who is that?' The first boy replied 'That's the new sanitary inspector. He keeps us healthy.' This proves that even the children are realizing the importance of Public Health.

OBITUARIES

MRS. WILLIAM E. PENNY

The death occurred at Flint, Mich. on Thursday evening, January 5th, of Mrs. William E. Penny, formerly of Empey Hill. She had not been in the best of health for some time and early in December she suffered a stroke and she gradually got worse until the end. She was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Henry Oliver of Belleville Road, Tyendinaga Township, and was well known, having lived in the Empey Hill district all her life, until about two years ago, when she went to Flint to reside with her son. Her husband predeceased her in 1941.

She is survived by one son, Clarence, and one sister, Carrie, and two brothers, Fred and Vernie Oliver, of Tyendinaga. Her remains arrived in Napanee by train on January 7th, and her funeral was conducted at the Tierney Funeral Home by Rev. W. R. Merrick, on Monday, January 9th. Burial was at Camden East Cemetery in the family plot.

Many floral tributes showed the esteem in which deceased was held. The pall-bearers were Messrs. Chas. Akey, Roy McMath, Delbert Harvey, John Mowers, Frank Hutchison and Harold Winter.

JOHN KIDD

Final tribute was paid John Kidd who died suddenly at his home near Erinsville, on Wednesday morning, January 11, 1950, at the funeral service on Saturday at 10 a.m. at the Church of the Assumption, Erinsville, where requiem mass was sung by Rev. J.W. Callahan. The remains were laid to rest in the vault for interment in the spring, in Erinsville.

Pall-bearers were his six nephews, Leo and Joseph Kidd, William McKeown, Joseph Murphy, James Ingoldsby and Bernard Al'ore. The honorary-bearers were Messrs. E. J. Courneya, Mike Hopkins, Herb. York, Stan Hagarty, Ambrose Way and Thomas Breault.

Mr. Kidd was born on March 19, 1863, in Camden Township, near Enterprise, Ont. He was the son of the late William and Theresa Kidd, of County Wicklow, Ireland.

He is survived by his wife, formerly Jane Ingoldsby, and sister, Mrs. Catharine Joyce of Camden East, Ont., and was dear father of Mary Ann (Mrs. B. E. Donohue) Toronto, deceased; Margaret (Mrs. William C. Doshler, Reg. N.) New York City; Eleanor (Mrs. J. D. Loughrin) Detroit; Gertrude (Mrs. William A. Rice, Reg. N.) Whitesboro, N.Y., Archie and Ambrose at home; Agnes (Mrs. John Doyle) deceased. He also leaves ten grandchildren.

Installation of Outside Speaker

A loudspeaking system has been attached to the chimney of the Prince Charles School. This system will be useful for calling from the playground anyone who is needed. It can also be used to play records for those who are skating on the rink. If there is a carnival it can be used to announce events.

It is a useful piece of new equipment.

The weather has been very dissuseable this week, one day it will be raining and the next day it will be snowing. It is very hard to be able to tell what the next day will be like and what clothes one will need to get out. One day you wear your snow-boots and the next day your rubbers. It is very funny weather for winter.

The first night of skating at the Napanee Skating Rink opened Wednesday night, January 11th. There were quite a few people for the first night. The ice was very good except for a few spots that were some bumps. There was very nice music and it was easy to skate to. I think the night was enjoyed by all.

DORLAND

Dorland, Jan. 14. — The vagaries of the weather continue to be a lively topic for conversation. After a decidedly cold week-end the days have been alternately thawing and thawing. The rain on Friday was about the heaviest of the season; this was followed by high winds all night which developed into gale proportions on Saturday morning. It is impossible to learn the extent of the damage as both telephone and Hydro services are disrupted. Many trees and limbs of trees are down so the roads have had to be cleared in places. Several roofs of buildings have been damaged with the loss of vision. The ice in Hay Bay has broken up once more.

Programme for Trade Recovery Calls for Exchange Stabilizer

Canada's reputation, achievement and strength offset anxieties caused by world conditions—development of resources, increased population and foreign trade needed

A five - point programme wor world recovery was set forth by Mr. Muir's presidential address at the Annual Meeting of shareholders of The Royal Bank of Canada. Mr. Muir also stressed Canada's economic development and her continuing role in world economy.

Reviewing international currency experience during the 19th and 20th centuries, he referred to the stability of sterling before 1914, "Several important factors contributed to the enduring dependability of the sterling standard. First, debtor nations accepted exchange parities which they were able to maintain through relatively small adjustments of prices and money incomes. Second, debtors were willing to accept the discipline of the gold standard and, to acquire the rules of that standard, in the price and income adjustments which their trad-ing position required. And third, the world's creditor, Great Britain, made additional sterling available through the vigorous international lending of her financial and business communi-ty and the free trade policy of her government."

COMBINE PAST, PRESENT

"In meeting any emergency we must combine the lessons of the past with inventiveness and imagination in the present. In the past, as in any relatively normal period, responsibil-ity for international economic stabil-ity was divided between the creditor and debtor countries of the world. But, in the period immediately fol-lowing the second world war, the primary responsibility lay with the creditors; and in meeting this re-sponsibility, the United States and Canada embarked on an unprece-dented program of loans and gifts to the war - torn countries of Eu-rope. . . .

"The nations of Europe, through their own efforts and with the help of loans and gifts from abroad, have built up their production to the pre-war standard. Further progress in production would be immensely ben-eficial, but the immediate problem has become not production as such but effective production. In other words, we are back to normal times, again in the sense that the real problems of competition in international trade, such as costs, prices, and salesmanship, must once more be met. Under these conditions, we still need the inventiveness and imagin-ation which have helped debtor and creditor countries by co - operative effort to progress as far as they have been allowed to world recovery. But we need also to restore as nearly as we can in the present uncertain environment that made international stability possible in the golden age of the sterling standard."

THE CANADIAN ECONOMY

Mr. Muir discussed the Canadian economy in 1949 under four main heads: (1) Canada's reputation, (2) Canada's record, (3) Canada's weak-ness, and (4) Canada's strength.

(1) Canada's Reputation. Mr. Muir pointed out that among foreign cred-itors "Canada is at once the bul-wark of free enterprise, and a model of wisdom of government regulation." Canada is not an admirable private banking system and of the best practice and conservative high levels of control; the stronghold of a sound conservative tradition and the home of interesting experiments in politi-cal and economic order."

"We don't have to be too modest, at least among ourselves. We can spare ourselves an inferiority complex and the abnormal national behavior to which it leads. We are a na-tion, we have accomplished much; not all of it is good, but the power for good is there; and in the last two previous years, our good repute is, in large measure, supported by our re-cord."

(2) Canada's Record. Mr. Muir brief-ly summarized Canadian business conditions in 1949. The year saw "a further increase in Canada's In-dustrial plant and equipment, the maintenance of the high levels of consumption attained in 1948, and the over-all expansion of the net and gross national product beyond the record levels of a year ago." He noted too that "Canada is one of the few countries today that can still boast a substantial budget surplus. This not only contributes to stabil-ity, but it turns prosperity to good account by improving the credit of the government."

(3) Canada's Weakness. Mr. Muir referred in some detail to Canada's export position and her vulnerability to the current unbalance in interna-tional markets. After summarizing Canada's trade in 1949, two main conclusions were stressed: First, our over-all surplus with the world is dwindling; and, second, our direct earnings of dollars through exports to the United States is becoming rel-atively more important than our indirect earnings of dollars through trade with U.-S.-financed Europe."

Mr. Muir referred to the danger of losing established markets in Eu-rope but "the continued failure of overseas purchasers to earn ample current dollars, through trade and pay-ment rather than through gifts from the dollar area may force us to realign our trade. That is we may have to contemplate the contraction of traditional markets in Europe off-set to some degree, by increased sales to the dollar area."

The four transferable of our ma-jor exports overseas are wheat and wheat flour." In this case, he point-ed out, "shifting is difficult owing to large exportable surpluses of these products within the United States. To finance wheat exports through new loans to the United Kingdom would mean a return to our lending policy of 1945-46 and a return to our dollar-short position of 1947."

Canada's favorable development in our world trade would be an incr-ease in our imports from Europe and a decrease in the United Kingdom, or increased dollar earnings by these countries in their trade with the Un-ited States."

"To attempt this shift through further curbs on imports from the United States would be a move back-ward to more rigid exchange control with all the disadvantages of such a move for ourselves and for the world economy. Fortunately, the re-cent devaluations have provided some incentive for precisely the shift we have in mind without an increase in controls."

"The plain truth is that Canada's domestic prosperity depends upon our handling of a complicated foreign-trade problem. And in the final analysis both our domestic prosper-ity and the future of world trade itself will depend upon a concerted international effort by all nations to return along the path we outlined earlier, that is, along the path to multilateral world trade unhamper-ed by exchange restrictions, bilateral practices and the paraphernalia of government control."

(4) Canada's Strength. "It is re-freshing to turn from Canada's difficulties in the next few months, to her prospects over the next few years, or better still over the next decade and many more to come. We have the essential elements that need only a little time to bring about an enormous increase in our national wealth. These sources of economic strength are our natural resources and the temper of our people.

"Canada's greatest natural resource is her working population. Here, as with our forests, mines and oil fields, we find positive conservation through the wise and economical use of what we have. But to parallel our new discoveries and to ensure their full and efficient use we must em-bark on a bold policy of immigration,

PRESIDENT ADVOCATES FIVE STEPS TOWARD WORLD TRADE REVIVAL

Devaluation has at least broken the log jam; but we must take immediate advantage of this initial breach in the barriers to trade which have been thrown up by overvalued exchange rates and rigidity held in place by government controls.

Steps, in my opinion, are as follows:

First, nations of the world should declare a basic lesson of the first world war, and set-tle their war debts.

Second, for a certain fixed period, we should let the market determine rates of exchange, as it did immediately after the first world war.

Third, at the end of this pe-riod of free-market valuation, we should stabilize currencies by reference to the rates which the free-market has determin-ed.

Fourth, having stabilized ex-change rates at the level de-creed by the free market, the world must adopt some device to keep them that way. The gold standard kept nations within their means before the days of the great illusion that int-ernational equilibrium can only be achieved by clamping the fetters of exchange control up-on free international trade.

Fifth, the gold standard cur-ls equivalents must be made to work by the proper discipline not only of debtor but of cr-editor nations, as well. This means a return to the two basic requirements of responsible cre-ditor nations: vigorous interna-tional lending and free trade.

GENERAL MANAGER REPORTS ASSETS, DEPOSITS ARE UP

Mr. T. H. Atkinson, General Man-ager, reviewed the 1949 Annual Re-port and stated that the bank's assets had risen by $112,496,000 dur-ing the year to $2,334,985,000 and that liquid assets constituted 76.27% of the total liabilities to the public. Commercial loans had also increased. Mr. Atkinson reported deposits at a new all-time high of $2,192,140,000, an amount two-and-a-half times that of 9 years ago. The number of de-positors also totalled nearly 2,000,-000, which included more than 1-500,000 savings accounts in Canada. An increase of $1,400,810 in profits over the previous year was noted by Mr. Atkinson in duffer providing for the customary deductions, including taxes of $4,438,000 and dividends for share holders, there was a carry for-ward in Profit and Loss Account of $3,360,313.

IMPROVED FACILITIES

Referring to the provision of new premises, Mr. Atkinson said: "Since our last report eleven new branch offices have been constructed and 2points where facilities were inad-equate and where extension of exist-ing premises was impracticable, and at forty-six other points improve-ments and extensions of a major character have been completed, in order to better serve the public in districts which are expanding, we opened twelve branches and six sub-branches in Canada. At the year-end we were operating 665 branches in Canada and 62 abroad."

SERVICE TO TRADERS

Mr. Atkinson stressed the role played by the Royal Bank's sixty-two branches abroad in facilitating for-eign trade "For well over a quarter of a century we have operated an extensive chain of our own branches in foreign countries; in fact, at certain points we have been established for over half a century, and as at November 30, 1949, we had 62 offices which included representation in the key cities of the major South Amer-ican Republics, throughout the Caribbean area and, of course, we are established in London, England, and New York City, and our affili-ated operates in Paris, France.

"The widespread chain of branches compiled with our extensive corres-pondent relations throughout the world serves as a constant source of statistical and other information for our import and exchanges regula-tions which otherwise might be be-wildering in the extreme. Our central bureau in Head Office is in a position to give up-to-date mo-netary and economic data to traders, companies and others having under consideration establishing business connections with other countries abroad. We firmly believe that through helpful information and helpful counsel we become one of our foreign organization will continue to serve a most useful purpose to Canada in the develop-ment of markets abroad for surplus goods."

PROUD OF STAFF

A warm tribute to the bank staff was paid by Mr. Atkinson in stating that this Bank is prouder of than the quality of its personnel. Within their offices I believe there is the sense of pride in this great insti-tution—pride not only in its achieve-ments but in its contribution to the Canadian and world banking, but pride, too, in its being a good place to work. The executive, supervisors and branch managers have all trav-elled the long road of banking ex-perience and think; they talk the same language as the young people who are following in their steps, and they are united in trying to make working conditions as pleasant as possible."

In this way we can increase the quantity of the raw produce that is in short supply. In this way we can raise the standard of living to a present limit to the growth of our natural wealth. Against this natural trade. We do not have to turn our backs on the interdependence of na-tions that is an essential of international commerce. Trade among independent, industrially developed countries is the most profitable trade of all. The world is gradually moving away from trade between industrialized countries and from developed areas, away from trade that requires colonial depend-ence, to trade among industrial countries. And in this evolution of world economy, Canada is at present lead-ing the way."

In the development of Canada's natural resources, their use by a larg-er population, and the expansion of her increased industrial output in an expanding and enriched for-eign trade," Mr. Muir said, "I can guarantee that Canada shall have an assured and pre-eminent p this economy of nations. . ."

POLICE CONVINCED MRS. ERSKINE'S DEATH --- SUICIDE

The local Provincial Police, assisted by Inspector R.L. Taylor, of the Criminal Investigation Department, Toronto, have completed their investigations in the case of the death of Mrs. Ruth Erskine, wife of Provincial Constable Don. Erskine, who was found dead in the bedroom of the apartment over the Napanee Beaver Office, on Thursday morning, January 19th.

The Police and the Crown Attorney stated that, following the fullest possible investigation, there was absolutely no evidence that would point to anything but suicide as the cause of death. Every possible angle in connection with the case has been investigated and more than usual effort has been expended because of the apparent lack of reason for the young woman to take her own life.

Mrs. Erskine was found dead, lying across the bed, in the bedroom of the third floor of the building. A .38 calibre revolver was found on the floor beside the bed. The bullet penetrated the heart and passed through the body striking the head of the bed and was later found lying on the floor. The revolver used belonged to Constable Mel. Brain, who had been boarding with the Erskine's for the past few weeks. Constable Brain had left Napanee on the 12:40 p.m. bus on Wednesday, the day before, to spend a day at Farran's Point, on the St. Lawrence River. He returned to Napanee on the afternoon bus, on Thursday, after being advised of Mrs. Erskine's death.

Constable Erskine left the apartment at 9:00 a.m. and went directly to the Provincial Police Office on East Street. At 9:45 a.m. he returned to his home to pick up a car radio which he intended to exchange. After getting the radio out of a cupboard on the first floor of the apartment, he called to his wife, thinking she was making beds on the third floor. When she did not respond to the bedroom, where he found his wife lying across the bed. When he became aware of what had happened, he immediately called Corporal W. E. Smith and the Coroner, Dr. D. R. Hall. A search of Mrs. Erskine was found, but did not reveal any reason for her to take her life.

Mrs. Erskine, who was only 29 years of age, was apparently in good health and had planned to assist Mrs. Bert Beach as a hairdresser, an occupation which she had followed before her marriage.

She is survived by her husband, and one son, Ralph, aged 3 years. Her parents reside at Campbellford, where her body was taken after being released by the Coroner. The funeral was held at Campbellford, Saturday afternoon.

Constable and Mrs. Erskine came to Napanee from Belleville about December 1st of last year, and had occupied the apartment over The Beaver Office, since that date.

Childs' Appeal For New Trial Is Dismissed

Appeal Court Gave Decision on Monday

The appeal for a new trial, made by Alfred Childs, convicted of the murder of Elijah McQuaig, Selby farmer, on Wednesday, June 29th, was dismissed by the Court of Appeal at Osgoode Hall, on Monday, January 23, when the motion was heard.

Childs was sentenced to hang on February 10th, when the jury returned a verdict of guilty of murder at the trial held in Napanee in November. Unless the sentence is commuted by the Department of Justice before the date set for the execution, the sentence will be carried out.

Efforts are being made on Childs' behalf to have the sentence changed to life imprisonment due to his age, which is just over 21 years.

B. W. Trumpour of Kingston acted as Childs' Counsel during his trial and made the appeal on his behalf. The basis of the appeal was that the Judge, Mr. Justice Wilson, had erred in not pointing out to the jury that a verdict of manslaughter could be brought in. Mr. Justice Wilson had offered the jury only the choice of conviction on the charge of murder or acquittal.

Chief Justice Robertson, in giving the decision of the Appeal Court, commented on the age and upbringing of Childs, but pointed out that the Appeal Court was not called upon to deal with these factors. The charge, he said in dismissing the appeal, was a proper one.

The report of the church treasurer, Wilfred Smith, showed a good balance on hand after all bills were paid. Delbert Winter, speaking of the Missionary and Maintenance Fund, said that the allocation for the year had been exceeded. The auditors' statement was given by Chas. Hanna.

Ralph Whiteman, superintendent of the Sunday school, reported an average attendance of 156. Other reports for the numerous organizations of the church were given as follows: W. A., Mrs. Ray Huffman and Mrs. Wilfred Smith; W. M. S., Mrs. Fred Brand and Mrs. Percy Vine; Mission Band, Mrs. H. H. Langford; Baby Band, Mrs. Robt. Denison; Evening Auxiliary, Mrs. Ralph Wightman; Mr. and Mrs. Club, Ted Middleton; Y.P.U., Phyllis Coathup; Choir, Mrs. R. Wightman; Young Worshippers' League, Mrs. McLellan; sacramental offerings, Mrs. R. S. Wales.

F. B. Elliott was elected secretary of the Official Board, succeeding W. F. Barrett and Robert Russell was appointed treasurer of the M. and M. Fund, succeeding Delbert Winter.

During the evening G. F. Smith gave a brief review of Grace Church activities which during the year, terminated twenty five years ago.

A vote of appreciation was extended to Rev. C. D. McLellan and Mrs. McLellan for their faithful services and Mr. McLellan was invited to remain as pastor of the church.

Police Chief, Deseronto Tenders Resignation

Chief of Police Albert Marks tendered his resignation to the Deseronto Town Council on Monday night, Jan. 16th. The Chief gave no time limit on his resignation but said he would continue until the town had secured a full-time constable.

Councillor A. P. Brooks, chairman of the police committee, said that certain parties felt that a full-time constable was needed and that Chief Marks did not want to take the job on a full-time basis. He moved that the resignation be accepted as written.

Officers for 1950 are Elected

The Annual meeting of the Lennox and Addington County Branch of the Canadian Red Cross Society was held in the rooms of the Society on January 12th.

Reports of standing and special committees were presented to the meeting and all were favorably received.

A brief resume of activities as follows was presented for new members of the Executive, who seem anxious to take their part in the work within the County. One of the newest is swimming and water safety. Two hundred children have enrolled in a course which takes three years to complete. This year's class was double that of the first year and it is expected to have classes at two extra locations in 1950.

More than 60 women have received diplomas for the Home Nursing Course, and another class is expected to be started in the near future in order to give this opportunity to those living in outside places.

The Loan Cupboard has supplied wheel chairs, crutches, hospital beds and sick room needs to many cases in the County and requests for this service are growing each month.

Christmas parcels were sent the last two years to each person from the County in Old Peoples' Homes and St. Mary's of the Lake Hospital.

On the recommendation of our County Health Nurse more than $500 has been distributed in Cod Liver Oil to children whose diet has been found deficient in vitamins.

Civilian relief (Fire loss) of $11 in 1949, was unexpectedly and very fortunately much lower than anticipated, but the law of average does not permit the Society to believe it will continue so.

The executive wishes to express appreciation to the Royal Bank of Canada for the use of rooms in their building, also to Mr. Herb. York, County Warden, and all the officials for their interest in swimming classes, and to those who so kindly allowed the Red Cross the use of their shores for these classes. Further thanks to County Health Nurses who advise and distribute Cod Liver Oil to needy children.

Prince Edward County Considers Discontinuing Grants To Health Unit

The fate of Prince Edward County Health Unit lies in the balance and is expected to be decided at the March meeting of Prince Edward County Council.

Following a discussion by council members at the recent session, Reeve A. E. Bowerman moved, Deputy-Reeve Robert Cockburn, seconding, "that the grant to Prince Edward Health Unit be discontinued as of April 1st, 1950, and the clerk notify the Ontario Department of Health."

"Then action does not necessarily mean that the unit will be discontinued. A committee will interview the Ontario Minister of Health to stress that the county cannot bear the increasing costs, and to seek to have the department pay a greater share. It now pays fifty per cent.

Discussion revealed that from an original cost of from $16,000 to $18,000 the first year, it was expected that the cost would taper off. Instead, it has increased up to $22,000 with possible increase. Greater government aid will be necessary, it was felt.

HELP A GOOD CAUSE!

The public spirited citizens of the Town of Napanee who are interesting themselves in the promotion of Minor Hockey are to be commended for their efforts and should be accorded every possible support, both financial and moral, by the people of the Town.

There is a great deal of truth in the old proverb "Satan always finds some work for idle hands to do," so the best way to keep people, whether adults or boys and girls, out of mischief is to keep them busy.

The work that has been done by the Lions Club and other organizations during the past few years in promoting baseball and other sports has kept the young people of the town occupied and has reduced juvenile delinquency to a minimum. Throughout the summer dozens of boys have been playing baseball and have taken the sport seriously. The same effort is being made during the winter to interest the youth of the district in hockey. At least 150 boys are spending a great deal of their spare time at the rink. Not only will they be kept out of mischief, but they will benefit physically from the healthful sport.

In order to carry on this beneficial work a drive for funds has been authorized and "Booster Tickets" are being offered to the public on the counters and show cases of stores in Napanee.

The proceeds from this effort will be used for the purchasing of equipment and the promotion of hockey among the minor league teams of the district. Donations may be made to the Treasurer of the Association, Mr. Herb. J. Knuth.

One of the great difficulties facing the Association is the lack of a proper place for playing hockey. The old rink is outdated and is badly in need of repair. The desire of the promoters is to have a new rink. That cannot be achieved without the expenditure of a large sum of money and a Committee composed of several prominent businessmen of the town are investigating the possibilities of a new arena and it is expected that definite information on the project will be forthcoming in the near future.

ANOTHER ELECTION

There is another big election on. This time it is in Great Britain. Already the prophets have begun to prophesy and the spellbinders have begun to spellbind, the loud speakers have begun to loud-speak and the radios to broadcast. All the big fry and the little fry are in it together. The prophets are telling us that Mr. Churchill will be elected, if this and that or the other; that Mr. Attee will be elected, if the other, that or this. Democracy, with all its modern methods and equipment, is at work.

It is great to be able to sit back and view the election objectively. If Mr. Churchill goes in, his party will carry on where Labor left off. If Mr. Attlee goes in, his party will continue where it left off. The world is not going to stop, either way. Children will be born, go to school, and grow up. Fathers will work and earn, mothers will work and not earn — or at least not draw a pay. Of course, it might be different if one party rather than another were elected, but in the larger view, England will not go back. Some things in her life have gone, no matter who is elected; the problems lie ahead and will be tackled by which ever party is elected. It is quite evident we are making no predictions. We shall leave that entirely to the samplers of public opinion, who are always wrong, anyway!

THE DICTATOR COMPLEX

We have all seen them — men and women of domineering, masterful manners. They want to run everything — in the church, in the home, in the service club, in the lodge, in municipal affairs; in fact, everywhere such people must be top-dog, or nothing. They are masterful, opinionated, energetic; no inferiority complex there. It is not hard for that type of person to become a dictator. He is already one in his own area.

It is an interesting fact, however, that the real honest to goodness dictators are not like that at all, at first. Indeed, it is so often true that idealists, dreamy-eyed and soft spoken, are transformed into welders of the big stick. We have all seen that kind, too. We have known men to appeal for support for some position of authority, with a genuine interest in the welfare of those whose support he sought. Then once installed in office, he brooks no interference, his word is law. He struts the earth like a brass hat, and wields the big stick like Goliath.

The world has had more than its fill of this sort in recent years — Mussolini, the cruel braggart, was once a seeker after the good life for all; Poincare, the chest-thumping militarist, was once a conservative saver; Chiang-Kai-Shek, a latter day dictator in [illegible], once humbly searched the Christian gospels for guidance. There was Lenin, who in early life possessed a notable mildness, but who could later point to Soviet comrade and declare: "poor Zinoviev, he thinks we can make a revolution without massacres." There was the young Stalin, [illegible] 'Vanity Fair' and making revolutionary proclamations while leading the singing in a theological seminary.

Of course, one cannot be a dictator unless there are those to be dictated to. A. Vernon Thomas, writing in the current issue of 'Culture', quotes Walter White in 'The Herald Tribune' as saying that there are ten million near-lunatics in the United States, and that they are ready to follow any crackpot that comes along. Then Mr. Thomas tells his views of Alberta. He writes:

"In the Canadian Province of Alberta, a group promising $25 a month to every man, woman and child as a 'cultural dividend', free of any obligation, became in 1935 the government of the province."

Well! may be that is why we have dictators. There are so many of us not crazy enough to be in Rockwood, but crazy enough to be led around by someone just a little crazier than we are. It is worth thinking about, anyway!

ALL FOR IT

An advertisement in the newspapers, last week, merits attention. It was entitled, "Meet John Ramsay." Mr. Ramsay was a typical citizen who had worked all his life, raised a family, saved enough to buy a little house, but never had salary enough to enable him to save for his years of retirement. So the sponsors of the advertisement urge that the means test for old age pensions, be removed. That would mean that everybody on reaching a certain age, whether they had other means or not, would receive the pension.

On the face of it, this seems like a preposterous suggestion. Why should the State pay a pension to those who already have money. The obvious answer is for the same reason that all families receive the family allowance. The income tax takes care of that. If a person has enough money to pay an income tax, then the addition he gets from the family allowance is added to his income, and is taxed accordingly.

It would be like that with a universal old age pension. The needy would receive it and the others receiving it would have it taxed. The advantage would be that those on the border line would not be prevented from working and supplementing their salaries without the restrictions which now so seriously limit that.

The trend of the times is to ever greater care of our citizens, by the State. It is inconceivable, but that the Federal Government has given this a lot of consideration. Before it could be done, however, a working financial agreement must be arrived at between the Provinces and the Dominion Government. There has been great difficulty in the past, in getting such an agreement. The prospects, particularly after the success of the recent Ottawa Conference, look brighter. It may just be that, when the next meeting is held in the Fall, all the differences will be ironed out and the way paved for the abolition of the means test.

We rather suspect such legislation would meet with general approval.

ANOTHER REASON

This is the season for Bank Reports, and reports from other financial institutions. They make good reading. From them it is possible to get a bird's-eye view of the future prospects of business trends. With the customary caution we have come to expect from these leaders, the recent reports indicate a healthy condition of Canadian finance and a slightly modified continuation of the business prosperity that has marked the post-war years. That is encouraging news.

One statement in particular was of interest. It was made by Joseph W. G. Clark, executive assistant to the president of The Investment Dealers' Association of Canada. He was speaking before the Belleville Rotary Club. According to a news dispatch, Mr. Clark said: "Before the war, when about 200,000 Canadians had accumulated savings in excess of $1,000, there were about 100,000 reasonably wealthy persons who comprised the retail market for securities in Canada. Now, over 900,000 have savings that has passed the $1,000 mark. The money is there in greater volume than ever, but it has changed hands."

Mr. Clark then made a strong plea for Canadians to invest their money in Canadian enterprises. He was afraid that, unless this were done, Canadian business would pass into American hands.

There is a great deal in what Mr. Clark said. We are already bound up pretty well with American interests. The Neighbours to the South have great investments in Canada. It is a good risk and they know it. There are many reasons why the person with a few thousand dollars in the savings bank, puts them in Dominion Bonds rather than in stocks. He has a rather long memory. He knows what happened once before and he is taking no chances. They have not yet forgotten the time when, besides the three or four resident stockholders in the town, there were half a dozen others who visited the town once a week with their 'gilt-edged securities.' They have not forgotten that when the crash came, and the bubble burst, the only 'gilt-edged' part of the securities was that done in pretty ink on the certificate. No! Communities like this, made up largely of farmers who work hard and know where every penny comes from, are not taking many chances. Once bit twice shy — or something like that.

Int. Sunday School Lesson, January 29th

Peter was staying temporarily at Joppa, with friends. One night he had a dream. He saw a sheet being lowered from the skies. In it was all kinds of food. He heard at the same time a voice commanding him to eat the food. He demurred. It was a sheet, also, Peter being a good Jew [illegible] taken food that was forbidden by his church. But he heard a voice which said to him: "What God hath cleansed you must not call common." It happened three times, and while he was wondering what it all meant the word was brought to him that three men wanted to see him. They were messengers from Cornelius, a Roman army officer. They said that Cornelius wanted to see him the next day, off he went, and arrived he found quite a crowd of people awaiting him. Cornelius greeted them in. He indicated that he and they with him were anxious to hear what he had to say.

Peter took advantage of the opportunity that was presented to him. It was against the church [illegible] to have anything to do with Gentiles. God had showed him, however, by an inspection of animals [illegible] courageously [illegible] to this [illegible] permanded [illegible] Peter [illegible] those [illegible] and [illegible] good, [illegible] of another. Whether we be Black or White, Red or Yellow; whether we work in overalls or in a white collar; whether we live near the [illegible] position. They had been with Jesus; they had heard him talk to Samaritans and treat them as though they were one of His own. But when the disciples went out they confined their message to the Jews. But the ferment was working. Gradually they were coming to see more in the religion of Jesus than they suspected at the beginning.

It takes a long time for all of us. The British reformed church in South Africa has recently come out strongly against permitting Blacks and Whites in that country, to worship together. And, in the Southern States, the Whites have their own churches and the Coloured Folk worship in separate churches.

But, of course, the principle of religious discrimination, or at least discrimination in religious organizations is not unknown, even where black and white is no problem. There are plenty of so-called respectable churches, where a man in overalls would get a pretty cool reception, or where a woman in shabby clothes would get the go-by, by God's elite. It takes a long time for a church to really become a church in the Christian sense.

Wherever we find taht spirit in the church, the spirit of narrow exclusiveness, we have as well a church that lacks missionary zeal and vision. Why bother with people in the other side of the world when there are so many at home, in need. How often is that trotted out as an excuse for non-support of the great mission enterprises. Of course, there are problems to be solved at home; abuses to be overcome, and wrongs to be righted. But if we wait until all these are settled before helping outside our own community, we will die without touching the larger problem. Christianity is a universal religion. We are all members, one of another. Whether we be Black or White, Red or Yellow; whether we work in overalls or in a white collar; whether we live near the [illegible] vinegar works or on the top of the hill; in the slums or suburbia — we are all children of God, members of His family.

The Potato Once Worshipped By Indians

For the potato's origins, we must go back to the South American Indians of 2,500 years ago. They depended pathetically on the potato. They even went to the extent of regarding it as a god.

To the Indians, the potato eyes were regarded as mouths. The sprouts of these mouths the bigger the root and better the potato.

It was not until the 16th century that the potato—indigenous to the northern as well as the southern part of America—reversed the procedure of Columbus and crossed the Atlantic to Europe.

The Swiss and the Prussians thought it caused schofula. the French maintained that it caused leprosy—and when leprosy died out they said is caused fevers.

No one is able to say exactly when the potato arrived in England. It seems to have been around 1580, as there is a price list of 1590 referring to potatoes at 2c 6d per lb. supplied to the Queen.

It is uncertain whether Sir Walter Raleigh brought the potato from America or not.

The failure of the Irish potato crop three years running in 1847-49 started a wave of emigration to America, one result of which is that the New York and Boston police forces are filled with Kellys, O'Leary's, and Flahertys.

Mrs. Fred Perry, the president, presided for the opening exercises. The minutes of the last meeting were read by Mrs. K. Vanrolkenburg, the secretary, and business was dealt with. A euchre and dance will be held on Friday evening, convened by M. Vanalstine and K. Vanrolkenburg, with the Institute providing lunch. Soup will also be sent to two schools for hot lunch for the children.

Lunch was served by the committee in charge.

MAPLE RIDGE W. I.

The members and friends of Maple Ridge Institute held their January meeting at the home of Mrs. Gerald Plumley. The president, Mrs. Vernie Kimmett opened the meeting with the singing of the ode and repeating the creed. Several items of business were dealt with. The roll call proved very humorous, it being Something I Learned Til Never Forget.

The programme convener, Mrs. R. H. Benn, took charge. A very interesting account of the main current events was given by Mrs. A. Uens. As the topic was Education, the first reading on the choosing and duties of the County Council was read by Mrs. Delbert Winter, the second account, on our Municipal Government, was given by Mrs. A. Mc Leod; the third paper, on the School Section and how its Business is Transacted, was read by Mrs. W. Pinsken. All joined in singing School Days, and everyone enjoyed a monologue ably given by Mrs. Merle Dachion. Mrs. Harold Dupre gave an interesting account of the Educational System in Newfoundland, which is carried on in a very different manner from that of Ontario. Mrs. George Dupre conducted a card contest, the prize being won by Mrs. Jack VanKoughnet. The members all joined in a group contest of singing nursery rhymes.

Mrs. A. VanLuven moved a vote of thanks to the hostess.

The meeting closed with all singing the National Anthem. Mrs. Plumley and her committee served lunch and a social time was enjoyed.

ANOTHER ELECTION

There is another big election on. This time it is in Great Britain. Already the prophets have begun to prophesy and the spellbinders have begun to spellbind, the loud speakers have begun to loud speak and the radios to broadcast. All the big fry and the little fry are in it together. The prophets are telling us that Mr. Churchill will be elected, if this and that or the other; that Mr. Attee will be elected, if the other, that or this. Democracy, with all its modern methods and equipment, is at work.

It is great to be able to sit back and view the election objectively. If Mr. Churchill goes in, his party will carry on where Labor left off. If Mr. Attlee goes in, his party will continue where it left off. The world is not going to stop, either way. Children will be born, go to school, and grow up. Fathers will work and earn, mothers will work and not earn — or at least not draw a pay. Of course, it might be different if one party rather than another were elected, but in the larger view, England will not go back. Some things in her life have gone, no matter who is elected; the problems lie ahead and will be tackled by which ever party is elected. It is quite evident we are making no predictions. We shall leave that entirely to the samplers of public opinion, who are always wrong, anyway!

THE DICTATOR COMPLEX

We have all seen them — men and women of domineering, masterful manners. They want to run everything — in the church, in the home, in the service club, in the lodge, in municipal affairs; in fact, everywhere such people must be top dog, or nothing. They are masterful, opinionated, energetic; no inferiority complex there. It is not hard for that type of person to become a dictator. He is already one in his own area.

It is an interesting fact, however, that the real honest to goodness dictators are not like that at all, at first. Indeed, it is so often true that idealists, dreamy-eyed and soft spoken, are transformed into wielders of the big stick. We have all seen that kind, too. We have known men to appeal for support for some position of authority, with a genuine interest in the welfare of those whose support he sought. Then once installed in office, he brooks no interference, his word is law. He struts the earth like a brass hat, and wields the big stick like Goliath.

The world has had more than its fill of this sort in recent years — Mussolini, the cruel braggart, was once a seeker after the good life for all; Poincare, the chest-thumping militarist, was once a conservative democrat; Chiang-Kai-Shek, a latter day dictatorial leader, once humbly searched the Christian gospels for guidance. There was Lenin, who in early life possessed a notable mildness, but who could later point to a Soviet comrade and declare: "poor Zinoviev, he is so Utopian, he thinks we can make a revolution without massacres." There was the young Stalin, reading 'Vanity Fair' and making revolutionary propaganda while leading the singing in a theological school.

Of course, one cannot be a dictator unless there are those to be dictated to. A. Vernon Thomas, writing in the current issue of 'Culture', quotes Walter White in 'The Herald Tribune' as saying that there are ten million near-lunatics in the United States, and that they are ready to follow any crackpot that comes along. Then Mr. Thomas tells his views of Alberta. He writes:

"In the Canadian Province of Alberta, a group promising $25 a month to every man, woman and child as a 'cultural dividend', free of any obligation, became in 1935 the government of the province."

Well! may be that is why we have dictators. There are so many of us not crazy enough to be in Rockwood, but crazy enough to be led around by someone just a little crazier than we are. It is worth thinking about, anyway!

ALL FOR IT

An advertisement in the newspapers, last week, merits attention. It was entitled, "Meet John Ramsay." Mr. Ramsay was a typical citizen who had worked all his life, raised a family, saved enough to buy a little house, but never had salary enough to enable him to save for his years of retirement. So the sponsors of the advertisement urge that the means test for old age pensions, be removed. That would mean that everybody on reaching a certain age, whether they had other means or not, would receive the pension.

On the face of it, this seems like a preposterous suggestion. Why should the State pay a pension to those who already have money. The obvious answer is for the same reason that all families receive the family allowance. The income tax takes care of that. If a person has enough money to pay an income tax, then the addition he gets from the family allowance is added to his income, and is taxed accordingly.

It would be like that with a universal old age pension. The needy would receive it and the others receiving it would have it taxed. The advantage would be that those on the border line would not be prevented from working and supplementing their salaries without the restrictions which now so seriously limit that.

The trend of the times is to ever greater care of our citizens, by the State. It is inconceivable, but that the Federal Government has given this a lot of consideration. Before it could be done, however, a working financial agreement must be arrived at between the Provinces and the Dominion Government. There has been great difficulty in the past, in getting such an agreement. The prospects, particularly after the success of the recent Ottawa Conference, look brighter. It may just be that, when the next meeting is held in the Fall, all the differences will be ironed out and the way paved for the abolition of the means test.

We rather suspect such legislation would meet with general approval.

ANOTHER REASON

This is the season for Bank Reports, and reports from other financial institutions. They make good reading. From them it is possible to get a bird's-eye view of the future prospects of business trends. With the customary caution we have come to expect from these leaders, the recent reports indicate a healthy condition of Canadian finance and a slightly modified continuation of the business prosperity that has marked the post-war years. That is encouraging news.

One statement in particular was of interest. It was made by Joseph W. G. Clark, executive assistant to the president of The Investment Dealers' Association of Canada. He was speaking before the Hollevile Rotary Club. According to a news dispatch, Mr. Clark said: "Before the war, when about 200,000 Canadians had accumulated savings in excess of $1,000, there were about 100,000 reasonably wealthy persons who comprised the retail market for securities in Canada. Now, over 900,000 have savings that has passed the $1,000 mark. The money is there in greater volume than ever, but it has changed hands."

Mr. Clark then made a strong plea for Canadians to invest their money in Canadian enterprises. He was afraid that, unless this were done, Canadian business would pass into American hands.

There is a great deal in what Mr. Clark said. We are already bound up pretty well with American interests. The Neighbours to the South have great investments in Canada. It is a good risk and they know it. There are many reasons why the person with a few thousand dollars in the savings bank, puts them in Dominion Bonds rather than in stocks. He has a rather long memory. He knows what happened once before and he is taking no chances. They have not yet forgotten the time when, besides the three or four resident stockbrokers in the town, there were half a dozen others who visited the town once a week with their 'gilt-edged securities.' They have not forgotten that when the crash came, and the bubble burst, the only 'gilt-edged' part of the securities was that done in pretty ink on the certificate. No! Communities like this, made up largely of farmers who work hard and know where every penny comes from, are not taking many chances. Once bit twice shy — or something like that.

Int. Sunday School Lesson, January 29th

Peter was staying temporarily at Joppa, with friends. One night he had a dream. He saw a sheet being lowered from the skies. In it was all sorts of food. He heard at the same time a voice commanding him to eat of the food. He demurred. It was a mixture, also, Peter being a good Jew had never eaten food that was forbidden by his church. But he heard a voice which said to him: 'What God has cleansed you must not call common.' It happened three times, and while he was wondering what it meant, word was brought to him that three men wanted to see him. They were messengers from Cornelius, a Roman army officer. They told Peter that Cornelius wanted to see him. So the next day, off he went. When Peter arrived he found quite a lot of people awaiting him. Cornelius had invited them in. He indicated to Peter that he and they with him, were anxious to hear what Peter had to say.

Peter took advantage of the opportunity that was presented to him. He said that it was against the church law for a Jew to have anything to do with a Gentile. God had showed him that He was no respecter of persons. Peter had taken a courageous step. If he preached to this group and some should be persuaded and ask for membership, Peter would be on the spot, for these Gentiles were not circumcised, and circumcision was, up until this time, a prerequisite of accepting Jesus. Peter was ready to take the risk.

It was a strange thing that it took the disciples so long to get to this position. They had been with Jesus; they had heard him talk to Samaritans and treat them as though they were one of His own. But when the disciples went out they confined their message to the Jews. But the ferment was working. Gradually they were coming to see more in the religion of Jesus than they suspected at the beginning.

It takes a long time for all of us. The British reformed church in South Africa has recently come out strongly against permitting Blacks and Whites in that country, to worship together. And, in the Southern States, the Whites have their own churches and the Coloured Folk worship in separate churches.

But, of course, the principle of religious discrimination, or at least discrimination in religious organizations is not unknown, even where blacks and white is no problem. There are plenty of so - called respectable churches, where a man in overalls would get a pretty cool reception, or where a woman in shabby clothes would get the go-by. God's church? It takes a long time for a church to really become a church in the Christian sense.

Wherever we find taht spirit in the church, the spirit of narrow exclusiveness, we have as well a church that lacks missionary zeal and vision. Why bother with people in the other side of the world when there are so many at home, in need. How often is that trotted out as an excuse for non-support of the great mission enterprises. Of course, there are problems to be solved at home; abuses to be overcome, and wrongs to be righted. But if we wait until all these are settled before helping outside our own community, we will die without touching the larger problem. Christianity is a universal religion. We are all members, one of another. Whether we be Black or White, Red or Yellow; whether we work in overalls or in a white collar; whether we live near the vinegar works or on the top of the hill; in the slums or suburbia — we are all children of God, members of His family.

The Potato Once Worshipped By Indians

For the potato's origins, we must go back to the South American Indians of 2,500 years ago. They depended pathetically on the potato. They even went to the extent of regarding it as a god.

To the Indians, the potato eyes were regarded as mouths. The bigger these mouths the bigger the root and better the potato.

It was not until the 16th century that the potato—indigenous to the northern as well as the southern part of America—revered the procedure of Columbus and crossed the Atlantic to Europe.

The Swiss and the Prussians thought it caused schofula, the French maintained that it caused leprosy—and when leprosy died out they said is caused fevers.

No one is able to say exactly when the potato arrived in England. It seems to have been around 1580, as there is a price list of 1590 referring to potatoes at 2s 6d per lb. supplied to the Queen.

It is uncertain whether Sir Walter Raleigh brought the potato from America or not.

The failure of the Irish potato crop three years running in 1847-49 started a wave of emigration to America, one result of which is that the New York and Boston police forces are filled with Kellys, O'Leary's, and Flahertys.

Mrs. A. VanLuven moved a vote of thanks to the hostess.

FARM FORUM REVIEW

Discussion this week:—

'PARITY & FLOOR PRICES

Some people claim that price supports for agriculture might lead to inefficient farming; what do you think?

If you were planning a farm price support programme for Canada, what features would it have? For example: Would you provide for floor prices? Parity Prices? Production Control? Maintenance of Consumer Purchasing Power? Or What?

Price supports do not lead to inefficient farming. So say the Forums of Lennox and Addington. On the contrary, declares River Valley Forum, price support would help make more efficient farmers, bring more stability to farmers' incomes and encourage more men to farm. Butternut Hill Forum adds "This group feels that if price supports for products are set high enough so that the farmer can make a profit, he will be encouraged to work more efficiently, rather than less efficiently." Bicknell's Corners add "the proviso that these price supports exist only until the prices of goods are on a level with farm products."

The second question was one with many different answers and was apparently a question which provoked much discussion. It was clear however that the majority of Forums were in favor of a system of parity prices rather than a floor price program. Deseronto Road Forum has this to say: "We believe farmers should be able to exist without floor prices except as an emergency measure; we feel parity prices are much safer for long-term planning, but we are not in favor of production control." Bicknell's Corners would favor a scheme like that of Dr. E. C. Hope, Economist for the Federation of Agriculture, which used the period of 1925-1929 as the basis of establishing a parity price system. They would recommend maintenance of consumer purchasing power at all costs. This is important because we have to have a ready market for our foodstuffs.

Hawley Forum wisely decides we must increase our domestic markets by the increased development of our natural resources and thus our newly industries. They would also encourage the British manufacturing plan to build more easily especially designed for Canadian use and wear, to increase the sale of their manufactured goods in this country.

Easy Street Forum started their first Forum meeting with a bang-up discussion on floor prices versus parity prices. The "floor-prices" were not in favor of the inevitable frustration which will occur in most parity price systems, they would be satisfied with the lowest price which would afford a fair profit to an efficient producer. Those in favor of a parity system however fel. that an equal standard of living was most important. The farmer should have a standard of living equal to that of any person with equal ability and equal investment. Both groups were against production control when hunger is still so prevalen: in many parts of the world.

The subject of production control was not received warmly in most of the Forums. Evidently our farmers resent being told how many acres to plant in oats, number of cows to milk, etc. There were all sorts of comments about this plan varying from "impractical" to "communistic."

This month's discussion is extremely important and timely. There are many knotty problems to discuss and many different points of view during at it.

In view of our falling markets for farm produce, together with the maintained high price of manufactured articles, the Lennox and Addington Forums would favor a parity price scheme over all other methods of price control.

In other words, we don't mind being poor, if our neighbors are too.

Our Forums would suggest an increased "Buy British" campaign with the view of conserving our dollar supply. This plan would be materially helped by a line of British goods designed specifically for Canadians.

Our farmers would resent a crop or produce control scheme on two counts. First, because they believe it inconsistent with a free country and secondly, they wonder why there are crop surpluses and hungry nations are allowed to exist at the same time. Could not a credit system, or a government sponsored agency be formed to reconcile these two deplorable conditions. Then too, the statements by our leading economists that our planet is overpopulated and underfed, are warnings that our problem is not overproduction but rather a faulty distributing or credit agency on the parts of our governments.

Next week: "Should Tariff Barriers be Abolished?"

Facial Decorations Have Meanings In India

The caste system, peculiar to Hindus in India, provides not only social barriers but a means of personal decoration.

The simplest caste mark is a round spot on the forehead, representing prosperity or joy, and not worn during mourning or fast days. Widows are forbidden to use this sign. It may be red or yellowish, and made of sandalwood paste.

Worshippers of Vishnu, seeking to represent the goddess of prosperity, Lakshmi, draw a vertical line across the spot, or with more elaboration draw a U or V generally with a central line but sometimes without it, depicting Vishnu's foot.

Horizontal lines mark the worshippers of Shiva. Some Vaishnavas stamp their temples, near the corners of the eye, with figures of Vishnu's conch and disc, in a kind of yellowish clay.

Smearing the arms and chest with paste and sandal-wood is a favorite kind of toilet in hot weather. Followers of Vishnu also wear beads of Tulsi or sacred Basil around their necks, the followers of Shiva string together berries of Rudraksha, and a sect of the Shivas, the Lingayas, suspend from their necks a metal casket, thus symbolizing the generating power in nature.

EMPLOYMENT SEEKERS

Next spring will see the second of the abnormally swollen post - war classes graduating from Canadian colleges and universities. The 1950 graduating class will at least equal in numbers the class of 1949, the largest in the history of our universities, and once more the problem arises of fitting these young men and women in our economy in a reasonably short time.

In spite of its size, the class of 1949 met with a high degree of success in finding employment. There were several reasons for this. The classes of the previous post-war years were not large enough to meet the high demand for graduates, while several large firms had deliberately held some positions open until 1949 in order to have a larger group from which to choose their future employees. Many graduates, particularly in engineering, were 'company graduates' on leave from regular employment, while more than 200 joined the Armed Forces.

This year, the task will be more difficult, since many employers have now made up the bulk of their staff shortages. Consequently, the Department of Labour and the National Employment Service are extending their efforts in a field not previously explored to any great extent, and are approaching those thousands of smaller employers in Canada who, until now, have given little thought to the place which graduates could play in their businesses.

University education is, after all, a training in thinking and a trained mind is an asset in any business or industry. A young man who has proved himself to the extent of obtaining a degree, and who has a real interest in a particular type of work will very likely be successful in that work, regardless of the course he has studied. There are many cases, for instance, of engineering graduates who have become high-ranking executives.

While the great problem in 1950 will be the employment of university graduates, the campaign, as in other years, is a dual one and aims also at finding summer jobs for undergraduates. Every year, more employers are discovering the advantages of employing an undergraduate each summer, with the idea of offering him a permanent position when he graduates. Experience has shown that the salary paid an undergraduate in a training position is well repaid when the same man, as a graduate, brings his experience back to the firm.

In a normal year, there would be 9,500 graduates in Canada. The number graduating in 1949 was about 12,000 and the 1950 figure will be slightly higher. A large proportion of this year's class are veterans, many of whom will have exhausted their funds by the time they graduate, and will need employment as soon as possible. These veterans particularly have much to offer employers in the way of experience and maturity of outlook.

Some features of the Government's placement activities are beyond the scope of the universities, however. For instance, it provides a nation-wide coverage of both employers and students, and it places equal emphasis on the problems of students in every faculty.

The Department of Labour and the National Employment Service are continuing to use the methods which have proven successful in past years. More than 10,000 letters have been sent to the employers whose names appear on a master list, which is amended and added to every year, and the replies are being classified as they come in to form the basis for this year's lists of job openings. This mailing will be supplemented by publicity and by field work on the part of the National Employment Officers across the country.

How Pyramid Rose

The shortage of building materials has helped to bring about one quiet revolution in the building trade — the substitution of tubular steel for myriad scaffold poles of all sizes that were formerly used for structural work in this country; and as nowadays we see with what dexterity and speed these scaffolds of hollow masts are raised we may well marvel that they were not thought of much earlier in this age of steel.

The oldest of civilizations, however, created a mighty architecture without scaffolding or supporting timber of any sort. Ancient Egypt, mother of civilization, lacked trees, and therefore had practically no timber, yet her building went on incomparably. How was this managed?

In the absence of timber, Egyptians could still make bricks in unlimited numbers; so bricks solved the problem. With their home-made bricks they built vast ramps up which slaves hauled colossal blocks of stone from grounds level to the uppermost heights of temple or pyramid.

To the subjects of the Pharaohs there seemed something godlike in these achievements; they believed that their ramps would enable a dead king to step into the starry heaven, there to join the company of the gods. Religious writings of the Egyptian of fifty centuries ago, telling of a dead Pharaoh, declare that "a ramp to the sky is built for him that he may go up to the sky thereon." There were the first sky-scrapers!

In Loving Memory

BOOTH — In loving memory of a dear husband and father, George W. Booth, who passed away January 29, 1949.

God knew that he was suffering;
That the hill were hard to climb;
So he closed his weary eyelids,
And whispered, peace be thine.
Away in the beautiful hills of God,
By the Valley of Rest, so fair;
Some time, some day, we know not when,
We will meet our loved one there.

Sadly missed by his loving
WIFE and FAMILY.
4ap RUTH, SID, FRANK.

MILES — In loving memory of our dear son, Delbert Miles, who passed away January 20th, 1946.

We often think of our dear son,
When thinking of the past,
And picture him, in memory,
Just as we saw him last.
He left behind broken hearts
That lived him as sincerely,
And tear-stained eyes
That still are wet.
In this a fourth, sad year.

Sadly missed and always remembered by
4ap (Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Miles.)

DAVIS — In loving memory of a dear husband and father, Wesley Davis, who passed away January 30, 1940.

A token of love and remembrance
To a dear one, we shall never forget.
His memory to us is a treasure;
His loss, a lifetime regret.
In Heaven, that beautiful mansion
Where Jesus has gone to prepare,
We hope when our journey is ended
We shall meet and never say farewell.

Sadly missed and ever remembered by
4ap

KEECH — In loving memory of our dear father and grandfather, Thomas Wesley Keech, who departed this life January 29th, 1949.

Our hearts were broken when we were told
Our Grandpa had passed away.
Treasured memories we will hold,
Till we meet again, some day.

Always remembered by

Conway - Sandhurst Home and School

Friday, Jan. 20, was the occasion of the second annual supper at Conway Church, for the members of the school board, their wives, the teachers of the area with their escorts, the Inspector and the Home and School members with their families.

Mr. Harold Creighton, chairman of the school board, made the pertinent remarks, and thanked the Home and School for their hospitality. Mr. H. H. Langford, the inspector, highly commended the purpose of the supper, to establish friendly relations with the school board and to afford an opportunity for parents, teachers and trustees to become acquainted. He also regretted the fact that there was not a better attendance from all groups represented.

The president, Mrs. M. Young, then introduced the guest speaker, Rev. W. J. Robinson, rector of St. Mary Magdalene's Church, Napanee. He chose as his subject, The Three C's: Career, Co-operation and Christianity. He stressed the fact that a child's career must be made up of Christian teaching of spiritual values as well as teaching of academic subjects, to make a co-operative and useful person in whatever walk of life he may choose.

A vote of thanks to Mr. Robinson, Mr. Langford and Mr. Creighton, was moved by Mrs. P. N. Ham.

The evening was brought to a close by singing the National Anthem.

Diogenes, the ancient Greek with the lamp, liked perfume so well he scented his feet. The fumes rose and scented his whole body.

MEDAL CONTEST — NEWBURGH W.C.T.U.

On Friday evening, Jan. 27th, at 8:00 p.m., in Newburgh Sunday school room, the W.C.T.U. will sponsor an Elocutionary Medal Contest, Junior I and Junior II. Sixteen children will give recitations. There will be musical numbers as well. All are invited.

The January meeting of Newburgh-Strathcona W.C.T.U. was held at the parsonage on the regular date. Seven members and two visitors were present. Mrs. McLeod conducted the devotional period by reading I Corinthians 3, 16-17 with comments. A hymn was sung and a circle of prayer followed.

An interesting dialogue was given by Mesdames Wilson, Finlay and McLeod and Paul "Why Join the W.C.T.U." Plans were finished for the medal contest to be held in the church on January 27th. Pupils from Switzerville, Strathcona and Newburgh will engage in an elocutionary contest. Judges will be from Napanee and Newburgh. There will be a good musical program as well.

One new member was received. The February meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Bruce Finlay, Strathcona; Mrs. Jos. Paul, leader.

The meeting closed by singing two verses of "Onward Christian Soldiers" and the hostess served a pleasant cup of tea.

WILLIAM ROBINSON DIED AT WINNIPEG

A retired C.N.R. baggage man, William A. Robinson, passed away suddenly at St. Boniface Hospital, Winnipeg, on Friday, December 30th, at the age of 75 years. During his years of residence in Norwood, Manitoba, Mr. Robinson made many friends who deeply mourn his death. He was born in Albany, N.Y., and came to Canada fifty years ago, residing in this district for the past thirty years. He retired from the railway ten years ago after thirty years service on the road.

Mr. Robinson was a member of Norwood United Church and also of Norwood Masonic Lodge, No. 119, A. F. & A.M.

Surviving are his widow, Dolly and a daughter, Miss Vera, at home; also four brothers, Acton, of Newburgh, Ont., Harry M. and Hilton, of Camden East, Ont., Hugh J., of Winnipeg; and three sisters, Mrs. A. P. Scott of Camden East, Ont., Mrs. Ed. Hamilton, of Newburgh, Ont., and Mrs. Albert Shier, of Los Angeles, California.

The funeral service was held on Tuesday, Jan. 3, at 3:30 in Gardiner's Funeral Home in Norwood, Man., with Rev. T. M. Badger conducting the last rites. Burial was made at Elmwood cemetery with Masonic rites conducted the graveside.

BATH PASTORAL CHARGE ANNUAL MEETINGS

The four churches of the Bath Pastoral Charge of The United Church completed their annual Congregational Meetings on Thursday evening, January 19th.

The first of four meetings was a gathering of the Hawley Congregation in the Hawley Church, Tuesday, Jan. 10th. The congregation was well represented. The minister, Rev. Andrew Denholm, presided. The evening began with a hearty sing-song. Mr. Denholm led in a brief worship service. The Woman's Association then withdrew for a short business meeting, after which, Mr. Denholm presided over the election of officers for the W. A. for 1950. The new president is Mrs. Clarence Parks. Then reports were read and accepted rounding out the business of 1949. The Official Board reported its meetings and activities and thanked all who helped with work at the parsonage. The Missionary and Maintenance report was read. Report of parsonage expenses was given. The treasurer of the committee of Stewards, Mr. John Craven, reported on givings and expenses, showing a balance of $114.76; the W. A. report showed a balance of $166.66.

Officers were elected for 1950 and lunch was served by the ladies.

The second meeting was at Union on Thursday evening, Jan. 12. The Union Congregation enjoyed a sing-song, some games, a worship service and then the business meeting. Reports were heard from the Official Board, the M. and M. Fund, the Parsonage Repair Fund, the Union W. A., Sunday School, and treasury.

Officers were elected for the year 1950 and lunch was served by the ladies, to end a most enjoyable evening.

The third was a Congregational Meeting in the Bluelah United Church on Wednesday evening, January 18. Though not largely attended, this meeting accomplished its business and was very profitable to those present and to the church. A community sing-song opened the evening, followed by a worship service. Reports were presented from the Official Board, Sunday school, W. A., the Treasurer and the Minister.

Stewards and elders were elected for 1950, and one member for the Parsonage Trustee Board. The meeting ended with the benediction.

The Fourth meeting was the Bath United Church Congregational gathering at Bath, on Thursday, Jan. 19th at 8:00 p.m. Rev. Andrew Denholm presided as chairman. The evening opened with a sing-song and a game. A short worship program preceded the business meeting.

Reports were read from the Official Board, the M. and M. Committee and Parsonage Fund. Thanks were expressed by the Board to all who did work at the parsonage. Reports were heard from the Woman's Association, the Sunday school superintendent, the treasurer, the Cemetery committee and the minister. The church treasury shows a balance of $149.84 and the W. A. a balance of $181.85.

All those who contributed to the outstanding success of this year in the church's work were gratefully thanked.

Officers were elected for the year 1950 to the Committee of Stewards, the Board of Elders, and the Parsonage Trustee Board. The evening ended with the benediction and lunch.

Thus ends another year of labour in the Name of Christ. The four Congregations of the Bath Pastoral Charge advance to meet the future with hope and confidence, that the Master will bless all worthy effort.

New Regulations Re Dishwashing In Restaurants

According to recent regulations under the Public Health Act of Ontario concerning operation of eating establishments, it is necessary to have three sinks for dish washing, where manual equipment is employed, from and after January 1, 1950.

The reason for requiring three sinks, is that, in order to make dishes clean and safe for the public, it is considered that one sink is necessary for washing the dishes, one for rinsing and one for sterilizing the dishes. It is expected that any lunch counter or restaurant in the County of Lennox and Addington that has the near future. Those wishing information regarding the regulations, may phone the County Health Unit.

1949 another BIG year

More and Better Service for More People

LAST YEAR, our installers added 138,000 new telephones . . . people made over 10 million telephone calls a day . . . service was faster, better in every way.

It took lots of work and lots of money.

Money for new telephones, buildings, and equipment. Money to pay fair wages to 28,000 employees. Money to pay a reasonable return to 58,000 Canadians whose investment in the telephone business has made its expansion possible.

Although so much was done in 1949 ended with thousands of people still waiting for telephones and with many needed improvements still to be completed.

Only a financially healthy company can carry out the big job yet to be done. Telephone users, employees, shareholders — everyone has a vital interest in a service that means so much to the welfare of so many people.

NAPANEE W. C. T. U. — The January meeting of the Women's Christian Temperance Union was held at The Salvation Army Hall on January 6th, with Mrs. Langford, president, presiding. Miss B. Hawley, secretary, read the minutes of the last meeting. Business was conducted, after which the clip-sheet was given by Mrs. W. Wartman, the subject being Liquor and National Economy. The facts pointed out were as follows:

The welfare of a community depends on how the purchaser's dollars are spent, resulting in the production of goods of real social value. For example, when money is spent to build a house, the material and labor serve a useful purpose for fifty years. Also, the automotive industry contributed to the public economy. Its increased wages provided work, etc. In producing one million dollars' worth of goods in the fourteen largest industries, jobs are given to 231 wage earners. In producing one million dollars' worth of alcoholic liquor, jobs are given to about 55 men. The fewer the workmen, the smaller the payroll.

According to authentic government reports, for every dollar received by the government from liquor taxes, the total tangible cost of alcoholism to taxpayers was more than four dollars. Against the revenue from liquor must be placed expenditures for drink-caused crime and court costs, prison costs, hospital costs, and the unemployment and relief resulting from drink. Not only was money spent on liquor diverted from useful, productive industry, but there was impaired skill, impaired health, and tragedies.

Miss M. Milling conducted the worship service, reading Psalm 121, and speaking on 'Entering the Door of the New Year.'

Mrs. Gardner dismissed the meeting with prayer.

DORLAND

Dorland, Jan. 21. — The men have been busy most of this week gathering up the debris and repairing the damage caused by the storm a week ago. Few farmers, if any, escaped more or less damage. Road superintendent Mack has re-erected the snow fences along the roads. The Hydro repair men deserve credit for restoring power in such a short time but telephone service is still out on several lines, causing much inconvenience to the subscribers.

The zero weather started the drifting ice freezing together so the Glenora Ferry had to cease operating on Thursday. Owing to the rough condition of the ice it is doubtful if it will be possible to drive on the ice, even if it should become strong. The question today is whether the snow falling now will provide the needed covering for fall grain and meadows and make sleighing for wood hauling.

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Goshaena recently arrived from Roumania, have purchased Mr. F. E. Foster's farm, fully equipped and are in possession. Mr. and Mrs. Foster are occupying the tenant house until April when they will move to Napanee, where they have purchased a home.

Galbraith that all bills be paid. Mrs. Earl Boyce gave a quiz on Citizenship and a musical contest by Mrs. P. Galbraith was won by Mrs. F. Jeffrey and Mrs. McFarlane. The School Rink

The windstorm which we had Saturday, January 14th, blew some of the boards from The Prince Charles School rink. Two men came and put them up again. Mr. McMullen has a fairly good surface on the rink, now, but it will need a few more floods to make it smooth enough for the children to skate on. We are hoping it will soon be ready as the small children have nowhere to skate; then, too, we all are looking forward to the possibility of our annual ice-carnival. But this will all depend upon the weatherman.

A gift of six beautiful pictures of cruisers of The Royal Canadian Navy were given to The Prince Charles School by Lieut.-Commander R.C.N.(R.) H. W. Webster. There are pictures of a corvette, the minesweeper 'Bangor', the cruiser 'Ontario', an aircraft carrier, similar to the 'Magnificent', a Tribal class destroyer and an Algerine minesweeper. The pictures are approximately ten inches by twelve inches and are mounted on white. These will be a very great asset to our new school and we appreciate Lieut.-Commander Webster's gesture.

The Windstorm

On Friday night we had a very bad windstorm. It lasted through Saturday morning and afternoon. Towards night it let up. Much damage was done to the town and district. Telephone poles were blown over; many trees uprooted and many buildings had the roofs blown off. Several barns and cabins were entirely demolished. Due to the storm there was no available electricity and as a result those who had iron firemen were without heat during Saturday, up till 8:45 p.m. Many people had difficulty in cooking, as some used electric stoves.

Altogether it was a very costly storm.

Farmers Demand Gov't Take Action To Bolster Prices

Over 500 Attend Protest Meeting In Napanee

Lennox and Addington farmers voiced vigorous protests against the Federal Government's lack of action in bolstering prices of farm products and passed several strongly worded resolutions asking for immediate action to the national crisis at a meeting in the Napanee Town Hall on Wednesday afternoon, January 25th. The gathering, sponsored by the Lennox & Addington Federation of Agriculture, was attended by over 500 residents of the rural areas of the district. Frank N. Ham, former have of South Fredericksburgh, who is Chairman of the Federation of Agriculture presided.

With him on the platform, besides other officials of the Federation, and the guest speaker, Mr. Charles McGuinness, President of the Ontario Hog Producers' Association, were Mrs. Carman Hyland, president of the Lennox District Women's Institute; Mrs. D. Weese, president of the Addington Women's Institute; and Geo. J. Tuck, Member of the House of Commons for Prince Edward - Lennox, and Donald Baxter, Member of the Ontario Legislature for Prince Edward Lennox.

RESOLUTIONS ENDORSED

After hearing addresses by F. N. Ham, Chas. McGinness and the two Members of Parliament, a committee composed of Donald Paul, chairman, J. D. Elliott, L. H. McCoy, A. Milligan, Orval Shea, Norman Bell and Maurice H. Young, presented the following resolutions, which were endorsed by the meeting:

(1) In that farm prices generally are falling below cost of production, which will result in lessened buying power to the farmer and hence lowered sales of manufactured products, resulting in unemployment and eventual depression, and,

Whereas, in 1944, a Price Support Act, making available 200 million dollars for just such conditions as are now prevalent, was passed unanimously, by all parties in the Dominion Parliament and whereas farmers accepted controls and wartime prices during the war, with the understanding of peacetime support through the Prices Support Act, and whereas industry and labor enjoy protective tariffs and bonuses should also be protected to maintain a balance, so necessary to the prosperity of this country.

Be it, therefore, resolved that action be taken at once by the Federal Government, to allow the production cost, plus a reasonable profit, comparable to other industries.

We feel that minimum prices should be: bacon 36c seaboard; cheese, 30c f.o.b. factory; eggs, 43c at loss-free concentrated milk, $2.70 per hundred for 3.5 milk.

(2) Be it therefore resolved that it be made known to those concerned, that immediately, management, labor, wholesaler, retailer, doctors, lawyers, dentists, politicians, etc. lower costs of their materials and services. We as producers, will gladly accept the same percentage of drop in farm produce prices.

(3) Whereas, the difference in price of farm produce from the time the producer is paid for it until it is paid by the consumer, is too great a loss, due to profits taken by those handling the product, e.g., eggs leaving the producer at 24c and being sold to the consumer at 49 cents;

And whereas the quality of produce deteriorates through lack of interest and care by the handlers from the time it leaves the producer until it is received by the consumer, thus making it unattractive and lessening the demand for same:

Be it, therefore, resolved that the Provincial and Federal Governments provide adequate marketing legislation to enable the producer of agricultural products to have control over the marketing and distribution of their commodities.

(4) Whereas, farmers buy 65 per cent. of all manufactured goods produced in Canada in normal times, and whereas it is the farmer's firm request and sincere desire to keep the wheels of industry turning;

And, whereas, if farmers are forced to take prices below the cost of production and forced to accept standards of living lower than people engaged in other walks of life, and are given no consideration from other governments, economic conditions will force us to curtail our purchases of manufactured goods. We, therefore, ask the co-operation of both industry and labour in our endeavours to secure adequate returns for farm products.

FRANK N. HAM SPEAKS

Mr. Ham, chairman of the meeting, who was the first speaker, spoke of the ever - increasing interest of farmers in farm organizations which has resulted in the voice of the farmer being heard by governments. He said that the Federal Government has apparently negotiated trade treaties on the farmer must look after his own interests. During the war, Mr. Ham said, farmers were urged to produce and spent tremendous quantities of food overseas, at a fair profit. Now, the Government has left the farmer in the post-war years. A Floor Price Act was introduced in the Dominion Parliament and, now farmers are asking the Government to put that Act into effect. The Government, he said, has taken faith with the farmers and has let them down. To-day, agriculture is at the crossroads, one of which will lead to depression and result in turmoil. There is only one answer, Mr. Ham said, and that is to use the $30,000,000 set aside for establishing floor prices. It will be far better, he said, to give surplus food away to needy nations than to throw it on the domestic market and further reduce prices.

ADDRESS BY MR. CHAS. McKINNESS

Mr. McGinness, president of the Ontario Hog Producers' Association, said that he regretted that the meeting was necessary under such grave conditions. Canada, he said, has reached the point where it is the third trading nation in the world. In previous years, agriculture seconded the day for Canada. In war years the United Kingdom was almost dependent on Canada for its food. During war years the Canadian farmer did not receive cost plus profit, but received prices less than world levels. Farmers worked long hours to produce and help save democracy. They were told by those in authority that they knew farmers were getting less than they should, but asked for co-operation in a cheap food policy. Farmers were also told they would be taken care of at the post-war years and would be given floor-price protection. Canadian farmers were promised the United Kingdom hog market when the war was over. Gradually hog production was stepped up and also the quality was improved. But new agreements with the United Kingdom were not announced until January, 1950, instead of October, 1949. So farmers could not plan production for that year. The United Kingdom admitted Canadian pork products were superior to any others but now the United Kingdom market is about to disappear.

Mr. McGinness admitted that conversion from war to peace has prevented the United Kingdom getting back to production and keep up the balance of trade. Deflation of currency followed with the result the United Kingdom may have to pay 30 per cent. more for produce bought in Canada, and has decided to buy in sterling areas. What has happened, he said, was on national and international levels. The fall in markets, he declared, was handed to farmers and was not created by them.

Floor price legislation was placed on the statutes of the Dominion, but it has been used at all. It has been used very stintingly. Government spokesmen have declared the legislation is inflationary. In order to protect agricultural prosperity, but only to provide a cushion. A cushion, Mr. McGinness said, is something that lies on one down. It indicates that the farmer is to have a rough ride. The Act, he said, states that the Government shall endeavor to insure adequate and stable prices for agriculture, and insure a fair relationship between agricultural prices and other commodities. He asked: "What are we going to just have legislation on the books, while agriculture takes the whole loss?" Agriculture was made definite promises by all parties and has a right to demand floor prices.

Hog Prices

Turning to the price of hogs, Mr. McGinness said that the Ontario Department of Agriculture arranged to have an economist, in co-operation with the Ontario hog producers in the province, arrive at the cost of production of hogs. The result of the investigation showed that the cost of raising a weanling pig to the point where it could be marketed, required 780 lbs. of feed, costing $27.51; labor at 75c per hour amounting to $4.05, interest on investment, taxes, etc. $2.74, cost of the weanling pig $3.00; marketing $1.30; a total of $40.80 to produce a 200-lb. pig, which markets at 150 lbs — which is $5.09 per pig less than its market value. In 1949, the 4,000 million pounds of pork was produced for the domestic and export market. So far this year, all pork has goven into domestic consumption.

On a basis of $43.00 per week as the 1950 seasonal industry index, Mr. McGinness estimated that the farmers are taking a loss in the hog industry, which has contributed $110,000 per day to the domestic consumers' food bill. The same thing could be shown for dairy products, eggs and other farm products.

The hog industry, Mr. McGinness said, has been dumped bake into history to 1928 — 22 years. It is high time the Government of Canada should put on sufficient pressure in determining the policy of government with regard to farm production. This, he said, have enabled secondary industry to expand and prosper. Farmers, he said, only 10 per cent to 60 per cent. more for products of industry than do secondary industry. Farmers are only asking that in time of emergency that the same protection be given them as has been afforded secondary industry.

The issue before the next Parliament, Mr. McGinness declared, is whether we are going to dump the food surplus on the starving people of the world or are we going to dump it on farmers. The problem affects the whole of Canada. We are starting a decade for us as a people of Canada, and must give consideration to the interests of all the people in Canada.

Parliament is facing a great responsibility. Farmers have arrived at the point where they must be masters of their own situation. Parliament must be urged to give farmers leg-

In some cases the conditions have not been good, and, unless a clean-up is carried out, no permit will be issued. Re-inspections will be made at intervals to see that the required standards are adhered to.

Last summer two slaughter houses were closed permanently because of extreme uncleanness and grossly inadequate facilities. In order to protect the public from the hazard of dirty and infected meat a close check will be kept on slaughter houses in the County.

County Resident in Recent Trip Given Information

Many people in Napanee are aware of the fact that there is a town in Indiana which bears the same name, with a slight difference in spelling, as Napanee, Ontario. The Indiana town's name is spelled "Nappanee." But it is doubtful if very many know how Nappanee in Indiana received its name.

Information regarding Nappanee, Indiana, was given The Beaver by Mr. Harry Scouten of Wilton, who recently was a member of a group of Ontario people who made a good will tour of Indiana. While at a reception tendered the group in Elkhart County, Mr. Scouten was given the following information regarding the naming of Nappanee, Indiana:

"Before the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad was built through Northern Indiana in 1874 there was a thriving little country town named Locke, two miles north of the present town of Nappanee.

When the railroad was completed it was decided to move the town. At that time there was a storekeeper by the name of Henry Eby, in Locke. He competitor boasted that he would be the first merchant to do business in the new town. Not wanting to be outdone by his opposition, Mr. Eby secretly moved his stock of goods during the night and the next morning was ready to do business in temporary quarters in the new town.

It was decided to give the new town a new name and the first merchant ready to do business was given the honor of selecting the name.

Henry Eby qualified for the honor, and being a former Canadian, and a native of Napanee, Ontario, he chose the name of his home town as the new name for the Indiana town."

MAGISTRATE'S COURT

On Thursday, in the Magistrate's Court in Napanee, William Lewis pled guilty to being in charge of a motor car while intoxicated and was sentenced to serve one week in gaol and to pay costs amounting to $21. His driver's permit was cancelled for three months and his truck was impounded for three months.

Grover Heffernan, who operates Grover's Meat Market, in Napanee, was found guilty of selling sausages which did not come up to the standard set by the Food and Drug Act and was fined $25 plus costs of $13. Mr. Heffernan gave notice that he would appeal the conviction. Mr. Graydon, of Belleville, an Inspector of the Food and Drug Department, produced in court an analysis of sausages taken from Grover's Meat Market on October 17th, which showed presence in the sausages of a forbidden preservative.

Mr. Heffernan, in his evidence, stated that he had not made the sausages and had sold them as they were received from a meat firm in Toronto. He said also that he had advised the Toronto firm of the charge laid against him, bu that received no reply.

The Magistrate said that under the Act, and with the evidence produced, he was unable to do anything but register a conviction. He also told Mr. Heffernan that a severe declaration should have been produced by him, showing that he did purchase the sausages from a third party, in the condition in which they were found by the Inspector.

Response to Appeal For Unicef Funds Falling Short

Rotary Club Conducts Campaign In Napanee

Canadian response to the appeal currently being conducted by the United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund on behalf of six million needy children in Europe, is failing far short of the national objective of $3 million, A. B. MacDonald, Canadian Chairman of Unicef has announced.

Up to January 12th, only $217,451.92 or less than 10 per cent. of the goal, has been pledged. This does not include sums being held by provincial committees till the end of the campaign, but it will not exceed that figure considerably.

"In view of these figures," declared Mr. MacDonald, "we have decided to continue the UNICEF appeal for another month or two. We hope the country will avail himself of the extended opportunity to contribute to what must surely be the world's last cause of the century, the sick and hungry children of war-ravaged lands."

Biggest contributor, on a per capita basis, is Manitoba, which has pledged $20,070.57 to UNICEF, or 17.1 per cent. of its objective. Next largest is neighboring Saskatchewan, with $28,854.47, 14.8 per cent. of its total. Lowest is Newfoundland with less than 1 per cent. with Quebec running a close second with only 2.4 per cent. of its objective, Ontario, richest and most populous province, has pledged 7.1 per cent. of its total.

Province	Goal	Donations
Alberta	$190,000	$22,280 93
British Columbia	240,000	21,235 58
Manitoba	170,000	29,070 57
New Brunswick	110,000	9,224 07
Newfoundland	70,000	332 33
Northwest Territories and Yukon	5,000	332 35
Nova Scotia ...	145,000	12,937 66
Ontario	1,400,000	99,482 21

Quebec	670,000	20,741 33
Saskatchewan	195,000	28,854 47
		$217,451 92

In appealing for a new and greater response to UNICEF's campaign, Mr. MacDonald pointed out that all donations made now will be deductible from 1950's income tax. He also stressed that every dollar so donated will be spent for supplies in Canada.

The Campaign for funds in Napanee is being conducted by the Napanee Rotary Club. Stanley Beamish is Chairman of the Committee and contributions may be sent to him or to Mr. E. Zerah at the Royal Bank.

Some Assistance To Be Given Farmers By Federal Gov't

Announces Floor Prices For Bacon And Eggs

The Government last week announced that it would support the price of eggs at 38 cents per dozen at all storage points in Canada "plus a stipulated allowance to cover costs."

This will mean a price increase to the consumer of from four-and-a-half cents per dozen or more and as compared with a United States price of 37c per dozen.

Rt. Hon. James G. Gardiner, Minister of Agriculture, who made the Government's decision known, said that the support program to stabilize the egg market would be carried out through the Agricultural Prices Support Board.

Under the plan, the Board will buy at the termination of the storage period late this year, all eggs then unsold which have been stored according to board specifications during the period between January and early June.

FOLLOWS ACTION TAKEN ON BACON

This follows action taken recently to support the price of bacon at 32 and-a-half cents per pound and cheese at 28 cents per pound.

According to the arrangements the Agricultural Prices Support Board will pay, at all storage points in Canada, 38 cents per dozen for eggs stored as Grade A large and 36 cents per dozen for eggs stored as Grade A medium, plus a stipulated allowance to cover costs.

Mr. Gardiner stated that it was anticipated this action would provide a floor price to producers at egg stations, of approximately 20 to 32 cents per dozen, basis Grade A Large, depending on shipping costs from station to storage.

ACTION TO ASSIST POULTRY INDUSTRY

In making the announcement the Minister pointed out that this action was taken to assist the poultry industry in the adjustment to conditions created by discontinuance of British egg buying in Canada.

Under this program the Government will not participate directly in the egg business. The sorting and merchandising of eggs will remain in the hands of the industry. The Government offer to buy any otherwise unsaleable eggs at the end of the storage season will have a stabilizing influence as operated under British contracts then the Government contracted to buy eggs out of storage in the fall months for delivery to Britain.

Farmers Demand Gov't Take Action To Bolster Prices

Over 500 Attend Protest Meeting In Napanee

Lennox and Addington farmers voiced vigorous protests against the Federal Government's lack of action in bolstering prices of farm products and passed several strongly worded resolutions asking for immediate action to the national crisis at a meeting in the Napanee Town Hall on Wednesday afternoon, January 25th. The gathering, sponsored by the Lennox & Addington Federation of Agriculture, was attended by over 500 residents of the rural areas of the district. Frank N. Ham, former Reeve of South Fredericksburgh, who is Chairman of the Federation of Agriculture presided.

With him on the platform, besides other officials of the Federation, and the guest speaker, Mr. Charles McGuinness, President of the Ontario Hog Producers' Association, were Mrs. Carman Ryland, president of the Lennox District Women's Institute; Mrs. H. Weese, president of the Addington Women's Institute; and Geo. J. Tustin, Member of the House of Commons for Prince Edward — Lennox, and Donald Baxter, Member of the Ontario Legislature for Prince Edward Lennox.

RESOLUTIONS ENDORSED

After hearing addresses by F. N. Ham, Chas. McGuinness and the two Members of Parliament, a committee composed of Donald Paul, chairman; J. B. Elliott, L. H. McCaul, C. A. Milligan, Orval Shea, Norman Bell and Maurice H. Young, presented the following resolutions, which were endorsed by the meeting:

(1) In that farm prices generally are falling below cost of production, which will result in lessened buying power to the farmer and hence lowered sales of manufactured products, resulting in unemployment and eventual depression, and,

Whereas, in 1944, a Price Support Act, making available 200 million dollars for just such conditions as are now prevalent, was passed unanimously by all parties in the Dominion Parliament and whereas farmers accepted controlled wartime prices during the war, with the understanding of peacetime protection under the Prices Support Act, and whereas industry and labor enjoy protection while agriculture should also be protected to maintain a balance, so necessary to the prosperity of this county;

Be it, therefore, resolved that action be taken at once by the Federal Government, to allow the producer only a reasonable profit, comparable to other industries.

We feel that minimum prices should be: basket 36c export; 40c to 42c f.o.b. factory; eggs, 42c at Montreal; concentrated milk, $2.70 per hundredweight 3.5 milk.

(2) Be it therefore resolved that it be made known to those concerned, that immediately, management, labor, wholesaler, retailers, doctors, lawyers, dentists, politicians, etc., lower the costs of their materials and services. We as producers, will gladly accept the same percentage of reduction in farm production costs.

(3) Whereas the difference in price of farm produce from the time the product is sold for it until it is paid for by the consumer, is beyond reason, due to profits taken by those handling the product — e.g. eggs leaving the producer at 24c and being sold to the consumer at 49 cents.

And whereas the quality of produce deteriorates through lack of interest and care by the handlers from time to time it leaves the producer until it is received by the consumer, thus making it unattractive and lessening the demand for same;

Be it, therefore, resolved that the Provincial and Dominion Governments provide adequate marketing legislation to enable the producers of agricultural products to have control over the marketing and distribution of their commodities.

(4) Whereas, farmers buy 65 per cent. of all manufactured goods produced in Canada in normal times, and whereas it is the farmer's earnest and sincere desire to keep the wheels of industry turning;

And, whereas, if farmers are forced to take prices below the cost of production and forced to accept standards of living lower than people engaged in other walks of life, and are to receive no consideration from governments, economic conditions will force the curtailment of purchases of manufactured goods. We, therefore, ask for co-operation of both industry and labour in our endeavours to secure adequate returns for farm products.

FRANK N. HAM SPEAKS

Mr. Ham, chairman of the meeting, who was the first speaker, spoke of the ever - increasing interest of farmers in farm organizations which has resulted in the voice of the farmer being heard by governments. He said that the Federal Government has apparently repudiated the farmer, so the farmer must look after his own interests. During the war, Mr. Ham said, farmers were urged to produce and sent tremendous quantities of food overseas, at a fair profit. The Cabinet promised to look after farmers in the post-war era. A Floor Price Act was introduced to bolster farm prices when peace came and now they are asking the government to put that Act into effect. The Government, he said, has dealt with the farmer as a football and has kicked him down. To-day, agriculture is at the crossroads, one of which leads to the farm depression and ruin. There is only one answer, and that is to use the machinery made for establishing peace. If we be far better, he said, than food away to the starving millions. It is on the farmer to further reduce

ADDRESS BY MR. CHAS. McKINNESS

Mr. McKinness, president of the Ontario Hog Producers' Association, said that he regretted that the meeting was necessary under such grave conditions. Canada, he said, has reached the point where it is the third leading country in the world. In depression years, agriculture saved the day for Canada. In war years the United Kingdom was almost dependent on Canada for its food. During war years the Canadian farmer did not work on a cost plus plan, but received prices less than world levels. Farmers worked long hours to produce and help save democracy. They were told by those in authority, that they knew farmers were getting less than they should, but asked for co-operation in "cheap food policy." Farmers were also told they would be taken care of in the post-war years and would be given floor-price protection. Canada's farmers were promised the United Kingdom hog market when the war was over. Gradually hog production was stepped up and also the quality was improved. But new agreements with the United Kingdom were not announced until January, 1950, instead of October, 1949. So farmers could not plan production for this year. The United Kingdom admitted Canadian pork products were superior to Danish, but now the United Kingdom market is about to disappear.

Mr. McGinness admitted that conversion from war to peace has presented the United Kingdom getting back into production and keeping the balance of trade. Deflation of currency followed with the result that Britain would have to pay 20 per cent. more for produce bought in Canada, and has decided to buy in sterling areas. What has happened, he said, was on national and international levels. The fall in markets, he declared, was handed to the farmers and was not created by them.

Floor price legislation was placed on the statutes of the Canadian people but it has been used at all it has been used very sparingly. Government spokesmen have declared the legislation was not intended to give agricultural prosperity, but only to provide a cushion. Mr. McGinness said, is something that lets one down. It indicates that the farmer is to have a rough ride. The Act, he said, states that the Government shall endeavour to insure adequate and stable returns for agriculture, and insure a fair relationship between agricultural prices and other occupations. He asked: "are we going to just have legislation on the statute books while agriculture sinks the whole loss?" Agriculture was made definite promises by all parties and has a right to demand floor prices.

Hog Prices

Turning to the price of hogs, Mr. McGinness said that the Ontario Department of Agriculture arranged to have an economist, in co-operation with the best hog producers in the province, arrive at the cost of producing a pound of hog. The result of the investigation showed that the cost of raising a weanling pig to the point where it could be marketed, required 780 lbs. of feed, costing $27.51, labor at 75c per hour amounting to $4.05, interest on investment, taxes, etc. $2.74, cost of the weanling pig, $3.00; marketing $1.30; a total of $43.30 to produce a 200-lb. pig, which markets at 150 lbs — which is 65.00 per cwt. more than the market value.

In 1949, he said, 900 million pounds of pork was produced for the domestic and export market. So far this year, all pork has been given into domestic consumption.

On a basis of $43.00 per week as pay in secondary industry, Mr. McGinness estimated that the farmers are taking a loss in the hog industry which has contributed $110,000 per day to the domestic consumers' food bill. The same thing could be shown for dairy products, eggs and other farm products.

The hog industry, Mr. McGinness said, has been dumped back into history to 1928 — 22 years. It is high time, he declared, that farmers should put on sufficient pressure, in determining the policy of government with regard to farm products. Tariffs, he said, have enabled secondary industry to expand and prosper. Farmers are paying 10 per cent to 50 per cent more for products of industry to help secondary industry. Farmers are only asking that in a time of whole of Canada. We are starting a crusade for a prosperous Canada, and must give consideration to the interests of all the people in Canada.

Parliament is facing a great responsibility. Farmers have arrived at the point where they must be heard or of their own situation. Parliament must be urged to give farmers leg-

County Resident in Recent Trip Given Information

Many people in Napanee are aware of the fact that there is a town in Indiana which bears the same name, with a slight difference in spelling, as Napanee, Ontario. The Indiana town is spelled "Nappanee." But it is doubtful if very many know how Nappanee in Indiana received its name.

Information regarding Nappanee, Indiana, was given The Beaver by Mr. Harry Scouten of Wilton, who recently was a member of a group of Ontario people who made a good will tour of Indiana. While at a reception tendered the grop in Elkhart County, Mr. Scouten was given the following information regarding the naming of Nappanee, Indiana.

"Before the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad was built through Northern Indiana in 1874 there was a thriving little country town named Locke, two miles north of the present town of Nappanee.

When the railroad was completed it was decided to move the town. At that time there was a storekeeper by the name of Henry Eby, in Locke, whose competitor boasted that he would be the first merchant to do business in the new town. Not wanting to be outdone by his opposition, Mr. Eby secretly moved his stock of goods during the night and the next morning was ready to do business in temporary quarters in the new town.

It was decided to give the new town a new name and the first merchant ready to do business was given the honor of selecting the name.

Henry Eby qualified for the honor, and being a former Canadian, and a native of Napanee, Ontario, he chose the name of his home town as the new name for the Indiana town."

Mr. Graydon, of Belleville, an Inspector of the Food and Drug Department, produced in court an analysis of sausages taken from Grover's Meat Market on October 17th, which showed presence in the sausages of a forbidden preservative.

Mr. Heffernan, in his evidence, stated that he had not made the sausages and had sold them as they were received from a meat firm in Toronto. He said also that he had advised the Toronto firm of the charge laid against him, bu that received no reply.

The Magistrate said that under the Act, and with the evidence produced, he was unable to do anything but register a conviction. He also told Mr. Heffernan that a sworn declaration should have been produced by him, showing that he did purchase the sausages from a third party, in the condition in which they were found by the Inspector.

Response to Appeal For Unicef Funds Falling Short

Rotary Club Conducts Campaign In Napanee

Canadian response to the appeal currently being conducted by the United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund on behalf of six million needy children in Europe, is falling far short of the national objective of $3 million, A. B. MacDonald, Canadian Chairman of Unicef has announced.

Up to January 12th, only $217,451.92 or less than 10 per cent of the goal has been pledged. This does not include sums being held by provincial committees till the end of the campaign, however, which will boost that figure considerably.

"In view of these figures," declared Mr. MacDonald, 'we have decided to continue the UNICEF appeal for another month or so. We hope every Canadian will avail himself of the extended opportunity to contribute to what must surely be the worthiest cause of the century, the sick and hungry children of war-ravaged lands."

Biggest contributor, on a per capita basis, Manitoba, which has pledged $29,070.57 or 17.1 per cent. of its objective. Next largest is neighboring Saskatchewan with $28,854.47, or 14.8 per cent. of its total. Lowest is Newfoundland with less than 1 per cent. with Quebec running a close second last, with 2.4 per cent. of its objective, Ontario, richest and most populous province, has pledged 7.1 per cent. of its total.

Province	Goal	Donations
Alberta	$190,000	$22,280 93
British Columbia	240,000	21,325 93
Manitoba	170,000	29,070 57
New Brunswick ..	110,000	9,224 07
Newfoundland ...	70,000	332 33
Northwest Territories and Yukon	5,000	332 35
Nova Scotia	145,000	12,987 00
Ontario	985,000	69,854 33
Pr. Edw. Island ...	20,000	2,524 20
Quebec	970,000	20,741 33
Saskatchewan	195,000	28,854 47
		$217,451 92

In appealing for a new and greater response to UNICEF's campaign, Mr. MacDonald pointed out that all donations made now will be deductible from 1950's income tax. He also stressed that every dollar so donated will be spent for supplies in Canada.

The Campaign for funds in Napanee is being conducted by the Napanee Rotary Club. Stanley Sexsmith is Chairman of the Committee and contributions may be sent to him or to Mr. E. Zeran at the Royal Bank.

Some Assistance To Be Given Farmers By Federal Gov't

Announces Floor Prices For Bacon And Eggs

The Government last week announced that it would support the price of eggs at 38 cents per dozen for grade A large as all storage points in Canada "plus a stipulated allowance to cover costs."

This will mean a price increase to the consumer of from four-and-a-half cents per dozen or more and as compared with a United States price of 37c per dozen.

Rt. Hon. James G. Gardiner, Minister of Agriculture, who made the announcement of the decision known, said that the support program to stabilize the egg market would be carried out through the Agricultural Prices Support Board.

Under the plan, the Board will buy at the termination of the storage period, late this year, all eggs then unsold which have been stored according to board specifications during the period between January and early June.

FOLLOWS ACTION TAKEN ON BACON

This follows action taken recently to support the price of bacon at 22 and-a-half cents per pound and cheese at 28 cents per pound.

According to the arrangements the Agricultural Prices Support Board will pay, at all storage points in Canada, 38 cents per dozen for eggs stored as Grade A large and 36 cents per dozen for eggs stored as Grade A medium, plus a stipulated allowance to cover costs.

Mr. Gardiner stated that it was anticipated this action would provide a floor price to producers at egg stations, of approximately 20 to 32 cents per dozen, basis Grade A Large, depending on shipping costs from station to storage.

ACT TO ASSIST POULTRY INDUSTRY

In making the announcement the Minister pointed out that this action was taken to assist the poultry industry in the adjustment to conditions created by discontinuance of British egg buying in Canada.

Under this program the Government will not participate directly in the egg business. The storing and merchandising of eggs will remain in the hands of the industry. The Government offer to buy any otherwise unsaleable eggs at the end of the storage period in this year, however, provide the same stabilizing influence as operated under British contracts when the Government contracted to buy eggs out of storage in the fall months for delivery to Britain.

Outstanding British Musicians Will Judge Festival At Kingston

The forthcoming Eastern Ontario International Music Festival, conducted by the Rotary Club, has secured the services of two of Great Britain's most competent and experienced musicians in the persons of Mr. John Sterling of London, and Mr. Russell Oreen, of Birmingham. Both gentlemen come to Canada on an extensive tour of music festival adjudication, which will carry them from coast to coast during a period of four months.

Their first stop will be in Kingston, Ont., where they are to adjudicate the first annual Eastern Ontario International Rotary Festival of Music from February 13th to February 18th. John Sterling was born in London and began his distinguished career at the age of seven, first as a choir boy and solo singer and then soon after as a student of the pianoforte. He studied music at the Royal Manchester College of Music (Northern England) and achieved his first important engagement as solo pianist with the famous Bournemouth Symphony Orchestra, conducted by Sir Dan Godfrey. Mr. Sterling has made many broadcasts with the BBC and has served as musical director at three public schools, the last appointment being at Bryanston, which is recognized as one of England's leading modern public schools.

THE FARMERS TAKE ACTION

Something new has been added to the agricultural life of this County. It what happened in Napanee last Wednesday is an indication of what is taking place in other parts of the Province, it augurs well for the future prosperity and happiness, not only of the farmers, but of industrial workers, as well.

The meeting must have come as a surprise to those who have been accustomed to see the farmer "taking it lying down." For generations, the farmers have been the first to feel the pinch in a declining market. They have been lectured to by economists and financial wizards who have talked in abstractions, until they made the farmers th'nk they knew nothing at all.

The meeting on Wednesday showed that that day was passed. There is a new generation of farmers, who can talk of economic trends, quotas, floors, ceilings, subsidies, costs of production and distribution with as much intelligence, as much knowledge, and as much persuasion, as the trained expert.

The meeting on Wednesday, of the County Federation of Agriculture, which was held in the Town Hall, was called to deal with the falling prices in agricultural products. It was no ordinary protest meeting. There was no unreasched bitterness in the debates. There were no wild statements, unsupported by facts and figures. The way in which the speakers marshalled their facts, the clarity with which they were presented, showed careful thinking, strong convictions and a mental discipline. Among those who took part were the Chairman, Frank Ham, of Selby; Frederickcburgh, J. B. Elliott, L. H. McCaul, C. A. M'ligan, Donald Paul, C.H.M. Church, and Gaynor Renedell, president of the Junior farmers.

WHAT THE FARMERS WANT

At the meeting of the Agriculturalists, held last Wednesday in the Town Hall, Napanee, the farmers, who completely filled the hall, passed some resolutions that should receive the support of every citizen. We live in an agricultural area. We are close to the farmers. Anything that affects the life of the farmer — affects all of us.

The meeting reviewed the present situation which had been precipitated by the cancellation of food contracts by Great Britain. It was pointed out that falling agricultural prices would inevitably reduce purchasing power and bring on unemployment. The gathering decided to urge the Government to support agricultural prices, at certain levels which were named.

The farmers declared that if management, labor, wholesalers, retailers, professional men and members of parliament would lower the cost of materials and services by a certain per cent, the farmers would accept the same drop in farm produce.

Perhaps the most revolutionary suggestion was contained in a resolution which is to be presented to Parliament on marketing legislation. Because of the wide spread between what the producer receives and the consumer pays, the farmers called on Provincial and Dominion Governments to enact legislation which would give the agriculturalists control of the marketing and distribution of their products.

There is no doubt but that the farmers mean business. They know that if the bottom falls out of agricultural prices, the stability of our whole Canadian economy will be affected adversely. They are the spearhead in the defence against a possible future depression. They merit the support of every organization in their efforts. They must not be left to carry on the fight alone — Labor Unions, Chambers of Commerce, etc. shou'd support these resolutions, and let the representatives in Ottawa know, just what they think.

WORTH SUPPORTING

Every institution was, at one time, an innovation. Public enterprises, social service agencies, welfare organizations have not won the confidence and support of the public without a struggle. It seems a long way back to the time when the suggestion to form a Napanee Branch of the V.O.N. was strenuously opposed by many citizens. There are always those, in every community, who want to see the end from the beginning and are nervous about starting something new, just because it is new and different. On the other hand there are those of vision, who are not afraid to take a calculated risk for the public weal.

These divisions appeared in connection with the V.O.N. We are apt to forget that, and to forget those who laid the foundation for th's admirable institution, whose tireless and efficient service we have, for years, now taken for granted. It would be hard to overestimate the value to the welfare of the community, of this organization.

A g'ance over the reports as they are published from time to time, show how efficiently and thoroughly the work goes on. For example, in December 116 visits were made, of which 62 per cent were bedside nursing and the rest health supervision. Then there were three County Health conferences and 14½ hours were spent in the schools and two conferences. The figures, in themselves, mean little, but they are a yardstick by which to measure the contribution made to the health of our people by this organization.

The Organization has a strong Auxiliary, which acts as a sort of supply line, and is constantly at work providing material and personal support for the regular work, as well as for any emergency.

This naturally takes money. The service is financed through various channels, one of which is by an annual fee from members. There is no restriction on membership. Indeed the service rendered is so important that everybody in the community should be a member and have a share in it. . . . THE V. O. N. plans an appeal for members, this month. — It merits the support of every citizen.

MAYBE ACTION SOON

When the female members of the species really get going, something is bound to happen! They really have not got going on the War Memorial, yet. But they have served warning. In a communication to the County Council, the Rcblin Women's Institute want to know what is the matter. They want to know what happened to the plan started by the County to provide a Community Hall in Napanee. We'll that is exactly what a lot of other people, besides the women in Rcblin, have been wondering! We have wondered aloud in these columns before this, but nobody has paid attention to our wondering. But the women are wondering, now, and maybe that will make a difference.

Just in case the Post-War Committee is short on suggestions . . . why not modernize and improve the West Ward School, and make it into a Community Hall. There is ample room, lots of land, the nucleus of a good building. It will be argued that it is quite a long way from downtown. But after a'l, it is not so far in days of the motor car and, after all, not every building can be erected on Front Street.

Of course, such a building should not preclude the prov'sion of adequate facilities for taking care of our historical material and our museum collection. We have called attention, more than once, to the real danger of this invaluable historical material being lost or destroyed by fire. Whatever the Memorial, it should provide some facilities for the preservation of these contributions to our historic cultural heritage.

THE FIRST GENTILE CHURCH

Lesson Text:
Acts 11: 19-26; 13-1-3

"The history of religion, as well as personal experience, bears witness to the truth of Cowper's saying: 'God moves in a mysterious way, His wonders to perform.' This week's lesson provides a bit of that evidence. The stoning of Stephen had the opposite effect to that which those who did the stoning, had expected. The followers of Christ, fearing a fate similar to that which overtook the first Christian martyr, fled for their lives. But they did not cease to make their witness. Indeed, as they scattered throughout the countryside, some in one district and some in another, the message of the Gospel told by them, became widely known, and many turned to it.

Some of those who fled because of the persecution, told the story of Jesus to the Jews only. As a matter of fact there seemed no thought among the earliest followers, that the Gospel was meant for any but Jews. Some others of those who sought safety in flight, began work among the Gentiles, too. It happened in Antioch. These disciples told the gospel story to Greeks. And interestingly enough, many Greeks were converted.

That posed a problem for the church in Jerusalem. What were they to do about it? Well, they did a sane thing. They sent Barnabas down to look the situation over. It was a good choice for he was a Greek Jew. He was a kindly, tactful man. He was wise and diplomatic. He was just long in sain gun the situation. He realized that the Gospel could not be confined to Jews on'y. It was bound, by its very nature, to make a universal appeal. So he wasted no time, but started out in search of Paul. He found him in Tarsia and brought him back to Antioch, and there they worked for a whole year.

It is of significance to note that the work at Antioch was begun by laymen. The people who fled the persecution were ordinary people. They were not specially trained as preachers, but they made their witness in such a strong and consecrated way that others were won to the Lord Jesus Christ, through them. The church took note of what was going on and immediately sent the best men they could to deal with the situation. But it was the work of the laymen that started the whole movement, and prepared the way for the trained leaders. There must have been something very dynamic about the people of Antioch, for it was here that the followers of Christ were first called Christians — a name which has stuck.

In the modern church, the laymen have not taken the part they should. In the average congregation, there will be a board and a few other groups that attract laymen, offering than not, because of their business capacity, rather than from any desire to make known the Gospel of Christ. Perhaps, it is not altogether the laymen's fault. It may be that the clergy have tried to do the whole thing themselves. There has been, of late, an effort to link laymen with has come to be known as visitation evangelism. The results have surprised both ministers and laymen. Thousands of laymen have enjoyed something of the experience of the early disciples, as they have brought men and women face eto face with Christ and the Church. A very prominent man, a leader in this field was in to see the writer, last week. The church had given him a task to do which required his special training. He said, with something of joy, mixed with sadness: 'This is the first time the church has ever asked me to do anything.' It may just be that the church is a bit hesitant to use men and women, many of whom may just be waiting for an invitation.

Something of the speed with which the Church grew, can be gleaned from the condition when Paul and Barnabas left Antioch, after a year. There was an organized church. There were prophets — that is preachers. Then there were teachers — men who were set apart in the congregation, to impart knowledge and to interpret scripture to those seeking light. Then there is reference to Manaen, a member of the court. This shows that the gospel had reached even to the highest official circles. All this took place in a year. It does not take long if the Spirit is given a chance and, if men are on fire for the Kingdom.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

To The Editor of
The Napanee Beaver.

Dear Sir:

The United States is by all odds the most advanced industrially, and, financially of any nation in the world, replacing the once wealthy Britain. The United States has very generously used her wealth during, and after the Second World War, in aiding the needy nations of Europe and Asia, which is very much appreciated. However; nations as well as individuals often make mistakes and many U. S. foreign policies are debatable.

In August, 1914, Germany, under Kaiser rule, started a totalitarian war against the free Democratic Nations, and Great Britain, to protect her honour and independency, declared war against her. For over three years she held the fort and bore the brunt of the war, while the United States, debated isolationism, and, at the same time, waxed fat on the profits of war. Not until 1917 did she decide to enter the war and, naturally, her fresh troops did much towards ending it in 1918 and for which she claimed full credit. The point is this — if it was right to enter the war in 1917 — why not in 1914?

The same incident occurred in World War Two. The Munich Pact of 1938 gave the United States one whole year to decide their policy. A declaration during that year, that she intended to stand for international freedom, would have stopped Hitler by an internal revolution in Germany and averted a second World War. However; they again "Fiddled while Rome fell." And it was November, 1941, before they ended their isolation debate, which would have lasted much longer, had the Japs not awakened them from their lethargy, by their attack on Pearl Harbor.

These two defaults in defending their liberty were very costly to Britain, as it used up all her foreign investments, and she also lost heavily in lives, and property, in the German blitz. This, while the United States was enjoying another two years of war profits at Britain's expense. Altogether, this explains the relative position of the wealth of the two nations, before and after the two wars.

However; while Britain is a debtor nation financially, no one can point the finger of scorn at her, for she is a creditor nation in honor and loyalty to freedom.

Since the end of World War two, another enemy far more deceptive and powerful than Germany could ever hope to be, has loomed on the horizon, causing a far greater threat to world liberty than has ever yet been known. United States capitalism is the chief bone of the enemy's contention and the United States will be the main point of attack. Modern instruments of war are powerful and swift, almost beyond human conception. Britain is unable to give much assistance, and if the United States starts fiddling again, as she has in the past, it will be all over before their minds are made up.

Napanee.

The Sunday school room of Newburgh United Church was filled to capacity on Friday night, when the children from Switzerville, Strathcona and Newburgh took part in an elocutionary medal contest. Fifteen children entered the contest, eight in Junior No. 1, 9 years and under; and seven in Junior No. 2, 12 years and under. Those competing in Junior No. 1 were Alfie Sutton, Jean Sutton, Strathcona; Lorna Craig, Switzerville; Glenda King, Dale Shuke, Tom Harrison, Benny Ring and Carl Cook, from Newburgh.

Their recitations were varied, some serious, some humorous, but all very well rendered. The judges awarded the Bronze Medal to Glenda King, who recited, "Give it to Me."

The judges, Mrs. H. Langford, Mrs. Leslie Bell, Napanee, and Mrs. Hutchison of Newburgh, found the contestants very close in ability and remarked that it was difficult to judge them. Mrs. Langford who gave the decision, as chairman of the committee, commented on the splendid work of the children. It was highly pleasing to all and would be of excellent value to them.

Musical numbers much enjoyed were contributed by Irene Embury, Elaine Benn; a duet by Iris King and Wilma Wagar, and two choruses by the L.T.L. of Strathcona. Mrs. Bruce Finlay sang 'My Task' in the worship which was conducted by Rev. H. B. Herrington at the opening of the programme.

Mrs. Geo. Finlay, president of the W.C.T.U. was in the chair and spoke briefly of the work of the W. C. T. U. in educating children in temperance through the L.T.L. in schools, the National Temperance study course and the Medal Contests. She presented the medals to the winning contestants. Mrs. Wilfred Wilson presented Certificates of Recognition to the other contestants as they were introduced from the platform. On behalf of the W.C.T.U. Mrs. Herrington thanked the judges and the teachers of the different schools for their co-operation in promoting this contest.

Especial thanks is due Mrs. Smith for the training of the children in the choruses, so ably rendered. In token of appreciation for her services, Mrs. Bruce Finlay presented the teachers with boxes of candy. The teachers are Mrs. Wilson of Switzerville, Mrs. Frank Smith, Miss Laura Milligan of Strathcona, Miss L. Flute and Mrs. Geo. White, Newburgh.

The offering was received by Mrs. Paul and Mrs. Lochead.

TAMWORTH VILLAGE 1871 AND 1950

The following comparison of the Village of Tamworth between the years 1871 and 1950 was written for The Beaver by Mrs. W. G. Richmond of Tamworth :

The following bit of history of Tamworth in 1871 came to me through a friend who had seen the article in The Ontario Milk Producers' paper. I have secured permission from that paper to reprint the article in our local papers, with the stipulation that I write them an account of Tamworth in 1950.

You will notice the fact that in 1871 the population of this village was 500, and in the beginning of my article Tamworth 1950, you will see the population has decreased. Perhaps the cause of this decrease is due to several bad fires having taken place and the homes have not been rebuilt in every instance. But those that were built are of substantial brick. The east side of Main Street is a solid brick block. Several new homes have been built in the past two years.

I would not like anyone to get the idea that Tamworth is a ghost town for it is not. In fact it is very up-to-date.

TAMWORTH — 1871

A flourishing village on the Salmon River, Township of Sheffield, County of Addington, from Napanee twenty miles, from Kingston thirty-six miles; population, 500.

Shoemakers — George Bolger and Alonzo Wheeler.

Preachers — Rev. Wesley Leech Methodist; Rev. J. N. Nimmo, Church of England, and Rev. William Service, Episcopal Methodist.

H. and G. Joiner ran the grist mill. G. R. Miller & Son sold farm machines. Canada Land Agent was Benson Loyst, and Peter and Joseph Cascallen were bailiffs.

James M. Smith was a photograph-er and made and sold washing machines. Richard Jones had a carding mill and H. and G. Joyner ran a grist mill, saw mill and foundry.

TAMWORTH — 1950

In 1871 they said Tamworth is a village on the Salmon River. According to tradition of the first settlers here, it would be called the Shannon River. However, whichever it may be, the young population of the village and countryside, still love to take a dip in its refreshing waters on a hot day. The population of Tamworth at this time, is 340.

Churches — Christ's Anglican Church, minister,-Rev. P. O. Ware; Trinity United Church, minister, Rev. L. S. Throop.

School — Consolidated-Continuation School, with the following teaching staff. Continuation Principal, Robert Inkster; assistants, David Crowe and Miss Gertrude Marion. Consolidated, Mr. James Hughes, Miss Jean York; Mrs. James Hughes. There is also a part time teacher in Commercial Optics, this is Mrs. Scott Gilmore. Tamworth, to-day, has an up-to-date school system.

Postmaster and Notary Public — Mr. R. K. Silsson.

Merchants — Dry Goods and Groceries, Paints and Piggerty & White and R. F. Bell; groceries and meat, Harold Reynolds, Gerald Buker, John Hopkins and Edward Schoolcraft; butchers, J. E. Hannah, and Frank York; druggst, E. M. Harlton; novelty shop and patent medicines, Gerald Hannah; undertaker, Alexander Hannah; barber shops, T. J. Walters and Michael Barrett; Canadian Bank of Commerce, bank manager, Mr. F. W. Foster; bakery, Gerald York; hardware, D. O. Clarke and Thomas Hopkins; garages, J. J. C. Moss; saw mill, R. C. Moss; lumbermen, Claud, Fred and James Richmond; telephone exchange, Robert Northy; Doctor, G. G. Hunt, M.D.; Dentist, Dr. Stewart Lockridge, Queen's Hotel, proprietor Harold Davison; Ontario Liquor Control Board, vendor, E. G. Richmond, assistant, Ronald Lott; transport, John Hannah; shoe repair, Curtis storring.

Summer time is lively here as there are several summer resorts near the village at nearby Beaver Lake and Bass Lake, where tourists flock for good summer sport in fishing and general holiday pleasure. Sheffield is noted for her many attractive lakes and for good fishing.

The chief recreation in summer is baseball, swimming and all outdoor sports. In winter, skiing and hockey are the principal sports. Tamworth has the most up-to-date skating rink in Lennox and Addington. This includes sine regulations and lighting system. And I might add that nearly every night at time, of writing there is a hockey game being played where crowds of fans gather to cheer their boys on to victory.

Tamworth is the most up and coming village north of Napanee, in the county. The real need here is for someone to come in and establish a good industry.

MINOR Hockey LEAGUE

On Saturday morning two games were played in the Pee Wee Section and two in the Bantam Group.

In the first of the Pee Wee games the Express trounced the Stars 4 to 0 in fine fashion with D. Robinson starring when he collected 3 of the total of solo efforts with D. Parks getting the single.

The second affair was more closely contested with a score of 2 to 1 in favor of the Beavers over the Cougars. D. Sutcliffe tallied on a nice pass from W. Smith early in the game for the lone Cougar goal; and Richardson and Gibson getting the credit for the tally for the winners. Gibson scored alone while Luby received credit for an assist to Richardson. The Bantam Division saw the Wings drop a 2 to 1 decision to the Red Birds and Flyers downed the Stampeders 3 to 2.

For the Red Birds, Wale's hammered two home with assists from Zaterburg and Clark and Bo' McNeil collected the lone counter for the losers on a solo effort.

In the second game Dale and McAllister shared the honors, both getting a goal unassisted and McAllister slipped a neat pass to Dale for the third counter. Both the loser's goals were scored by G. Brady, one with Normile assisting.

REPORT GOOD YEAR. ANNUAL MEETING TRINITY CHURCH

At the Annual Congregational Meeting of Trinity United Church, held on Friday evening, January 27, following a supper arranged by Mrs. Ralph Bell and the Social Committee of the W. A., a vote of appreciation to Rev. Noble Hatton and Mrs. Hatton was moved by Lloyd Cowle and Ralph Bell and was heartily endorsed by the large number of members of the church present. Mr. Hatton was given a unanimous invitation to remain as minister of the church.

In reply to the vote of appreciation and the invitation to remain as pastor, Mr. Hatton said that he and his wife and children had been very happy in Napanee and would be pleased to remain.

He made an urgent appeal for greater evidence of the loyalty of the congregation and increased interest in the business of the local church and of the whole of the United Church of Canada.

Appreciation of his services as treasurer for the past two years, was expressed to R. F. Hunter by R. L. Miller. Mr. Hunter has resigned from the position and will be succeeded by Mr. Edward Powell, manager of The Bank of Montreal. Appreciation was also expressed by C. L. Graham to Mr. S. I. He said that major repairs on the property had been practically completed. Thanks were expressed to Mr. Herrington for his work as chairman of the committee and to Mr. W. F. Shaver, who had rendered valuable assistance in making repairs to the church and parsonage.

Appreciation was expressed of the bequests to the general fund and the M. and M. fund, amounting to over $1,000, left by Mrs. W. D. Pennell. The church board has supplemented Mrs. Pennell's bequest to the M. and M. fund, to make a total of $1,000, and has given $500 to the W. M. S.

NOTICE TO ONTARIO MOTORISTS

Re Unsatisfied Judgment Fund Fee

Under an amendment to the Highway Traffic Act enacted in 1947, provision was made for the creation of an Unsatisfied Judgment Fund out of which will be paid, in the manner prescribed, judgments for personal injuries and property damage sustained by reason of the operation of motor vehicles, which cannot be collected in the ordinary manner from the judgment debtors.

The method prescribed for creating the Fund is the collection of a special fee, when required, from each person to whom is issued either an operator's or a chauffeur's licence.

While this legislation has been in effect since the 1st of July, 1947, the Unsatisfied Judgment Fund Fee has been collected only since January 1st, 1949.

Total fees collected for the Fund and repayments to the Fund from January 1st to December 31st, 1949, amounted to $638,430.37

Judgments paid out of the Fund from July 1st, 1947, to December 31st, 1949, amounted to $630,644.03

As there is not now sufficient in the Fund to pay judgments for a period of a year, an Unsatisfied Judgment Fund Fee of 50c will be collected from each person to whom is issued a 1950 operator's or chauffeur's licence.

EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS by Don Graham

Have you ever felt that you had reached the "end of your rope"?

Most of us have this experience at least once in a lifetime — perhaps after working long at a seemingly impossible task, or finding ourselves in a serious predicament. So it is a good thing to remember that we have within ourselves extra reserves which can carry us through many a crisis.

There is plenty of evidence to prove this fact. Countless stories of heroism reveal the human capacity to endure unbelievable stress, hardship and pain. More than one victim of a disaster at sea, struggling in icy water, felt sure that he wouldn't survive for five minutes. Yet many hours later he was still hanging on and thus lived to be rescued.

Such endurance may be demonstrated not only in connection with physical trials, but also those which are mental and emotional. And if you can keep hanging on, perhaps for even just a little while longer, the success or relief you seek will be yours!

In short, there is a whole world of truth in the old saying: "It's always darkest just before the dawn".

No family need endure hardship in the event that its breadwinner dies. Life insurance puts within reach of every father the means to provide for all their needs, as well as for his own retirement income.

NOTICE!

INCREASE IN WATER RATES

At a recent meeting of the Public Utilities Commission of Napanee it was decided that an increase in Water Rates was necessary, this increase to take effect May 1, 1950. The steadily increasing costs have reached a point where the Commission do not consider they are justified in further delaying the rate increase. Many towns and cities in Ontario have raised their rates during the past year. Since 1942 our operating expenditure has steadily increased with the result that in 1949 the expenditure was over 40 per cent higher than in 1942. Fortunately our revenue had increased during that time but not sufficiently to allow any reserve to be built up to take care of replacement or repairs of equipment. This increase is due entirely to the increased cost of labor and materials.

The increase will be as follows:—
Residential rates by 20%.
Commercial flat rates (stores etc) by 20%.
Industrial flat rates by 20%.
All metered rates by 10%.
Residential or commercial stores and offices will be subject to 10% discount for payment within 15 days from date of billing.
Minimum charge for dwelling $10.00 net per annum.
Minimum charge for stores and offices $7.65 net per annum.

This increase to the householder will vary and range from 20c to 30c per month except in cases where the rate charged has been under the minimum of $10.00 per annum. 5a

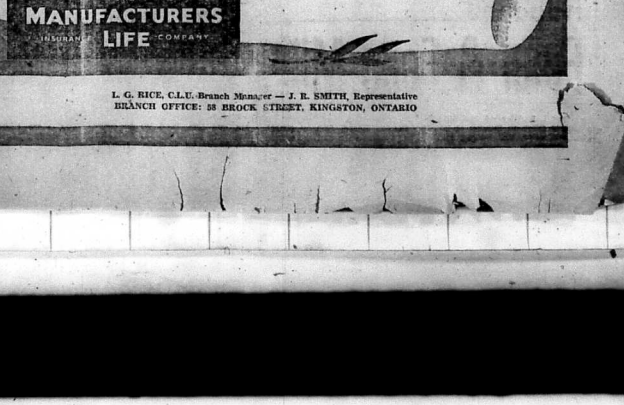
MADE BY MAPLE LEAF MILLING COMPANY, LIMITED



The real story of Life Insurance is a story of dollars—dollars saved regularly, in relatively small sums, to guarantee that cash will be available when it is needed. Since the founding of the Manufacturers Life, in 1887, hundreds of thousands of policyowners in Canada and other countries have used its facilities to safeguard their funds and their future.

370,000 Clients Are Now entrusting substantial amounts of their life savings to the Manufacturers Life.

$1,185,343,042 of Insurance and Retirement Protection is currently provided by the policies they own . . .

$378,313,819 is Securely Invested in Bonds, Stocks, Mortgages and other sound securities to guarantee payment of the benefits promised under these policies. These funds are, principally, the accumulation of premium deposits, and the interest earned on them serves to reduce the cost of insurance.

$157,233,097 of New Insurance Was Purchased in 1949 by over 35,000 clients, many of whom were already owners of Manufacturers Life policies . . .

$23,298,223 was returned to living policyowners—and to the families of those who died. The Life Insurance programmes under which these payments—$74,435 every working day—were made, have been carefully arranged by trained Life Insurance representatives—one of whom is available to perform the same service for you.

FARM FORUM REVIEW

DID YOU KNOW THAT:—

Canada has the third largest export trade in the world and the fourth largest import trade? Yes, Canada is a great trading nation, so it is important to find out what our farmers think about the controversial question:

SHOULD OUR TARIFF BARRIERS BE ABOLISHED?

The two questions for discussion this week were:

(1) Should there be complete free trade (a) between Canada and the United States; (b) between Canada and any other countries; if so, which ones.

(2) Some people claim that farm price supports and free trade are contradictory and cannot exist together. What do you think?

According to the reports submitted this week, only one result can be stated definitely. That is, the questions were interesting, well discussed and everyone arrived at a different conclusion. The questions are certainly important and have been a controversial issue for many years and the cleverest of our economists are continually trying to figure out a fair price and equitable tariff rate, keeping in mind our manufacturing and production costs, but it is almost impossible for every commodity group to be permanently satisfied with the tariff rate affecting their particular product. The complexity and number of problems affecting our tariffs are recognized by the Forums, as example: Beckwell's Corners, who say: one discussion group favored Free Trade between U.S.A. and Canada to give us a market for our surplus farm products and enable us to buy American manufactured goods more cheaply. The other group says: Free trade is undesirable because our factories could not compete with their American competitors and would soon be out of business. Because of the climate, American farmers can produce more and earlier fruits and vegetables and would bankrupt our Canadian vegetable growers ..... our Forum found this an interesting topic but one about which the average person is not too well informed. We felt the questions needed more study.

Morven Forum favors free trade with the U.S. however and qualifies its decision thusly — The large cities of the United States would provide excellent markets for Canadian farm products — there would be no question of exchange problem — as there is in the Sterling area — Transportation facilities between Canada and the U.S.A. are excellent for free trade, and it would afford a better opportunity for parity prices.

Hawley Forum, on the other hand says — Free Trade between Canada and the U.S. would result in Canada being a dumping ground for U.S. products. Our Canadian markets would be swamped with cheap U.S. mass produced manufactured articles and thus free trade would mean financial ruin to our Canadian industries and a great wave of unemployment.

Violet and Deseronto Forums would take the middle course and suggested a trial period of five years with gradually reduced tariffs to offset any sudden disruption in the nation's economy. Other Forums such as Fallen Rock thought that a free trading system would be injurious to only specialized groups such as vegetable and fruit producers.

Switzerville would like the free entry of citrus fruits and cars and farm machinery but thought the abolition of tariffs would prove disastrous on the whole. They would advocate the enlargement of our population and manufacturing facilities to bring our markets and manufactured goods more in line with those of our Southern neighbors.

The majority of the Forums expressed a preference for free trade with Great Britain. Selby Forum says: Free Trade with Great Britain is desirable because they produce a superior quality of manufactured goods that we need, and they are our best buying customers. Our own manufacturers would be protected also by the cost of freight over here, adds Easy Street Forum.

Switzerville Forum suggests that free trade should be established with any country that could absorb our agricultural surpluses and give us raw or manufactured materials which we do not have in quantity.

So active and lengthy were the discussions this week, that few Forums manage to cover the entire list of questions.

Easy Street Forum did manage to answer in enough time to observe "We do not think that price supports and free trade could exist together. It would be pointed out, however, that protection as at present enjoyed by Canadian industry, is in effect a price support and also a subsidy.

As has been stated before this has been one of the most controversial and therefore interesting topics we have had. The reports have been getting better every week and it is gratifying to see that reports being submitted more regularly. The entire series has been a vitally important one and your findings have indicated the intelligent and thoughtful attitudes assumed during your discussion periods.

The Forums heard from this week so far are Mount Pleasant, Bickwell's Corners, Sunderland Hill, being herself Island, No. 1, Switzerville, Selby, Palace Road, Hawley, Violet, Deseronto Road, Hawley Valley, Morven, Varty Lake, Easy Street, Desmond and Maple Ridge.

If your Forum has special Meetings on Review Night, please tell us about it. We'd be glad to hear of anything new or different.

Council Committees Present Estimates 1950 Expenditures

Tax Rate To Be Struck Later This Week

At the regular monthly meeting of the Napanee Town Council on Monday evening, February 6th, requisitions were presented from the schools and estimates were tabled for the amount of money to be required by the different committees of the Council for 1950. The Finance Committee to which the estimates were referred, will meet later this week to consider them and a special meeting of the Council will be held, probably Friday night, to pass a by-law setting the tax rate for 1950.

The requisition from the Public School Board for 1950 was for $46,-978.93, which is about $8,000 higher, or nearly 4 mills, than for 1949.

The Napanee and District Collegiate Institute Board requisition was for $7227.90, about $1100 higher, or ½ mill, than for 1949.

Estimates presented by the various Committees of the Council for 1950 expenditure were as follows:—Streets, $15,000 ($4000 less than expenditure in 1949); Town Property, $3281; Sanitation & Waste Removal, $9784; Fire, Water & Light $9784; Police & Market $10,680 (including a new Police car to cost about $1700); Recreation and Community Services, $1011 plus grants $1900 (Library, Lennox Agricultural Society and Lions Club Junior Ball Teams); Direct Relief, Charity and Welfare, $12,825; Town Planning $1600 for Street numbering; $2796 for Road Extensions and $975.15, the Town's portion of the cost of work on the Napanee River in connection with Dam construction.

Deputy Reeve Douglas expressed disapproval of the regulation at the Public Schools which prevents the pupils from entering the school buildings until certain times before the school sessions start. He said that regardless of weather, the pupils are kept outside until the doors are opened. He also disapproved of the regulation which cancelled recesses on rainy days and of the rule which prevented the pupils playing in the halls when the weather is inclement. Reeve Milligan, Councillor Loucks, Councillor Davy and other members of the Council also voiced the same opinion as Deputy Reeve Douglas. Councillor Davy said "If the town is paying the school bills, a recommendation should be forwarded from the Council to the School Board regarding the complaints."

A motion was moved by Councillors Clark and Ballantyne that a recommendation be drawn up and submitted to the School Board. The Mover appointed Reeve Milligan, Deputy Reeve Douglas and Councillors Ballantyne and Loucks to prepare recommendation regarding the complaints and present it to the School Board.

Fire Chief Frank B. Mills addressed the Council asking for direction for the Council as to the use of the fire truck outside of the town limits. The matter was referred to the Fire Water & Light Committee to report as soon as possible.

W. S. Wilson, J. D. Mayhew and W. J. Waggoner representing the Boy Scouts and Girl Guides, appeared before the Council. Mr. Wilson, the spokesman, asked them, Council to grant a deed to the Scouts and Guides for lot 21 on west side of Robert St. on which it is proposed at a later date to erect a building for use of the Scouts and Guides. It was moved, seconded and carried that the deed be granted as requested.

An invitation was extended to the Council members from the Lions Club to attend the annual Baseball Dinner meeting on Monday evening, February 20th, when presentations will be made to the Junior Baseball Team, sponsored by the Club.

The Chairman of the Town Planning Committee and the Mayor were authorized to attend a Planning and Development Convention in Toronto on March 30 and 31.

In reply to a letter from the Town of Napanee regarding the advisability of holding the Magistrate's Court, twice a week, in the Court House due to the inconvenience caused Town Officials on Court days, a reply was received from the Inspector of Legal Offices advising the Town Council to take up the matter with the County Council or by and arrange to have the Court held in the Court House. On motion the Clerk was instructed to forward the correspondence regarding the question to the County Clerk with the request that it be dealt with at the March Session of the County Council.

A letter was received from Department of Public Highways stating that the Town's By-law regarding parking areas, thoroughfares, etc. has been approved by the Department.

POINTERS ON THE WHITE CANE

Through White Cane Week, February 5 to 11, The Canadian Council of the Blind and The Canadian National Institute for the Blind hope to make further advances in informing the general public of achievements and capacities of the blind.

They hope that shortly all will realize that the blind are just like any human beings. The White Cane is merely an announcement of a limitation, a request, too, that their sighted friends will offer them an arm in crossing a street or where the going is rough.

To follow the ordinary rules of courtesy, with the added consideration necessary for lack of sight. The Council and The Institute advise, is true helpfulness. A racing car motor, startles a blind person just as it does many sighted people who are attempting a busy street crossing. Bicyclists should remember the silence of their approach and let the blind cross in front of them. Those assisting the blind across streets, down steps and round corners, should remember to guide, not push. The offered arm gives the necessary guidance. The blind follow the movements of the one whose arm they hold.

Both The C.C.B. and The C.N.I.B. are most appreciative of the co-operation given them in past White Cane Weeks, and look forward to the day when blind and sighted will share the same amusements according to their capacities, enjoy lectures and concerts together, walking companionably side by side as partners in the same community.

POTATO DUMPING AUTHORIZED IN UNITED STATES

Secretary of Agriculture Charles F. Brannan announced last week that he has authorized the dumping of between 25,000,000 and 40,000,000 bushels of the 1949 surplus potato crop.

These potatoes, which will be part of the estimated 50,000,000 bushels acquired in carrying out mandatory price support on the 1949 crop, will be bought by the Government for $1.01 a bushel (60 pounds) and sold back to the farmers for one cent a 100 pounds.

Technically, Mr. Brannan said, it was planned to see that the potatoes remain on the farm for "secondary or inferior use."

"We will not tolerate destruction" he said. "Farmers and dealers from whom we acquire these surpluses will be required to buy them back at one cent a 100 pounds and guarantee disposal will be as feed, fertilizer or field freezing for spring use as feed."

25-CENT ORDER EASES CONSCIENCE

Mr. Raymond Pretis of Napanee, last week received an interesting letter from a former resident of the Hawley district, whose conscience had been bothering him as the result of the theft about twenty years ago of a few apples from Mr. Pretis' shed on his farm, at Hawley.

With the letter was enclosed a money order for 25 cents, which was sent in payment for the apples.

Mr. Pretis states that he has no knowledge of ever having known the man who wrote the letter, but is pleased that the payment may have eased his mind.

Childs' Sentence Commuted To Life By Justice Dept.

Young Boy Saved From Gallows One Week Before Date Set

Word was received by Kenneth S. Ham, Crown Attorney of the County of Lennox and Addington, late last Friday afternoon from the Department of Justice at Ottawa, that the death penalty imposed on Alfred Dale Childs had been commuted to life imprisonment in Kingston Penitentiary.

Information regarding the change in the sentence was given to Childs by an official at the County Gaol and a few minutes later Lieut. Gardiner, of the Salvation Army, who has been Childs' spiritual adviser since he was lodged in the gaol, also conveyed the news to Childs.

A resolution asking for clemency was passed some time ago by the Napanee Ministerial Association. Major Bunton of Toronto, who is in charge of prison work of the Salvation Army took up the case in Childs' interest and Lieut. Gardner appeared before officials of the Department of Justice in Childs' behalf about ten days ago. Reasons for asking for clemency were Childs' age, which is now only 17 years, and also the lack of training in his earlier life.

Childs was found guilty of the murder, by shooting, of Elijah McQuaig at Selby in July of last year. At the same time as McQuaig was killed an attempt was made on the life of Ronald Ross and Harry Thompson. Ross was wounded in three parts of his body and narrowly escaped death.

Childs was sentenced by Mr. Justice Wilson to be hanged on February 10th, just one week later than the reprieve was granted.

Rotary Music Festival At Kingston To Have Many Prizes

BY STANLEY DAVIES, KINGSTON

To encourage participation and future musical development, a generous system of trophies and awards has been designed for the first annual Eastern Ontario International Rotary Festival of Music, which is to be held in Kingston from February 13th to 18th. It has been emphasized by Festival officials that the Festival is not intended to foster an overly competitive spirit, but some measure of appreciation for musical ability is of course desired.

In all solo classes — vocal, piano strings and band instruments — attractive certificates of merit will be awarded to those placing first, second and third. In addition to these, scholarships valued from $50 to $100 will be given to those who, in the opinion of the Adjudicators, show most promise of future musical development. A competitor does not have to place first, second or third in order to win one of these scholarships.

For the group competitions a system of shields and trophies has been set up. A Rotary Festival Shield will be awarded to each group placing first in Senior Choral classes, Junior Choral classes and Orchestra and Band classes. It is estimated that these shields will be given in this manner.

Three special trophies have also been instituted. The International Choral Trophy, donated by the Corporation of the City of Kingston, will be awarded to the choir, glee club or choral group which, in the opinion of the Adjudicator, has given the most outstanding performance at the Festival. A similar prize, the International Instrumental Trophy also donated by the City of Kingston, will be awarded to the band, orchestra, string ensemble or other instrumental group attaining a similar position in the eyes of the Adjudicator. Mr. W. A. Buckley, president of the Kingston Rotary Club, has donated a special trophy for the Rotary Club Choirs class.

ONT. ASSOCIATION MAYORS - REEVES BRIEFS ONT. GOVT.

A request that the Federal and Provincial Governments take over the cost of social services and of administration of justice was made last Thursday by the Ontario Association of Mayors and Reeves.

Other requests contained in a brief presented to the Ontario Government concerned provincial grants and tax exemptions.

The province was asked to readjust its basis of grants to permit municipalities to develop sound fiscal planning and to reduce the field of tax exemptions as they now apply to government properties.

The brief also proposed that a commission be set up to examine the municipal financial structure and taxing limits as they relate to the conditional grants by the province for such services as police and fire protection, roads, homes for the aged and children's aid societies.

The Association contended that the structure of the municipalities has grown to a point where many services are now provided out of taxation on homes and real property. This taxation was out of proportion with the fields open to the provincial and federal governments, it was claimed.

Another factor in the "plight" of municipalities was the alarming rate of increasing costs of education, the brief added.

It asked that municipal councils be given a reasonable measure of control over education board budgets. This same control should extend to other boards, such as police commissions, library boards and intermunicipal commissions.

The brief also asked that steps be taken to bring about uniformity in daylight time to eliminate confusion and inconvenience created when some places remain on standard time.

AMHERST ISLAND NEARLY ISOLATED DURING PAST WEEK

The ferry 'Amherst Islander' which was ice-bound in Bath harbour, last week, has been released and towed to Kingston drydock for the winter overhaul. Ice was breaking up in Canadian Shipbuilding tug 'Astatola' after many hours of difficult work.

During the past week the only means of transportation from the Island to the mainland, was by a plane operated by R.C.A.F. Pilot Doug. Wagner, of the Gananoque Air Service. Food supplies were taken to the Island by the plane as well as mail and other goods. Doctors were also transported by the plane to visit their patients on the Island.

The ice in the lake between the island and the mainland has not yet become safe for vehicles.

30 Resolutions Reviewed Last Wk. By Can. Farm Body

All Seek Protection Against Slumping Prices Of Farm Products

Directors of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture in closed sessions, last Thursday, reviewed thirty resolutions adopted at the annual convention, practically all seeking protection against slumping prices for farm products. Of resolutions passed by the convention only one met opposition, and that was the resolution re-affirming the C.F.A.'s support of public control of radio under the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation. A substitute motion by Howard A. Prentice, of St. Catharines, objecting to continued public control, was defeated.

Chief among the resolutions passed was one urging establishment of federal and provincial marketing boards to work in conjunction with the Federal Prices Support Act. Delegates asked that Rt. Hon. J. G. Gardiner, Agriculture Minister call a meeting of Dominion and Provincial government agricultural officers with representatives of producer organizations to work out the plan.

The marketing boards plan was seen as the federation's answer to Mr. Gardiner's speech Tuesday, when he said that provincial rights were a factor in the complicated picture of price supports. A permanent act, framed so that its provisions can be applied in such a manner as to ensure fair returns for agricultural products in relation to other industries, was sought in a resolution that was passed unanimously.

Dr. E. C. Hope of Ottawa, C.F.A. economist, told the convention that agriculture is at an unfair advantage compared to other industries and labor as a whole. He said that in drafting new price support legislation the Government should consider a formula setting the range at which prices may be fixed, should announce floor prices before crop production is started; should include a plan for disposal of surpluses and that farmers should be assisted by direct payments on the basis of volume of products.

URGES CONSULTATIONS

Dr. Hope said that price support plans should result from consultation between the governments and organized farmers. The Government's attitude appeared to be not to provide price supports until the farmers were desperate. He referred to labor as seeking higher wages and a shorter work week at a time when food costs are receding.

"If we are to iron out the more violent changes in farm income due to sudden loss of markets then we must have some method of preventing low prices from falling as low as the free market would take them," he said. "Only by preventing extremely low prices can we forestall future high prices."

EGGS MOTION REJECTED

A surprise was the rejection of a resolution asking a four-cent increase in the recently-announced floor price of eggs. H. H. Hannam of Ottawa, association president, objected to wording of the resolution which indicated it had come from the previous meeting, and the resolution was left over for the director along with one asking for restoration of the 36-cent minimum for Wiltshire sides.

Western wheat producers asked extension of the powers vested in the Canadian Wheat Board as sole agency for marketing wheat, also extension of its powers to include oilseed grains. Western conference delegates also asked continued Federal freight rate assistance on movement of feed grains and mill feeds from the Prairies to British Columbia and eastern Canada.

On butter and cheese, resolutions from Gilbert MacMillan, of Huntingdon, Que., asked that the floor price for butter be maintained at 58 cents, and that the floor price for cheese be raised from 27c to 30 cents per pound.

MR. MRS. GEO. ARNOLD MARRIED FIFTY YEARS

A very happy reunion was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. Arnold, Robllin, on January 24th, 1950, on the occasion of their 50th wedding anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold were married at the Roblin Parsonage by the Rev. H. Spencer, on January 24th, 1900. Mr. Arnold who is now 71 years of age, is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Arnold. Mrs. Arnold, who is also 71 years of age, was the former Mary Etta Defoe, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Emanuel Defoe.

Lovely gifts and cards were received by the couple and the congratulations of many friends in the district.

Farm Prices Decline Called Threat to Labor

V. S. Milburn, Ontario Federation of Agriculture Secretary, told a labor audience Saturday in Toronto, lowered farm prices to produce would mean reduced living standards for industrial workers as well as farmers.

Addressing a luncheon meeting at the Ontario Federation of Labor's annual convention, he said lower prices means lower farm purchasing power.

It would cost the state less to assure reasonable prices for farm products than to permit a collapse in farm economy, he said.

COLEMAN FAMILY SUFFER INJURIES IN CAR COLLISION

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Coleman, of Napanee were seriously injured when their car was struck head-on by a car driven by C. Sexsmith, of Melrose, on No. 2 Highway, near Marysville, last Saturday afternoon, about four o'clock.

Mrs. Coleman sustained two or three fractures of the left leg, possible rib fractures and is suffering considerably from shock. Mr. Coleman's one knee cap was broken and an operation was performed on Tuesday morning to remove the knee cap. Their granddaughter, aged 5, who with her mother, Mrs. Reg. Coleman and a younger child, was also a passenger in the car, was badly bruised. At first it was thought she might have a fractured skull and there is a possibility she may lose the hearing in her right ear. The younger child was badly shaken up, but Mrs. Reg. Coleman escaped with only slight injuries.

The Coleman car, which was travelling west to Belleville, rolled over in the ditch several times after being struck by the Sexsmith car.

The accident occurred on a straight stretch of road. Both cars were almost completely wrecked. Police stated that charges will be laid against Mr. Sexsmith.

Pavlo Got His Blanket

Inside the tent of the United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund, near the Greek village of Amblikopi, the field representative of UNICEF had just finished covering Pavlo, a boy blanket from across the Great Sea which, to-night, would warm the children of Amblikopi.

And now a feverish tension settled on those outside in the freezing rain.

Children who had not been warm since summer, began to shiver anew in anticipation. Mothers waited pitifully to catch the attention of the UNICEF agent. Toothless grannies cluttered, little girls giggled, babies howled—all in the earsplitting chorus.

On the edge of the group, but apart from them, stood a solitary little boy. Incredibly tattered, the icy mud oozing round his bare feet, he yet preserved a sort of hoary dignity which touched the UNICEF man.

He consulted his list. "Pavlo Skiros, orphan" it said. "One Blanket."

The agent chose a particularly large, crude one, and, as he handed the blanket into the woman boy's arms. The boy's eyes grew round. The blanket was nearly as big as he was surely! In a moment, when it was over, he would snatch it and run home. Then after a while the beautiful blanket was all his.

It was too much for the UNICEF agent. To think that one of the gifts of one anonymous donor in France, Canada, the U.S.A. or Australia — could bring such a look of wonder to people scarred by war! He could only see it for

SENTENCE COMMUTED

Alfred Childs, who was sentenced to hang in our town, has had his sentence commuted to life imprisonment. He is seventeen years of age and, it is because of his age, that the sentence has been changed.

The change in sentence was the right thing to do under the circumstances. But there are two facts arising from this tragic case that ought not be lost to the public. In the first place, it is a terrible commentary on life in this country, that a boy should be permitted to grow up with so little moral responsibility, and with so little apparent value of human life. We boast of our high standard of living and, we pride ourselves on our educational facilities and compulsions. It is an all too easy assumption that every child in our country takes advantage of these. That a boy could grow up in Canada with a criminal, distorted outlook on life, should awaken us to the deep holes in our educational system. More than that it should arouse the churches, which must accept some responsibility for the lack of religious training of this lad, to the need for more diligency and energy in the training of youth — not only the youth within the fold, but those outside the church, as well.

Then, too, the change of sentence will achieve its purpose for society, if this young lad is given careful examination, given whatever education he is capable of assimilating and some trade which will turn his undisciplined mind and hands into constructive channels. Fortunately, more attention is being given in the penitentiaries to this side of the prisoner's life, than was done even a few years ago. With the right guidance and direction, the immature boy may be reclaimed.

ON GOOD AUTHORITY

We are all interested in gossip. To be sure, we don't like to admit it. Sometimes the sophisticated city dweller will curl his nose and declare with his assumed superior air "small-town gossip." We have noticed though, in the city street cars how avidly city folk devour the gossip pages of the press. Of course, gossip need not be malicious. There is no harm in our showing a personal interest in the health of Mrs. So-and-So, or in her problems and worries, of the fact that Mr. So-and-So is going to have his barn painted next year, and in the new baby across the street.

Popular newspapers know all about that. How often something is published "on good authority". When it is nothing but rumor, and when we read "it is rumored that" — we still go on and read what follows, as though it were an authentic note.

What 's going to happen in Hungary now that they have declared war on gossip, will bear watching. "Every reporter in Europe," says a current writer on the subject, "knows that if rumors ceased, half the press of the continent would be starved and ninety-nine per cent of the people deprived of a major recreation.

"The tough Hungarian Government ,however, takes a dim view of what it calls 'rumor mongering.'

LOTS AND LOTS OF MONEY

The Board Chairman of The General Motors Corporation, made an interesting and instructive announcement, the other day. He said: "In 1949 the year just passed, General Motors made a fabulous profit of over $600 millions — an enormous increase over even G.M.'s record-breaking profit of $440 million, in 1948." That is a lot of money in anybody's language. That is net profit after all taxes had been paid. Mr. Sloan acknowledged that it is the biggest profit ever made by any corporation any where in the world. In spite of that, Mr. Sloan was a bit nervous about the future; the high taxes were pretty tough, and if President Truman's Fair Deal kept up, the first thing we know there would be socialism and the welfare state.

We really have very little comment on this, except to express a wonder as to why car prices don't drop just a wee bit. We would not suggest a big drop — which might interefere with Mr. Sloan's target for 1950 — but just a little cut; say of five or six hundred or so, on a car.

ANOTHER SIDE

There are always two sides to every question. Since our issue of last week the Government, speaking through Mr. Gardiner, Minister of Agriculture, has declared that subsidies on farm products will be, from now on, a government policy. That will be good news to the farmers and the declaration of a floor on the price of eggs, is one of the immediate evidences of that policy.

We have argued more than once that subsidies on farm products are necessary to stabilize the industry and to maintain a certain balance in our economic life. Nor do we wish to change our position. At the same time, it will be well not to neglect the other side of the picture — another side so vividly portrayed, at the moment, in the United States.

In the United States, the Government subsidized potatoes. In order to keep the price up, the Government bought potatoes at a dollar a bushel. Now the Government has 50,000,000 bushels of potatoes they don't know what to do with. They thought of selling them at one cent a bushel, but, then merchants would buy them at the cent per bushel and retail them to the consumer at 50 to 60 cents per peck. So, to prevent that sort of racketeering, the Government sprays the potatoes with a green dye that is non-poisonous, and won't wash off. Not only so, it penetrates the potatoes and lets the housewife know at once that she has got bootleg potatoes.

Last summer, when it looked as though the crop would be too large, the Government cut the acreage and allowed the farmers to plant less acres to potatoes than they did the year previous. So the farmers planted the rows closer and cultivated the crop more intensely than ever. The result was more potatoes on less acreage. Now the Government is in a tight spot.

As an example of what happens, was brought to the attention of Congress, last week by Senator Joseph R. McArthy, Republicrn, of Wisconsin, in a statement read to the Senate, in which he said:

"I have six children. My brother-in-law lives outside the town. He is raising hogs. He can buy grade A potatoes at 25 cents a bushel to feed his hogs. But when I go to the grocery store I have to pay 85 cents a peck for No. 2 potatoes. My question is, 'are hogs more important to the nation than my children?"

It is a problem, which the Government of The United States is miserable of solving. They have offered the potatoes at one cent a bushel, but there are only a few being sold. So the Secretary of Agriculture, Chas. F. Brannan, plans to get rid of the enormous potato surplus by pouring $80,000,000 to $100,000,000 worth of potatoes on the ground to rot, beginning last week-end.

But that is not all ! When the Government gets rid of the potatoes, it will have to consider what to do with all the other commodities it has. For the Government has on hand: tobacco, wheat, cotton, linseed oil, flax seed, rosin, butter, wool, dry edible beans, barley, dried milk, dried eggs, and other commodities, for which the Government has paid about $3,645,129,317.

For that offence, it served out stiff sentences to three of its nationals.

Mrs. O. Vejda and A. Javorsky were sent to prison for four years, and Margit Turman for two years. All property belonging to the three convicted persons was confiscated.

We have a suspicion that even such stiff sentences will hardly stop the traffic in gossip.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

To The Editor of The Napanee Beaver.

Sir:

THE CRISIS

The writer attended the mamoth meeting Saturday, January 28th in Belleville, of the farmers, to protest the falling prices, and get right down to base facts as stated in the resolutions and the discussions, it is this:

The farmer wants the highest price for all his products and an assured market. He wants the floor price to be high enough to gbrantee him a profit on all his products. Any product that does not come within the profit class he wants a subsidy on it to bring it up to the point where he can make a profit.

On the other hand, the consuming public, and workingman's wife, who has a family to raise and a home to pay for, whinds the price of her food requirements kept within bounds of her ability to pay and leave a profit for the home.

The workingman wants his wages as high as he can get them and he also wants security for his old age. He also wants to make a profit for a rainy day lay off. He claims that a few years ago pork sold for from 7 to 8 cts a pound and the farmer made money on it. Milk sold for 6 cents a quart and now it is from 16 to 20 cts a quart.

It was stated that if any article was too high for the workingman to pay for, the Government should pay a subsidy on it to the retailer. To satisfy all the demands the Government would have to have a floor price on almost everything and will have to pay a subsidy twice, on some articles.

The wholesaler and packer want an assurance that if they have anything left on their hands the Government will take it over at a profit to them. It looks like a big order for the Government. Besides satisfying all the requests, the Government has to provide for a deficit of over 200 million dollars in our trade with the United States of over 40 million loss on our railroad, of over 250 million for our excessive and multiple governments, then the subsidy to all the Provinces. Then the gift to Britain and all the interest on all the bonds the security and unemployment payments to provide for. Then they must account for the difference between the U.S. dollar and our devalued currency. Add to this the public works cost and the defence expense and it staggers our imagination.

The M.P.'s that were there were all in favor of the farmers getting their demands but they did not tell us how it could be done. They also know that whatever is agreed to in the caucus room by the party in power, they will have to vote for when in parliament no matter what their personal opinion may be. They also know that if they vote to defeat the government there would be a new election on which they might not be returned. Rather than take that chance they will vote for whatever their party decides.

All the speakers there threw a dark picture on the outlook. They stressed the point that after June the 1st, this year, we would be in competition with the rest of the world for the European markets with our pork products and they will all buy where they can get it the cheapest. None of them mentioned the fact that Britain and France are spending countless millions to make South Africa and Madagascar among the greatest producing countries of the world. Before long we will have to compete with native labor in these countries where wage is 50 cents per day, and the money used there is sterling.

The speakers all gave a description of how conditions are today and the chaos we are drifting into but none of them gave a solution. Most of the speakers referred to how the United States were doing things and wondered why we could not do the same. They did not tell the audience that the United States were selling potatoes at 1 cent per 10 pounds and if reports are true the U. S. will throw their surplus corn, over 100 million bushels on the market, at less than a quarter of what it cost them. If they do it will stop our Western farmer selling their barley and oats. They did not tell the audience that the floor price for hogs in the United States was far lower than they are asking our government to make, that if there is a free exchange of stock between us that the United States would flood the Canadian market with pork products for less than we can produce it for.

The United States may throw their whole surplus grain on the market for a fraction of its value.

The farmer is caught between the devil and the deep sea — financially, industrially, and commercially, and it will take a lot of cool thinking to pull us through. The man who can see the end of all this will have to have the wisdom of a Solomon.

R.R. No. 5, Napanee
3rd February, 1950

The Editor,
The Napanee Beaver,
Napanee, Ontario.
Dear Sir:

Please allow me to congratulate you on your editorials of February 1st, "The Farmer Takes Action" and "What The Farmers Want", both alluding to the County Federation of Agriculture meeting in Napanee on January 26th.

The former article presents a clear and penetrating incursion of the proceedings at this meeting and of the underlying implications. The second provides an comprehensive summary of the farmers' case, with your own defense of the innate soundness of their demands.

You display, together with many other weekly newspapers, a readiness to understand the farmers' problems and a realization of the basic necessity for a prosperous agricultural industry if we are to have a prosperous national economy. If this degree of vision and clarity of thinking could be extended by some of the large urban dailies which now maintain an attitude of unreasoning hostility to farmers as a class, the causes of urban-rural misunderstanding and suspicion would soon be eliminated.

Yours very truly,
C. H. M. CHURCH.

NEW DRUG 'ACTH' MIRACULOUSLY CURES LEUKEMIA

Mrs. J. Scanlin, Tamworth, recently received word of the almost miraculous cure from acute leukemia, the quick-killing blood cancer, of Dr. Robert Remmer, 27 year-old son of Dr. and Mrs. Harry T. Remmer, of 25 Greenwood Avenue, Utica, N.Y. Mrs. Harry T. Remmer is a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Silas Woodcock of Napanee and is a cousin of Mrs. Scanlin.

Young Dr. Remmer entered Memorial Hospital in New York City with the prospect of dying within a week from the dread disease. He was taken ill in November with leukemia and as in all other such cases, his recovery seemed hopeless. However, he and four other patients were treated with the new drug called ACTH, which is very scarce and fabulously expensive. Almost at once the young physical began to improve and soon the over-production of white cells in the blood stream began to lessen. After a short time in the hospital, following his apparent cure, he was able to return to Utica.

It has not been definitely established that Dr. Remmer's cure is permanent, but he and his family, and physicians, are hoping for the best.

CANADA'S POPULATION TO TOP 14,000,000 YEAR END

Ottawa — Canada's population is increasing at the rate of around 26,000 persons a month. If it keeps up, the population should top 14,000,000 by the end of 1950.

The population at December 1st, 1949, the Bureau of Statistics said in its quarterly estimate, was 13,707,000. In the six months from last June 1st, it had increased approximately 168,000.

The Bureau did not give population figures by provinces. It said there was no up-to-date information on migration between provinces but that information would be contained in the annual population estimate June 1st.

In a complex report on population trends, based on studies of birth and death rates, the bureau estimated in 1946 that Canada's population would reach 15,000,000 by 1950 and then decline slowly.

Since it was issued, the population has swollen with the entry of Newfoundland and its 348,000 inhabitants — and heavy immigration from Europe — amounting to 125,000 persons in one year alone.

There would be an accurate check on the bureau's estimates until next year when the 1951 census is taken. The official census of 1941 showed Canada then had a population of 11,507,000.

During the twelve months ending last June 1st, the population increased by 662,000 persons. Only 225,000 of this was a "natural" increase — the result of more births than deaths — the rest was due to immigration and the addition of Newfoundland.

In the next three months — June, July and August — the population increased 97,000 and there was an estimated increase of 71,000 between September and the end of November.

That makes an average increase of 26,000 persons a month for the six months from June to December last year. At that rate Canada's population would grow by some 238,000 up to the end of 1950, giving a total population of around 14,145,000.

THE GOSPEL MOVES WESTWARD

Lesson Text:
Acts 13: 4-5; 14: 1-3, 19-23

It is always interesting to speculate as to what would have happened if something else had happened. Supposing the early disciples had turned East instead of West; supposing that the Christian movement had gone first to India and China, as well it might, seeing that at first, Christianity seemed to have a special appeal to the Oriental mind. Well, we might have been pestered with missionaries from the East seeking to win us to devotion and loyalty to Christ. The whole course of history might have been changed. But it is only a speculation, for in a world governed by the law of cause and effect, it is impossible to know what would have happened if something else had happened. The fact is that Christianity turned West, when it came at once into conflict with the established religions of the day. On the first missionary journey, Paul and Barnabas left Seleucia, which is the seaport of Antioch and went to the island of Cyprus. They landed at Salamis, a large prosperous city. There they began to preach. They preached in the Jewish synagogues and seemed to get along without too much difficulty, until they left Salamis for Paphos, at the other end of the island. There a sorcerer tried to interfere with their mission, and Paul used some pretty strong language about him. He called the man a son of a devil, an enemy of God. That is vigorous language, and shows that Paul did not mince matters when he was dealing with those who opposed his message. It really was no worse than the language Jesus used on occasion, when faced with those who hampered the truth.

Then the little company went on to another city, Iconium. At Iconium they started in to preach as they were doing at this time in the synagogues. Paul was confining his message to the Jews. Of course, there were a few Greeks who attended the meetings. There were plenty of Greeks who were fed up with the religions of Greece, but kept up an outward show largely because of custom or convention. A few of the more enquiring and fearless went to Paul's meetings. There were a number of the real old-fashioned Jews who did not want Paul's message, so they got around among the Greeks and denounced Paul to them. However, Paul and Barnabas stuck it out and continued to make their witness and win converts.

However, the hounds were on their track. Certain Jews followed the evangelists from Antioch and caught up with Paul at Lystra. They then got real nasty and stirred the people to such a pitch against Paul, that they pelted him with stones, and dragged him outside the city and left him for dead. But Paul revived and with the help of a few friends set off to the next town, which was Derbe. They stayed here a short time and then Paul showed his bravery by going right on back to Iconium and preaching there, again. More than that, he and his companion appointed elders there, so that the work was put on an organized basis. Paul was not only a great preacher, he was a great organizer. He won converts, then set up an organization to continue the mission, and to strengthen the faith of those newly won to Christ.

The first days of the Christian Church were strenuous and exacting ones. Paul had lots to put up with. One wonders how the Church survived at all. The answer to that is that it is impossible ultimately to crush the spirit. Indeed, the great days of the Church all through her history have been the days of persecution and danger. Maybe on this North American Continent we are too wealthy and prosperous to have a really spirit-filled, dynamic Church.

FARM FORUM REVIEW

This week was review nite so there was no regular discussion period though the "Sign Post" the regular Forum periodical contained a discussion on the production costs of milk in winter time.

The radio broadcast itself emanated from the Federation of Agriculture Convention at Niagara Falls and consisted of a discussion of price stabilization plan between the Minister of Agriculture and Dr. Galbraith, Harvard Economist.

In regards to the question "was winter milking profitable under the present feed price of dairy rations" Selby Forum says: "We feel that the cost of producing winter milk for cheese or butter is too high in comparison with money received and that our greatest need is a system of co-operative distribution of all farm produce so the farm producer can receive a fair share of the producer's dollar. This was supported by Mount Pleasant Forum which agreed that the production costs were too high, but didn't see where they could be decreased and still produce a first quality milk. Mount Pleasant would also advise dissatisfied producers to go direct to the processors and discuss their troubles.

Maple Ridge was also of the opinion that present feed prices were definitely too high for the present milk price, and there was not enough profit to purchase the needed refinements to increase the quality or grade of their milk.

As has been stated before, Review Nite includes most every activity and here is what some of our Forums did last Monday night.

"Bickwell's Corners" were guests of Sprucedale Forum, and after the Radio talk, watched a series of colored slides from a representative of Downham Nurseries at Bowmanville which showed a wide variety of shrubs, flowers and landscaped gardens.

Varty Lake Forum had a Pot Luck supper at Mr. and Mrs. P. Alkenbrack's and they also decided that our milk production costs were too high to accept price reduction in the ensuing year.

River Valley Forum had Leland Wannamaker give an account of the Ontario Crop Improvement Association at which he was a delegate and they had a profitable discussion on crop improvement plans.

Easy Street, one of our newer Forums, took Review Nite literally and had a discussion on the subjects covered during the last series. These discussions resulted in a motion:—

Resolved, that the Federation of Agriculture should seriously consider the possibility of setting up a Dominion-wide Marketing Board to handle all sales of Canadian Farm Produce. Such a board to be independent of any government department. We believe such a plan would eliminate the need for subsidies and price supports to Canadian farm products.

Easy Street will be glad to know that such a resolution was presented to the Official delegate of the Federation of Agriculture to be deliberated upon before presentation to the Federal Cabinet.

If a personal opinion may be stated here, your correspondent was impressed with the whole demeanor of the Convention, particularly its determination and directed purpose which was evident both in the general assemblies and also in the Committee meetings. We feel sure can be sure that we have clever and able ment to present our interests and recommendations to the government.

One of the important moves of the convention was to set up the necessary legislation to parallel our various provincial marketing acts and incorporate them in a National Marketing Act. We can be sure that we will be hearing much more concerning this tremendously important forward movement in agricultural policy.

Conway - Sandhurst

Bath, February 3, — This very unusual winter has, at least, been interesting. Besides being pleasant and making travel easy, it has been saving fuel. However, many farmers have wood to draw and other work to do that would make them grateful for enough snow for haulingHaving reached the half-way mark, one begins to wonder if there will be a sufficient thickness of ice for storing this season. So far the Bay of Quinte has frozen over but not to any great depth and the heavy winds break up the ice allowing it to drift about.

Many farmers have taken advantage of the few fine days to repair damage done by the high winds of January 21. Very few buildings escaped minor damage and some of the repairs needed will be quite extensive.

We are glad to report that Mrs. Ralph Sills, Sandhurst, is recovering from the results of an accident, last fall. We hope she will soon be well.

Mrs. Laura Sills, Sandhurst, has returned from Belleville Hospital to the home of her niece, Mrs. William Smith, Sandhurst, where she is convalescing. We sincerely hope for a speedy recovery.

The sympathy of the community is extended to Mr. Hubert McCracken, in his recent bereavement by the death of his mother, Mrs. A. McCracken, Napanee.

Mr. Frank Ham. Conway, chairman of the Federation of Agriculture for Lennox & Addington, returned home on Thursday from Niagara Falls, where he attended meetings re the Four Points for farm produce.

We are sorry to report that Lorne Brown met with a painful accident this week when a falling log injured his foot.

OTTAWA PLANS EXTENSION OF WHEAT ACT

Legislation will be presented to the forthcoming session of Parliament to continue the compulsory marketing provisions of the Canadian Wheat Board Act beyond July 31st of this year, it was learned in reliable quarters in Ottawa, last week.

It is understood that the legislation has been prepared and now only awaits the return of Rt. Hon. C. D. Howe, Minister of Trade and Commerce, who is in charge of this legislation, to give it his final approval.

Under the present plan the amendments to the Act, which the Government feels should be made, will be presented to Parliament early in the session.

For some time past there have been suggestions that the Government might drop the compulsory trading sections of the Act and revert back to the voluntary system which prevailed prior to the war. This plan, it would seem, has been rejected and the compulsory marketing of wheat will remain in the hands of the Wheat Board at least for another year.

GOVERNMENT WORRIED

There has been in the past few weeks, a growing anxiety on the part of the Government as to the future of Canadian wheat sales to the United Kingdom. One member of the Government, who could be presumed to know the facts, foresees a strong possibility that the sales of wheat to the United Kingdom in the 1950-1951 year will drop below the 100 million bushel mark.

According to some experts in the Capital, in order to keep the Canadian wheat economy at a proper level, it is necessary that sales of wheat to Britain must be kept above an annual minimum of 125 million bushels. It is felt that this season's marketing to the United Kingdom of 123 million bushels is very close to the danger point.

There is increasing evidence of a British policy of gradually turning away from Canada as a source of supply. World stocks of cereals are rising and there is an ever-growing search for barter deals in which dollars are not involved. There have been reports of such deals between Britain and Argentina and also some countries which lie behind the Iron Curtain.

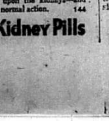
TAMWORTH

Tamworth, February 4th. — Emma Allen Walters age 78 years, wife of the late Bruce Richardson, passed away in Kingston. The funeral was held on Monday, from the home of her brother, Mr. T. J. Watters, in Tamworth, to the United Church, where a large congregation of relatives and friends gathered to pay their last respects to a friend and neighbor. Many floral tributes were placed by relatives and friends. Deceased had been in failing health for some time. Her husband predeceased her fourteen years ago. She was born in Tamworth and with the exception of a few years, lived her life in this village, and was known to be a good friend and neighbor to all who knew her. Rev. S. L. Throp preached the funeral service and the choir sang 'Good Morning Up There.' The pallbearers were Messrs. John A. Brown, R.F. Bell, R.K. Stinson; Herb. Close, Robert Gilmore and D. O. Clarke. There are left to mourn, two sons, Clinton Richardson at Fort Erie, George Richardson of Sault Ste. Marie; two sisters, Mrs. Henry Richardson (Martha) of Tamworth and Mrs. Albert Milligan (Nancy) of Kingston; one brother, Mr. T. J. Watters of Tamworth. Burial was made in the family plot in the United Church cemetery.

"NERVES" She Called It



Losing interest—losing friends—the appetite went out my more—always too tired. "Nerves", she thought—but it was her kidneys—the filters of her blood that needed attention. She used Dodd's Kidney Pills at once. The improved action of her kidneys helped to clear away blood impurities and excess acids. Fatigue, backache, headache, lack of energy disappeared. Dodd's Kidney Pills contain essential oils and medicinal ingredients that act directly upon the kidneys—and help restore their normal action. 144

Meeting Of Home and School Association

A meeting of the Tamworth Home and School Association was held in the Town Hall on Friday night, February 3rd. A very large crowd was present. The president, Mrs. Scott Gilmore, was in the chair. The meeting opened with all singing 'O Canada.' Minutes were read and approved. A committee of the following were named for the purpose of looking after the advisability of establishing a playground for the children: they were Mr. R. Inkster, Mr. Dave Crowe, Rev. P. C. White, Mrs. William Hall and Mrs. E. M. Harlton. Mr. James Hughes announced a speaker for Parliamentary night on the April meeting. The president then introduced the speaker for the evening, Mr. Fred Farnsworth, who has recently returned with his wife and son, from Africa. Mr. Farnsworth spent two years as a mining engineer in Africa, and described weather conditions there as being ideal the year round. The speaker gave a wonderful description of vegetation, jungle life, wild game, birds and ostrich. The different tribes of natives, he said, had different living customs; the tribes lived principally on whatever grew more plentifully in that particular district: some diets were mainly bananas, other cocoa nuts, and still others lived principally on corn. It was very hard to get men to work as, in Africa, the women did the main part of labour. African women, he said, are very clever in different kinds of handicraft. The children are intelligent and wonderful singers. One sees them walking along the street humming a tune and keeping time in a graceful dance step. It was easy to see he spoke, to get servants; it was necessary for them to have six servants, although they had very little to do, but the pay was small. The Africans now are going in to more mixed farming than they have ever done before.

Mr. Farnsworth then showed several reels of motion pictures taken while in Africa, and on the re-journey home. In these pictures giraffe and elephants were plentiful, but pictures taken of their home, and of different places in the vicinity were gorgeous with flowers and flowering trees. There were also several pictures taken of London, England, and other places, on their return voyage which they made in 3½ days. The Farnsworth family brought several souvenirs home with them, among which and on display were two snake skins, one was seven feet long and the other one was twenty feet long. These were most beautifully marked and were just like a very soft leather. After the National Anthem, lunch was served. It it comes your way, do not miss hearing and seeing what the Farnsworth family have to offer you in the line of knowledge re life in Africa.

Euchre Party Held

A very successful euchre party was held on Wednesday night by the members of the local L.O.B.A., at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Milligan. There were twelve tables of euchre in play and fourteen people playing bingo. The prize winners were: euchre, ladies, Mrs. William Wicklam and Mrs. Don. Hannah; gents, Mr. Ed. Young and Mr. W. G. Richmond; lone hand, Mrs. Ed. York. Bingo prizes went to Gerald McGrann and Eddie Luffman. Lunch was served by the members.

At the regular meeting of the L. O. B. A. No. 358 on Thursday night, arrangements were made to sell tickets on a homemade quilt. Arrangements were also made for a euchre to be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Jamieson on February 22, and one in the Town Hall on March 29th, when the draw will be made for the quilt.

Persona's

The Addington hockey team are very active this season. Thursday night the Nylon team came out from Kingston for an exhibition game and the score was 7 to 5 for Tamworth. Saturday night the locals went to Marlbank and reports are that the game was a good one, score being a tie with the two teams, 3-3.

On Saturday forenoon some neighbors of Mr. John Scott who is well past eighty, did not see the aged man about and went to see if he was alright. They found him lying in the corner of the room on an old feather mattress, unable to get up and into a bed. Dr. G. G. Hunt was called at once who immediately had him taken to Kingston General Hospital by ambulance. The aged man evidently fell the evening before as he had been moving an oil lamp, falling with it in his hand. The chimney very little to do, but the pay was small. The Africans now are going in to more mixed farming than they have ever done before.

OBITUARY

MARY JANE WALKER

The sudden death occurred at her home, Sharps Corners, on Monday, January 9th, 1950, of Mary Jane Walker in her seventy-fifth year. She was in her usual health, when Mr. Y. Walker called to do her barn chores on January 6th. When he returned on Saturday morning, Jan. 7th, she had suffered a stroke. In spite of all medical aid and kind hands could do, she never recovered consciousness.

Deceased was the daughter of the late George Walker and Mary Mc-Neil. She was predeceased by one brother, John Wesley Walker, of Switzerville. She had been fatally of making many farm friends, who deeply regret her sudden passing. She had a cheerful, kindly disposition and made all welcome to her home.

Her funeral was conducted on Wednesday, January 11th, at the Wiseman Funeral Home, by the Rev. W. R. Merrick, who gave an impressive sermon and spoke of the warm welcome she gave to her pastor.

The pall-bearers were Messrs. P. Dowdell, Robert Smith, W. G. Thompson, Robert Thompson, Reg. McConnell and Alex. Collins.

Mrs. W. L. Smyth Died At Pembroke

HEALTH PROTECTOR

"Sanitary Inspector" is a misapplied term for an important type of official. It provokes the general impression of a man in a white coat lifting the lids of garbage containers. With the "dairy-farmers" and "peanut officers", the sanitary inspector has been another link in the cartoonists and lazy public thinking. Actually, he is the official officer of Health's right arm. If a plan of action, the watchful eye of a healthy community and the sanitary inspector is a constant aid in this regard.

Good health and healthy living conditions are every day threatened by faulty disposal systems, careless food handling, etc. The sanitary inspector through his training and experience aids in health protection throughout the Unit area. Any complaints regarding food or sanitation should be reported to the sanitary inspector at the Lennox & Addington Health Unit Office.

SELBY W. M. S.

The February meeting of Selby W. M. S. was held in the Sunday school room on Thursday, Feb. 2nd, with Mrs. E. Price in charge of the program. The theme was "The Church The Household of Faith, and the order of service was followed from the Missionary Monthly. Mrs. Merle Dunison and Mrs. Merrick responded to the watch tower. It was decided to hold a pot luck dinner and quilting on Friday, February 17, in the Sunday school room. Mrs. M. Denison gave a reading on Christian stewardship. Mrs. Clifford Frisken received the offering, which was dedicated by Mrs. Jim Rose. The Church of My Dreams was read by Mrs. Percy Hudgins. Mrs. W. Armstrong gave a reading and Mrs. Merrick, offered prayer. The fifth chapter of the Study Book, Growing with the Years, was well given by Mrs. Sam Wouse, Mrs. George Robinson and Mrs. E. Robinson. Mrs. E. Price gave a very fine talk on the Meaning and Power of Faith. She said, in part: 'Faith is a confident assurance and a settled conviction of things hoped for, though unseen. It is the soul's eye that sees the invisible; the soul's hand that grasps the promises; hearings and makes them its very own. Faith is, actually, far-sightedness, for if we fail to believe in things unseen, then our hope dies. Great faith was manifested in the lives of men of former ages, as exemplified by Abel, Enoch, Noah and Abraham. Their faith held steady and firm through all adversities."

The meeting was closed with prayer by Mrs. W. J. Booth.

by Don Graham

Book for the facts!

In this simple phrase there lies magic power to help you build a more effective personality and win greater success.

A famous industrialist was once asked how he could make so many wise decisions quickly. "I set the facts," was his reply. Once you gather all the important information related to any matter, the facts themselves decide the issue.

Needless to say, the man who can make sound decisions most frequently and rapidly wins against all competitors in any field.

Many a new invention, too, has been made because somebody discovered new facts, or gave familiar facts a new interpretation. You may notice some little detail that others have overlooked and be inspired to change it in some way that will create a money-making invention, or lead to a valuable time-or-money-saving idea on your job.

Facts may serve us in countless other ways. They provide power for selling or convincing others. Introduced into conversation, they can help us make many wise decisions and interesting. Used as guideposts, they keep us from the dangers of wishful thinking and impractical philosophies.

Above all, facts add to our knowledge. And "knowledge is power."

To build a sound life insurance plan for yourself and your family, you need the help of someone who can analyze all the facts related to your future needs. The modern life insurance company representative is trained to do this — and you can rely on his recommendations.

ESTIMATES CUT

The Finance Committee of the Town Council was faced with a most difficult task in arriving at the Estimates and Tax Rate for the current year and after several meetings of the Committee it was decided to call in all the members of the Council for an informal discussion of the problem.

This meeting took place on Monday evening, February 13th and it was expected a further meeting would have to be called to pass the necessary By-law striking the rate but the Council decided to strike the rate and pass the By-law at this meeting. When all the estimated expenditures were put together, covering County Rate, School Rates, School Board Requisitions, Debenture debt charges for the current year and all the estimated expenditures by the eight standing committees of the Council, and taking into consideration ordinary revenue, it was found that a mill rate of 78 mills was required. This would have meant an increase in the mill rate of 9 mills over the 1949 estimates.

The Council felt that this was a most important matter, and finally the following amounts were deleted from the estimates of the several Committees of the Council:

1. Police Committee — Police car purchase, $900.00.
2. Street's estimates reduced by $1000.00.
3. Sanitation and Waste Removal reduced $1000.00.
4. Direct Relief reduced $825.00.
5. Numbering of houses and properties, $1600.00.
6. Opening additional roads at Park Lawn Subdivision to make available eighteen additional lots estimated cost $2976.00.

In making these deductions the Council did so with reluctance as they would like to carry out the original estimates and purchase a Police car which is needed, spend more needed money on Streets, Health and Sanitation and Public Welfare, number the properties of the Town and open up the lands of Park Lawn Subdivision. However, it appeared they had no choice as the mill rate was to be reduced from the original estimates. As a result of these cuts in the original estimates the mill rate was finally struck at, namely 74 mills, an increase over the year 1949 of 5 mills.

INCREASE IN RATE DUE TO COST OF EDUCATION

The increase of 5 mills is directly traceable to the increased cost of Education and the payment of Debentures and Interest on the two new Public Schools.

In the year 1949 the Town was required to raise by taxation and pay over to the Public School Board the amount of $35,997.76. For the current year, 1950, the Town will be required to raise by taxation and pay over to the Public School Board the amount of $46,905.82, which includes payment of Debentures and Interest of $25,207.50, on the Schools.

As a mill on the rate is approximately $2,000, it can readily be seen that the raise of 5 mills this year over the year 1949 is more than accounted for in the increased requirements of the Public School Board.

As a further example of the Increased cost of education, the Public School Board, in 1948, before there were debentures and interest to pay on the two new schools, requisitioned the Town for Public School purposes for the amount of $19,850.25. Comparing this figure with the present requisition from the Public School Board for the year 1950 of $46,905.93, it can readily be seen why the mill rate has had to be very much increased in the past year and in this

Health Unit Making Check On Eating Places

Find Room For Improvement In Many Cases

A survey of restaurants and lunch counters in the County reveals that some have not as yet complied with the new regulations regarding eating establishments — that is the installation of three sinks for dishwashing. One sink is required for washing the dishes, one for rinsing and one for sterilizing. Some proprietors are having difficulty in obtaining this equipment and in certain cases no running water is available. A reasonable amount of time will be allowed for the solution of these problems.

Swabs taken from the drinking glasses in some beverage rooms in the County have shown abnormally high bacterial counts. Those in charge have been advised that more care must be exercised in the washing and sterilizing process. Many diseases can be spread by poorly cleansed glasses or dishes.

Most of the routine physical examinations on grade one and grade 9 school pupils have been completed.

SANITARY INSPECTOR'S REPORT

During the early part of the month Dr. J. I. Jeffs, Medical Officer of Health and the Sanitary Inspector were guests of the Kingston Health Department at their annual "Food Handlers' Day." The object of this particular day is to educate food handlers, by means of movie films and displays on the safe methods of handling food and the proper washing and sterilizing of dishes.

Dr. Jeffs and the Sanitary Inspector came away with a number of new ideas, which they hope to put into practice at our own "Food Handlers' Day", which will be held in the near future.

It is gratifying to the Inspector, in his inspections throughout the county, to find the food handlers anxious to co-operate and to do their part in keeping the people of Lennox and Addington County healthy.

In time it is hoped our Unit will be looked upon as a model of new County Health Units.

The following is a summary of inspections for the month of January: — Restaurants 40; Water Samples 82: Bact. Swabs, 58; Slaughter Houses 26; Milk Samples 84; Housing Complaints 4; Budgie Birds 8; Dairy Producers 10; Dairies 12; Total inspections, 274.

Public School Board Gives Details Of 1950 Financing

To give a somewhat clearer picture of the tax increase, the Finance Committee of the Napanee School Board wishes to point out that the amount asked by the Board this year of approximately $46,000, is the same amount as requested last year.

However, in 1949, in order to keep the mill rate lower, the Town Council arranged a loan of $10,000 from the Province of Ontario, and thus the amount raised by taxes was approximately $36,000.

This year, the School Board is actually financing on less than last year, as the first of four instalments to repay the $10,000 loan mentioned above is included in the 1950 budget.

Dept. of Welfare Protects Interests Old Age Pensioners

Seeks To Clear Up Wrong Impressions

A person can own a home or other property and still be eligible for the Old Age Pension, Hon. William A. Goodfellow, Minister of Public Welfare, pointed out today when commenting on a recent court case in Toronto.

The case was that in which an elderly couple sued their daughter to recover their home. It was brought out in the evidence that the parents assigned the house to their daughter under the misapprehension that ownership of a pension.

Mr. Goodfellow said the government does not take the property of pensioners. On the contrary, it does all within its power to protect their interest in a home or land they may own. This protection takes the form of the government reserving the right to approve of the sale or disposition otherwise. Approval is always given when the sale price is fair and equitable.

A typical case in point was that of a pensioner who owned three acres in an area adjacent to a large centre, for which he tentatively agreed to accept $800. Investigation showed the property, if subdivided, would prevent them from obtaining a pension.

A typical case in point was that of a pensioner who owned three acres in an area adjacent to a large centre, for which he tentatively agreed to accept $800. Investigation showed the property, if subdivided, would prevent them from obtaining a pension.

The Old Age Pensions Commission is deeply concerned over the increasing number of applications it is receiving in which the applicant has transferred property just prior to applying for pension. Under these conditions it is impossible to deal with the application, and explanation only leads to misunderstanding on behalf of the applicant who believes that the Commission will take his property, if he retains it in his name. For this reason the Commission suggests all pensioners to make a will ensuring that the property will pass to whomever they desire.

In families where the children assume their responsibility toward their parents in their declining years they may be assured that this case will be favorably considered when the parents estate is being probated.

Every few people, Mr. Goodfellow added, are aware that this arrangement can exist without affecting the eligibility of the pensioner to receive the pension.

OFFER IS MADE FOR PURCHASE OF WEST WARD SCHOOL

Members of the Napanee Town Council appeared before the Napanee Public School Board on Monday evening to discuss the possibility of a lower requisition for funds to operate the schools for 1950, than that presented to the Council at its last meeting. After discussion, it was apparent that the School Board would do nothing to accede to the Council's request and a report to that effect was made later the same evening, to the Town Council.

An offer was received from Dr. A. E. Pyffe for the purchase of the West Ward School property at a price of $4,000. It was intimated in the offer that the school building would be demolished and that the property would be divided into four lots on which four houses would be erected by citizens of Napanee. The matter was laid on the table for further consideration.

The protest was received from the Town Council regarding keeping children out of the schools until a stated time before the school sessions start. It was explained to the de'egation of Town Councillors that the School Act dces not require the school to be opened until fifteen minutes before classes start, and that teachers are not required by the Act, to be in the school building before that time. However, the Board gave assurance that in inclement weather, arrangements would be made to allow the children in the school before the required time and also that they would be allowed to use the halls for recreation, in bad weather.

Fatal Accident Occurs At Sand Hill

A terrible accident occurred about 7:00 a.m. today (Wednesday) about three miles west of Napanee on No. 2 Highway, at Sand Hill, resulting in the death by burning of Stewart Allin, of Cornwall, driver of a Smith Transport and serious injuries to Henry Benoit, driver of a Kingsway Transport. The two vehicles collided head on and the Smith Transport burst into flames.

It is reported that a bus had stopped to pick up a passenger just east of Sand Hill and the Smith Transport, which was following the bus, attempted to pass, apparently not noticing the Kingsway Transport which was going west.

The driver of the Smith truck was trapped in the cab and was unable to escape. It was about two hours later when his body was removed from the wreckage. The other driver was removed by ambulance to Kingston Hospital. The Napanee Fire Truck went to the scene of the accident and extinguished the fire.

Traffic was held up for about two hours. Nearly 30 transports and other vehicles were stalled west of the wreckage and nearly as many were held up east of the pile-up. Traffic was cleared about 9.30 a.m.

Cheese Producers Ask Price Change To 30 C'ts FOB Factory

Pass Resolution At Protest Meeting In Napanee

The first in a series of Cheese Producers' Meetings to be held in various points of Ontario to protest against the present price and marketing methods of cheese was held in the Oddfellow's Hall in Napanee, on Friday, February 10th, under the auspices of the Lennox and Addington Cheese Producers' Association.

Short addresses were given on different phases of Cheese Producers' problems by C. U. Heath, Belleville, Secretary of the Ontario Cheese Marketing Board, W. O. Coon, Eighth, Past President of the Cheese Marketing Board, C. E. Harkness, Iroquois President of the Ontario Cheese Producers' Board, C. W. Bateman, Tweed, Director of the Ontario Association. Following the addresses, considerable time was given up to discussion.

The recent announcement of the Federal government setting the price of cheese at 30 cents, F.O.B. Seaboard was strongly protested by those in attendance at the meeting. A resolution was passed asking the government to set the price at 30c F.O.B. Factory for 1950.

A resolution was also passed which strongly backed up the plan for assembling, grading and weighing of cheese at the new storage plant to be built at Belleville this year and in the resolution was included the request for space to accomodate 25,000 boxes of cheese from the County of Lennox and Addington at the Belleville warehouse.

Among other topics discussed was the plan for a national advertising campaign to promote the sale of dairy products in Canada.

Nurse Reports at V. O. N. Meeting

The February meeting of the Victorian Order of Nurses was held in the Ameurics, Monday afternoon. Mrs. H. D. Wightman, Jr., read the prayer of the Order. Routine business was discussed.

The Nurse reported as follows for the month of January: 44 cases were carried and 127 visits were made; approximately three quarters of these were nursing cases. The remainder were visits of health, supervision to pre-natals, infants pre-school and school children. Twenty-two hours were spent in the schools where at present the nurse is assisting the Medical Officer of Health in examinations and inspections of conditions under observation. Five Child Health Conferences were held, the attendance at two of these was very poor, due to weather conditions.

A meeting of the Home and School Club was addressed by the Nurse. During the month, Miss Leaman, National Office Supervisor, spent some time at this branch.

Miss Leaman reported: The Napanee Branch serves the Town of Napanee and the area in the Township of Fredericksburgh, bordering on the south of the town limits along Ontario and Henry Streets, connecting cross-streets. This service includes bedside nursing with integrated health counselling at a moderate cost and free health supervision of expesiant mothers and infants under six weeks of age in the homes. A weekly Child Health Conference is held. That this service is appreciated is shown by the increasing attendance.

The Branch also provides a School Health Service in the Prince Charles and East Ward schools. Sixteen per cent. of the Nurses' time is spent in these special activities.

United Ch. Prepares Celebration For 25th Anniversary

Rallies To Be Held Across Canada In June

Plans for a fitting celebration of the Twenty-fifth Anniversary of the founding of United Church of Canada, to be observed next June, moved ahead when it was announced that in some 6,404 preaching places across Canada, services of commemoration will be held on Sunday, June 11th. The actual anniversary of the Union will occur on Saturday, June 10th. In addition to local church celebrations, great religious gatherings are to be held in several main centres across the Dominion, to mark the anniversary. In Winnipeg, for instance, while the Manitoba Conference is in session, a mass rally will be held in the Civic Auditorium, when a massed choir of 500 voices will sing, a large symphony orchestra will play and the first Moderator of The United Church of Canada, the Very Rev. Dr. George C. Pidgeon, will preach.

In Toronto, 15,000 people are expected to attend a great national religious witness service at Maple Leaf Gardens on Sunday evening, June 11th. The CBS will broadcast part of the service. The Toronto Symphony Orchestra and a massed choir of 2,000 voices will highlight the service.

Representatives from parts of Canada will go to Toronto for the Maple Leaf Gardens rally. Small choral groups will attend from areas within a 200 miles radius. All the living ex-Moderators of The United Church of Canada will attend, and be present will be the present Moderator, the Right Rev. Willard Brewing.

The Toronto Conference will be meeting in Toronto in June, and they, too, will hold special observances of the 25th anniversary of unicn.

ABOUT OVER !

It would look as though the honeymoon is about over. Days of riotous spending and reckless buying are on the way out. Production of manufactured goods is catching up with consumption. The merchant knows that it is not quite as easy to sell as it was a year or two ago. People are a bit more choosey. They look around a bit before letting go of their money. The inflationary spiral during which wages chased prices, and prices chased wages, has lost much of its momentum. The relationship between prices and wages is getting fairly well stabilized.

There is widespread unemployment. The most recent report from the Bureau of Statistics, at Ottawa, tells that there are 323,000 people out of work in Canada. Napanee is one of the towns which the Bureau declares has reached the danger point in unemployment.

Soup houses are open in the large centres of population. Down-town churches are organizing to provide a spot for a transient to sleep, and a way of providing meals to unemployed. We received in the mail, this week, an appeal for support for such an organization: a thoroughly reliable one.—

All of this indicates a change in the economic weather, or to revert to our original analogy — the honeymoon is about over.

Fortunately, the winter is well on its way, so that in a few months, seasonable occupation will take up some of the slack unemployment. This, however, is not a solution; even public works is not a solution. At best, they are but a palliative. Canada is a producing country. Canada manufactures more than her thirteen million people can absorb. Canada produces too, more farm produce than she can absorb. She must have markets outside herself to take the products of the factory and the farm. There are plenty of people who need the food and goods we produce. They cannot pay for it. Foreign exchange can be paid only in goods or gold—or the equivalent American dollars. Our prospective buyers have not got the gold—or dollars— and we do not want too much of their goods to compete with ours.

The situation would be eased a lot if The United States would lower her tariff barriers. We are going to remove practically all the remaining restrictions on imports from the United States. The result will be that we will be buying even more, in a few months, from The United States than we are now doing. To keep a healthy trade, we must sell proportionately more of the things we produce, to her. This is hindered by tariffs. The United States should lower her tariffs so that exporting nations would find markets for their goods in the nation which, alone, seems to have unlimited spending powers.

That, if achieved, would not solve our whole employment problem, but it would help.

It is to be hoped that men of goodwill and expert knowledge, will get together and seek to meet the present situation before it gets out of hand.

WHERE WILL IT END ?

The announcement by President Truman, that he has given the green light to the production of a hydrogen bomb, has again startled the world out of its complacency and lethargy. When the atom bomb was dropped on Hiroshima and Nagasaki, men and women throughout the world were staggered by the destruction which these bombs caused. They were terrified as to what the future might hold in store. Once the secret of the universe had been discovered, there seems no limit to what man could do. For a time, we were stunned by fear, and paralyzed by prospects of future warfare.

Then we began to forget about it. We went about our daily routine, in the home, in the farm, in factory and office. We had our business and our home worries, and stories of the atom bomb were crowded off the front pages of the paper by other more exciting news.

But, in the meantime, research into nuclear energy, by leading scientists, went steadily on. Great secrecy surrounded their achievements. The scientists took no holiday. Day by day they probed deeper and deeper into the secrets of the universe. Then news began to leak out of a new and more powerful bomb than the atom bomb. A hydrogen bomb — a thousand times, perhaps, a hundred thousands of times more destructive than the first atom bomb. A bomb which, some scientists have declared to be in all respects like unto the sun, in heat and power. Then President Truman confirmed the report that such a bomb was within the range of possibility, and signed the orders which gave authority for its manufacture.

Up until the present time the development of war has gone on in stages; no sooner was a new instrument of attack invented, than the race was on to find some defence against it. Now that race we are told is ended. There is no defence against either the atom bomb or the H bomb. It is this aspect of the new bombs that has filled the minds of those best able to judge, with apprehension and alarm. There is no defence against the nuclear bombs. Not only do they cause untold destruction in a split second, but they set up a chain of reactions which continue their deadly work for years, perhaps hundreds of years.

There can be no doubt but in a few years, perhaps less than that, the secret of the production of H bombs will be known to all nations. They will be deterred from making them, at first at any rate, because of the expense. In time, that objection to their manufacture will be overcome and the nations of the world will busy themselves in making the instruments for their own destruction and, perhaps, for the destruction of the whole race.

It is not a pretty picture. It can only be changed as a new spirit of co-operation and good will is gendered in the hearts of men and nations. After all, if we have reached the point where total annihilation is within sight, it is time that the nations got together. — If it is not yet too late.

SHOULD RUN McNICHOL

With the death last week of "Tommy" Church member for Broadview in the Federal House, the thoughts of those interested in the welfare of our country will, naturally, be turned to a probable successor. Mr. Church was a politician of long standing and experience. He knew his way around in the federal arena. He had a good mind and a certain independence of spirit that made him a valued member of the House and of the Progressive Conservative Party. The party, weak in numbers, will be further weakened by Mr. Church's death.

Under ordinary circumstances or, were a general election in prospect, it would be well for the Progressive Conservatives to seek out a young, vigorous man to contest the seat. But it is hardly the time to break in an untried candidate. The house needs a strong opposition. Anything that can be done to strengthen the Opposition, should be done.

The suggestion has been made that Mr. J. R. McNicho', formerly M.P. for Dovercourt, should be nominated by the Progressive Conservatives to contest the seat. Mr. McNichol has had a long experience in the House. He is trusted and respected by all parties. When in Parliament he was one of the few men who made it a twelve-month job. He travelled and studied. Few men know the Canadian situation better than Mr. McNichol, who went to defeat in the recent general election. There are those in all parties who would like to see him back in the House. Whether Broadview would elect him or not is another matter, but they should be given the opportunity.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

To The Editor of
Dear Editor —

As a farmer having many years of experience in the ups and downs of this industry, and having experienced the many forces than can be and are arrayed against us, may I comprehilate you on your editorial support and fair reporting in this our most recent period of ever changing price collapse.

If all groups of employers and workers — and we who farm are a combination of the two — would keep the Golden Rule ever vividly within our sight, there would be no desire or satisfaction in allowing or meeting the sacrifice of one group to the gain of the others.

This writer has been attending some of the meetings held recently in an effort to prevent a disastrous collapse of staple farm produce. These protest meetings have been forced upon us, and are distasteful to us, but in an economy in which we have to meet in every purchase, an all-time high and fixed price which shows no sign of receding, plus the high taxes still increasing, the farmer is compelled to seek protection for his solvency, to demand not more, but the maintenance of prices, until such time as all commodities and services show a willingness to recede. Let there be no mistake: The farmer is not trying to hog the trough, but he does insist on his right to move up in even line to the financial meal.

That the whole price structure has grown out of line, is patent to all. Prof. Galbraith of Harvard University, in his address to the Canadian Federation of Agriculture in Niagara Falls, brought this fact out clearly, that Canadian and American products, by our policy of high prices, are being forced out of world trade.

Speaking of the dollar shortage as felt by foreign nations, in limiting their trading with us and compelling them to seek self-sufficiency, he has this to say:

"If our manufacturers, both in the United States and Canada, feel they must continue to have protection from European imports, then they must candidly admit the consequences of their demands. Because of their need for protection, they are denying large dollars with which to buy agricultural products. Europe is thereby being denied access to the efficiently produced farm products of the Western Hemisphere because the manufacturers in the West covet the vaunted chains to efficiency not withstanding — cannot stand the competition. The American and Canadian farmer is being asked to take the rap for them."

and :

"The farmer, for this part, must be willing to see his wheat, cotton, farm and feedstuff, put into international trade at attractive prices."

We believe Canadian farmers are willing to do just this thing, but after so doing we cannot be hamstrung by and-hair-lied to the exorbitant prices of a highly protected home market.

Let us pay bill, but choose up fairly.

SALT IS A CHEAP, VERSATILE CHEMICAL

Salt, old as time itself, has figured prominently in ancient history. Most of us will recall the well known Biblical reference in which Lot's wife was turned into a pillar of salt after disobeying the warning of the angels not to look back on the wicked city of Sodom.

He's not worth his weight in salt,' is a phrase originated by the early Romans and stems from the fact that Roman soldiers used to be paid in salt which is derived from 'salarium' meaning salary.

Today salt is still the most common and cheapest of our commodities — and one without which life could not exist. Recent medical research has proven that saline (salt) injections after attacks of fever result in rapid recovery of the patient whereas previously a long convalescence was necessary while the body slowly recovered sufficient salt to provide the correct chemical balance.

This same chemical balance is carefully watched in industries where workers perspire freely and in many places, salt tablets are supplied to prevent exhaustion and to replace salt lost from the human system.

A HOST OF USES

Its everyday uses are many — from a gargle to a hot brine which when poured down sinks eliminates grease and disagreeable odors. To prevent clothes from freezing to the line in winter wise house-wives mix salt with the last rinse. Rural residents recommend a pinch of salt in a kerosene lamp to produce a better light and the flower lover will agree that common salt will remove discoloration when placed in a glass flower jar.

Industry finds salt essential in the manufacture of soap, paper, steel, dyes, printing, textile and pottery glazing. Most packing plants use thousands of tons annually for preserving hides and livestock feeding requires an enormous tonnage of salt.

The term 'just salt' no longer applies to this scientifically produced commodity," says an official of the recently-opened Alberta Salt Company. "Salt is manufactured by exacting methods and by elaborate and expensive equipment."

The vacuum evaporators are capable of producing 150 tons of salt daily and the company is recovering brine from salt beds stated to be 1,000 feet in total thickness. The brine, which contains three pounds of salt per gallon, is pumped to storage tanks for purification and settling and the purified brine is pumped to the evaporating pans. These are large cast-iron vacuum pans produce a salt crystal which has a fine lustre and, a high purity. In this vacuum process the boiling point is lowered by decreasing the pressure of vapor space above the brine. Mechanical mixers prepare salt for table use, also for stock feed salt. Iodized free-flowing table salt is fed to automatic carton filling machines. These two-pound packages of table salt are then packed into cases ready for shipment in Western Canada. Stock salt is also mixed with cobalt. These treated stock salts are then fed into the block press for 50-lb. blocks or to a bagging machine.

A model townsite, located about one-quarter mile from the plant and overlooking the North Saskatchewan River, is being developed by the Alberta Salt Company, and there are now several company homes, and a large staff house for single employees. All are equipped with gas, electricity and water, supplied from the plant. — B. and A. Magazine.

PINS ONCE VALUABLE

It has been said that what a girl used to earn would be considered only pin-money today.

Pins have a peculiar history. For some time after their invention in the fourteenth century, they could be sold in England only on the first and second days of the year, and women used to flock to the shops to spend 'pin-money' on these costly little gadgets.

In 1483 their importation was prohibited there. In 1543 it was enacted that no person shall put to sale any pins but only such as shall be double-headed.' Pins at that date were of brass.

Pin-money came to mean an annual sum allotted to a woman for personal expenses. Here is the provision of a will dated 1542, spelling and all: "I give my said doughter Margaret my lesse of the parsonadge of Kirkdall Church to by her pynnes withal."

COUNTING THE WORLD' S BIRDS

How many bird-lovers have the remotest idea of Britain's total bird population, the numbers of the various species, the method by which nature experts compile a census?

The first to estimate the number of land birds in Britain was Mr. E. M. Nicholson who, in 1932, put the total for England and Wales at about 80 million. Mr. James Fisher, whose book, 'Watching Birds,' is a fascinating survey of bird lore, gives the latest figure for Britain, excluding Ireland, as about 120 million.

Of these, permanent grassland has the greatest number — nearly 34 million; cereal land, nearly 31 million; rough grazing 11 million. Contrary to general belief, deer forest and woodlands have only 10 million, whereas built-up areas have nearly 14 million; gardens and allotments over 9 million. The greatest concentration — 300 per ten acres — is in orchards, gardens, and allotments. While on rough grazing, deer forest and ungrazed moorland the average is only seven.

Although there are 424 species in Britain, only about 100 are in significant numbers, about 75 per cent. of the total being made up by 30 species, all of which have a population of 250,000 or over in England and Wales.

The commonest are the chaffinch and blackbird (10 million each) and the starling and robin (7 million each). House and edge sparrows, song thrushes, and meadow pipits number about 3 million each; rooks 1½ million; yellowhammers, wrens, white throats, willow warblers and wood pigeons, 1½ million each; jackdaws, skylarks, blue tits, swallows, house martins and linnets, about 750,000 each; greenfinches, great tits, tree-pipits, millards, chimmchaffs, moorhens, swifts, lapwings and partridges about 350,000 each.

Our sea-bird population, Mr. Fisher states, is probably as large as that of inland Britain, but we know much about actual numbers.

Which is the world's commonest bird? Darwin suggested the fulmar petrel; Mr. Fisher believes that the little auk runs it close if it does not actually beat it.

The most abundant land bird in the world is either the starling or house-sparrow. Originating in Europe, both have spread to other continents, and in North America are pushing rapidly westward. Though the house-sparrow has a wider distribution, having reached Uruguay and the Falklands, the starling has probably the higher population since it is not restricted in habitat.

The world's most widely spread land bird must be the barn owl, which is found in all parts except the Polar regions, New Zealand, and some Pacific Islands, though it has reached Fiji.

The two main methods of counting are the area census and breeding count of an individual species, both valuable for finding actual populations and comparing different years. Members of the British Trust who do this work as a hobby must be among the most patient watchful people on earth !

THE WHALE'S Valuable Products

Strange how important the destruction of the largest mammal has become to mankind. Death for the colossal, gentle, harmless blue whale sliding through southern oceans — and an increase in fat rations for hungry Europe.

Whale oil is needed, desperately. Oil for glycerine and soap and edible fats. Oil for paint and linoleum. Artificial wool from the blubber. From the blood and bone and bowels, meat extracts, elastics, flurous materials, vitamins A and B, cattle food, fertilizers. Insulin from the pancheas. Brushes for street-cleaning machines, millinery work, corsets. No whale on rough grazing, deer forest and ungrazed moorland the average is only seven.

This season — who knows? From European ports four or five Norwegian factory ships, and perhaps a couple of British, most of them about 17,000 tons in weight, will be going south. In the old days when the wind ships braced their sails to catch the southeast trades, and shanghaied their crews from the scum of the Barbary coast for the two-year trip whale oil and baleen were the only prizes. Whale oil to light the cities; baleen for stays.

But in those days they hunted only the sperm whale. They could tackle that in an open whaleboat, and if they were lucky the dead whale would remain afloat. And if unlucky the whale would double back upon their cockleshell craft and smash it to pieces with its great head, and crush both men and boat in its jaws.

Today, with modern lethal weapons, they can tackle the gigantic blue whale, largest mammal known to man. Fortunately, there is a closed season, otherwise this magnificent creature would soon become extinct.

THE FIGHT FOR CHRISTIAN FREEDOM

Lesson Text :
Acts 15: 1-6, 22-29. Galatians 2: 16.

The story of religion is an exciting one. In many ways it is a tragic story, too. The devotion of men and women through the ages to a God, an ideal, is full of thrilling episodes. For it men and women have endured hardships, have suffered persecution, have been thrown to the wild animals and burned at the stake. For devotion, heroism, courage, loyalty, sacrifice, there is nothing comparable with the power of religion.

On the other hand, some of the worst atrocities, cruelties, have been inflicted on people in the name of religion. The attempts to keep religion pure, orthodox and correct has led men and churches, all too often, into excesses of barbarism and cruelty, and while in our twentieth century world religious persecution may not be as openly cruel as at some other times, yet a refined sort of cruelty and persecution, exists. For example, attacks on Jehovah's Witnesses.

The Christian Church had hardly got started when this conflict between the orthodox and the others, began. There were Jews who held that before a person could become a Christian he had to become circumcised as a Jew.

After Paul and Barnabas returned from their missionary journey, and told the church at Jerusalem of the wonderful success of their mission to the Gentiles, there was great rejoicing. But then, some of the old timers, insisted that gentile converts were to be circumcised, they also must keep the law of Moses. This was a serious matter. It was the first big issue that had arisen in the infant church. It was a matter that could split the church wide open. It was a matter that could not be settled by any one man. It was a matter that must be settled by the whole church.

So a council was called at Jerusalem. Paul and Barnabas were there, and a number of others. Peter was there, and James, the brother of Jesus, who was the leader of the church at Jerusalem. Peter told how God had given the Holy Spirit to the Gentiles, and how he had made no distinction between Jew and Gentile. James, in his speech, said that God had visited the Gentiles to take out of them a people for his name. He said that the Gentiles should not be troubled with the law of Moses, but should be asked to refrain from pollutions of idols, from fornication, from things strangled, and from blood.

Then it was decided to send a letter to the Gentile churches telling them of the decision. Judas and Silas were chosen to go with Paul and Barnabas as a delegation to tell the church there, of the decision.

It was a great thing for the future history of the race that the decision was made as it was. The council took Christianity out of the narrow confines of a Jewish sect and made it an universal religion.' This was one of Paul's greatest contributions to Christianity.

But the debate did not stop. It went on. It continues to go on. There are always those who think that those who see differently than they themselves, are heretics. And now there is a fierce contravery raging in the official organ of The United Church of Canada, over some of the creeds of the church. The bitter language of some of the letters appearing in that magazine, and the unkind spirit displayed in them, is anything but a reflection of the spirit of Christ.

The Golden Text of th's lesson, which is found in Galatians 5: 1, sets the pattern for all Christian behaviour. "For freedom, Christ has set us free: stand fast, therefore, and do not submit again to a yoke of slavery."

There is always the danger that Christians will get into some form of slavery — slavery to tradition, to custom, to habit, slavery to authority. How to strike the balance between freedom and slavery—or authority—is one of the greatest of all problems. Only is it to be solved in the Spirit of Christ, which makes all men free, while holding them captive:: "Make me a captive, Lord, and then I shall be free."

BIRDS USE ANTS TO STIMULATE THEIR TENDER SKIN

There recently came to light a new way in which various wild birds perform their usual toilet, and this is by employing live ants to do the job!

It all started about fourteen years ago when an Australian schoolboy, Peter Bradley, fascinated by the strange antics of some starlings he was watching, went to see just what they were doing. He had seen the birds pick up things from the ground and place them beneath their wings with obvious delight. He found the ground, swarming with ants, and it was these the birds were using.

Birds are not very often seen 'anting,' as the practice has come to be called, but now that its widespread use has become known, many people have seen birds going through the motions of this strangest of toilets.

They twist and contort about, performing all manner of most unbirdlike acrobatics, stuffing beakfuls of wriggling insects under their wings, and into the softer part of the plumage, often nearly over-balancing in their excitement in the process. Thrushes, blackbirds, jays, jackdaws, parrots and many other kinds of birds are known to act in this way.

What is the secret the birds know that until recently we did not? Like so many other mysteries and problems of nature, we cannot say for certain, but it seems that the ants serve as a vermin-remover, a sort of bird-destroyer, a massage and a skin stimulant.

In much the same way, in fact, as many creatures, including human beings, sometimes gain great pleasure from having their backs scratched or massaged and stimulated by friction from candles.

In hot countries 'anting' among birds seems more common than in Europe, although anyone may come across birds doing it in his back garden in summer. This seems to indicate the true use, for hot lands need more lice and drier feathers which need cleansing. Certainly this most interesting discovery, and one schoolboy, too, shows us how little we readily know about the creatures with whom we share the earth.

FARM FORUM REVIEW

Despite the menfolks' professed disinterest in the topic this week our reports were full of interesting suggestions on the rather startling question, "Are Canada's Well Fed?" To the majority of Canadians the idea is preposterous, yet our dietitians and food experts tell us that there is much to be improved on in the average Canadian diet.

The first question for discussion was "Do members of your Forum follow Canada's Food Rules" and the rules are as follows:

Milk: Adults half pint; Children to pints to quart.

Fruit:— One serving of citrus fruit or tomatoes or their juices and one serving of other fruit.

Vegetables:— At least one serving of potatoes and at least two servings of other vegetables, preferably leafy green or yellow, and frequently raw.

Cereals and Bread:— One serving of whole grain cereal and at least four slices of Canada approved Vitamin B bread with butter.

Meat, Fish:— One serving of meat, fish or poultry or meat alternates, such as beans, peas, nuts, eggs or cheese, at least three times a week. Use liver frequently.

The greater part of the findings this week indicated that the average farmer's diet does approximate the standard set out, with only one discrepancy being in the amount of fruit and fruit juices consumed. However Switzerville Forum pointed out that no matter how willing a wife is to provide an ideal die, she has to consider first, what her husband should eat, and second what he will eat. Naturally the big difficulty is with the male sex. Switzerville continues and says in part, "The likes and dislikes of the family partners, daily the men, seemed to be the outstanding topic of the evening." For instance, "they prefer their potatoes peeled, no baked potatoes for them. The beasts want pie frequently too, and they won't eat brown bread. O.K. you men, better take a hint or some fine day you'll find yourself sitting down to a big plate of raw turnips and cabbage, with carrot-top tea. Don't say we didn't warn you."

The ladies of our Forums, however, had a field day. Comparing recipes, cooking methods and assorted types of cooking vessels.

A glance at their reports shows that they are well informed as to the most modern methods of vitamin conservation and diet juggling but as Switzerville so plaintively states, it's one thing to cook and another thing to make people eat it.

Selby followed Switzerville's suggestion with the recommended meal which as far as they were concerned will do any old time, with or without vitamins. Listen to this: "Tomato juice, baked potatoes roast pork with gravy, cabbage salad, carrots, peas, cheese, bread and butter, apple pie with whipped cream, tea or coffee. Do we have to mention to let Selby furnish the food on Rally Night?" carried unanimously.

Desoronto, those old spoil-sports, think we eat too much; they even come right out and say "We found that almost one-quarter of our members follow the Food Rules to a certain extent, but we think the majority of people eat far too much of anything they like." Tch. Tch.

It was agreed however that the Canadian working class does eat too much of the wrong kinds of foods, and that a proper proportion of milk and vegetables cooked properly are lacking in our diet. The men finally got the conversation around to making a cold syrup and all in all we found this a most interesting topic.

A cold storage unit, it was argued, especially the walk-in type would be a wonderful convenience to the farmer, but many said it would not be a profitable investment with the public cold storage facilities in the local towns.

For those without cold storage facilities, here are some tips for storing vegetables:

Apples should be wrapped in paper and put in boxes in a cool dry place.

Root vegetables such as carrots, parsnips, etc., should be stored in sand or dry leaves.

LARGE ATTENDANCE ENJOYS COMMUNITY CLUB PLAY

TWO PRESENTATIONS AT SILLSVILLE NECESSARY TO ACCOMMODATE THE ENTHUSIASTS.

An enthusiastic audience of approximately 250, saw the three-act comedy play "You Can't Always Guess Times Tell" presented by the South Fredericksburgh - S. Adolphustown Community Club, at Sillsville Town Hall on Wednesday, February 8th. So many disappointed people were turned away at the first presentation, the play was again given the following evening, before almost 100 people.

The play was exceedingly well acted by all the cast, and the audience was kept laughing from beginning till end. Garry Smith, who masqueraded part-time as an Irish cook, by name of Aurora Borealis, caused much merriment with his misadventures, as he tripped over his long skirts, and stumbled around in his elderly white slippers — size 11. The cast included: Bob. DaVall, Mrs. and Mrs. Bob. Dickson, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Steers, Miss H. Smith, Miss J. Miller, Mrs. M. Christie, James Smith and Gary Smith.

The total proceeds from the play were $153.00 The net proceeds will go to help support the "Christian Neighborhood."

EXCELLENT MUSIC HEARD IN NAPANEE BY LARGE AUDIENCE

The concert presented under the auspices of the Napanee Home and School Associations at the Prince Charles School Auditorium on Thursday evening, February 9th by four young Toronto musicians, was most thoroughly enjoyed by the large audience from the town and surrounding district.

The advance notices regarding the four artists spoke highly of their excellent training and experience and the programme they gave on Thursday evening left no doubt in the minds of any of the listeners as to their ability and the degree of their talents. The people of Napanee are greatly indebted to the Home and School Association for affording them he privilege and pleasure of a delightful evening's entertainment.

The artists were Mary McDonald, pianist, Josephine Cluchman, violinist, Mary Alice Rogers, soprano and Lawrence Felton, baritone. Mary McDonald, the accompanist for the other artists, also played two solo numbers. Her ability as an accompanist was apparent throughout the evening — supporting but not overshadowing the singer and violinist. In her solo numbers she demonstrated her mastering of technique and her musical appreciation.

Josephine Cluchman, the youngest of the four artists, apparently has been well trained in the art of playing the violin. There was a wide variety in her selections, but all were pleasing and well applauded. Her rendering of Schubert's Ave Maria, was possibly the most appreciated of all her numbers, while probably one of the least difficult to perform, it was a smoothness of tone and quality of tone in all her selections, which can only be obtained by the well-trained performer.

The Soprano soloist, Mary Alice Rogers, won her audience from the very first selection. Clarity of tone, excellent diction and a knowledge of singing marked her performances. These together with her ability to turn on the power where required, without sacrificing sweetness of voice should assure her of a successful concert career.

Lawrence Felton, the baritone soloist, was well chosen as one of the four artists to lend variety and interest to the programme. He has a voice of beautiful quality, with plenty of strength and a knowledge of control which assures sweetness of tone. From his first solo he made a good impression on the audience, which grew steadily until his last number had been sung. His singing of "Jonah and the Whale" and "Old Man River," appealed especially to every member of the audience. The first selection in his second group, Handel's "Largo" was a pleasure to hear. The pleasing personality of all the artists added a great deal to the pleasure of the evening.

Mr. Gerald Smith, acted as Chairman and introduced the artists. Mrs. Earl Richardson, President of the Home and School Association expressed appreciation to the people of the district for the support given the Association.

In the afternoon an hour's concert was given by the four artists for the pupils of the public schools. The Auditorium was packed to capacity. Ticke's were sold at 10 cents each but no child was refused admission. Attendance was not compulsory, and the children who were present were thrilled and applauded enthusiastically. All four of the musicians gave numbers which the children were capable of appreciating.

The artists remarked that the audience of children was the best behaved pupil audience they had ever played to. In some towns, they said, pupils were restless and noisy, but not in Napanee. The good behaviour of the pupils is a credit to both home and school training.

Ont. Leads Provinces Homes Built In 1949

During the first ten months of 1949, Ontario led all provinces in home building with a total of 25,650 as compared with 20,811 during a similar period in 1948. More than 72,000 dwellings were completed in Canada during this period, an increase of 13,600 over the same period in 1948.

Baby Chick Orders Decline 25 Per Cent.

Orders for baby chicks are generally down — 25 per cent in some cases — from what they were this time last year, the Ontario Agriculture Department said in weekly crop report last week.

Heaving of meadows, particularly alfalfa land, was reported throughout the province with the exception of Northern Ontario. Unusual soil erosion due to the lack of snow has appeared in western and Central Ontario.

Some farm labor is sought, except in Northern Ontario.

Demand for dairy cattle remains strong and the export market good with good prices offered in Eastern Ontario. Hay is moving slowly in Southwestern Ontario Weanling pigs are in good demand.

Reduce Limit Speckled Trout

First reduction in the speckled trout limit in many years, and an increase of one dollar in the cost of non-resident fishing licence have been announced by the Department of Lands and Forests. During the 1950 season, the speckled trout catch must be limited to fifteen per day, except in Norfolk County where it will be ten per day. Minimum length permitted remains at seven inches.

Previous speckled trout catch limit was twenty fish or five pounds, whichever was first reached. The poundage limit has now been eliminated. The Fish and Game Committee recommended the move following representations of thousands of Ontario sportsmen who urged the reduction in total take.

To meet increased costs of administration, fishermen from outside Ontario, except residents of Manitoba will in future pay $6.50 for a non-resident individual licence and $9.00 for the non-resident family licence.

Dr. Healy Willan Guest Commentator At Concert Of Stars

By Theodore Tevalt, Kingston

Dr. Healy Willan, F.R.C.O., Professor in Faculty of Music, University of Toronto has been invited to act as guest commentator at the "Concert of Stars" to be held February 21st, in Grant Hall, Queen's University. At this special performance, the winners of the various competitions will participate in what should be a fitting climax to the International Rotary Music Festival, February 13th to 18th.

Dr. Willan came from England in 1913 and was appointed head of the Theory Department at the Conservatory. Advancing rapidly he became examiner in music at the University of Toronto. Dr. Willan was Vice-Principal of the Conservatory until 1935. The following year he was appointed Professor.

Already a composer of note when he arrived in Canada, Dr. Willan has further added to his reputation until now his repertoire consists of over two hundred original works and a large number of arrangements of traditional melodies.

Besides being organist and choir master at the Church of Saint Mary Magdalene in Toronto, Dr. Willan, in 1946, took his choir to New York, where the group was enthusiastically lauded for their "capel'a" concert in Carnegie Hall.

Dr. Willan also organized and conducted the Tudor Singers, and "capella" group, which was disbanded at the outbreak of World War II.

Some of his compositions include two operas, written especially for radio: "Transit Through Fire" and "Deirdre of the Sorrows." His compositions for double chorus and orchestra "Trumpet Call," and "Apostrophe to the Heaven's Hosts" for unaccompanied choirs, in addition to motets and masses for litrgical use, constitute many of Dr. Willan's outstanding works.

Dr. Willan's comments will no doubt be most helpful to those in the gala final concert. For when he was a boy in London, England, he received much of his musical education as a chorister in St. Savior's Choir School, Eastbourne. Dr. Willan has twice been president of the Canadian College of Organists.

CAN. PLOWMEN LOSE IN MATCHES

Canadian plowmen competing in the international plowing match had to contest themselves last Wednesday with the visitors' cup, which went to Jim Eccles of Brampton, Ontario. Most of the awards in Wednesday's matches were won by Northern Ireland farmers. Alex McKinney, manager of the Canadian team, said the poor showing of the Dominion plowmen was due to their unfamiliarity with the soil.

A Rush - Hour Scramble

An elderly lady was crossing a Toronto Street during the noon-hour rush, when her string of pearls broke and scattered in all directions. A T.T.C. guide was the first to come to her aid, and very shortly there were about thirty people stooping over in the roadway, searching. The unusual sight attracted the attention of a policeman, who stopped traffic for a few moments. Over half the people didn't know what they were looking for, but each in turn placed his find in the small cupped hands of the bewildered lady. After much ado, the busy corner resumed normal routine. With a smile she peered into her cupped hands and saw: all her pearls, a streetcar ticket, 3 buttons, 2 coppers, lead pencil, hair pin, used stamp, 2 matches, pen nib, 2 elast'e bands, shopping list, stick of gum, laundry ticket, thumb tack, broken zipper, torn theatre stub, a crumpled snapshot negative, baby's nipple, business card, package of pipe cleaners, a four inch spike and two nails.

Subterranean Lake May Transform Sahara Desert

When, in the spring of 1927, Professor Justin Gavorin first declared that a vast subterranean lake — destined to irrigate thousands of new oases — flowed beneath the burning sands and lifeless rocks of the Sahara, only the scantiest attention was paid to his fantastic story.

A great and seemingly irretrievable disaster was then overtaking the Algerian Sahara. Ancient oases were perishing. Everywhere old artesian wells were slowly but surely drying up. It would be only a matter of time before the wind-driven sand smothered the last traces of greenery and life.

The problem confronting the French Authorities was tied up with grave economic and social considerations. Inevitably the 1,000,000 or so tribesmen whose forefathers had inhabited the wilderness from time immemorial would be driven northwards into the already overcrowded littoral, where plans were already afoot for the migration of 1,000,000 Arabs to metropolitan France, or to Nigeria. The arrival of such hordes of new, migrant hordes of paupers would spoil everything.

The years passed. More in despair than in hope the Algerian Government finally decided to investigate Gavorin's underground lake, which Professor Savorin confidently asserted was the relic of a prehistoric sea. Two hydrological expeditions were organized, and each was a failure. Second only to the Libyan Desert in the east, it covers an area equal to the whole of France.

Exploitation of the lake was held up by the war, but the local authorities secretly prepared a ten - year plan for enriching the Sahara with 1,500 new oases which will accommodate more than 1,500,000 settlers. Now, with little publicity but much vigour, work has been started on this ten-year project.

The Professor Explains

Already the underground waters of the lake are gushing up to the surface for the eye to see. The untiring brain, however, is completely bewildered by the spectacle. What are the origins of the lake? What is its capacity, and how did Professor Savorin know it was there? All these mysteries the Professor himself patiently expounded.

"The first thing to understand," said the great Geologist, "is that the crust of our planet is alive, constantly changing . . . Its history can be deduced from the present-day composition of the soil. Inversely, the lessons of history were frequently — as in the case of the Sahara—a sure guide to the underground secrets of nature.

In the beginning when the earth had cooled sufficiently for water to form, the ocean enveloped the whole globe. In a series of mighty convulsions, continents were thrown up. Each epoch has had its distinctive geography, its peculiar vegetable and animal world.

In the Albien Age, much of what is now Europe and Africa was under water. While Paris, for instance, lay at the bottom of the ocean, the Sahara was a great open-air freshwater lake.

A Lake That 'Sank'

As the face of our planet altered in a series of mighty convulsions, with new mountains and plateaux rising above the oceans, the Albien lake vanished from sight beneath massive deposits of solid matter. Even after man had made his relatively "late and tardy" appearance on earth, the Sahara region underwent great vicissitudes, and at one period—50 Julice by the cave paintings by our prehistoric ancestors—what is now the desert was a green jungle where roamed the elephant, the hippopotamus and the rhinoceros.

The Albien stratum, though overlaid with a thick new coating of soil in itself devoid of moisture, was destined to remain waterlogged for millenium after millenium. This Albien "seam" of water, of an estimated thickness of 600 feet, runs downwards at a gentle incline from the foot of the Atlas Mountains, eastwards to the Libyan Desert, and southwards to French West Africa. The farther east it goes the lower it sinks, until in the vicinity of the L'byan frontier, it reaches a depth of 4,000 feet and more below the surface of the desert.

The inflow comes from the melting snows, from the rivers and rainwater which descend the Atlas Mountains from a plateau altitude of 6,000 feet, and which more often than not disappear through mysterious cracks in the rock before getting to the bottom of the foothills.

The quantity of water thus consumed annually by the 1,500 new oases figuring in the ten-year plan is greatly inferior to the yearly inflow from the Atlas range. Moreover, Professor Savorin has foreseen that should the Albien fall by a few feet as the result of man's interference with nature's equilibrium, a substantial economy will be effected in another direction. At the exposed south-western perimeter of the lake the waters will drop with the range of the heat of the sun, and the present annual loss of half a billion cubic metres through evaporation will automatically cease.

There will be 200 families or about 1,000 souls to each oasis.

Where feasible — and with an eye to the future Trans-Saharan railway — the new villages will be strung out in long straight lines connected by a good motor road.

A vast programme of electrification has been drawn up, but at present the village being applied processed.

Man's struggle against the merciless elements of the Sahara has been long-suffering, so stubborn as to be almost Homeric; but today a great and almost miraculous victory is in sight.

LABRADOR'S FUTURE

BY SENIOR MAJOR J. WOOD, NEWFOUNDLAND

The vast new industrial empire which is opening up in the little-known wastes of Labrador and Ungava reminds us that this land was so indefinitely described by the Spaniards as a land with "nothing in it of any value." Jacques Cartier was evidently not impressed with it either when he called it "The Land that God gave Cain." The first white men to set eyes on Labrador were the Norsemen, who named it Helluland—land of flat stones. But it was from Fernandez of the Azores that its present name came, for he was a "lavrador" or "land-owner", and as he was one of the first to sight the country on that particular voyage he gave it a name which has lasted for several centuries.

In the estimation of these men, the only remunerative features of this land of "rock, fog and bog" were the fish with which its coastal waters teemed, and the fur-bearing animals which filled its forests. Today, men who know—geological and mining experts—declare that, at a conservative estimate, there are 2½ billion tons of ore in the area thus far prospected. In commencing the enterprise, 150 million tons of ore annually will be mined. Before this can be under way ten thousand men will have to work in the wilderness a railroad 360 miles long. A great shipping port will be built at Seven Islands on the northern shore of the St. Lawrence River, and a large townsite will of necessity have to be constructed at Knob Lake. Smelters will belch smoke into the frosty air, roads will be hollowed through the tundra and civilization will come to th's "forgotten" land.

So certain are mining magnates of both Canada and the United States of the potentialities of this area that there have already spent seven or eight million dollars in exploratory work, and governments of both Quebec and Newfoundland have enthusiastically endorsed the project.

Labrador Eskimos seem to have been the earliest inhabitants of this rigorous land; they have existed there for centuries. First knowledge of this race obtained by Europeans was when Sebastian Cabot presented to Henry the Seventh three wages "clothed in beastes skinnes, who eat raw fleh." Through the years sickness and disease have taken their toll of the race until now there are only a few hundreds left. A number of tribes of Indians also inhabit the land.

The anelioarative work of Dr. Wilfred Grenfell with his hospitals and extensive medical practice has relieved suffering materially among the inhabitants. Dr. Grenfell's work of mercy includes also a handicraft industry which has helped considerably to establish an educational standard.

Christianity has, since the middle of the eighteenth century, been taught in Labrador by the Moravian brethren, a sect from central Europe, whose missionaries have lived unselfish, exemplary lives before the Eskimos. Suffering untold hardships the story is a glorious one of twelve and misery they have toiled on, and now have a number of stations in the northern portions of Labrador. Among the early obstacles which encountered of the cruel exploitation of the Eskimos by traders who would barter liquor or trifling articles for valuable furs, thus debauching and impoverishing the natives.

Natural resources, other than iron ore are to be found in this remote corner of the country. For instance the Hamilton River offers a staggering challenge to any intrepid electrical engineer. The Grand Falls, on this river, are twice the height of Niagara Falls although not with the same volume

Ontario Government Considers Extending Local Option Powers

Dundas, Ont., Jan. 23. The Ontario Government is giving serious thought to extending the powers of local option in the administration of the Province's liquor regulations, Ontario Liquor Commissioner, Arthur Welsh, said in Dundas, last Thursday night. He was speaking to the Progressive Conservative Hamilton - Wentworth Riding Association.

The Board is considering extending the local authority feature," the Commissioner said, "allowing municipalities, within certain limits imposed by the Board, to set hours of sale. We might even go so far as to allow the municipalities to determine the number of liquor licenses granted in their jurisdiction. It is not, however, to be construed that the Board would give up any of its overriding powers.

The prob'em of administering a law with the same set of regulations for everyone in a Province the size of Ontario was, he explained, immense. Differences of geography, of local racial characteristics, of working conditions were too vast to be simply handled from a central office in Toronto.

"Although few people realize it," the Commissioner went on, "there is as far in Ontario from the City of Cornwall to Kenora as it is in Europe from London to Moscow. It can be seen that the problems that arise in Northern Ontario centres are different from those in Toronto, Hamilton's, by the same token, are different from those of the border cities, which are close to the United States centres of population; along the Quebec boundary, where live people of different racial extraction from those in Southern Ontario, there is another situation.

Under the present system, there already is a considerable measure of local option, the Commissioner pointed out. Today, for example, a municipality under local option, was perfectly free to vote itself 'dry' or 'wet' and if it chooses the latter course it has a number of options at its disposal. Retail liquor stores, warehouse, beverage rooms, tavern, dining rooms or dining lounges, or any combination from this group.

Democratic control, Col. Welsh added, was assured by the fact that a three-fifths majority is necessary before any type of licensed premises could be introduced. To be able to change the local liquor sale structure by a simple majority or more than 50 per cent. he explained could create difficulties due to a large opposed minority. Similarly, it was considered unwarrantable to allow a local vote on the question more than once every three years.

Col. Welsh went on to describe the extensive study being given by the Liquor Control Board to the problem of liquor consumption. Details of the research was being carried out in regard to the treatment of alcoholism and the Board's Research Department was drawing freely on the famous studies on alcoholism done at Yale University.

Temperance, he thought, was to the largest extent a matter of individual conscience, of self-discipline. More could be accomplished in the promotion of sensible drinking habits by education than by legislation or regulation.

Alcoholism was another aspect of the problem, the Commissioner said, and was recognized by the Board as a disease and was being dealt with accordingly. "Within a reasonably short time", he added, "we expect to present to the people of Ontario a course on alcoholism which we hope will go a long way toward solving this problem.

"We are not," Col. Welsh said in conclusion, "going to jeopardize the fine standards of our boys and girls as they grow up by letting the liquor trade in Ontario get out of hand."

CATERPILLAR FORECASTER

Scientists are generally sceptical about the weather lore of country folk, but in America they have come across something to set them thinking.

For centuries many Americans have held the belief that the thirteenth caterpillar, nicknamed the "woolly bear" because of its furry body, is a weather prophet. If you see one of these caterpillars in autumn, they say, be sure to notice whether the brown bands on his back are broad or narrow.

If the bands are broad it is a sign of a mild winter ahead; if the bands are narrow then frost and snow can be expected. Some folk go even further and say that by counting the blacksegments as each end of the caterpillar you can tell which part of the winter will be mild and which part severe.

Last autumn, Dr. C. H. Curran, curator of insects and spiders at New York, led a party of entomologists into the Bear Mountains with the object of disproving this belief. They measured the bands of every woolly bear they found, and in each case the bands were broad—sign of a mild winter. Later, the New York Weather Bureau stated officially that the winter weather had been exceptionally mild, and "most unseasonable" so far.

Now Dr. Curran is wondering what to think if future surveys prove the woolly bear to be correct ninety percent of the time. Sceptics say he can't claim his reputation as a reliable weather forecaster.

What will meteorologists have to say?

Dr. Curran does not know, but he is certain of one thing: this autumn will find him in the Bear Mountains again, measuring the bands of woolly bears to discover what kind of winter to expect!

A CLEVER FARE-BOX

There are quite a number of fare-recording boxes on the market, but a new one has come up that does not have extra jobs. It makes fare collecting a lot easier for bus and trolley drivers. The machine automatically sorts coins as they are deposited by passengers, then automatically adds their value in dollars and cents. It takes all denominations of coins and two sizes of tokens. A different-sized bell rings for each denomination of coin.

The machine registers 90 to 100 coins a minute. An ejector cleans mechanism of detained coins and slugs. When the ejector is engaged, the machine automatically locks. After registering coins the machine feeds them into barrels of a bullion carrier chained to the driver can cake ehange.

The Weather

It is hard to know what kind of weather we will have. This winter has showed great changes in the weather. We had snow from Saturday, January 21st to Monday, January 23rd. We thought we might have a bit of winter weather then. Tuesday we had sleet, but on Wednesday it was warm and the snow, sleet, and ice started to melt. On Thursday it was warm again and now we have only a little snow and ice left. This Friday morning it is quite cold again which may mean skating outdoors for some.

— Rose MacMillan.

Hockey Boys Meet

On Wednesday night after four the Bantam Hockey League boys had a meeting. Mike Fisher explained that the boys would not be able to play unless they had a birth certificate. After that he explained 'offsides' to the boys. He took the names of all the boys that wanted to play. The next games in which we are to play will be on a Thursday night and Saturday afternoon, if there is any ice.

— Don. Richardson.

C. G. I. T.

The regular meeting of the C.G.I.T. was held on the evening of January 24th, in the Sunday school rooms of the Grace United Church. The meeting opened by singing our C.G.I.T. hymn, followed by the watch-night worship service was conducted by Miss Jean Derbyshire which consisted of a scripture reading, singing and an alternative reading from the gospel of St. Mark. The worship service ended by singing and a prayer. We then played Pass the Reasons, which everyone enjoyed. The meeting was then closed by all joining hands and singing Taps.

— Frances Reid.

Training in Crafts

During the past week the pupils of the Grade VIII Class have been carrying out a craft project by making key cases. The cases are made of fine quality Morocco leather and are lined with doe skin and red and blue leather. This lining is cemented to the Morocco leather with natural rubber cement. The key cases are thumped with leather, using the blanket stitch. This project is very useful for us to do in our spare time.

Grace Church C.G.I.T.

The weekly meeting of the C.G.I.T. of Grace Church was held Wednesday evening, January 25. The meeting opened with the girls singing their C.G.I.T. hymn. — Frances Reid.

The Rink

The school rink is getting well under way now. Mr. McMullen is keeping the rink well flooded while some of the boys keep the snow scraped off. The carnival will soon take place, if the weather does not change. The warm weather has been discouraging to us all because it has been difficult to make much progress in making ice. However, we should each be planning our costume for the carnival.

— Joanna Rombough.

Exchange of Pupils

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace E. Roy and Roberta are spending the winter at Delray Beach, Florida. Mr. and Mrs. Harold Lasher and Betty Lou are also spending the winter at Delray Beach. Here Roberta and Betty Lou are attending school.

Mr. Roy, who is chairman of the Napanee Public School Board and, who has been very ill, is, according to reports, much improved. The Boys are not expected back home before the end of March.

While some of our pupils are attending school at Delray Beach, we have the Palms, Roger and Jan, of Minetto, New York, attending the Prince Charles School here, this week.

— Shirley Clark.

Current Events

On Thursday, February 2, 1950, Grade VIII was favoured with a broadcast of current events. The announcer told about a new three cent stamp which is being made to portray the oil fields of Alberta.

There is a new threat to civilization in that United States is going to build a hydrogen bomb which is many times more powerful than the atomic bomb.

— Aileen Maskell.

Prince Charles School Rink

The Prince Charles School Rink has a fairly good base, but, it is still rather bumpy. Mr. McMullen and some of the Grade VIII boys have been shovelling and flooding it. Although it needs a few more floods yet, we are hoping it will soon be ready for use.

— Joan Stevenson.

The Rink

The school rink is getting well under way now. Mr. McMullen is keeping the rink well flooded while some of the boys keep the snow scraped off. The carnival will soon take place, if the weather does not change. The warm weather has been discouraging to us all because it has been difficult to make much progress in making ice. However, we should each be planning our costume for the carnival.

Exchange of Pupils

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace E. Roy and Roberta are spending the winter at Delray Beach, Florida. Mr. and Mrs. Harold Lasher and Betty Lou are also spending the winter at Delray Beach. Here Roberta and Betty Lou are attending school.

Mr. Roy, who is chairman of the Napanee Public School Board and, who has been very ill, is, according to reports, much improved. The Roys are not expected back home before the end of March.

While some of our pupils are attending school at Delray Beach, we have the Palms, Roger and Jan, of Minetto, New York, attending the Prince Charles School here, this week.

Current Events

On Thursday, February 2, 1950, Grade VIII was favoured with a broadcast of current events. The announcer told about a new fifty-cent stamp which is being made to portray the oil fields of Alberta.

There is a new threat to civilization in that United States is going to build a hydrogen bomb which is many times more powerful than the atomic bomb.

Prince Charles School Rink

The Prince Charles School Rink has a fairly good base, but it is still rather bumpy. Mr. McMullen and the boys of the Grade VIII boys have been shovelling and flooding it. Although it needs a few more floods yet, we are hoping it will soon be ready for use.

Council Approves Official's Analysis Sch. Board Finances

Statement Shows Board's Requisition Higher Than Last Year

The following article on Public School Financing, was prepared at the request of the Town Council, by the Town Treasurer, and was approved by the Council at a meeting held on Monday evening of this week. The text of the article is, as follows:—

PUBLIC SCHOOLS FINANCING

An article appeared in last week's issue of the local press headed: "School Is Not Asking More Than Last Year, Question of Source." . . .

The Municipal Council of Napanee has directed me to place the facts before the Town Taxpayers in respect to Public School costs and financing. The facts are as follows:

In the article referred to above, the statement is made that the Town, last yr, borrowed $10,000 from the Pro- e. This is obviously a glaring ortion of the facts. The Town did borrow $10,000 from the Province year. The Province did make an nce payment to the Napanee ic School Board in 1949, to assist eeting Public School Debentures Interest maturing in 1949, the eld advance being made one year previous to the year the Provincial payment on School Debentures was to come into effect). At the time this advance of $10,000 was made, it was understood that the Province would recover this amount by deducting a certain portion over a period of years from the school grant. It would now appear that this advance is to be deducted over a period of four years at the rate of $2,500 per year.

Early in the year 1949, when the Municipal Council was preparing its estimates for the year, a serious situation developed. The County Council, in the year 1949, increased expenditures to the extent that the Town was required to pay to the County n increased amount over the pre- us year of approximately $10,000 amount represented a five mill e in the town's tax rate. HERRINGTON'S HISTORY TELLS OF HANGING IN L. & A.

When Alfred Childs was sentenced last Fall, to be hanged, the statement appeared in the Press that if he were hanged it would be the first execution in the County of Lennox and Addington. Later, a reader of The Beaver, stated that a hanging had taken place in Napanee about forty years ago, but this statement proved to be incorrect as the man who was sentenced to hang at that time, later had his sentence commuted to life imprisonment.

Another reader of The Beaver, who is interested in historical data regarding the County of Lennox and Addington, has found in W.B. Herrington's History of Lennox and Addington, the account of a hanging which took place at Bath, some time between 1787 and 1793.

Mr. Herrington's history concerning the Village of Bath, has this to say:

Bath may claim the distinction of being the seat of the first Court, held in Mecklenburg (the name was changed in 1792) by Judge Cartwright.

The Old Village also has the distinction — we will not say honour — of being the scene of the first execution by hanging in Canada, and the saddest part of the story is that the victim, who thus paid the penalty by being swung from the limb of a tree, near the old tavern, was innocent of the crime of which he was convicted. He was charged with stealing a watch; circumstantial evidence pointed to him as the thief. He protested his innocence, claiming that he had purchased it from a peddlar. The evidence could not have been conclusive and consisted mainly of finding the stolen article in his possession; but this, in the opinion of the judge, cast upon him the onus of proving how he came by it. The peddlar belonged to the itinerant class, and had passed on to some other section of the County, where he could not be reached.

A few months later, a peddlar repassing through the neighborhood, confirmed the words of the unfortunate man by stating that the watch had been sold by him under the circumstances alleged by the prisoner at the time of his trial."

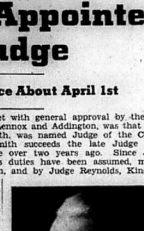
Gerald F. Smith Has Been Appointed County Judge

Will Assume Office About April 1st

An appointment which has met with general approval by the citizens of Napanee and the County of Lennox and Addington, was that made last week when Gerald F. Smith, was named Judge of the County of Lennox and Addington. Mr Smith succeeds the late Judge J. E. Madden, who died suddenly a little over two years ago. Since Judge Madden's death, the County Judge's duties have been assumed, jointly, by Judge Wilfred S. Lane, of Picton, and by Judge Reynolds, Kingston.



JUDGE GERALD F. SMITH

Mr. Smith has held a prominent place in the legal profession in Napanee since he opened his own practice in February 1933. He is a native of Napanee and is the youngest son of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Smith. He attended the Napanee schools and after graduating from the Napanee Collegiate, he attended Osgoode Hall. He graduated from Osgoode Hall in 1929 and immediately returned to Napanee, where he was associated with U. M. Wilson, the County Crown Attorney, until Mr. Wilson's death, in 1933.

Mr. Smith is a man who has an enviable record for integrity and honesty in all his business dealings and is one of the most respected citizens of the County. He has been associated with a great many public enterprises, to which he has given a great deal of his time and ability. He has been a lifelong member of Grace United Church and has held many positions in the church, including that of receiving steward of the official board. He is a charter member of the Napanee Lions Club and one of the most active workers in all the Club's projects. In 1940, he was appointed Solicitor of the County of Lennox and Addington, which position he has held up to the present.

Mr. Smith's wife, who has been associated actively in his business for several years, is also interested in many of the town's organizations. He has one daughter, Miss Rowena Smith, who is a graduate of Toronto University and is now employed in Toronto.

It is expected that Judge Smith will assume his new duties about April 1st. At present, he is busy clearing up details in connection with his own legal practice.

I. O. D. E. CHAPTERS CELEBRATE JUBILEE OF THE ORDER

Seventy-six members of the United Empire Loyalist and Alice L. Harshaw Chapters, participated in the Golden Jubilee of the I.O.D.E., on Monday, February 13th, 1950. The Golden Jubilee of the Order is dedicated to King, County and Humanity. Its motto: "One Flag, One Throne, One Empire," has burned in the hearts of its members since the dawn of the twentieth century.

The banquet opened with the playing of 'Land of Hope and Glory' followed by the special Founder's Day Prayer. Mrs. Albert Lewis, chairman for the evening, gave a few words of welcome, after which Mrs. A. E. Davis proposed the Toast to the King.

A delightful program of community singing was enjoyed, accompanied by Mrs. Clarence Re'd. The musical programme was provided by members of both chapters. It consisted of a vocal solo by Mrs. H. Moore, a violin solo by Mrs. Reid, Smith; a vocal duet by Mrs. H. Moore and Mrs. Charles Hanna; a reading by Mrs. K. Powell; a piano duet by Mrs. B. Seymour and Mrs. B. B'ack, and a vocal solo by Mrs. H. Denison. The artists were thanked by Mrs. T. Bowen.

Just before dessert was served, the Golden Jubilee Anniversary cake was cut by Mrs. Donald Macnaughton, who wished the Chapters many years of service and success.

Mrs. D. R. Hall, guest speaker for the evening, delivered a most inspiring address. Mrs. Hall was fourteen years Regent of the United Empire Loyalist Chapter, six years on the Provincial Council and convener of ex-service personnel for four years. She gave a resume of work of the U. E. L. Chapter, organized in 1910 and of the Alice L. Harshaw chapter, organized in 1943. She also described some of the many works of the National Chapters, including the Bahamas, Bermuda and India. The War Memorial Fund, which was to assist educationally the sons and daughters of servicemen killed or totally disabled in action, was first begun in World War I and continued after World War II.

Members were given the challenge of meeting the responsibility of membership duties, and asked to be vigilant against Communism, to uphold true principals of Democracy and to continue educational work and assistance to veterans. They were urged to foster the spirit of protection and unity in peace and war and always be true to the motto of the Order: 'One Flag, One Throne, One Empire'.

Mrs. M. Owen thanked Mrs. Hall on behalf of all present, for her heartwarming address.

Members at the head table were: Mrs. Albert Lewis, Regent of United Empire Loyalist Chapter; Mrs. D. R. Hall, Honorary Regent; Mrs. Donald Macnaughton, Past Regent; Mrs. P. Vine, Treasurer; Mrs. Robert Smith, Regent Alice L. Harshaw Chapter; Mrs. J. A. Davis, Honorary Regent; Mrs. T. Bowen, Past Regent; Mrs. M. Owen, Past Regent.

The tables were effectively decorated in red, white and blue, and these colours were included in the candles and floral bouquets which attractively adorned each table, all planned under the able leadership of Mrs. J. A. Davis.

The meeting closed with the singing of 'O Canada,' and 'God Save the King.'

LEGION ZONE RALLY HELD, GANANOQUE

Laverne O'Connor, Napanee, Zone Commander for Zone G I of The Canadian Legion, presided at the annual rally held at Gananoque during the week end. Fifty delegates from Napanee, Sydenham, Seeley's Bay, and Kingston, were present.

Reports on progress in the various branches were given in the morning on Sunday, February 19th. A banquet was served at noon and in the afternoon a resolution meeting was held, when addresses were heard from District Commander Harvey, P. D. C. Thompson, Clifford Howe, Canadian Legion Officer, Kingston, and the presiding officer, Laverne O'Connor.

Clifford Howe outlined the work being done in the Kingston service bureau. In the past year, he said, 700 cases were handled and approximately 600 were dealt with completely. He cited a number of cases where progress had been made despite a number of obstacles that had previously failed to result in a satisfactory conclusion for the veteran concerned.

Replying to Mr. O'Connor's request for information as to why the Napanee branch should be obliged to pay premiums covering fire insurance on the local armory during branch functions, Mr. Harvey said he would take the matter up directly with the deputy minister of the National Defence Department. Members said the practice of demanding fire insurance coverage was not general.

A resolution proposing the speed-up of legislation which will include First World War veterans in the War Veterans Allowance Act, received overwhelming support.

PROPOSE FORMING A. A. CLUB IN NAPANEE

The first meeting of Alcoholics Anonymous, in Napanee, was held at 8:00 o'clock, Saturday evening, February 18th, in the Superior Restaurant. Speakers from Belleville and Peterboro A. A. Clubs told of their own personal experiences in outlining the twelve - step programme which has proved beneficial to over 100,000 alcoholics on the American continent.

Reference was also made to the A.A. Conference held last week in Toronto, which was attended by 1,500 members, representing almost every town in Ontario.

From the enthusiastic reception given the speakers, it was decided to hold another meeting in the very near future, for the purpose of forming a Napanee and District A.A. group.

Public School Board Deals With Complaint About Opening Hours

A special meeting of the Napanee Public School Board was held Thursday evening, February 16th. One of the matters dealt with was the question raised by some of the citizens regarding the hours at which the doors of the schools are opened on stormy days and also the question of recess periods on these same inclement days.

The future policy of the Board will be that the doors of the schools will continue to be opened at 8:45 except on stormy days, when the children will be able to enter the school as soon as necessary. The same provision will be made at noon hour.

As regards outdoor recesses, more use will be made of the ba'ls and of the auditorium of the school.

OVER 375,000 PERSONS, CANADA, ARE UNEMPLOYED

The Department of Labour, on February 17th, issued the following statement on employment conditions in Canada.

On February 2nd, 1950, there were 375,600 persons seeking work through National Employment Service Offices 120,000 more than a year ago. The current figure represents 7.4 per cent. of the present Canadian labour force of about 5,100,000.

It is estimated that there are at least 10,000 persons in this total who already have jobs but who have registered in the hope of improving their position. There are, however, some unemployed persons who are not registered with the N. E. S. These include a proportion of those who have exhausted the'r unemployment insurance benefit rights or who have failed to qualify, and unemployed persons in the non-insured categories

The current Canadian unemployment situation is in a large measure temporary. Unfavourable weather, particularly in British Columbia, and a more pronounced seasonal decline in construction, transportation and trade are the main factors responsible for the increase in the number of persons looking for jobs during January and early February. Rising log inventories have also contributed to lower employment in the woods in Eastern Canada this year.

A number of other factors have influenced the current employment situation. These include the loss of some foreign markets affecting industries such as ship-building, agricultural implements, and products such as railway rolling stock, aluminum, chemical pulps, and mining timber; the impact of devaluation on some industries; and the disappearance of backlogs of domestic demand for many goods.

WINS TOP HONORS CHINCHILLA SHOW

At the first National Chinchilla Show, held at Ottawa, on Friday, February 17th, when prize winning Chinchillas from other shows in the Dominion were exhibited, Four Acres Chinchilla Ranch, operated east of Napanee by L. D. Woolsey, D.V.M., M.Sc., won the Canadian grand championship and four other reserve championships.

A total of 75 Chinchillas were entered in the national show from all over Canada.

Town Council Recognizes Junior Ball Club

About ninety members and guests were in attendance at the local Lions Club annual "Baseball Night" at the Superior Banquet Hall, on Monday evening, when the Club entertained the members of the Town Council, the Junior Baseball team and others who assisted in promoting the sport in Napanee and the surrounding district.

The members of the Town Council were introduced by Reeve Clarence Milligan and welcomed to the Club by Past President G. F. Smith. Those who assisted the organization during the past year were introduced to the gathering by Past President G. E. Gibbard, chairman of the Sports Committee and head of the group in charge of the evening.

Mayor H. W. Vine was presented to the meeting and in a brief address congratulated the Lions Junior Baseball Team on the splendid showing they had made in the Ontario Play-offs and the favorable publicity the town had received by their efforts. He touched briefly on the difficulty the local team had in having to play under adverse weather conditions and the sportsmanlike manner they had displayed both away from home and on the local diamonds.

In concluding his remarks, Mayor Vine presented a cheque for $200.00 from the Town of Napanee to the Napanee Lions Club to be applied on the cost of furnishing of Jackets to the Ontario Finalists. The members of the team were then called to the head table and Mayor Vine presented each with a Blue and Gold Jacket.

Bob Huffman, on behalf of the players expressed their thanks to the Town and Club for the support and recognition given.

Past President Wm. Barrett in a short address to the gathering spoke of the work and interest which had been shown by G. E. Gibard in the promotion of baseball in Napanee and the surrounding district and on behalf of the members of the Club presented the Chairman with a Grenfell Jacket and Club Crest.

Mr. Gibbard suitably acknowledged the appreciation of his efforts which were possible only through the cooperation of all concerned in this work.

The Club was then given a complete summary of the operations of the Sports Committee and a detailed statement of expenditures at the Lions Operated Gibbard Memorial Park. Included in the summary were tentative plans for next season and recommendations for furthering minor baseball in 1950.

Robert Smith, Past President of the Club and O.B.A. convener for this Zone ou lined the growth of baseball in this area and compared the efficiency in the several sections of the Association, claiming that the reason for the lateness of play-off dates last season was due to the lackadaisess of officials and team managers in Western Ontario divisions. This matter, Mr. Smith said, would be one of the major issues at the coming O.B.A. annual meeting at Niagara Falls this spring.

The speaker extended congratulations to the Lions Club on their efforts to promote minor ball and to the team for the successful showing they made in their bid for the Ontario title.

The meeting concluded with the showing of several baseball films taken by G. E. Gibbard several years ago at World series games.

During the meeting congratulations were extended to Lion G. F. Smith on his recent appointment as Judge.

Mayor Vine also announced that Robert Follis, son of Lion H. E. Follis who was taking part in the Rotary Festival of Music at Kingston, had been awarded a Scholarship for his ability as a pianist. Bob won first honors in his class last week in the Festival, and played a part in the programme presented by those chosen for the concert, held at Grant Hall, in Kingston, last evening.

Statistics, at best, are very inhuman. They are necessary as measuring rods, but they are very impersonal. It is impossible to get such values as beauty, hunger, and suffering into statistical percentages. That is one of the quarrels we have with figures — necessary as they are in our understanding of trends and situations.

When it is announced that there are 400,000 out of work in Canada, back come the figures to show that this is only a small percentage of the employable whole. After all, each one of these Out-of-Works is a human personality. He has relatives; in most cases he has a home and home responsibilities. The size of the pay envelope to arrive regularly, even in one home, is a hardship, often bordering on tragedy.

That is why the current growth of unemployment is so serious. The human factors, the spiritual values, are the serious ones, and they are serious even in every home. We have experienced ten years of full employment. The problem has been to get enough manpower or womanpower to do all the things that had to be done. It was hoped this spectre of unemployment had been laid, forever. But here it is with us again. In spite of the fact that ten years has passed, it seems only yesterday that we were writing about this same problem.

Fortunately, some advance has been made. Unemployment insurance, even though it is not all that it might be, is a help. Then, too, the nation is better organized to deal with the situation. There are government agencies throughout the country whose purpose is to assist those out of work to secure employment. But they need all the co-operation the community can give.

In the Napanee district, including Deseronto, there are approximately 400 unemployed. These include almost every type of labor, skilled and unskilled — carpenters, decorators, painters, waitresses, riggers, salesclerks, bakers, plumbers, truck drivers, laborers, stenographers, factory workers. Unemployment is 50 per cent. higher than it was on a similar date, last year.

We are a perverse lot. For the past few years when labor was scarce, we were frantic because we could not get men to do the job we had been planning for a long time to have done. Now, that labor is plentiful we are not in such a big hurry. These are cold days to be out of work. If there is work which has been put off, it should be done, now. Decorating, indoor painting and alterations can be done as well, now, as later on. Doing such work now, will help solve a serious social problem. We know, too, that the National Employment Office will appreciate community co-operation in the effort to get work for all who need it.

MAKING PROGRESS

Premier Frost has spoken favorably of the spirit which prevailed at the preliminary meeting of the Provinces and the Dominion, on Provincial-Dominion relations. He has further announced the willingness of his government to co-operate with the Dominion in getting a settlement of that vexed problem. This bodes well for the next meeting, scheduled for September. It may just be that the Duplessis Government in Quebec, will hesitate to stand alone and will swing in with the other provinces.

If, in such an atmosphere of co-operation, an equitable arrangement can be worked out, whereby the Provinces will lease to the Federal Government certain powers of taxation, it will be a great achievement. The way will then be open for the enactment of a contributory old age pension scheme, and health insurance for all. These acts of social legislation are overdue. Canada, which has an enviable record among the nations of the world for her social legislation, must continue to merit that reputation. In the very nature of our make-up with eleven provinces, all to be agreed on a policy, the problem takes a long time to solve. But, it looks now as though we may be in sight of a solution.

BRITISH ELECTION CAMPAIGN

An election campaign in Great Britain is conducted a bit differently than one on the North American Continent. There is less bally-hoo 'over there', less reckless spending. During the present campaign the Prime Minister toured the country in his twelve-year-old car, driven by his wife, and with one reporter as a passenger. Mr. Churchill, Wartime Prime Minister and Leader of the Opposition, travelled in an ordinary English train compartment. The way in which money can be spent on the election campaign is strictly defined, and very restricted according to our views.

There is not quite so much horseplay in the British elections as on this Continent. Less high pressure. Not quite so much a "no holds barred" affair as a similar contest over here. That does not mean that the debates are mealy - mouthed. Far from it. But the jibes are a bit more subtle, though perhaps no less barbed than those from our own candidates for office.

The audiences are different, too. The British have heckling down to a science. Indeed, the Conservative Party, in this campaign, had a school for hecklers, where members of the party were schooled in the kind of questions to ask a certain speaker. The audiences are by no means passive, nor are they, as a rule, obstructionist. The spirit of fair play seems to prevail at the political meetings, as well as at cricket.

The issues in this election have been fairly well defined. They were called by the Labor Party which went to the country on its record. Of the effect of five years of the Labor Government on the life of the people, Warren Baldwin, in a dispatch to The Toronto Globe and Mail, on Monday, said: "My window-shopping took me into East London, where once I saw the most appalling poverty, where scrawny, hungry youngsters haunted dirty streets. Today that is all changed. Children are well-fed, dressed as well as any Canadian boy or girl, and happy.

"Even under ration, milk consumption in Britain has doubled from the prewar level. Today there is no ration, no shortage, and the poorest child in London can get it, though West London can't buy cream.

"In East London, shops are crammed with food — chickens, tinned goods, luxury foods; and the shopkeepers told me they were selling everything they could stock. It is a new market for the farmers of the world.

"I sat in the vicarage of Bethnal Green Parish looking out at the shell of the bombed church. 'Yes,' the vicar agreed, the people down there have oodles of money today and they are buying food you and I would think we couldn't afford. They not only buy chickens at two shillings three pence (about 35 cents) a pound, but they buy cooked chickens!

"Eggs, on a ration which varies from two a week up, sell as high as eight pence, but there are no Canadian eggs.

"Every one, so far, has a job. Unemployment in Britain is about one and one-half per cent, which means little more than that some people are changing jobs. In addition, wives and other members of the family are taking in piece work from industrial firms, which ranges from sticking pins into cardboard flags to crocheting fringes for curtains."

It may be that the full dinner pail will be a determining factor on the election. On the other hand, the British are very internationally-minded, and Mr. Churchill's suggestion of a direct approach to Stalin to try and get agreement on the H bomb, may have a profound effect on the result.

A POPULAR CHOICE

The announcement of the appointment of Gerald F. Smith, to the Judgeship of Lennox and Addington, was met with enthusiastic approval by all sections of the community. Mr. Smith had much to commend him for this position. He is one of our own citizens. His father and mother, and other relatives, were members of the community. He has behind him a long line of local ancestors.

Then, too, Mr. Smith was well trained. For years, he served his time to the legal profession in the office of the late U.M. Wilson, and got a detailed and thorough training from one of the Old School. So that, when he graduated from Osgoode, he had already a good deal of practical experience with legal matters in the community. It was not long before Mr. Smith's integrity, his kindly understanding, his knowledge and good judgment won for him the confidence of a wide constituency.

Mr. Smith, too, has taken a keen interest in the life of the town and district. He has been behind every good cause, and has taken his share in local community affairs. He has been a vigorous and dependable leader in Grace United Church, showing an interest in every phase of its work. The appointment to the Judgeship is well deserved. It will be a little difficult to think of "Gerald" as a judge, but we will soon get used to that!

We extend congratulations and express the hope that his new responsibilities will not rob him of his sense of humor, which has often lightened an otherwise sombre occasion and relieved tensions that were, to say the least, somewhat strained.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

To The Editor of
The Napanee Beaver:

Dear Sir:

The United States has made two major errors in her Chinese foreign policy, which are, and will continue to be exceedingly costly to her and all Democratic nations. The first was co-operation with Russian Communism, by giving lend-lease in the Second World War. The second was her betrayal of China by the Yalta Treaty, encouraging a coalition with the Communists, and refusing aid to Nationals when being overrun by the Communists. The former error may be excusable, due to German pressure but the latter is neither understandable or excusable.

Nationalist China was a staunch ally of America in World War Two, holding in check one million Japanese troops, but in 1944 a major difference arose. This was the insistence of America that the Communists be supplied with lend-lease arms and form a coalition with the Nationalists in fighting the Japanese. With China's experience of Communism for nearly thirty years, they well knew the treachery, terrorism and slavery resulting from such a coalition and openly opposed it. However, under constant pressure from America, represented in turn by Henry A. Wallace, Donald Nelson and General P. J. Hurley, who first went to Moscow for discussions and instructions, China was forced into the coalition.

Then, in 1945, came the famous Yalta Conference at which President Roosevelt, Prime Minister Churchill and Premier Stalin, signed agreements, granting Russia pre-eminent interests in Manchuria. Although of vital interest to China, she was never consulted, until months later, when ordered to sign on the dotted lines; thus by a stroke of the pen, losing what she had tried faithfully for years, by blood and hardships, to preserve. So, during the last days of the Japanese War, already won by the Democracies; Russia, to claim her dowry, rushed her troops into Manchuria to seize all the key points and the spoils of war granted her by the famous Yalta Conference. This included sufficient arms and ammunition to equip 500,000 men for ten years of active combat. So, the Chinese Communists were well equipped for their treacherous attack on the Chinese Nationalists.

Contrary to the terms of a cease-fire agreement made in January 1946 the Communists continued in full scale civil war. The Chinese Government made repeated appeals to America for help, but she refused to grant export licenses for arms and ammunition and, at the same time, repeated pressure on the Government to accept the demands of the Communists.

So, contrary to continual pleading for help, and the advice of the very best brains of Chinese leaders, who knew the situation perfectly, America has compromised by anti-nationalist China surrender to the Soviet Communists.

As China was an important and honourable member of the United Nations Security Council, her betrayal of America and her surrender to Soviet Communism cannot fail to lower America's power and prestige in the above Council and add materially to Soviet Russia's power and prestige, a situation which America and all peaceful nations now, realize the extreme gravity of. It is human nature to place the blame on let someone else, so America derives considerable satisfaction in placing it on the shoulders of Chiang-Kai-Shek. He had a difficult position to fill, and may have made some mistakes, but this much can be said for him, he was always loyal to his own country and, never sold himself to Soviet Russia.

Let us all hope that America, in her future dealings with Russia, will be more prudent.

R. H. PAUL,
Napanee.

House Moving

All week, Mr. Johns and his workers have been preparing for the removal of the Leamy House to the new location. The first thing they did was to dig holes in the basement in a few places around the house in which they put jacks. They then jacked the house up and put skids underneath. McConnell's tow truck pulled it with the help of a combination of pulleys, which multiplied the pulling power, six times. The house is now at the front of the southwest end of The Prince Charles School. After the ground has been cleaned up and levelled off, the front of our new school will present a much better appearance.

Musical Concert

On Thursday afternoon, February 9th, in the auditorium of the Prince Charles School, a musical concert was heard by the pupils of the Napanee Public School's. The artists who came from Toronto were Miss Mary McDonald, pianist, Miss Josephine Chuchman, violinist; Miss Mary Alice Rogers, soprano and Mr. Lavern Felton, baritone. Miss McDonald accompanied Miss Chuchman in a number of pieces, one of which was 'La Gitan's.' It was very beautiful. Miss Rogers sang 'I Know when The going,' which was a very lively tune and sung well. Mr. Felton sang a Negro spiritual called 'Deep in the Whale'; this was just one of many songs he sang. Miss McDonald played a composition by Bach and then did a lively folk tune which she sang as she played. This made everyone laugh.

It was a very enjoyable concert and everyone who heard it was well satisfied.

Candlelight Service

Last Sunday night at Grace United Church, the C.G.I.T. and Explorer Girls and Trail Ranger boys held a candlelight service. We formed two lines, the C.G.I.T. leading with the Explorer and Trail Rangers following. Then we walked up the church aisle. We sat in the second rows on both sides of the church. After the minister finished with the sermon, we sang a hymn and the C.G.I.T. and Explorer Girls walked up the side aisles and back to the chancel and up the centre aisle to the choir sits. We had a prayer and the four leaders led in brief service. Then the lights were turned off and we lit our candles. We sang another hymn and as we were singing it we formed our two lines with the first two leaders leading. We went to the large Sunday school room. We all hope that everyone that was at church Sunday night was impressed with the service.

Moving Day

During the past week the operation of moving Mr. H. Milling's house on the corner of West and Graham Streets, to its new location, was carried out. The moving was directed by Mr. Johns, who is well known in this district for his skill in house-moving. The frame building was prepared for removal by taking parts of the foundation and the beams were slid crosswise under the house. Then the house was raised with house-jacks and greased beams were placed lengthwise, under it. The house was then ready to move. On Wednesday, February 8th, the house was pulled from its foundation with Mr. McConnell's tow truck and that afternoon it was pulled on greased logs to the end of the school lot. Wednesday was an exciting day for the pupils of The Prince Charles School, because the teachers permitted us all to watch.

Preparing the House for Removal

The house on the corner of The Prince Charles School grounds was prepared for removal to its new location early this week. Mr. Harry Milling, who bought the house, is having it moved to a lot on the Old Belleville Road, behind the Masonic Temple. Mr. Milling engaged Mr. Johns and his men to remove the house with the assistance of McConnell's tow truck. The men began putting the house on skids and getting it ready on Monday morning. Since then they have been working steadily until Wednesday night and during that time they had moved it a considerable distance. The weather kept them from further work on Thursday. The house is now at the front of the school grounds and will probably remain there until they are able to move it to its new location.

Another house not allowed to play as it would be too strenuous to play in two-legged ones. We sent another list for those who wanted to be goal judges, timekeepers, coaches and referees. We all hope the hockey will start soon.

is not paying 50 per cent. towards the construction of the new schools. The percentage the Province would be contributing would appear to be nearer 40 per cent.

Looking at it from another angle, the School Board received from the Province, in 1949, $10,000 to help meet payment of debentures maturing in that year and this year for the same purpose, $7,668. This would suggest that the School Board would have to increase its requisition to the Town for 1950 by $2,332.

In the article referred to at the head of this article it is stated that the School Board is requisitioning the Town for approximately the same amount as in 1949. This is quite true. The amount of requisition in 1949 was $46,997 but the School Board did not enter in the said requisition, under receipts, the amount of $10,000 which the Board was receiving from the Province, to help pay debentures in that year. The correct School Requisition for 1949 should have been $45,997 less $10,000 or $35,997 and the latter amount is the amount that was actually paid by the Town to the School Board, in 1949. As the School Requisition to the Town for 1950 is $46,900, there is an increased amount required for Public Schools to be provided by the Taxpayers, this year, of $10,909 over the year 1949.

Allowing that the School Board Grant from the Province, on going against payment of debentures in the year 1950, is, as suggested above, approximately $2,332 less than in 1949, this would account for an increase in the School Requisition for the year 1950 of $2,332, whereas there has been an increase of $10,-909.00.

Does this increase to schools in 1950 over 1949 represent the increased cost of school administration? We are unable to explain it in any other way.

In any case, the fact still is definite that the Taxpayers will have to provide $10,909 for Public School purposes more in the present year than last year, no matter what explanation or argument may be advanced.

At the last meeting of the School Board, held on the 13th instant, it was pointed out by the Board that the members are elected by the people, to administer the Public Schools and are directly responsible to the people. Granting this to be a fact, they are not only responsible for school administration but also the construction of new schools when deemed necessary. The Town Council is only a collection agency for the Public School Board. The said Board tells the Town Council how much money it requires, the Council then taxes the people for that amount and hands it over to the School Board.

Does this increase for schools in through the Press over this matter. Tell of carrying on a controversy It would, however, like the Taxpayer to know that the increase in the rate for 1949 of 48½ and for 1950 of Five M'ils, was beyond the control of the Council.

PLANTING A CHURCH IN A PAGAN CITY

Lesson Text: Acts 18: 1, 8-11; II Corinthians 6: 14-7: 1

Great Christian leaders, throughout the centuries have always been supported by an inner power, which seems to make them all but immune to danger, suffering, disappointments and opposition. They never seem to know when they are beaten. Indeed, never beaten, for they have unshakable faith in the final triumph of the cause to which they committed themselves.

Paul was typical. In this week's it is recorded that he had Athens. He had had a tough Athens. It was a snooty city, learning and culture. So, he himself was a notable prepared for them a sort of brow address, but it fell flat, could not move the intellectual Bats of Athens. So he left, ouraged? — perhaps — but he ot show it. He went to Corinth. Corinth was a different sort of e. It was a pretty wicked place. Paul had his hands full. Not he have to fight the pagans, but he had to fight people who were supposed to be on his side. However, Paul stayed with it for a year and a half, and did an excellent piece of missionary and organizational work. He left a great number to the Christian Church.

Of course, the church he founded was only a little affair, when compared to the great temples and the great pagan centres of worship. But he got a few consecrated men and women; that seemed to be enough. Given a few dynamic people, even in pagan surroundings, one can exert great influence. Our cities today are all but pagan, or at least there is much paganism in them: Drinking, licentiousness, increasing divorce rates, broken homes, robberies of huge amounts of money by experts. It is all there. The churches are there too. Christians and church members lose heart in the face of these overwhelming odds. Nineteen hundred years ago, it would have looked, to a the casual observer who saw Paul at work, as a hopeless task. But Paul never looked at it in that light. He planted the seed and knew it would grow.

After a year and a half, Paul left Corinth. But he kept in touch with them. He wrote several letters to them. He wrote to give the little church, advice and guidance. For the Christians in the pagan city were always running up against very practical problems of personal conduct. Here, in this lesson, Paul tells them not to get married to unbelievers. That was good practical advice. If the church was to be a strong church, people should marry within their membership. There are enough causes for friction in married life, without adding that of religious differences and loyalties. Paul says that, 'What has a believer in common with a non-believer,? he asks. 'And what agreement has the temple of God with idols?' And Paul adds: 'For we are the temple of the Living God.'

The idea of the body as a temple of God is a unique and noble one. The stupendous importance of the comparison becomes apparent the moment we think of the place the temple held in the lives of all Jewish people. It was beautiful; it was holy; it was a shrine in which the worshipper saw God. God has revealed himself in human beings.In a very real sense He dwells in us. Christians have an obligation resting on them, to keep it pure, lovely and of good report. For God dwells therein. And others of the pagan cities look to us to find God. The body is the symbol of our life; it is that which speaks to the world of our character and our Christian witness.

Then Paul tells the people in Corinth to come on out from the rest of the people. He tells them to make a clean break with their pagan past, and the pagan practices of those with whom they mingle in a social or business way. It was excellent advice then. It is good advice still. Too many Christians follow the crowd, follow the way of the world. It takes courage, even in our day, to adhere to one's Christian principles. But the world will not be rid of paganism until church members, on all moral and social issues, stand up and are counted.

WORLD DAY PRAYER AT TRINITY CHURCH FRIDAY, FEB. 24TH

For many years, the Women's Missionary Societies of the Canadian Churches promoted the observance of the Day of Prayer. Now, the Women's Inter-church Council, representing all Protestant church women in the world, sponsored the World's Day of Prayer.

On Friday, February 24th, the unbroken chain of prayer begins as the sun rises among the Fijian Christians, then passes from island to island and from continent to continent until at the close of the day, the prayers of the fur-clad Eskimos are borne to the ever-open ears of the Eternal. "The voice of prayer is never silent, nor dies the strain of praise, away."

All women of the Protestant churches are invited to unite in the World Day of Prayer service in Napanee in Trinity United Church, on February 24th at 3:00 p.m., when representatives of the churches of the town will take part in the service of prayer.

FARM FORUM REVIEW

This week the farmers of this County discussed the extremely controversial question: "Is There Enough Land"?

From the Canadian viewpoint this question may be rather absurd, as anyone who has viewed our countless unused acres can testify. Yet our economic and resources experts tell us that, taken as a whole, the world has only two acres per person, and at the rate of increase of population this ration will soon be diminished. Thus, from a world resource viewpoint, the question of arable land is a real and urgent problem. Dr. Vogt, in his book "Road to Survival" has given many people a great deal to think about, yet there are equally qualified authorities who disagree with Dr. Vogt's viewpoint and thus our experts are divided into two camps. (1) Those who believe we are in actual danger of a world-wide scarcity of food and (2) Those who believe that with proper regard for adequate soil care, there is more than enough land to feed the population of the world.

Thus the question for discussion last Monday evening was "Which situation do you believe actually exists", and (2) We are told there is a scarcity of food in the world. At the same time Canadian farmers are having difficulty disposing of their surpluses. What can be done about this contradiction?

From the reports submitted this week, the Forums in the County are composed of optimists, or those who believe that there is enough land to feed the world's population.

Here is what the Forums have to say. They agreed that there is sufficient land. There are millions of acres which could be used if there were several improvements and more encouragements for the farmer.

Amherst Island Forum says that there are 5000 acres not producing while Lake Road Forum farmers feel that they have too much land to work satisfactorily.

Much more could be obtained from the land used if proper soil conservation measures were taken as in such countries as Denmark, Scotland and Holland.

Undoubtedly a more scientific use of such land already under cultivation would increase productivity especially a proper analysis of soil.

Our farmers decried the desertion of farms by men who find a steadier employments in the urban manufacturing centre and cited certain reasons for this city ward flow of farm population.

1. Manufacturers and food processors receive too high a percentage of profit.
2. Excessive transportation costs.
3. Too long hours for a comparable wage scale to that of a factory worker.
4. Discouragement of extra labor or production by excessive income tax.

Cognizance of the overseas situation was shown by a recommendation that there should be some plan for development of natural resources in the hunger areas, i.e. China, India. Such a plan however would be difficult to execute owing to religious taboos and the communistic and totalitarian methods which serve to hinder and impede any national agricultural progressive farming methods from within these countries.

Another point was received which some authorities consider to be extremely important. That is birth control methods should be encouraged in those overpopulated countries to combat the increased longevity resulting from modernized medical practices and health education. This practice according to some authorities is the only way to avoid overpopulating the planet.

Another well-taken point offered was to educate the average person to intelligent food use, i.e., practical buying with regard to food value received from expenditures involved. This idea could be extended to the farmers to encourage productivity in cereals with highest food value and the selection of highest fertility seeds.

A novel sugges ion to transport our surplus foods to needy countries was submitted by having farmers, railway workers and stevedores give one day a month towards moving the food products to these needy countries.

An international clearing house was again recommended to take care of surplus even though this idea was not well received at the International Food Conference.

This week, we received a report from every Forum but one, which makes us very happy. We are sorry to hear that Riverside Forum is forced to close for this reason due to sickness. We have enjoyed hearing from Mrs. Richmond and feel sure that we'll be hearing from Riverside again next year. We'll be seeing you at our Rally.

Speaking of Rallies, the date for ours has not been decided on as yet, but will let you know in plenty of time to practice your entertainment numbers.

Hate to mention it, but our County funds are getting low just when we need a few dollars to finance our Rally. Has your Forum contributed its 50c per family per season? — Please!!

Increase In Local Hydro Rates

The Hydro-Electric Power Commission have increased the cost of power to all municipalities, and based on the power purchased by Napanee during the year 1949, the increase in cost of power for 1950 will be slightly more than $10,000.00. The Napanee Public Utilities Commission were prepared to absorb a portion of this increase but could not accept the full amount. As a result they have worked out an increase over all rates which amounts to approximately 7 per cent, effective with the March billing. The Hydro Electric Power Commission have consented to these new rates.

The Napanee Public Utilities Commission regret having to make any change in the rates but it is entirely due to circumstances over which they have no control. However, it is fortunate that they were in a position to absorb part of the increase as some towns and cities have had to increase their rates by as much as 25 per cent.

"Doug" Chambers Died Suddenly Last Wednesday

The sudden death, following a heart attack at his home, Market Square, Napanee, on Wednesday evening, February 15th, of "Doug." Chambers, came as a great shock to his family and many friends. He had been looking after his duties as fire truck driver and caretaker of the Fire Hall as usual up to the time of his death. The last call he answered as fire truck driver was early Wednesday morning the day of his death, when he took the truck to extinguish the fire which followed the crash of two transports on No. 2 Highway, west of Napanee, about three miles. He had been around as usual throughout the day and had not complained of feeling unwell.

'Doug.' whose Christian names were Gerald McDonald, came to Napanee thirty-eight years ago as an employee on the dredge which dredged out the Napanee River in that year. After the work on the river was finished he remained in Napanee and was employed as a mechan'c in different garages of the town. He joined the Napanee Fire Department about 35 years ago and had been the only permanent employee of the department for a number of years. He was born in Port Robinson, near Welland.

He is survived by his wife, formerly Gertrude Warner and three sons, George, Gerald and Tom, all of Napanee. He also leaves one brother, Bert, in Allenburg, Ont. and four sisters: Mrs. David Wilbur, Jamestown, N.Y., Mrs. Ella Sullivan and Miss Victoria Chambers, of Port Robinson, and Mrs. David Lampman of Fenwick.

H's funeral, which was conducted at the Wartman Funeral Home, on Friday afternoon, by Rev. C. D. McLellan, minister of Grace United Church, was attended by members of the Town Council and the Fire Department, besides many other friends. Interment will be in Riverview Cemetery.

The pall - bearers were eMssrs. Harry Vanalstine, H. J. Knuth, D. A. Miller, Fred King, Pat Patten and Charlie McDonald. Flower bearers were also members of the Fire Department.

Mumps Epidemic In This County

We are having a mild epidemic of mumps in Lennox and Addington County, at present. Cases are being reported to the County Health Unit almost every day. School children are the commonest victims, but several adults have also been affected. According to the regulations under the Public Health Act, all cases of mumps must be isolated for 16 days from the day the swelling starts. There is no quarantine for contacts however; and no placard is required. Many children have been coming back to school too soon after having had mumps. They will not be admitted until they have stayed out the required sixteen days.

Mumps is usually a relatively mild virus disease with few complications. Little treatment is required as a rule. When parents are suspicious of mumps in their children the family physician should be contacted.

News from Women's Institutes

In order that reports of organizations may be printed the week following the dates on which the meetings are held, we find it necessary to request that all copy be in our office not later than Saturday morning. We ask for the co-operation of our reporters, so that we may continue to be of service. — Editor.

ROBLIN WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

Eighteen members and two visitors attended the regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. H. R. Paul and Mrs. William Paul, Thursday. Mrs. Charles Kimmett, president, presided. The roll call was answered by 'How can I boost our Institute? Answers included faithful attendance, more demonstrations, sewing projects, more community activities. A discussion re opening of a Community Hall or Rest Room in Napanee, for rural ladies who have no place to spend a few hours while waiting for their men folk, or to relax during several hours of shopping. This project has already been brought before the County Council by the Roblin W. I. and the desire was expressed by the ladies that all other Women's Institutes in the County strengthen the appeal. It is understood most of the Council members were in favour of such a place of refuge.

A surprise parcel, donated by the president, contained a doily and three ladies tied in guessing the parcel's contents. In a draw, Mrs. E. McGuiness won the hand crocheted article — 5c a guess on the contents netted $1.00.

Mrs. William Paul conducted an interesting program, as follows: Mrs. Joan Smith gave a reading and Mrs. John Kimmett gave an interesting talk, with illustrations, on her visit to Casa Loma, Toronto, where she was accompanied by her brother, Mr. Frank McLaughlin. Mrs. Wm. Paul gave a reading and Mrs. Fred MacFarland, a visitor from Victoria W. I. conducted a contest which was won by Mrs. Robt. Blair. After refreshments, several woollen blankets were given out to ladies who had contributed woollen material to have made up by a company out West.

WILTON WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

Mrs. Byron Ruttan opened her home for the February meeting of Wilton W. I. There was an attendance of over thirty. Mrs. Davey presided. A report on the Girls' Project was given by the leader, Mrs. Arthur Burt. The program had been prepared by Mrs. Clifford Frink and Mrs. Don. Burt and was presided over by Mrs. Burt. Programme opened by singing of several community songs. Readings were given by Mrs. Don. Burt, Keitha Babcock, Mrs. Archie Simmons, Mrs. Don. Martin, Mrs. Harold Babcock. Misses Dolores and Patsy Burt contributed a vocal duet, which was followed with a heart contest, conducted by Mrs. Frink, and was won by Miss Freda Fingland. Delicious refreshments were served. Mrs. Davey expressed appreciation to Mrs. Ruttan, to the program and lunch committee and to all who assisted.

VICTORIA W. I.

Victoria Women's Institute was entertained on Thursday evening, February 16th, at the home of the president, Mrs. Harry Edgar. During the business period, there was a discussion on getting boys to enter the Calf Club. A report was read from the Health Unit, and this also was followed by a lengthy discussion.

The programme topic was 'Community Activities' in charge of Mrs. D. W. Weese. Current events were given by Mrs. Geo. Collings. Dora Weese gave a very interesting talk on the work of the Girls' Clubs. She has completed three projects and expects to start another one in the Spring. Mrs. Fred McFarland, Mrs. Geo. Brooks and Garnet, sang a trio. A Valentine poem was read by Mrs. Ivan McFarland. Mrs. Claude Martin gave a splendid paper on Neighbors. Mrs. D. W. Weese conducted a quiz for which two prizes were given, both being won by Mrs. Sanford Russell. Mrs. Merle Denison gave a reading on Home Relations. Mrs. Ronald Baker displayed a hooked rug and crocheted hot dish mats, which she had made. Mrs. Brooks displayed a hooked rug and demonstrated the right way to use a potato peeler.

Mrs. Ross Dudgeon conducted a contest, which was won by Mrs. Brooks. There was a draw on a pair of bath towels, which were won by Mrs. George Collings.

NAPANEE W. I.

The February meeting of the Women's Institute was held in the Agricultural room. Owing to the inclement weather, there was a small attendance. Mrs. M. Hudson, president, presided and the meeting was opened with the singing of the ode and repeating the creed and motto.

The treasurer, Mrs. G. Plumley, gave her report which showed a good balance on hand. The federated dues and other outstanding accounts were ordered paid. The legislative grant and the county grant were received. A euchre was arranged. Conveners are Mrs. J. Magee and Mrs. F. Collins.

Black; current events by Mrs. Powell, and community singing. A quiz was also conducted and was won by Mrs. F. Collins. Mrs. Everton Thompson of Bath, was to have been the guest speaker but owing to the storm, was unable to be present. Sometime in the near future we hope to have Mrs. Thompson as our guest.

An Important Announcement about

NEW MARGENE

When the sale of Margarine in Canada became legal 12 months ago, MARGENE was the first brand to appear on the market.

At that time Margarine had been banned from Canada for 25 years. There was no way of knowing what flavour and what texture would best appeal to the Canadian palate.

In the intervening 12 months, Canada Packers has carried on week-to-week tests to find out exactly the flavour Canadians wish.

We feel we have it in the NEW MARGENE—the flavour and the texture Canadians like.

If you have not tasted the NEW MARGENE try it now.

SPREAD IT on hot toast.
SERVE IT with hot vegetables.
BAKE with it.

You will like the NEW MARGENE

Worker, Employer To Pay More In Unemployment Ins.

Benefits To Be Extended To 165,000 More Workers

Amendments to the Unemployment Insurance Act passed by the House of Commons last week will extend benefits to 165,000 more Canadian workers. Weekly contributions by both workers and employers will be increased by six cents — one cent per day.

The measure, which has gone to the Senate for approval, and will likely receive the Royal assent immediately, will provide supplementary benefits from January 1 to March 31 each year, and this year until April 15th; make these payments equal to 80 per cent of standard benefit rates; bring another 90,000 salaried workers under the act by taking in all those earning $4,800 per year or less, and finance the new benefits by increasing contributions from both employers and employees by one cent per day.

A further announcement by Mr. Martin indicated that unemployment insurance would also be extended to cover some 75,000 workers in the lumbering and logging industry on the prairies and eastern Canada. British Columbia workers already come under the act.

Such workers will only be eligible to draw benefits during the logging season which is from November 1 to April 15 on the prairies and from November 1 to March 31 in eastern Canada.

NAP. CHURCHES OBSERVE 'WORLD DAY OF PRAYER'

The World Day of Prayer which was observed in Trinity United Church, Napanee, on Friday, February 24th, had the record attendance of one hundred and two. Miss S. Shorey acted as pianist. The president of Trinity W.M.S., Mrs. F. L. Hooper, was chairman for the service.

The theme of the service was 'Faith for our Time.' After a meditation, 'Looking at Ourselves,' Mrs. J. Haggerty, representing Grace United Church, conducted the devotional section, 'Searching our Hearts.'

The service on commitment, 'Dedicating Ourselves to God' was taken by the Salvation Army representative, Capt. McIntyre, of Campbellford.

The next part of the service, 'Intercession: Praying for Others,' was conducted by Mrs. (Rev.) Robinson, representing the Anglican Church. Prayers were read by Mrs. Robinson, Mrs. Cowling, Mrs. Brady, The National Anthem was sung, followed by prayers read by Mrs. Chambers and Mrs. Gross. Mrs. H. Moore sang very effectively the solo 'The Holy City,' accompanied by Mrs. Seymour.

The final part of the service, 'Giving to Others,' conducted by Mrs. Hooper, opened with a fine address by Mrs. George Switzer, on the Beginning of the World Day of Prayer and a statement of the allocation to various missionary enterprises, of the offering to be given.

Mrs. R. Mills, Mrs. Ballantyne, Mrs. Empey and Mrs. P. Asselstine, received the offering. Following the dedication of the offering, the meeting closed with the hymn: "As o'er each Continent and Island."

The offering received for missionary work of the Women's Inter-Church Council of Canada, was $17.

Those present felt the truth of the words: 'The Lord Is Here,' which ended each of the six parts of the service.

RESOLUTION FROM LOCAL LEGION ENDORSED AT RALLY

At the Zone Rally of the Canadian Legion held at Gananoque, one of three resolutions submitted by Napanee Branch No. 137, was endorsed.

It was pointed out that a large number of Canadian veterans have taken on large financial obligations as Canadian farmers and the present remuneration for farm produce is out of proportion to the present cost of living and operating procedure. It was thereby resolved that the Canadian Legion petition the Federal Government to investigate and set up a method of insuring for prices for produce sold by farmers and to investigate the cause of excessive margin between farm producers' receipts and the eventual cost to the consumer.

ADJOURNS HEARING CHARGE AGAINST HOTELKEEPER

Magistrate Garvin in the Police Court in Napanee last Thursday granted adjournment of one week at the request of the Crown Attorney, K. S. Ham, in the case of Gordon Hutchison, Richelieu Hotel, who is charged with serving minors in the beverage room of the hotel. Bail was set by Magistrate Garvin at $200.

A boy from Kingston, who with another lad from the same place had paid fines out of court for consuming liquor while under the age of 21, was on the witness stand when K. S. Ham walked him his age. W. H. Henderson, counsel for Mr. Hutchison, brought up the point that a witness is not allowed to give evidence regarding his own age. Mr. Ham in reply said he was not prepared to offer proof from an independent person or to produce a birth certificate, so asked for adjournment. Mr. Henderson objected but the Magistrate overruled his objection.

MR., MRS. CLUB HEAR DR. SPOONER

Dr. Roy C. Spooner, who is a Research Chemist at the Aluminum Company plant in Kingston, was guest speaker at the Mr. and Mrs. Club of Grace Church on Friday evening last. His subject was "China in Revolution", and he impressed his audience with his wide knowledge of the history and political background of the country where he spent many years as a United Church missionary. As he spoke of the many-sided work of Christian missions in China and pointed out the need for more money to carry it on, he made an earnest plea for more members to use the red side of the Dúplex envelope.

Solo numbers were given by Mr. Mervyn Clark, Mr. Jack Blakely and Mr. Walter Blakely led in a sing-song of familiar favorites. Mrs. Black was accompanist. Mr. Ralph Brown was chairman for the evening and conducted a very amusing contest. Worship was conducted by Mrs. Wilfrid Smith.

Mrs. Bert Cook, treasurer, reported that $23 had been sent from the club to UNICEF. The meeting was closed by the benediction pronounced by Rev. C. D. McLellan and the next meeting will be held on Friday, March 24th.

On Friday, in some undisclosed manner, he managed to break out of gaol, but within a short time was picked up down town by Constables Earl Baker and Harry Benn and returned to gaol.

Education Week March 5th - 11th

Promoters Urge Making "Education Everybody's Business"

CANADIAN EDUCATION WEEK is being observed next week, from March 5th to March 11th. In an interesting pamphlet issued by The Canadian Teachers' Federation the slogan is used:

"EDUCATION IS EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS!"

That education is everybody's business is a well established fact. There is no phase of life in which education is not important. Everybody is becoming increasingly conscious of the need for education.

The Provincial Department of Education in Ontario, it is quite evident, realizes the need to make education available, not only to boys and girls, but to adults as well. With that end in view, the best possible facilities are being offered to make education easy to obtain. New schools are being built at a cost of millions of dollars; courses are being revised to suit the needs of every pupil; teachers are being given training that will fit them for their big task; young people and adults, who are beyond the normal age for school attendance are being urged to continue their education along almost every line which they seek to follow. Without education, no individual can realize the most that life has for him.

Observance of Education Week is to start off on SUNDAY in the churches which, with the schools, share in the task of awakening young people to the importance of all that is highest and finest in life. . . .

MONDAY, the emphasis is on the home, which is every child's first school, where, before regular school begins, habits are formed, attitudes are developed and characteristics firmly fixed. . . . .

TUESDAY, the school, which is a progressive institution in an ever changing world, seeking to awaken inpiration, develop the learning skills and foster appreciation of beauty. . . . .

WEDNESDAY, the farm, where because of the rapid advances in agricultural science, success and a satisfactory experience, are becoming increasingly dependent on education. . . . .

THURSDAY, labour, which has been active in insisting on free and compulsory education and equal educational opportunity, for every child. . . . .

SATURDAY, the community, what the best and wisest parent wants for his own child, that must the community want for all its children. The work of the school does not stop with boys and girls — it follows them into the community, enriching every home benefiting all!

Keep Education Before You Next Week — Make

"EDUCATION EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS"

Conway-Sandhurst Home-School Meeting

The regular meeting of Conway-Sandhurst Home and School was held at the school on February 21st. Mrs. Stuart was appointed to act as secretary in the absence of Mrs. O'Neil. The meeting was opened in the usual manner and the minutes were read and approved. A motion was carried to ask for a donation from the parents, to assist in paying for the hot lunches provided the pupils during the winter.

The President, Mrs. M. Young, mentioned several programmes given over radio station CBL, Toronto, of interest to parents and children and asked all possible, to listen.

The programme took the form of an interesting discussion by ex-teachers as to how the Home and School would have been a benefit to them during the teaching and brought down to the present by some of the more recent teachers.

World Day of Prayer Service at Selby

The World Day of Prayer service was held in the Sunday school room of Selby United Church on Friday afternoon, Feb. 24th. Mrs. Allan Wood conducted the programme, assisted by the president, Mrs. George Price. The theme was Faith for our Time. Prayers of intercession were offered by Mrs. J. McConnell for our families, by Mrs. M. Armstrong for the children of the world, by Mrs. E. Price for the King and our leaders, by Mrs. W. J. Boothe for the Christians of the World and by Mrs. S. Winters for the missionaries, and for the World Council of Churches. A duet, 'Prayer Changes Things' by Mrs. L. McCutcheon and Mrs. E. Price, was much enjoyed. Miss L. Hendrie read 'Only an Earthen Vessel. The offering was received by Mrs. L. McCutcheon and dedicated in song by Mrs. M. Armstrong.

Rev. W. H. Clark gave a very fine talk on deep spiritual significance and the privilege of the World Day of Prayer. The World Day of Prayer has been firmly established on the first Friday of Lent each year with Christian people, from the rising of the sun to the going down thereof, and from the uttermost four corners of the earth, joining their voices together in constant prayer and praise to the one Great Father of all mankind. Canadian women first united in a Dominion wide observance of the Day of Prayer in 1920, on the first Friday of Lent, to pray for missions. In 1922, they joined with the women of the United States and by 1927 the World Day of Prayer was universally established. In 1949 some 81 countries observed the day, and in Canada alone, 2,241 meetings were held.

Mrs. Jim Vankoughnet rendered a beautiful solo. Mrs. Allen Wood, in speaking on Prayer, said; 'I know not by what methods rare, but this I know — God answers prayer!'

Mrs. Wood closed the meeting by pronouncing the benediction.

NO POWER CUTS LIKELY IN 1950 CHAIRMAN STATES

Power rationing will be unnecessary this year, Chairman Robert Saunders of the Ontario Hydro Electric Power Commission announced yesterday.

Making his second annual report to a joint conference of the Ontario Municipal Electric Association and the Association of Municipal Electrical Utilities, Mr. Saunders said:

"It is our belief that it won't be necessary to impose power restrictions in Ontario in 1950. There will be no necessity for the continuance of daylight saving in any municipality, either from the standpoint of peak load demand or from the standpoint of energy."

By next July three units of the Des Joachims hydro development, on the Ottawa River, would be generating 180,000 horsepower for the province. By January 1, 1951, that $75,775,000 project would be providing an additional 400,000 horsepower, he said.

From the Pine Portage development on the Nipigon River, Mr. Saunders said, the initial output of 80,000 horsepower could be expected by September. Pine Portage would cost the province $26,400,000.

A tunnel generating station on the Mississagi River would be in service by June, producing 56,000 horsepower. In addition, a line system connecting generating stations in Northern and Southern Ontario would be finished during the summer.

"The later two projects," Mr. Saunders said, "will protect the people of Northern Ontario against a power shortage during the coming fall and winter."

All other hydro projects were proceeding on schedule and would come into service during 1951 and 1952, with a total increased generation of 1,400,000 horsepower.

The only final solution to Ontario's growing power requirements, he said, lay in the development of the province's natural waterways. "Steam plants are definitely not the answer," he declared.

Labor's Majority In British House Reduced To Seven

Both Major Parties Considering Tactics

The British Labor Party's overall majority in the House of Commons has been reduced on Monday to seven, following the returns from North Scotland constituencies.

It is expected, however, that Attlee will attempt to form a government and carry on. Labor members and the party's national executive are expected to meet to-night (Wednesday) to weigh the issues. Winston Churchill, Conservative Leader, already has had tactical discussions with his party chiftains and the Conservative Consultation Committee. The Liberals, who won only nine seats, have also held a meeting.

British morning newspapers pinpointed three issues, on any one of which the Tories might launch an assault which could collapse the Government and precipitate a new election:

Special finance measures due in March.

The Budget scheduled for just after Easter.

Appointments to the new Iron and Steel Corporation which would control a nationalized steel industry.

There are signs of revolt in the Labor party itself. Left wingers in the party are reputed rallying their forces for an early trial of strength with the more moderate members of the party.

FORGING AHEAD

Announcements from both the Provincial Government and from Ottawa, in the past week, show no lack of optimism or faith in our country. The Ontario Government has outlined a five-year plan of road construction that is better and bigger than the most visionary motorist had dared to dream. The main feature of the plan and that in which we, here in Napanee, are particularly interested, is the construction of the dual highway from Windsor right on across the Province, to the borders of Quebec. Motorists from here, who dreaded the last thirty miles into Toronto, knew what a difference the completion of the dual highway from Oshawa to Toronto, has made. That part of the trip, which was a veritable nightmare, because of the traffic congestion, has now become the most interesting and the most welcome part of the trip. When the proposed highway is completed, and the dual road established all across the Province, we here, will be able to travel both East and West, in rubber-tired ease and comfort.

Most of us, at some time or other, have motored to Niagara Falls. We still have mental pictures of the five and six-mile bumper to bumper jam at Burlington. That is to go! How, it will be fixed, nobody yet knows. There will be either a tunnel or an overhead bridge. We will have to wait until the engineers settle that. We hope to live long enough to enjoy this new by-pass, and wipe out the memory of that long and tedious bottleneck which the Government says is the worst in America.

The Dominion Government comes into the picture at Niagara Falls, too. For announcement has been made that a new treaty has been signed, that will give Ontario another 500,000 horsepower of electricity from the Falls. There is no question we need the power. We are grateful to the Dominion Government for its share in putting this new treaty through, though we rater suspect that Chairman Saunders of The Hydro Electric Power Commission had a finger in the pie, too. If he had, all the better; it would indicate a spirit of co-operation between Ontario and Ottawa, which has been in a sort of a dim-out during the past few years.

A HINT

The British people have given the Labor Government a gentle hint, and not so gentle at that; that they have had about enough for the present.

The British people have had a tough time since the end of the war. When the war ended, it was hoped that everything would be different. All war-time restrictions would be abolished, but, as the controls went off in other countries, and food and everything else came back in abundance, the British people had to keep on with their rations, their shortages and their restrictions.

In the midst of all this, the Government went ahead with its programme of nationalization. There was some protest against the nationalization, so far established, but the record of nationalization and health measure, was hardly mentioned in the pre-election campaign. It wwas pretty well accepted that something along the lines followed by the Labor Government, had to be done, if the situation following World War One was to be avoided.

The main contention of the Opposition was that the Government had gone far enough. The Government had promised, if elected, to nationalize the steel industry. The British people were fed up with restrictions, and were sure they had enough socialization for the time being — so they voted as they did.

The latest, and seemingly final figures, give Labor a majority of seven over the combined Opposition. That is a narrow margin. Premier Attlee has decided to carry on. That is his duty. That is his responsibility. But, it can be taken for granted, that the Labor Government will take the hint and will not implement, at the moment, their legislation to nationalize industry. He will, probably, just mark time for a while, or until the issue is forced by the Opposition. The Opposition, on the other hand will acquiesce in this decision of Labor and then, at a time that seems opportune to them, force a vote of want of confidence. This would, in all probability be followed by the resignation of the Government and force another election.

What would happen then is anybody's guess!

CAN IT GO ON?

Just how long can the present situation as between organized Capital and organized Labor, go on? That is a question that many people must be asking themselves, these days. We talk about the cold war between Russia and the Western Nations. There is a cold war, too, between organized Labor and organized Capital.

Any student of the subject knows, all too well, the way in which Labor has suffered at the hands of the master group. A brief glance at any social history of England will record the efforts of the workers from the time that they were slaves of land owners, up on through five hundred years of gradual ascendancy to the point where they are recognized as having equal rights with all others. What has been achieved has been done through struggle, toil and pain. It would be contrary to the whole trend of history, to assume that the development has ended. What the future holds—no one knows.

But, with the growth of large scale production; corporations on the one hand and nationally organized labor unions on the other, the struggle becomes intensified. And, in that struggle, everybody is hurt. The coal strike now going on in The United States is affecting, not only the miners and the owners, but hundreds of thousands of people in many other industries. Schools are closed, transportation dislocated, industries shut down, homes insufficiently heated.

All the time, two groups of negotiators sit around a table and dicker over costs, prices and wages. Just how long can this sort of thing go on? Surely there must be some better way for Management and Labor, than a cold war. Perhaps the time has come for some new, bold experiment in co-operative effort for the common good. To be sure, experiments are being made in a small way and they seem to be working fairly well.

There can be no doubt but that, in the past, the mine owners abused the power they possessed. It is hard to escape the conviction that Labor, now in the saddle, are abusing their power, too. The abuse of power, whether in Labor, Management, Politics or anywhere else, is a bad thing — and it is hard for those who have the power in their hands not to abuse it.

Members of Management have told us that this cannot go on forever. Some day, business will fall off; Work will then be at a premium and we will have matters in our own hands again. Well, we do not want that either. Such a condition would only provide a transfer of power, and the cold war would go on. No! There must be a better solution than that. There are enough brains in the world to find this better solution—if the will and the spirit are there. What is needed, by both Management and Labor, is the will to work for the common good.

ALCOHOLIC ANONYMOUS

An Alcoholic Anonymous group is in process of formation in our town. Whether or not such an organization can be successful in a small town, remains to be seen. Certainly it has proved the most successful way yet devised for dealing with the alcoholic. The principles under which these societes operate are quite simple. Each member who is himself, an alcoholic, helps others. Having had all the experiences; knowing all the temptations to which an alcholic is subjected, they can deal with him in a way in which the outsider, no matter how well intentioned he may be, can never do. In helping others, the helper himself is helped. So the bond of mutual support is strengthened.

Meetings are not open to the public, but the writer has, on invitation, been present at a number of these meetings. He knows, personally, at least a dozen people whose lives have been completely changed by the A.A. There is a spirit of friendship and brotherhood prevailing among them that is one of the finest we know. If the A.A. becomes operative in our community, it will bring happiness to many homes, and a new zest for life to some who find the struggle against alcoholism too hard to carry on, alone.

Int. Sunday School Lesson, March 5th

EPHESUS A CENTRE OF CHRISTIAN INFLUENCE

Lesson Text: Acts 19: 1, 8-10, 18-20 / Ephesians 4: 25-32

Ephesus was an important city in Paul's time. It was a centre of religion and culture. The worship that dominated the life of the citizens was the cult of Diana. Diana was a goddess who was supposed to have fallen from heaven. A large image of the goddess was in one end of the temple. The people never saw this, but a silversmith Demetrius, made little silver statuettes which he sold to worshippers and tourists.

Paul went to this city and began to teach and preach in the synagogue. He carried on there for three months. But three months was about as long as some people could stand it. It is like any congregation, let the minister to invite a stranger in for a week or so and he might get away with it. But after a couple of months, the deacons will complain at the wear and tear on the property. There would be opposition as well to the things the guest was saying. Paul was up against that and left the synagogue for a public hall where he carried on for two years.

It was a successful mission. People were converted. Many who had practiced mysticism and magic got rid of their books and the movement grew.

There was a near riot one time when the stand-patters saw things happening to their way of life. The preaching of Paul did two things. It combatted superstition. That is bad. There is a lot of superstition in all of us and we hang on to it for dear life. There is superstition even in our own religion. Many of us still think of some phases of our religion which have long since ceased to have any meaning as essential to salvation. Let anyone challenge these and the heavens will drop on him. We have got to get a lot of superstition out of our religion before the Kingdom of God will come. It would not be a bad idea when preparing for this lesson just to go over these things in our own beliefs that could be labelled superstitious.

Then Paul faced even a worse problem than superstition. He interfered with business. That's bad. It is one thing to preach and to talk on general principles. But let a minister talk turkey from the pulpit and woe betide him. All he has to do is to apply the religion of Jesus to concrete situations and watch out. It is one thing to say "Thou shalt not steal". But let him talk excess profits and the value of current controls, and he will find businessmen in the congregation — if it is that kind of a congregation — telling him to lay off business, that he doesn't know the first thing about it and if there are landlords in the pews, the minister will be told that he knows nothing about the rents, and anyway he should stick to the gospel and leave business alone.

That is what happened in Ephesus. The little idol maker started to lose business because of Paul's preaching. So he got a lot of his pals and business associates to get after this stranger. However the town clerk stepped in and scared Demetrius and his crowd into silence and Paul went on with his job.

In time Paul left. He had varying experience and finally landed in Rome, from where he wrote letters to several of the churches he had established. Among them this one at Ephesus. The epistle to the Ephesians is a really great letter. In this part of it that is included in this week's study Paul writes some very simple and lovely precepts. Don't tell lies, he says. You are all members one of another. Don't get angry, but if by chance you do, get over it before you go to bed. Be done with bitterness, malice, slander and the like. Develop a tender heart and a forgiving spirit.

Well, there is nothing mysterious about all that. But because it is so simple we often overlook it.

ENTERPRISE MISSION BAND
A Valentine party was held recently by the members of the Enterprise Mission Band, under the leadership of Mrs. H. Holland, and Mrs. W. Jackson, in the Basement of the United Church, which was suitably decorated for the occasion with hearts and red streamers. The roll call by the secretary, Carolyn Ward, was answered by twenty-two children, with a word concerning Valentine's Day. The programme, in charge of the president, Nancy Jackson, began with a sing-song of well-known hymns, followed by a prayer response, a recitation, then a piano solo by Nancy Jackson, a vocal solo by Carol'ne Covert, followed with a piano duet by Mrs. Jackson and Gaye and a reading by Joyce Holland; a vocal solo with guitar accompaniment by Audrey Keller. A jolly hour was spent in playing various games, then a buffet lunch was served from a gaily decorated table by the leaders assisted by Mary Holland, June Jackson and Louise Hartman. Valentines were distributed to each one present and the party was closed with the singing of the National Anthem.

NEWS ITEMS BY PUBLIC SCHOOL STUDENTS

Red Cross Meeting

On Tuesday, February 14th, 1950, the pupils of Mr. Bell's room had a Red Cross meeting. We went into the Assembly Hall and had the business part of the meeting. Nancy Wartman read the minutes and Francis Reid took the collection. President Carolyn Donaldson then turned the meet'ng over to the Programme Committee chairman, Marlene Denning. Hazel McConnell then read a story of St. Valentine and then we had a play of 'Punch and Judy'. Joan Stevenson took the part of Judy and Harry McGregor the part of Punch. Elaine Henderson and Jessie Leary then sang 'Prahm's Lullaby' and Donna Asselstine read a poem about a Valentine. We then closed the meeting with 'God Save the King.'

Chicago vs. Detroit

Wednesday night February 15, Detroit played at Chicago. The Hawks won the game by a score of 3 to 0. There was no scoring in the first period. After a minute and a half in the second period, Prystia broke through to make it 1 to 0. About the half mark of the period and the game, Conacher had made it 2 to 0. Then a few minutes later Guidillon made it 3 to 0. That's the way it stood for the rest of the period and the game. Detroit was short Ted Lindsay, who was away for a week at Hot Springs, Arkansas. They had to recall two rookies from Omaha, for the game.

Posters for Carnival

Some Grade VIII pupils have made posters portray'ng the school carnival. These posters were made by different groups. One group was composed of Jimmy Hunter and Bob. Howie. In another group was Harry McGregor and Donald Richardson. The other two posters were made by girls, with Nancy Wartman and Maxine Herrington on one and Donna Asselstine and Jeanne Leary on the other. Besides these posters we have one more which was made by Glenda Herrington and it was brought to school by Frances Reid. This poster depicts some of the characters in fancy costumes. We hope these posters will help stimulate the pupils to take an active part in the carnival.

The Weather

The weather this week has been very bad. Ontario has had their worst snowfall this year. The town's workmen of Napanee, have got the roads plowed out and are doing their best to get it hauled away. The people of Napanee have got their walks shovelled off. We hope that the town men of Napanee will get the snow away so that the cars will not get stuck and people will be able to walk without falling.

Sleigh Riding Party

On Thursday evening, February 16 at 7:30, a sleigh drawn by two horses owned by Mr. Roy Baker, started driving along to Trinity Church to take ten of the girls from Mrs. Russell Thomas' Sunday school class for a sleigh-riding party. Mrs. Thomas was not able to go along, so Mrs. C. Walker came in her place. We all piled on the sleigh and it rolled along to the Palace Road. We had fun pushing each other off the sleigh into the snow. After we arrived back in Napanee, Mrs. Walker very kindly asked us to come to her home for refreshments. The evening was enjoyed by all.

Museum Relic Display

On Monday, February 13th, some museum articles from the Roman period and the Middle Ages, were displayed to pupils of The Prince Charles School, by Miss Dreyer, of The Royal Ontario Museum, Toronto. There was a small axe from the Roman age and hand-painted pictures of those times. There were bits of tile one-quarter to three-quarter inch thick with gold leaf worked in. Next came a small lamp with a place for olive oil in it. This was once owned by the Romans. There was also an iron key made by the Romans and half of a red clay saucer and two toy vases, one of clay and one of glass. The clothing used in that age was then made of wool and draped about the body. This garment was called a toga. A brooch of bronze held the toga at the shoulder. A wooden book, covered with wax and a clay pencil with a sharp point was used for writing on it. A bronze toy bird and top and a wooden porringer and a leather cup were also exhibited. The original books were made by monks and written in Latin. These also were displayed. The armour of a knight's son and his helmet and a chain mail coat with notched back was exhibited. The notch in the back of the coat was to let the horse be comfortable when the knight was riding. This brought to a close the exhibition of these two interesting periods in history. As a result of having seen these exhibits it created in the pupils a desire that a visit to The Royal Ontario Museum by school children, could be organized.

Jeanne Leary.

They were separated in groups: kindergarten, grades one and two were in one group and grades three and four were in another group; grades five and six in another and grades seven and eight in still another group. The weather was very suitable for the occasion and the ice was in good condition.

The loved one who has gone ahead
With those he left behind.

Lovingly remembered, but

by Don Graham

The old advice to "keep your fences mended" should be applied to your relationships with others.

Suppose, for instance, that someone opposes you in some matter. Probably you will resent his attitude. You may even ridicule his views or "fly off the handle" — even though you realize that in doing so you are only making matters worse.

Whenever this happens, don't just let matters rest. Try to make amends. Admit that perhaps you were a little hasty in what you said. Admit, too, that the other fellow may have had a case.

If you win a dispute or an attempt to get your own way with someone, don't rub it in. Try to regain his goodwill and do what you can to help him "save face".

But if you should be the loser, don't hold a grudge.

Similarly "fence-mending" is equally necessary when we wrong others or they wrong us. In such cases we should try, by expressing our regrets — or "letting bygones be bygones", to keep all contacts friendly.

Actually, few matters are important enough to warrant letting them impair your relationships with others in any way.

Your life insurance plans, too, may need mending from time to time. Additions to the family, the needs of growing children, increased living costs — these and other changes suggest bringing your life insurance plans up-to-date with today's needs. 16p

ST. JOHN'S ANGLICAN CHURCH GUILD

The regular meeting of the Ladies' Guild of St. John's Anglican Church, Enterprise, was held at the home of Mrs. Guy Penwick. Rev. F. O. Ware gave the Bible reading and opening prayer. The roll call was answered with a text containing the word 'prayer.' The roll call for next meeting will be a question on the prayer book. Tablets have all been handed in at the next meeting at the home of Mrs. Floyd Cowdy. Thank you cards for flowers and fruit sent by the Guild to sick members were read by the secretary, Mrs. Andrew Burgess. Reports of the finance committee and flower committee were read by Mrs. Andrew Burgess and Mrs. Miles Jackson, respectively. It was decided to finance the repairing of the choir robes and to reimburse Rev. Ware to the amount of ten dollars, for printing. Mrs. Earl Wagar and Miss Jessie Cowdy were appointed program committee for the next meeting.

At this point, Mrs. Ware acting president in the absence of the president, Mrs. Donald Lochead, declared all offices vacant and Rev. Ware presided for the election of officers which resulted as follows: President, Mrs. Don. Lochead; vice-president, Mrs. J. L. Wolson; secretary, Mrs. Andrew Burgess, treasurer, Mrs. N. L.B. Coburn. The secretary was requested to send a sympathy card to Mr. Sarah Burgess. A quilt top was donated by Miss Louise Lockridge. Mrs. Ware gave a piano solo and led in a sing-song, and the minister closed the meeting with prayer.

A dainty lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Jas. Cowdy and Mrs. Miles Jackson.

A committee of Mrs. Hedley Babcock, Miss Freda Fingland, Mrs. Don. Burt and Mrs. Harold Babcock was named to look after a special Easter program. Mrs. Perry read a message from the Dominion president to the Woman's Associations.

The program was in charge of F. McPherson, on 'Hobbies'. Readings were given by Fred McPherson, Geo. Henderson, Miss F. Fingland, Rev. R. Bonsteel, Mrs. A. Simmons, Mrs. B. Burt. George Henderson had charge of two contests, which were won by Rev. Bonsteel and Mrs. B. Dakey.

FARM FORUM REVIEW

Frank Smith is a draughtsman in a foundry, a chartered accountant, or a dishwasher in a dingy restaurant. He is, in short, a typical urbanite. If you were to ask him for his opinion on soil conservation the answer could and probably would be, "shucks", I don't know, that's the farmer's worry isn't it? They've making their living on the farm, let them look after it.

Frank Smith, the farmer, would give his opinion on soil conservation in words like these ..."sure I know those knolls back of the barn need reforestation, and the south fields should be contour plowed, but where do I get the time, or the equipment or the money?" Everybody should help pay for these conservation measures, because everybody has to eat, don't they?"

Our Frank Smiths soon must face the issue that conservation is of vital importance, to all, no matter who. When we do realize this and give soil conservation the support and consideration it deserves we will have taken the first step in preserving our most basic and priceless asset — our rich fertile soil.

Towards this end, the Agricultural Institute of Canada prepared a brief and presented it to the Cabinet last February. Here are the main recommendations of the brief:

1. The Canadian Government should establish a national policy of soil and water conservation and land use for Canada and should provide for the necessary legislation.

2. The Provincial Government should provide legislation and offer guidance to enable municipalities and farmers to carry out conservation measures.

3. Local self-government committees should be set up under provincial legislation to carry out conservation projects.

4. Conservation activities should be co-ordinated by a national committee on soil and water conservation and land use on a joint Dominion and Provincial basis.

5. Trained advisory service should be provided by Dominion and Provincial governments.

Under the discussion panel this week were these questions:—

1. What signs are there in your community that point to the need for soil conservation.

2b What could it do?

With a few exceptions the farmers agreed that there are definite signs of erosion in their communities, such as spring floods, field gullies, falling water tables, acres of useless soil on hill tops, decreasing crop yields and some dust blowing. Our Forums are aware of the insidious factors which steal our prime top soil and advocate such measures as extensive reforestration, increased soil care such as addition of more humus, fertilizer and extensive drainage. Bicknell's Corners would advocate the replacing of every fallen tree with two new seedlings, such a process has been followed in the Scandinavian countries for some years with assurance of a continuance of their natural forest wealth. Varty Lake wonders if a series of hedges planted on the sides of sandy knolls would check the excessive spring run-off.

We, in this County, are taking a definite stand for conservation by our participation in the Napanee River Valley Conservation Authority. Most of the Forums approve of this scheme if it will serve to raise the water table of this district and slow up the run off. This scheme when completed, will restore, to some degree, the status quo of this farming district as it was in former years.

The opinion of the various Forums was very similar on this issue. It was agreed that steps should be taken to maintain and increase our soil fertility. A local committee for this purpose would be practical, says Hawley Forum. It would set up an efficient method of rotation and encourage soil testing, plowing under crops. Wilton recommends a field demonstration in the Spring and, by means of soil traps, measure the amount of top soil carried off and then, after a period of erosion control, conduct another test to try the effectiveness of the control.

Not all Forums think that such a Committee would be necessary, inasmuch as there is no appreciable damage by erosion in the vicinity of these Forums. Easy Street Forum wondered if a local Committee would have sufficient technical knowledge to be effective in promoting control measures.

This week we had 15 Forums reporting, a decrease of seven from last week.

River View Forum had Meecham Breault of that Forum give an account of his trip to the Niagara convention. Here's the big news all Forumites: Rally will be held April 26th, Monday night at Napanee Town Hall. Full particulars will be given to your Secretaries. Rallies mean expenses; expenses mean bills; and bills just have to have a credit balance. Please, if you haven't yet done so—send in your contributions.

World Day of Prayer Observed at Moscow

Moscow, Feb. 24 — The World Day of Prayer Service was held in Moscow United Church and was a union service of Anglican, Free Methodist and United Church of this district. Mrs. Roy Lampkin was key woman for the day and Mrs. Earl McNeil was at the piano.

Mrs. Leslie Wilson extended an invitation for the gathering to meet in St. Anthony's Anglican Church, Yarker, in 1951. Rev. Mr. Olham was appointed key woman for the meeting. Mrs. Trevor Armstrong led in prayer and the members repeated the membership purpose. The president, Jean McNeil, was in charge of the meeting. The minutes were read by Jean Baker. The roll was called by Mrs. Trevor Armstrong in the absence of Duane Halliday. The worship service was conducted by Jean McNeil, assisted by Marlene Freeh, David Huffman and Reginald McQuay. The business period was conducted by Mrs. Armstrong. Robert Jackson was chosen to look after the collection of Christmas cards for China. TAMWORTH

Tamworth, Feb. 25. — Mrs. F. W. Frost spent her home Tuesday evening, to the members of the Women's Auxiliary of the United Church. Due to the very bad weather, there were only nine members in attendance. Mrs. Alonzo Wagar was in charge of the devotional period. Chapter in the Study Book was taken by Mrs. Smith Gilmore. The topic was "Maintaining the Social Order". This chapter portrayed the vastness of the work of the United Church, in all phases of life. Among other things disclosed in the chapter was the fact, that the United Church has seven Receptive Homes, stretching from Vancouver to St. John's, Newfoundland, and that the United Church was very active in bringing about unemployment insurance and collective bargaining in order to give the workingman a fair deal against capitalists.

Day of Prayer

On Friday, February 24th, members of the United Church Auxiliary joined with the Auxiliary of Christ Anglican Church at the Anglican Church, where the Annual Day of Prayer was observed. The World Day of Prayer programme was carried out. Mrs. J. E. Huffman was leader with Mrs. B. Wannamaker and Mrs. R. F. Bell assisting. Prayers were offered by Mrs. C. Bell, Mrs. George Brown, Mrs. John Hendrick, Mrs. D. O. Ward, Mrs. R.F. Bell and Mrs. C. R. Tucker. Mrs. Clarence Lochead rendered a solo "Near to the Heart of God," and Mrs. Ware officiated at the piano throughout the service. Rev. P. O. Wolf gave a brief talk on missionary work, which was most interesting.

Women's Institute Meeting

The February meeting of the Womens Institute was held in the Town Hall. There was a good attendance of members, considering the bad night. The opening ceremonies were dispensed with and a short business session was held as follows: The secretary read a letter that had been received from the local Legion Branch asking the co-operation of the W.I. in regard to funds for a covered skating rink, as a memorial to those who lost their lives in the last war. After some discussion in regard to a donation toward sweaters for the local Addington hockey team, it was moved by Mrs. W. G. Richmond and Mrs. R.F. Bell, that we have a euchre in the Town Hall, early in March, and that the proceeds go to help pay for the sweaters. The National Anthem closed this part of the meeting after which the wizards of the euchres and guests joined in playing euchre for the remainder of the evening. Prize winners were Mrs. Cecford Milligan, Mrs. Lilly McGregor, Leonard Flynn and Cecford Milligan. Lunch was served by the members.

The temperance program at the Sunday school session last Sunday, in charge of Dorland Jackson, consisted of a reading by Mrs. Allen Wood and a solo with guitar accompaniment, by Dorland Jackson.

There was very stormy weather last Friday, for the Day of Prayer, which cut down the attendance but those present enjoyed a very consecrated meeting and Rev. W. H. Clark gave an address in the absence of the pastor. The meeting was in charge of Mrs. Allen Wood.

"Split Salt is Never All Gathered." It's an old Spanish proverb. Savings once spent, are also hard to replace. That's why it's better to go and see Edward Powell, manager of the Bank of Montreal about a personal loan, than sell your bonds in a time of emergency. Your bonds can serve as security, and get you a much lower rate of interest on your loan. The whole is repayable in easy, monthly instalments.

They know...

IT IS NOT MONEY ALONE

More than a million and a half people deal with the Bank of Montreal, and they know that it is not money alone they deal in when they come to us. It goes beyond that. These people have confidence in the Bank; they know that their money is safe with us, and that they will be fairly treated in their business dealings.

We try to keep constantly in mind that the Bank is not primarily an impressive row of figures or an imposing building. We think neither of the Bank as the local man-ager and his staff, on whom our customers can always call for friendly counsel and service. Our branch-banking system is founded upon this relationship.

A man's relationship with his bank man-ager is, and should be, a highly personal one. Yet in each of our 549 branches, behind this confidential relationship, there stand the resources and stability of a nation-wide, century-old institution. Thus the strength of the Institution is linked with human un-derstanding in the service of the individual.

I believe sincerely that this is the spirit guiding our relations with the public today. Without such a spirit, the Bank could not maintain or justify its place in the economy of this country, nor would we be able to give our best to Canada in the years of great promise which lie ahead.

SUPREME COURT UPHOLDS VALIDITY RENT CONTROLS

The Supreme Court of Canada, in an unanimous decision, Wednesday, March 1st, upheld the validity of federal rent controls.

The decision of the court was announced by Chief Justice Thibaudeau Rinfret. The seven justices each rendered opinions.

All agreed that parliament has the right to enact legislation which deals with national emergencies arising out of war.

They also agreed that it is up to parliament to decide the length of time necessary to eliminate such legislation when the emergency no longer exists.

This decision of the court is in the nature of an opinion and in a legal sense not binding on anyone.

It is an answer to a federal question put to the court which asked the justice to decide:

"Are the Wartime Leasehold Regulations ultra vires — beyond the jurisdiction of parliament — either in whole or in part and if so what particulars or to what extent?"

The decision means the federal government can ask parliament to extend controls on domestic rents but ordinarily would have expired March 31. It is believed the extension will be for one year to March 31, 1951.

HEALTH UNIT TO IMMUNIZE COUNTY CHILDREN

A program of immunization is being arranged for the schools in Camden, Richmond, North and South Fredericksburgh, Adolphustown and Ernestown. This is primarily for the purpose of protecting children against Diphtheria, Whooping Cough and Tetanus (lock-jaw.) While it has been proven that children should be immunized against these diseases during the first year of life, we are still finding newcomers to school who have not had this protection.

It is hoped that parents in the County will avail themselves of this service and bring all preschool children to their nearest school.

The schools in Camden and Richmond will be visited during the week of April 17th and all the others during the week of April 24th.

It is proposed to notify as many families as possible of the time and date for the Clinic in their nearest school.

Highway Dept. Calls For Tenders For Napanee Bridge

To Replace Narrow Bridge On No. 2 Highway Over Napanee River

An advertisement was inserted, under the authority of the Department of Highways of Ontario, in a Toronto paper, last week, calling for tenders for the erection of a new bridge over the Napanee River at the east end of the town, to replace the present narrow structure. No time for the building of the bridge was stated in the advertisement, but it is believed by local officials that it will be erected during the present year. Its location, according to plans drawn up by the Department, will be slightly west of the present bridge and the structure will be on an angle to eliminate the existing sharp turn at the north side of the river.

The present bridge has become a serious traffic hazard with the steadily increasing number of vehicles which use No. 2 Highway. In the past there have been numerous serious accidents caused by heavy trucks and transports being unable to make the turn under the C.N.R. stone bridge. The present bridge was built in 1909 to replace the old covered bridge erected in 1840, and at the time it was erected was found adequate to take care of all the traffic which passed over it.

The new bridge will be welcomd by motorists and particularly by drivers of transport and heavy trucks, who have found the narrow bridge and sharp turn a serious menace.

DR. AND MRS. W. P. FLETCHER REACH 50 YEARS WEDDED LIFE

Unwavering faith in h's calling and undiminished devotion to duty are bringing a rich reward to the Reverend W. P. Fletcher, B.A., D.D., of Oshawa, now in semi-retirement, who with Mrs' Fletcher, his constant helpmeet and companion, observed his fiftieth wedding anniversary Wednesday, March 1st. Dr. Fletcher has been preaching for fifty-three years and throughout their fifty years together, Mrs. Fletcher has been an ever-ready deputy, able to fi'l a pulpit, instruct a class, or bring up a family of four boys and a girl, while he journeyed far afield in pursuance of his duty.

Now they have reached the half-century mark together, and it would be fitting to quote from the Book of Leviticus: "And we shall hallow the fiftieth year, a jubilee shall that fiftieth year be unto you."

Their moving about is done and they are happy in the home returning to Dr. Fletcher, with the comforting assurance of a job well done. "In the autumn, when my dear wife was born and the same county in which I was born."

Mrs. Fletcher was the former Miss Gertrude Gadsby ,daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Gadsby, who came from Smithers, Yorkshire, in 1870, and settled in Cedar Dale. Mrs. Fletcher was a pupil at Cedar Dale School which is now the Canadian United Church and also attended the old Oshawa High School, then on Centre Street, after obtaining her First Class Certificate she taught at the Base Line School, now on Highway No. 2A, until her marriage.

Dr. Fletcher is justly proud of being the fourth generation of his family to be Canadian born. His parents were Mr. and Mrs. William H. Fletcher of Scott Township and he related that h's grandfather built the first brick house in Newmarket before 1812. He made the bricks on his own farm, and the house is still standing and has been converted into apartments.

Dr. Fletcher attended Newmarket High School and from an early age he saw himself as a minister. He laughingly recalled preaching sermons to his sisters.

"My mother fostered the idea," he said, "and although in humble circumstances my parents contrived to send me to Queen's University, from which I graduated in 1896. I worked hard, and took all sorts of jobs and summer charges and was ordained in 1835. I was married on July 1 of the same year as paster of the Oshawa Christian Church, now Centre Street United Church."

His sense of humor came to the surface again as he added, "The electric railway and I came together. That's torn up, but I'm still running."

Oshawa was then a community of 5,000 population, and Dr. Fletcher spent a few moments rem'nicing about the old families that he knew, mentioning among others the Henrys the Licks and the Guys. He stayed in Oshawa till 1899 when he went to Toronto to establish the Canadian Church there.

In 1902, Dr. and Mrs. Fletcher were called to Drayton, near Guelph in Wellington County. They spent nine years there, minist'ring to a people who formed two churches that were 23 miles apart, and many miles they travelled in the grey evenings and the cold cutter and it was here that Mrs. Fletcher often deputized for her husband.

The next move was to Keswick on Lake Simcoe, where they stayed seven years. When Dr. Fletcher was asked to undertake Sunday school work, and during seven years he travelled in every province and 34 of the 48 United States. He estimated that he had visited 260 townships in Ontario. For his rural work and religious education Mr. Fletcher was awarded the degree of Doctor of Divinity by Defiance College in Ohio. The following year, 1925, he was called back to Oshawa, as pastor of the newly named Centre Street United Church.

What a change was there from the rural community he had known thirty years before. Oshawa had become industrialized and the population had grown from a settled 5,000 to a floating 25,000. Followed shortly the lean years of the depression, and the Fletchers yearned to be in a country charge once more. In 1931 they moved to Odessa; from 1939 to 1944 they were in Marmora, and from 1944 to 1946 in Bowmanville.

Dr. Fletcher has been a member of the Masonic Order for nearly fifty years. He joined the order in Drayton and has transferred his membership with every move he has made. He has been past-master in two different lodges and in one lodge, master twice. He is recorded as being the first affiliated member of Cooper Lodge, Oshawa, being the first member to join after the charter for the new lodge had been drawn up. In h's travels in Canada and the United States he has always made contact with Masonic brethren and has probably visited more lodges than the average member. After being away, he is now re-affiliated with Temple Lodge.

They have a family of four sons and a daughter, all of whom have had the privilege of University education. The eldest son is Llewellyn, a graduate of McMaster and Yale, who is at present professor of English at the High School, Ocean Falls, B.C. At one time he taught at Keiro University, Japan. He flew to Oshawa for the family reunion, and his father is stirred to wonder of mcdern science that can bring his son thousands of miles in a few hours.

"It is still a remarkable thing to me," he said. "I can't get over it."

The next son is the Rev. William G. Fletcher, a graduate of Victoria College and Union Theological College, New York, who is at present minister of Wooler United Church. The younger sons, Harold and Clarence both graduates of Queen's. Percy is living in Oshawa, and George recently moved to Regina.

Their only daughter, Pearl, is Mrs. D. F. Aylesworth, of Bath, near Napanee. She too, is a graduate of Victoria and has done a considerable amount of missionary work, particularly among the Navajo Indians. She has married into a United Loyalist family, holding ancient deeds to crown lands on which their home is built.

They have twelve grandchildren, and the family gathering on Wednesday brought the greatest happiness to this well-loved couple who are still extremely active in church work and the good of the community. — The Oshawa Daily Times-Gazette.

Word was received last week by Toronto friends of the sudden death at Cairo of Nellie Gray Harshaw, wife of Archibald L. Harshaw, and for mount Que., on Saturday, February 25th.

Mrs. Harshaw was stricken with a coronary thrombosis while riding camel back on an excursion to the Pyramids. Accompanied by her husband, she left Montreal a month ago for a European and Mediterranean trip.

Mrs. Harshaw was born in Woodstock, Ont., and had lived for some years in Westmount. Her husband is manager of securities for the Bank of Montreal. Burial took place in the British Cemetery, Cairo.

COLEBROOK WOMAN DIES OF BURNS

Mrs. John Mills, 41, of Colebrook died in Kingston General Hospital Tuesday, February 28th of injuries received when a can of coal oil, ignited by a kitchen stove fire exploded in her face.

The victim was discovered late on Friday, unconscious on the floor, by her son Arthur. Most of her clothing had been seared through by the blast and walls, floor and ceiling of the room were ablaze.

Mr. Mills who had been absent with his son in a nearby barn extinguished the fire and a friend, Earl Saul, summoned a doctor from Yarker.

Mrs. Mills was taken to hospital by ambulance.

Mrs. Mills apparently believed the fire in the stove to be out when she poured in part of a one-gallon can of oil. A flash of flame is thought to have ignited the remainder. Force of the blast ripped the can to shreds.

Damage to the kitchen is estimated at some $200. The home, owned by Jim McMahon, was being occupied by the Mills family until Spring.

SEES CONTROL OF PORK PRICE

The Ontario Hog Producers Association decided on Thursday to go into the the Marketing business.

A committee was instructed at the association's annual meeting to start work on organization of machinery to place control of pork prices in their own hands.

The decision, passed in resolution form, is designed also to keep surpluses off the market, thereby ensuring themselves highest prices for their products.

George Johnson of Owen Sound said farmers now are at the mercy of packers. Less than 10 per cent of Ontario hogs are sold on the open market today and the remainder are "dumped" direct to the packers, he said.

Dr. J. E. Lattimer, former economics department head at Macdonald College, Ste. Anne de Bellevue, Que., told the convention that price ceilings and post war contracts have meant $640,000,000 loss for farmers in the last ten years.

Five other resolutions it requested a 36-cent minimum for Wiltshire sides at seaboard and raised the levy from $2 to five cents on each hog sold to finance the association.

The swine producers approved rewards and bush calls for each county group to send three delegates to Gtawa, along with some representatives of the provincial organization. They would interview members of parliament to urge support for the demand that the floor price for Wiltshire sides be restored to 36 cents a pound from the present minimum of 32½ cents.

New Rates, Benefits For Unemployed Effective July 1st

Employee - Employer Contributions Raised One Cent Per Day

Amendments to the Unemployment Insurance Act, enacted recently, will result in the number of contribution classes being reduced and payments by employees and by their employers have been equalized throughout all classes. An additional higher class has been created in line with the raising of the ceiling for insurability.

The creation of the new class will, however, not result in payment of additional weekly contributions by persons in that category until July 1st, 1951. Maximum benefits payable at present is $14.40 a week for a single person and $18.30 a week for a person with a dependant. After July 1st, 1951, the maximum for a single person will be $16.20 a week and for a person with a dependant $21.00 a week.

Following are the new rates of contributions and benefits. The contribution table includes the additional cent per day for supplementary benefit. As already stated the new rate of contribution and benefit will become effective on proclamation probably on July 1st, 1950. Supplementary benefit becomes payable immediately.

Range of Weekly Earnings	Rate of Contribution: Employer	Rate of Contribution: Employee	Rate of Benefit: Person Without Dependant	Rate of Benefit: Person With a Dependant
Less than $9.00	18c	18c	$4 20	$4 80
$9.00 to $14.99	24c	24c	6 00	6 90
$15.00 to $20.99	30c	30c	8 10	10 20
$21.00 to $26.99	36c	36c	10 20	12 90
$27.00 to $33.99	42c	42c	12 30	15 60
$34.00 to $47.99	48c	48c	14 40	18 30
$48.00 or more	54c	54c	14 40	18 30
	After July 1, 1951		16 20	21 00

A further amendment increases the amount which a person receiving unemployment insurance benefit is allowed to earn without losing any benefit. At present the amount cannot exceed a daily average of $1.50. The amendment now approved by Parliament will raise this to $2.00, subject to other provisions of the section.

Fire On Monday

Fire had broken out in the ceiling above the room situated near the west wall of the building and quickly spread to the second floor. Prompt action by the Fire Department confined the blaze to the second floor, where the sheeting of the wall and roof was quite badly damaged. No damage was done to the contents on the ground floor.

On Tuesday evening of the last week the Fire Department were called to the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. Lawry where coal gas, escaping from the furnace had forced them to ask for assistance. The contents of the furnace was shovelled out into the yard from the cellar window.

Drive For Funds For Red Cross Work Starts This Week

Canadian Objective Is $5,000,000

The appeal of The Canadian Red Cross Society is being made this month. Five Million Dollars is needed to operate during this year. The Lennox and Addington County Branch is asked for Three Thousand Dollars as its quota. The Society operates sixteen different activities; Lennox and Addington County Branch operates these most suitable to its needs, such as: Home Nursing Courses, Disaster and Relief Loan Cupboard, Swimming and Water Safety, Nutrition for County Children. Anyone can be a member of this society by donating One Dollar.

The Red Cross canvasser who calls at your home during the Society's current campaign is a volunteer worker — working in the interests of every Canadian . As a matter of fact, ninety-seven percent of the workers who work to make Red Cross Services possible are unpaid volunteers. Without the volunteers, the Society could not operate. The three per cent of Red Cross workers who are paid, fill jobs which require constant supervision from full-time employees. We point this out to let you know that the dollars the Red Cross needs to maintain its service, go to bring comfort wherever disaster strikes — and other such services which make Canada a better land in which to live. . . . The Canadian Red Cross Society is YOURS!

CHAINS

We were present at the City Hall in Toronto on Monday, when Mayor Saunders was presented with a chain of office. It was presented on behalf of the fifteen firms in the city which were over a hundred years old. The invitation to attend was hardly merited. We got there because of an association with one of these old firms.

It was quite a do. Being an invited guest, we had a preferred position away at the back of the council chamber. A lady reporter, seated nearby, asked what is this chain business, anyway? In our simple way we tried to describe the significance of the event. "I hope he likes it," she said. "I hate heavy necklaces!"

Well, the chain itself is something. It is made of gold, and resembles one of those things the Masons and other Lodge Members wear on ceremonial occasions. The Lieutenant-Governor made the presentation. It was all done in apple-pie order. Neat little speeches, telling what a nice city Toronto is, and what nice people everybody was, and then it was over.

The Council then went into regular session and we waited a while to see what it was like. But it was like any other council; not a bit different from the Napanee Council or the County Council, except that the Members of the Board of Control and the Aldermen had soft chairs to sit on, and rather posh surroundings, which seemed to add a bit to the importance of the office. We left before things got too hot, lest we get into the argument, too.

A SETTLEMENT

An evidence of how dependent we all are on each other has been forthcoming in the recent coal strike. It is interesting how much we take for granted. We rarely, if ever, think about where our coal comes from. We reach for the 'phone and order what we need, expecting that it will be delivered. And then, coal miners in Ohio, Pennsylvania, and Kentucky, go on strike and kick over the apple cart. Then we take a bit more interest in the where and how of coal production. It makes a difference when our comfort and convenience are interfered with.

As outside observers, looking on the American scene, it is interesting to note some of the reactions of the Americans themselves, to the strike. The United States is the great champion of private enterprise. For that, they will fight to the last ditch—almost. They want no controls, no government interference, and a minimum of regulations. But as the strike continued and personal convenience was interefered with, the Press, all across the country, clamored for the Government to do something. President Truman was urged by newspaper editors, to get busy. He was condemned for not taking action. Free enterprise is good enough for plain sailing, but when the weather gets a bit rough, they all, with one accord, call for the government to act.

Well the government finally cleared the decks for action. When it seemed as though the miners and the operators were deadlocked, the President asked Congress for power to take over the mines. That was really too much, and the negotiations speeded up. In a couple of days it was all over and the miners are back at work again down in the bowels of the earth, digging coal to keep the nation warm and the wheels of industry turning.

There is no doubt but that the settlement was a victory for the miners. To be sure, they had lost a lot of time and it will take a long while to make up what was lost. It must not be forgotten, though, that with large stock piles on hand, there might have been lay-offs, anyway. So that the financial loss to the miners may not be as great as appears at first sight.

The miners get an increase in wages; increase in welfare funds. The greatest gain by the operators is a two-year contract. This latter will insure a steady market for a two-year period, and obviate the necessity of another debate, next year.

As always happens, the public will have to pay. The price of coal will be increased, perhaps thirty to fifty cents a ton.

In a sense, the victory is one for the President, too: He had no use for the Taft-Hartly law — a law designed to make people work. When it came to a showdown, the law broke down and the President's judgment was vindicated. In spite of all the demands for President Truman to take over the mines, now that the strike has been settled, he is in a much stronger position than ever.

OF COURSE IT IS

That is the impression which educationalists want to get over to the public, during this week, which has been designated "Education Week". Time was when education was a possession reserved only for the few. Sufficient that the rest of society had thick heads and strong backs.

Compulsory education did not become law without a lot of fighting and bitterness. Indeed, it is only within recent years that compulsory education has been enacted in Quebec and Newfoundland. When the debate on the issue took place in those Provinces, there were many who held that it was a dangerous thing to educate everybody.

Of course, education is not the last word in creating a happy and contented people. Something more is needed. There must be idealism, high purpose, and noble aims. Education, in the right use of that word, supplies these; but, in the every day view of education as imparting knowledge, hardly enters the field of spiritual values.

STILL — education is everybody's business! We are all in it, even though we many not have children of our own attending school, we at any rate, pay taxes and have, at least, a monetary interest in the subject.

In recent years, a great deal more attention has been given to education than formerly. The beautiful new schools we have are a monument to this new interest in the children. It is no longer thought adequate to have a little red school house, the best is none too good. And a visit to these schools, demonstrates the care and the thought that has been given to the production of congenial and pleasant surroundings for the young people of our community.

In the modern world, the need for a personal interest in education has been demonstrated in two areas. Within twenty-five years, Russia, which was an illiterate nation with less than twenty-five per cent of her people able to read and write, has become literate. With that literacy, there has gone a universal thirst for knowledge. This urge to learn — a privilege so long denied the Russian people — is one of the factors stimulating them to keep abreast of the times. The other example is in Germany. Germany was one of the best educated nations in the world, but when Hitler got control of the schools, movies and radio, he changed the whole mind set of the people in one generation, which was essential to his plans for waging a world war.

If our Country and the other Western Democracies are to meet the challenge which comes from these newer ideologies, it will not be sufficient that we become complacent with respect to the education of our boys and girls.

The Provincial Government, which is responsible for the educational policies, is revising the curriculum in an endeavour to streamline the methods and subject matter of the schools. Teachers who, in Ontario, are among the best in the world, are being coached in the latest and newest methods of imparting knowledge. The weakness in the whole set up lies with the individual voter or taxpayer. The teachers are not at all anxious that parents make their lives miserable by constant interference and by busybodying in school details. But all too often the teachers feel a lack of support, intelligent support from the community as a whole.

BATH TO VOTE

It is a long time since we had a vote on the liquor question in Lennox and Addington. This County had been traditionally opposed to the sale of alcoholic beverages. In five votes taken on the issue during the past twenty-five years, both Napanee and County voted overwhelmingly against the sale of alcoholic beverages. The other vote was tied up with politics, so that it was impossible to get a clear-cut expression of public opinion. There is no doubt but that there would have been no beverage rooms in Napanee had the citizens been permitted to vote on the issue. In a surprise move, the Council of the day secured from the government the right to have liquor legally sold in Napanee.

A lot of water has gone under the bridge, since then. A depression and a world war have intervened; these conditions have had an adverse affect on the social life of the world. The sale of alcoholic beverages has jumped by leaps and bounds until the amount spent in this way, has reached almost astronomical figures. Liquor figures prominently in a large percentage of accidents in the province, and in crimes of violence that are all too prevalent in the post-war world.

There are already too many liquor outlets in Napanee, and certainly there is no necessity for liquor outlets in Bath. It will be a distinct step backwards should this old and historic community decide to permit liquor to be sold within its bounds. It is to be hoped that the temperance people in Bath will organize against the new proposal, and see to it that church people, parents who are anxious to protect their children from the ravages of alcohol and attendant evils, vote to keep the sale of intoxicating beverages out of Bath.

CHURCH ORGANIZATION AND LEADERSHIP

Lesson Text: Acts 6: 1-6; 20: 17-18, 28; 1 Corinthians 12: 27-28

Any movement if it is to survive must be organized. The advantages are obvious. In organization, authority is delegated to certain chosen or elected authorities. Responsibility is laid upon leaders. Only through an organization can opinions, principles or causes be orderly propagated. For example, forty years ago there was a deep-seated and growing resentment among workers as the way in which they were being exploited by management. But nothing happened to improve the relationship until the movement aimed to receive better working conditions became organized. Here all this was pointed up, it was all focussed into one channel, through which ideas of labor could be poured. This succeeded in bettering the relation between management and labor.

The disadvantage of organization, and it is a serious one. It is not long in the history of any organization before there arises those who are more interested in the organization itself than the things for which the organization stands. They will fight for the organization often in a spirit the very opposite of that which the organization was formed to encourage and develop.

That has been the story of the church. It was absolutely necessary that the Christian movement be organized. Evidence of that early presented itself to the disciples. It will be remembered that at first, the Christian movement was communist. They all had all things in common. Then trouble arose. The Greek christians began to grumble that the Hebrew christians were getting more than their share in the distribution of goods. So it was decided that an organization be set up. Seven men were chosen to make the distribution of food. The rest of the disciples were relieved of this heiness responsibility and gave themselves to prayer, teaching and preaching.

It was a simple organization. Certainly there was no thought at that time of anything like the elaborate and glamorous organization that later marked the Christian Church. If Jesus was to come back and take a look at the elaborate church organization and the elaborate church ritual, it is a question as to whether he would be able to see in it any resemblance to the simple movement which he inaugurated.

The next section of the lesson contains some advice from Paul to some of the elders of Ephesus. In a former lesson it has been noted how much Paul thought of the Ephesians, and how diligently he worked with them. Now at Miletus he sends to Ephesus for the elders of the church and when they came he exhorted them to recall that when he was in Ephesus he had lived among them and had shown them a good example of Christian living and now, he says, it is up to you. He gives them some specific advice.

Among the things that Paul advised the elders to do were these. They were to take heed to themselves. They were to watch their step, they were to live the Christian life, they were to be worthy of the position they held. In the next place they were to give heed to the flock, they were to look after the church, they were to give them the oversight which a congregation needed. They were, he says, to feed the flock. How much a company of Christian people, especially a group of new converts need that. Of the two stages in Christian evangelism gaining converts and looking after them, the latter is the more difficult. There is something challenging, and exciting about bringing men face to face with Christ and bringing them into the fellowship of the church. It is much more difficult to do the longer and more painstaking job of keeping them in the church and keeping alive the spark of devotion that had been kindled — feed the flock.

Then Paul elaborates the various duties of Church members, apostles, preachers, teachers, workers of miracles, healers, helpers, administrators and those gifted with the ability to speak with tongues. The Kingdom of God has room for every talent. The Church of God can use all men of every gift and endowment. Dedication of these to God is the only way by which God's will is to be done and His Kingdom advanced.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

To The Editor of

Dear Sir:

It was my privilege to attend the recent meeting of Alcoholics Anonymous, held in Napanee. They are a group of men and women who, from a small beginning, gradually came under the power of alcohol until they admitted they were mastered by it, and could only be helped by Divine Power. So they have formed themselves into groups, who strive to help themselves by helping their fellows — which is according to the teaching of Christ. They seem very interested in helping each other. Four A.A. men drove all the way from Peterboro to Napanee at night, and on a moment's notice, to assist in the meeting.

I listened with much interest and sympathy, to the experiences of these men, which revealed the gradual development from the first drink, on through to the stage of non-control. All admitted blackouts in which they realized nothing. Is it any wonder that so many accidents and crimes occur, while under its influence.

One man stated that, while attending a convention in New York which developed into a drinking orgy for his party, one of them, a very brilliant young man, walked through the open window of the room and fell fourteen stories to the street below, but even this was not sufficient warning for the rest of the party, who continued their orgy.

All the men who related their experiences were once moderate drinkers, who prided themselves on being masters of the situation. There is a timely warning there, for us temperate drinkers, who so pride ourselves.

A.A. is doing a good work for those who have fallen, but what of the system that has contributed to the fall. Our Provincial Government, which we, by our votes, have elected, is a partner with the liquor interests, by way of the large revenue derived therefrom. So we, the Government, for ill-gotten gain, are responsible for the system that is ruining the lives of countless people, besides the degradation, shame and poverty caused to countless innocent women and children.

Must we, who pride ourselves as being a Christian community admit that we cannot carry on the affairs of this the banner Province of Canada, without the above mentioned ill-gotten gain?

If we are really in earnest, we will do something about it before the next election day.

R. H. PAUL,
Napanee.

Along that shining pathway that leads to life anew;
Some day, along that road we shall tread,
To where you wait, Dear Lorne, amid heavenly sky of blue.

Dearly loved and sadly missed by Parents, HERB and MYRILE YORK, and BROTHERS, and SISTERS.

The Annual Carnival

On Wednesday afternoon, February 22nd, the annual Public School Ice Carnival was held on the rink at the Prince Charles School. An excellent sheet of ice had been put on the rink and the weather was fine. The loudspeaker which was recently installed was used to record music and any directions to the skaters. There were many costumes including boho characters, clowns, washmaids and many other comical dressed. During the afternoon there were many races and best skating events. The highlight of the afternoon was a grand promenade, in which everyone was able to skate around and the judges picked out the best skater of the day. It was a very enjoyable afternoon and everyone had a good time.

Detroit vs. Toronto

Last Saturday night the Wings and Leafs played at Maple Leaf Gardens. The Leafs won it by a score of 3 to 2. In the first period, the Wings scored two goals one going to Gordie Howe and the other to Steve Black. In the second period the Leafs broke through and scored first, then Edinki got the second and Smith also got the third and winning goal. That's the way the score stood for the period and the game. Lumley and Broda played brilliantly in the nets. It was a hard and well fought game.

— Gerard Walsh.

The Weather

The weather, this week, has been very cold. Monday it was real cold and stayed about the same on Tuesday. It was a few degrees warmer on Wednesday but still very cold. Today, Thursday, it is quite a bit warmer and it has been snowing this morning. This morning the sun has been out, shining brightly through the many windows of the Prince Charles School, bringing cheer to all. This cold weather has been not only good for skating, but I'm sure many children have found it invigorating as well.

— Rose MacMillan.

The Carnival

At the Prince Charles School on Wednesday, February 22nd, at 1:30 p.m., there was a carnival in which there were the following classes: speed skating, best skater, fancy costme and comic. It was very nice to watch the kindergarten and Grades 1, 2 and 3 in comic or in best costme and also speed skating and best skater. It was also fun to watch the older girls and boys in speed and best skating classes. We were also very glad that the weatherman kept it cold for our carnival.

The periods for the children are just temporary but official periods will be set. This Youth Centre is very educational and it keeps the small children from playing on the streets.

The Wings got off to a good start and held the Flyers at check for two full periods of play. Clifford Gibson scored for the Wings and half way through the third period Doug. Shaw scored unassisted for the Flyers. It was a good game to watch. Howitt and Walsh were the coaches and had their teams in tip-top shape.

— Bob Howie.

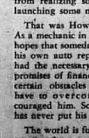
by Don Graham



Is fear of failure preventing you from realizing some ambition or launching some new project?

That was Howard T.'s trouble. As a mechanic in a garage, he had hopes that someday he would own his own auto repair business. He had the necessary experience and a promise of financial backing. But certain obstacles that he would have to overcome always discouraged him. So to this day he has never put his plan into action.

The world is full of Howards — people who never give themselves a fair chance at success because obstacles, which could be overcome by determined effort, hold them back.

This is not to say that obstacles should be ignored; it's only common sense to take them into account. But too often we overrate them.

Frequently, too, we exaggerate the probable consequences of failure. Yet Cyrus Field failed three times before he succeeded in spanning the Atlantic with the first cable!

So next time you shrink from tackling some project, step up your "will to win".

Fear can also serve useful purposes — as, for example, when it prompts us to prepare for old age and emergencies by taking out life insurance. This common-sense step has been taken by more than 4½ million Canadians.

COLEBROOK

Colebrook, March 4. — Mrs. Alex. Riddle, accompanied by Mrs. Ambrose Alarie, Murvale, made a trip to Toronto recently, where they visited their brother, Mr. Clifford Cowdy and Mrs. Cowdy. Mrs. Cowdy is recovering from a recent operation.

Mrs. Edna Smith, Cobourg, was a week-end guest of her brother, Mr. Earl Youmans and Mrs. Youmans.

On Friday evening a tragic accident occurred at the home of Mr. James McMahon. Mrs. John Mills who, with her husband, was residing with Mr. McMahon, in an endeavor to light the fire, used coal oil and in the combustion which followed was seriously burned. She was removed to Kingston General Hospital by the ambulance, where in a few days she passed away. Her funeral was held at the Wartman Funeral Home, Napanee, at 2:00 p.m., and was conducted by Rev. Mr. Burnum, of Yarker Free Methodist Church.

Mrs. Ferguson, of Saskatchewan, was a guest of her sister, Mrs. N. Boyce and Mr. Boyce, and sister, Miss A. E. Gray.

Several from the village attended the World Day of Prayer service at Moscow United Church, on February 24th.

Mrs. Zara Martin and son, Royce, returned home after visiting Mrs. Martin's mother, Mrs. E. Royce, and sister, Mrs. James and Mr. James, who reside at Arnprior.

Mrs. E. F. Purcell was a recent guest of her sister, Mrs. James Wilson and Mr. Wilson, and Mrs. Doris Wilson, at Strathcona.

Mrs. A. Wagar was hostess for the March meeting of the W. A. of the United Church. Mrs. Purcell led in the worship service. Mrs. Gilleghan, president, presided for business. A Touch and Take table was used as a means of raising money. Mrs. Purcell put on a contest which was won by Mrs. A. Wagar. The hostess and committee served a dainty lunch.

Mr. Earl Youmans is a patient in the Kingston General Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. George Price and Mr. and Mrs. Don. Stover, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Purcell.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Dawson and family of Kingston, were week end visitors of Mrs. Dawson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Kimmett.

MOSCOW

Moscow, March 4. — Mr. and Mrs. Harold Young and two children, of Sillsville, were week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Huffman.

R. J. Brooks received word of the death of his mother, Mrs. Wellington Brooks, Kingston.

Miss Leafa Drew, of Belleville, spent the week end at her parents' home.

Mrs. T. Jackson, Enterprise, is at the home of Wilbur Jackson.

Mr. Elwood King of Kingston, spent the week end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil King.

Miss Ruth Bescoe, a student at Queen's University, spent the week end at her home.

Mr. and Mrs. Reg. Woodruff and son, of Hartington, were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Judge, Sunday evening.

Moscow W. I.

The regular meeting of Moscow Women's Institute was held at the home of the secretary, Mrs. Morley Ellerbeck. The president, Mrs. W. K. Huffman was in the chair. The roll call was answered by a large number of members and visitors by each telling how they would like to see the juvenile delinquency problem handled. Less publicity given to wrong doers in our daily press and periodicals, more supervised recreation, a greater interest shown by parents in children's activities, especially teenagers, fewer "naked" pictures in our magazines and fewer crime stories on the radio, were some of the suggestions offered. An appeal was read from the Unitarian service for aid in providing relief for overseas service; new or used clothing or money, were greatly needed. It was decided to make ten layettes and a quilt, the latter to be quilted at Mrs. W. K. Huffman's, next week. Some of the mothers of girls' club members reported on the progress of the girls with their dresses. The possibility of having a Garden Brigade at Moscow this summer, was discussed. A letter was read regarding the recording of the History of the Local Institute. The Tweedsmuir Village History, which has recently been brought up to date, was on display and new members were urged to see that the history of their family and farm were written up, and included. Convenors of standing committees were reminded that reports must be ready for the annual meeting to be held at the home of Mesdames Alan and Morley Huffman, in April. Mrs. Don. Hannah, district president, will be guest speaker at this meeting. Mrs. Alan Huffman and Mrs. Don. King were named as a nominating committee.

The programme for the afternoon was in charge of Mrs. Claude Huffman. The motto was given by Mrs. Trevor Armstrong, on the subject, The Child is Father of the Man. There was an exhibit of made-overs including mittens made from woollen cloth, quilted lined with stockings; a man's overcoat turned; a tray cloth made from crocheted yoke for a nightgown; house made from discarded housecoat; tea aprons made from left-over patches, etc. Mrs. Claude Huffman then gave a paper on Radio Programmes — Could They Be Improved? and led in a discussion on this topic. A great diversity of opinions were expressed — some were for the soap operas and some against; all agreed that there were too many blood-curdling stories for children, and all agreed that there were many worthwhile programs for women, including consumer news, Alison Grant, Jane Weaver, etc., and good children's programs including the Ontario Department of Education school programs, Kindergarten of the Air and Children's story-time programs. The majority agreed that the Belleville station was good for farm, market and food programs. Mrs. Cecil King contributed a small gadget for cutting out pastry, etc., also in fancy work for stocking, etc. The Ways and Means committee served a delicious lunch at the hands of the Hospital Kingston, following

"I might have been a fair singer, if I had had any encouragement."

How many times have you heard these words spoken after attending a professional musical, or even after listening to a radio program. Sure we've heard them too, and so the next few lines are for these would-be-singers and musicians who lack encouragement.

What better place to demonstrate your entertainment abilities than before the friendly audience of your own neighborhood and what better neighborhood organization than your own Farm Forum. There you can entertain with no fear of a hostile audience, or a critical comment in this paper, and so give yourself the necessary confidence and "sang froid" to appear before a larger gathering without undue stage fright.

No one knows what abilities lie hidden in our next door neighbor, until a local amateur night lends an opportunity for him or her to perform. It's so true that circumstances often prohibit the development of some of our musical talents, and many a person with a good voice or an aptitude for an instrument never has the chance to develop this talent.

No, we are not saying there is a potential Tibbet or Puns in every neighborhood, but we do think that there are some with a good ear and voice who, with the help of an amateur night, could be an important help in the local choir or dance orchestra.

No doubt you have noticed the revival of amateur nights the last few months. We believe this an encouraging trend in the social spirit of our neighborhoods. No doubt there will be as many bad performances as there are good ones but never mind, at least they have the courage to make an attempt to entertain and unless we have done the same, we really shouldn't criticize.

During the course of the year, we have noticed several Forums who have staged an amateur night. Let us hasten to say at this point, that the numbers should not be limited to vocal and instrumental. There are many gifted with a ribald tongue and wit who do well with a burlesque or parody of some effete-ish public personality. These people are a very important item on the program of our average show.

The important thing is this. Let your Forum be the medium through which the local talent may be encouraged and improved. Perhaps you have a quiet, reserved member who has a little knowledge of sleight-of-hand. He may scoff at demonstrating these tricks, but with a bit of encouragement he probably will and he'll be pleased as punch, when it's all over (tho' he'll probably never admit it.).

Participation in these little shows is a powerful factor in strengthening and building the participant's personality. The shy one may come out of his shell to display a most engaging and interesting personality which lie-herto would never have been revealed.

An amateur night is a good hot in any Forum, and is a night where you may be sure of a large attendance and the maximum of interest.

You all are aware by this time that we are having an amateur night at our County Rally, April 19. Until we receive your list of suggested numbers from your Forum within a week, we will have to go on with the numbers already submitted. So if you want to get in the act, get in now.

Reviews night again and the Forum have been visiting.

Butternut Hill was at Bicknell's Corners and had a bit of fun with the visitors providing the entertainment and the hosts the lunch. Good to hear that Bicknell's Corners had some representatives at the Frontenac Rally.

River Valley had an amateur night and everybody took part. That's good. Seems River Valley had the preliminary auditions before picking out the numbers for April 10. The first pike went to E. Loucks and his account of the local Forum. 2nd to T. Henshilwood with guitar and mouth organ and third to Mr. and Mrs. R. Brown and Mrs. W. Crerar for another musical number.

We had an interesting letter from Easy Street Forum today. Despite their name, this Forum is really going great guns this year and has forwarded some sound ideas. Secretary M. Wilson writes and wonders if it would be a better scheme to have our Farm Forum Guides distributed in the fall and assign the various topics to different men for further study and research.

Sounds like a good idea and it will be discussed at our annual Rally with Claire Burt present to advise and suggest.

Lake Road Forum also reported this week and they were continuing with the subject of Conservation, and would like a local Committee set up. They are also putting their names on the mail boxes, good show!

A number from here attended the meeting of the World Day of Prayer, held in the United Church, Thursday evening.

Moscow W. I.

The regular meeting of Moscow Women's Institute was held at the home of the secretary) Mrs. Morley Ellerbeck. The president, Mrs. W. K. Huffman was in the chair. The roll call was answered by a large number of members and visitors by each telling how they would like to see the juvenile delinquency problem handled. Less publicity given to wrong doers in our daily press and periodicals, more supervised recreation, a greater interest shown by parents in children's activities, especially teenagers, fewer 'naked' pictures in our magazines and fewer crime stories on the radio, were some of the suggestions offered. An appeal was read from the Unitarian service for aid in providing relief for overseas service; new or used clothing or money, were greatly needed. It was decided to make ten layettes and a quilt, the latter to be quilted at Mrs. W. K. Huffman's, next week. Some of the members of girls' club members reported on the progress of the girls with their dresses. The possibility of having a Garden Brigade at Moscow this summer, was discussed. A letter was read regarding the recording of the History of the Local Institute. The Tweedsmuir Village History, which has recently been brought up to date, was on display and new members were urged to see that the history of their family and farm were written up, and included. Conveners of standing committees were reminded that reports must be ready for the annual meeting to be held at the home of Mesdames Alan and Morley Huffman, in April. Mrs. Don. Hannah, district president, will be guest speaker at this meeting. Mrs. Alan Huffman and Mrs. Don. King were named as a nominating committee.

The programme for the afternoon was in charge of Mrs. Claude Huffman. The motto was given by Mrs. Trevor Armstrong, on the subject: 'The Child is Father of the Man.' There was an exhibit of made-over clothing mittens made from woollen cloth and lined with stockings; a man's overcoat turned; a tray cloth made from crocheted yoke for a nightgown; blouse made from discarded housecoat; tea aprons made from left-over patches, etc. Mrs. Claude Huffman then gave a paper on Radio Programmes — Could They Be Improved? and led in a discussion on this topic. A great diversity of opinions were expressed — some were for the soap operas and some against; all agreed that there were too many blood-curdling stories for children, and all agreed that there were many worthwhile programs for women, including community news, Aileen Grant, Jeje Weston, etc., and good children's programs including the Ontario Department of Education school programs, 'Kindergarten' of the Air and children's story-time programs. The display showed that the Belleville market offered the best farm market broadcast programs. Mrs. Cecil King [illegible] for cutting [illegible] to fancy [illegible]

FARM FORUM REVIEW

"I might have been a fair singer, if I had had any encouragement." How many times have you heard these words spoken after attending a professional musical, or even after listening to a radio program. Sure we've heard them too, and so the next few lines are for those would-be-singers and musicians who lack encouragement.

What better place to demonstrate your entertainment abilities than before the friendly audience of your own neighborhood and what better neighborhood organization than your own Forum. There you can entertain with no fear of a hostile audience, or a critical comment in the paper, and so give yourself the necessary confidence and "nerve" to appear before a larger gathering without undue stage fright.

No one knows what abilities lie hidden in our next door neighbor, until a local amateur night lends an opportunity for him or her to perform. It's so true that circumstances often prohibit the development of some of our musical talents, and many a person with a good voice or an aptitude for an instrument never has the chance to develop this talent.

No, we are not saying there is a potential Tibbet or Pons in every neighborhood, but we do think that there are some with a good ear and voice who, with the help of an amateur night, could be an important help in the local choir or dance orchestra.

No doubt you have noticed the revival of amateur night the last few months. We believe this is an encouraging trend in the social spirit of our neighborhood. No doubt there will be as many bad performances as there are good ones but never mind, at least they have the courage to make an attempt to entertain and unless we have done the same, we really shouldn't criticize.

During the course of the year, we have noticed several Forums who have staged an amateur night. Let us hasten to say at this point, that the numbers should not be limited to vocal and instrumental. There are many gifted with a nimble tongue and wit who do well with a burlesque or parody of some officious public personality. These people are a very important item on the program of our average show.

The important thing is this. Let your Forum be the medium through which the local talent may be encouraged and improved. Perhaps you have a quiet, reserved member who has a little knowledge of sleight-of-hand. He may scoff at demonstrating these tricks, but with a little encouragement he probably will, and he'll be pleased as punch, when it's all over. (Tho' he'll probably never admit it.)

Participation in these little shows is a powerful factor in strengthening and building the participant's personality. The shy one may come out of his shell to display a most engaging and interesting personality which hitherto would never have been revealed.

An amateur night is a good bet in any Forum, and is a night where you may be sure of a large attendance and the maximum of interest.

You all are aware by this time that we are having an amateur night at our County Rally, April 13. Unless we receive your list of suggested numbers from your Forum within a week, we will have to go on with the numbers already submitted. So, if you want to get in the act, get in now.

Reviews night again and the Forums have been visiting.

Butternut Hill was at Bickwell's Corners and had a bit of fun with the visitors providing the entertainment and the hosts the lunch. Glad to hear that Bickwell's Corners had some representatives at the Provincial Rally.

River Valley had an amateur night and everybody took part. That's good. Seems River Valley had the preliminary auditions before picking out the numbers for April 13. The first prize went to E. Loucks and his account of the local Forum. 2nd to T. Hewson who with guitar and mouth organ and third to Mr. and Mrs. R. Brown and Mrs. W. Cretar for another musical number.

We had an interesting letter from Easy Street Forum today. Donald their name, this Forum is really going great guns this year and has forwarded some sound ideas. Secretary Mr. Wilson appreciates and wonders if it would be a better scheme to have our Farm Forum Guides distributed in the fall and assign the various topics to different men for further study and research.

Sounds like a good idea and it will be discussed at our annual Rally with Claire Burt present to advise and suggest.

Lake Road Forum also reported this week and they were continuing with the subject of Conservation, and would like a local Committee set up. They are also putting their names on the mail boxes, good show!

SWITZERVILLE MISSION BAND

The Busy Bee Mission Band met at the school on Wednesday afternoon, March 1, with Leonard Moore presiding. The theme was 'Love one another,' and the hymns, scripture reading and other parts of the program were based on this thought. The minutes of last meeting were read by She'la Craig and approved, and the roll call was answered with a verse of scripture containing the word 'love.' John Craig read the scripture lesson and George VanAlstine read a prayer which was followed by all repeating the theme prayer. The response to the call to worship was the Members' Purpose. The offering was received by Ronald Paul, and dedicated in song. Reading on temperance, stewardship and peace, were given by the heralds, John Craig, George VanAlstine and Elaine Benn. Interesting watch tower news was given on Canada by Jack Sparrod, on India by Beatrice Hogeboom and on Japan by Lorna Craig. During the study period, Mrs. Wales read another story from 'The Flying Umbrella,' after which Helen Spafford distributed copies of World Friends, and the meeting was closed in the usual way. Plans were made for the Easter thankoffering meeting.

School Board Turns Down Offer For Old School

Expresses Hope that West Ward Building May Still be Used

At the meeting of the Napanee Public School Board on Monday evening, March 13th, a motion was passed turning down the offer made by Dr. A. E. Fyffe, of $4000.00 for the old West Ward School property. Dr. Fyffe's offer which was received at the February meeting of the Board, stated that if the bid was accepted four homes would be erected on the property and in addition to the payment of $4000 any proceeds from the salvage of the school building, which would be torn down, would also be paid over to the Board.

The motion declining to accept the offer was moved by G. L. Howitt and seconded by Garnet Leary.

It was recalled by a number of the Board that the School property was offered for sale last July and that Dr. Fyffe's offer was the first received. Mr. Howitt, Mr. Leary and Mr. Marshall expressed the opinion that the board would be unwise to accept the offer because there is still a possibility that the school building might be put to some good use. It has been suggested that the building be used as a Community Centre or be turned into apartments. Even if the building has to be wrecked at a later date, the opinion was expressed that the property would always be worth $4000 for building lots.

The Board accepted with thanks a donation from the Home & School Association of a Couch, Mattress and Blanket for Eastview School and of a gooseneck lamp for the Nurse's room at the Prince Charles School. A donation was also gratefully received of $3.00 from the Education Fund of the Women's Institute to be used for the purchase of a film strip.

Mr. W. L. Bell, Principal of the Schools, reported the enrolment of the schools for February was 922 with an average attendance of 433. Mr. Bell stated the low average attendance for the month was due to considerable illness resulting in 1063 days' absence of pupils.

Permission was granted for the showing of a film "Clean Waters," at the Prince Charles School next Friday afternoon and a Marionette performance on Monday afternoon, March 20th.

Dr. R. J. Remmer Victim of Leukemia

Dr. Robert James Remmer, 27-year-old son of Dr. and Mrs. Harry Remmer, 58 Greenwood St., Napanee, N.Y., died in New York City Memorial Hospital on Friday, February 24th. His death followed an illness of several months, from acute leukemia.

Dr. Remmer and four other patients received a course of the expensive Aceh treatment late in December and for a time it appeared that the disease had been arrested. However, when he returned to the hospital for a check-up, two weeks before his death, it was found that the disease had again become active.

Dr. Remmer was born in Utica and was a son of Dr. Harry T. Remmer and Mrs. Remmer, who was formerly Ida Woodcock of Napanee, a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Silas Woodcock. He graduated from Syracuse University College of Medicine and after serving as intern in Rochester General Hospital, was a flight surgeon for two years at the naval bases in Pensacola, Florida and SanDiego, California. Last year he began a three-year residency in the New York Eye and Ear Hospital.

CHEQUE ARTIST SENTENCED AT NAPANEE

In the Magistrate's Court in Napanee, last Thursday, Samuel Bandy, aged 44, of Toronto, was found guilty by Magistrate J. B. Garvin on charges of false pretense and fraud. Bandy was sentenced to pay a fine of $15 and to serve fifteen days in gaol.

Mr. Bandy was arrested earlier in the week by Constable Harry Benn, after passing worthless cheques at the home of L. Cowle and the garage operated by Nellis Pringle. He had previously served a gaol term for six months, on a similar charge.

Ontario Suspended 12,613 Driv's Licences

Ontario Highways Department in a report last week said licences of 12,613 drivers were suspended last year under the financial responsibility provision of the Highway Traffic Act. Suspensions followed convictions for criminal offences involving use of a motorcar, or for unsatisfied judgments.

Of the total, 2,546 drivers were suspended for definite periods. The remainder were given their licenses back if they could prove proof of financial responsibility, which involves $11,000 in cash or securities.

Greatest number of suspensions was for careless driving, 4,765, while the total was 18.5 per cent higher than the previous year. In contrast, however, there was a reduction of 12.6 per cent in the number of suspensions resulting from conviction for drunken driving.

BEWARE! COUNTERFEIT $10.00 BILLS

Recently warnings have been issued in the daily papers concerning counterfeit ten dollar bills which have been found in circulation in different centres in Ontario. On Monday, one of the Banks discovered one of the bills, which had apparently been included in a deposit at the Bank.

The bill found in Napanee would be very difficult to identify as a counterfeit, but it has a different texture than the bona fide bill and over the red numbers on the face of the bill, there is a glossy coating, which can be seen if the bill is held in the right light. Also the picture of King George in the centre of the bill is rather indistinct, as is also the back ground of the picture.

It would be well for everyone who receives a $10.00 bill to scrutinize it carefully.

The Post Office Flag

Whoever is responsible for replacing the flag on the Post Office in Napanee should take a look at the sorry-looking remnant of what oured banning that is left to float in the breeze. There is scarcely sufficient material hanging on the staff to recognize it as a flag.

Not only residents of the town, but visitors are remarking on the condition of the flag, which certainly is no credit to the Dominion of Canada or the local Post Office.

Industrialists Hear Informative Talk On Accident Prevent'n

Delivered at Meeting at Napanee

J. L. Dodington, Assistant General Manager, Industrial Accident Prevention Association, of Toronto, was a dinner meeting held in Napanee for representatives of the Ontario Division of the Association on March 1st. Among those present at the meeting were representatives from the Belleville Lock Co., Belleville Hydro-Electric Company, Belleville, Dearon Brothers, Belleville, Corbine Lock Company, Belleville, American Optical Company Belleville, Napanee Fuel Company, Ross-Miller, Biscuit Company, Acme Farmers' Dairy, Gibbard Furniture Shops, and Napanee Iron Works, of Napanee.

Mr. Dodington's address was on the subject: "Experience — What is it Worth?" During 1948 he said there were 179,811 accidents, including 357 fatalities reported to the Workmen's Compensation Board in the Province. During 1949 there were 173,084 accidents, including 311 fatalities. The cost in 1948 was $10,028,350 and in 1949 $10,355,566. Injuries and deaths have been from the same old causes, and as a result of persistent neglect of the rules and methods of safeguarding.

Manpower, as a result of the accidents, as well as time and money, have been squandered like money because of neglect and carelessness. Every time a workman is killed, the standard calculation of time lost is 6,000 days, which, multiplied by 311 fatalities in 1949, means 1,866,000 days lost. The 180,000 injuries in 1949 cost industry one hundred million dollars.

Industry, Mr. Dodington said, might better be assessed for protecting workers from injury rather than for paying compensation after they are injured. Ontario, he said, has one of the most liberal and most efficiently operated compensation boards in the world, but it is possible that these excellent conditions may have become substitutes for duty and responsibility. It would be better to be able to brag about industry's ability to prevent the necessity for compensation. Whether the industries of the Central Ontario district are determined to prevent accidents will depend entirely on the attitude of the people in the plants and the value that is placed on (1) human beings, (2) time, (3) dollars and cents.

In closing, Mr. Dodington said "Experience—What is it Worth? It will be worth nothing if the lessons it has produced are not taken up by each individual employer and employee for the benefit of all. Accident prevention," he said, "is everybody's business."

Liquor Control Board Refuses Retail Store For Tweed

A request for the establishment of a liquor retail outlet in the Village of Tweed, has been turned down by the Ontario Liquor Control Board. An affirmative vote on the question was registered by the citizens of Tweed, in November, 1947, but no action had been taken on the establishment of a store in the village.

Mr. Sprague, Comptroller of the Liquor Control Board, said that the Board had studied the request and survey had been made of the district. "We have come to the conclusion, that as both Madoc and Tamworth have been established some time, that these stores adequately serve the areas covered by populous and tourists," the letter read. "Therefore it is not felt that the Board would be justified in establishing an additional store."

Tamworth Legion Forwards Resolution To County Council

At the February meeting of the Tamworth Legion the following resolution was passed and forwarded to the Lennox and Addington County Council.

"Whereas, in consideration of the fact that Tamworth is the next largest centre in this County and is geographically in the centre of the County.

Therefore be it resolved that a considerable portion of the Memorial Fund held by the County Council be given to the Community of Tamworth for the purpose of erecting a covered rink as a Memorial."

RAILWAYS SEEK ANOTHER BOOST

Canada's tangled freight-rate situation was more confusing than ever following a surprise move by the railways for another rate boost.

The Railway Association of Canada Friday placed an application before the board of transport commissioners to boost its March 1 increase by another 5 per cent. If granted, it would add about $11,000,000 to the country's freight bill.

The move was made while most of the provinces opposing rate increases were considering an appeal by Ontario and Quebec against approval of the March 1 award giving the railways a 7.4 per cent boost in existing rates.

Prisoner Trainees Complete Course at Collins Bay Penitentiary

Twenty-four prisoners at Collins Bay Penitentiary graduated in various trades. The graduation ceremony culminating nine months' training by the 24 prisoners, in carpentry, bricklaying and masonry, tinsmithing, plumbing and machine-shop work. They are part of a vocational training experiment designed to give prisoners a trade when they are released.

J. A. McLaughlin of Ottawa, assistant Commissioner of Penitentiaries for Ontario, said the experiment first was conceived seven years ago. The plan was put in operation in various Ontario Institutions in October, 1947. Prisoners enrolled since then total 150.

Up to October, 1949, said Mr. McLaughlin, "64 of our graduate trainees have gone out to resume their life in society. Of this number, seven have been sent back to prison but the other 57 have given us a great deal of encouragement."

DIST. MANAGER, C.O.F. TRANSFERRED, NIAGARA

District manager J. M. Roulston has just recently been transferred from Napanee district to Niagara Peninsula, where he will take over the people in the plants and the value that is placed on (1) human beings, (2) time, (3) dollars and cents.

In closing, Mr. Dodington said "Experience—What is it Worth? It will be worth nothing if the lessons it has produced are not taken up by each individual employer and employee for the benefit of all. Accident prevention," he said, "is everybody's business."

REPORT OF ACTIVITIES IN PUBLIC HEALTH CENTRES

The Public Health Nurses have had to contend with difficult driving conditions during February. Shovels have been used often, the people at whose homes the nurses have been visiting, always lend a hand and make sure the nurse gets all the help she needs. This is very much appreciated. In spite of the handicaps 34 visits were made to babies under 6 weeks of age; 151 visits were made to babies from one year of age; 42 visits were made to preschool children.

Prenatal visits numbered 36. Visits to the mother following the birth of her baby were 20, with only 9 having postnatal nursing supervision. Childbirth is more of a hazard without prenatal supervision, than it is when a mother has the advantage of the best in medical science.

77 visits were made concerning problems and conditions observed in school children. Have you seen a child with rheumatic fever? A child who is having school, has a heart condition which may or may not leave a permanent heart damage. A child who wants to go up and play around. We are at present concerned with such a patient, a boy nine years old, and not of an age to realize what a lifetime of ill-health can mean. The mother is bewildered —she wants help. (1) to understand more about rheumatic fever (2) to know more about how to care for him during a long period of bed care (3) how to help him keep interested in things that cause him little effort. This is just one of the problems facing the nurses in their home visits. Do you think it is worthwhile to spend time, money and effort to prevent just such illnesses? Prevention depends solely on personal practice resulting from personal education. This is what we are trying to do in all the phases of our work. These numbers mean a lot more when we think of them in this light.

Total home visits were 393. Nearly all the schools were visited during the month of February.

SANITARY INSPECTOR'S REPORT

During the course of his inspections, the sanitary inspector heard two farmers, Bill and Tom, in a conversation as follows:

Tom: "Say, Bill, I hear Joe had 5 T.B. reactors in his herd."

Bill: "That sure is tough."

Tom: "Yes, it sure is, but he told me he was playing safe with the milk. He had the sanitary inspector take milk samples which were sent to the Provincial Laboratories at Belleville, where they were classed as Grade 1 showing no udder infections."

Bill: "Can you get milk samples taken if you don't ship to a dairy?"

Tom: "You sure can, just phone 247, the Health Unit, at Napanee, and the inspector will come and get milk samples."

Bill: "That's good to know because my kids drink lots of milk and I like to know if it's OK."

Of interest to dairy producers or anyone with a milk herd, the Health Unit is to hold a Dairy Night sometime during the month of April. Notices of the time and place will appear in the local papers.

To operators of Eating establishments and their employees it is hoped that a Food Handling Course will be held one day this month. At present the Unit is making arrangements for this occasion.

Restaurants 42; Milk samples 40; Slaughter houses 4; Ice samples 4; Cheese factories 4; Complaints 6; Food shops 17; Hotels 6; Water samples 52; Bakeries 4; Schools 4.

Extension television viewers were demonstrated in Belleville last week for what was claimed to be the first time in North America.

They are attached by cable to television sets, just as extra speakers can be hooked to a radio receiver.

For the demonstration, engineers of a television - manufacturing company used one main television set and three extension viewers. They said the development can eventually be used to provide television entertainment in as many as 100 rooms at a time from one master set in such places as schools or hospitals.

Officers are to be elected at the meting, but unless they are given the active support of the members of the Association throughout the year, the work cannot be effective.

Interesting Copy Old English Paper

Mr. J. W. Cragg, East Street, Napanee, has in his possession a very interesting copy of the London Mail, which he brought with him to Canada, over fifty years ago. It is a copy of the June 23rd, 1897 edition, brought out as a souvenir of the diamond jubilee of the late Queen Victoria. The paper is entirely printed in gold ink, on heavy stock, and is in excellent condition. It presents a most attractive appearance and is full of interesting facts about the Queen and the celebration.

Mr. Cragg, who came to Canada from England, has made several trips back to the homeland, in past years.

MARCH MEETING W. O. N.

The March meeting of the Victorian Order of Nurses was held Monday afternoon in the Armouries. Mrs. G. E. Gibbard was in the chair. After the Order prayer, read by Mrs. O. S. Reddick, Mrs. Henry Wichtowski read the secretary's report for Mrs. M. Webster, who was unable to be present.

The Nurse reported forty-nine cases were carried during the month and a total of 153 visits were made. Approximately half of these visits were to give nursing care and the remainder visits to expectant mothers, infants, pre-school and school age children. Fifteen hours were spent in the school where the M.O.H. is continuing examination and re-inspection of conditions under observation. Three child health conferences were held with a total attendance of twenty.

The report concluded with this sentence: To those of you who show such a continued interest in the V. O. N. work, I would like to mention how frequently patients and their families express their appreciation of the fact that there is such a nursing service as the Victorian Order provides in Napanee.

The program for the day was in charge of the ladies of St. Mary Magdalene's Church, which consisted of a piano solo by Mrs. W. E. Hutton, followed by a talk by Rev. W. J. Robinson. Mr. Robinson spoke of the freedom under which we meet and added that the churches help to keep that freedom. He contrasted the freedom of speech at Hyde Park in England with the lack of it in other parts of the world. If the Church can be kept strong it will help to promote the freedom that we enjoy. The speaker commended the society on the work that is done also of the interest the different churches take in the Order.

Mrs. K. Powell then gave two readings, which are always enjoyed.

Mrs. W. Y. Webster thanked all who assisted with the program. Tea was served by the ladies of St. Mary Magdalene's Church.

WHAT DOES IT ?

Why is it that at about this time, every year, we have a visit from a friends we've seen, off and on all winter, who has something special to talk about. We can always tell, when he comes along about the middle of March, that he will tell us the same story. He has been making flies—flies for catching fish. He displays them; they are works of art, hand-made out of little feathers and other bits and pieces which have been collected and woven together with loving care.

And this one? we ask in our ignorance. What is that one for? That is for speckled trout, he explains, as he has explained every year since we have known him. And this one? Oh! that one is for the trout that is not speckled. And this? Well! this is for the speckled trout, if the one for the speckled trout does not get the speckled trout. This one, he says, is for the trout that isn't speckled, if the first one for the trout that isn't speckled, does not do the trick.

Then there are hooks for bass and for pike. A great big one like a three pronged anchor for a dreadnought — what is that for? we ventured. That he said, my friend, is for the lunge. Did you ever get a lunge. No? but it is great fun fishing, and it is well to be prepared.

The snow and the cold weather of the past few days did not chill our friend's ardour. He wasn't living amid snow and zero weather. He was living among the green grass and the still waters. He was tarrying beside a cool, deep water hole where lurk the bass, and along the stream where the trout rises to the fly.

What would we do without those things to look forward to? That's what our fisherman friend said, and he is right at that. What would we do ?

WHAT'S THE LIMIT ?

A Canadian jet fighter flies from Toronto to Ottawa in less than half an hour. That seems pretty fast, especially to those of us who have had to make the trip by train or car. Either by train or car, it takes about eight hours to make the trip. The conventional passenger-carrying plane, takes an hour and forty minutes. But when it becomes to doing it in half an hour, it reminds us of the woman who saw a dancing dog. Well! she admitted, it is doing it alright, but it has no right to be doing it.

Of course, if the present jet plane can do it in half an hour, what is to stop other jet planes or rocket planes from doing it even faster. Indeed, we hear whispers every once in a while, that planes are in existence that can go seven hundred and fifty miles an hour. Well, if seven hundred and fifty why not eight hundred — just where's the limit?

In the air, it is not too bad. When one is up there he is hardly conscious of speed because there is nothing to compare oneself to. It is different on the ground, and yet, there too, the demand is for more and still more speed. In an article in the current Saturday Evening Post, a couple of Oxford students tell of a hitch-hiking trip they made last summer. One driver, with whom they hitched a hike, had the two boys terrified as he sped along at ninety miles an hour. I always slow up, he said, when I have passengers. How fast would you go if you were alone? one of the boys ventured. "Oh a hundred or a hundred and one," he answered.

Where's the limit then? — on the road. The signs say fifty, but nobody but the old and the cautious pay any attention to these signs. The result, of course, it just what one would suspect. Lots of accidents; lots of deaths.

What's the limit? Perhaps there is no limit — with brand experimenting with jet cars and Canada with jet locomotives, it may be, after a bit, we will be able to get from here to there — in no time!

ANOTHER REFERENDUM

There are not very many kings left in the modern world. It is not very often a nation has a chance to vote on a king. Belgium had that opportunity on Sunday. They voted by a slight majority in favor of inviting Leopold III to come back. The majority is pretty slim, and the Parliament on whom final responsibility rests, will probably hesitate. There is the danger of civil war when the nation is so evenly divided. They may decide to leave things as they are in the meantime.

The former King was a strong ruler — socially-minded, and a worker for peace. But his actions during the war, have been variously interpreted. He was Commander-in-Chief, and promised "Officers, soldiers — whatever happens, I will share your fate." He held out a few days, until May 25th of the fateful year, and then surrendered. Churchill blamed him for letting the Allies down. Others have claimed that he held on great sacrifice, permitting the British to get away at Dunkirk. Probably this action will be debated, pro and con, for years.

Hitler made Leopold his personal prisoner and kept him in the Royal Chateau at Laeken. Here, he remainder for four years. The morning after D-day at Himmler's orders, he was removed to Germany, where he had a rather terrifying time. The day Germany surrendered, he and the Royal family were liberated. Leopold planned to return home, but his Government prevented it. He took ill ,some say with a heart attack, others, with high blood pressure. In a few weeks he felt well enough to go home, but the Prime Minister again refused. The Government then suggested he should abdicate. This he refused to do. He asked for a commission to examine all his documents; the Government would not agree.

Then the people began to take sides for and against Leopold. A referendum was decided on. It proved very inconclusive. The future of the King of the Belgians is still uncertain.

IT ALL DEPENDS

A while ago a vote was taken in Toronto to determine the attitude of the people toward Sunday sport. The vote by a small majority was in favor of commercialized Sunday sport. The vote was no sooner declared than pressure was exerted on the Provincial Government. To the credit of the Press there was no enthusiasm for the new attitude. But it was recognized that some action should be taken in favor of a more wide open Sunday.

Last week, another vote was taken. This time, in Weston, a municipality bordering on Toronto. The question was something like that on Sunday sports. It was a referendum to see whether or not the people of Weston favored an amalgamation between their municipality and Toronto. The vote went three to one against amalagamation.

Did the City Fathers accept this as a verdict and immediately press for action in terms of the vote? No! not at all. They all, with one voice, began to say the vote really had nothing to do with the issue. It was only an expression of opinion, and that it would have no bearing whatsoever on any future action by City Council or Provincial Government.

It all depends. In the case of Sunday sport, a referendum passes by a slim majority and at once the result is taken as a mandate to the Government for revised legislation. A similar referendum on amalgamation passes three to one, and those in favor of amalgamation protest instantly that the vote really has no weight. It all depends, apparently, on the issue at stake, whether a referendum is to be taken seriously or not.

THE FAITH THAT SUSTAINED THE CHURCH

The power of faith to sustain and support Christians has been demonstrated all though its long and varied history. The book of Martyrs has never been completed. It is being added to, day by day, as men and women testify to the things in which they believe.

If any man ever suffered for his convictions, it was Paul. The list of things that happened to him, is a formidable one. Any one of a dozen such experiences was enough to have finished an ordinary Christian. But not Paul. As we catch up with him in this week's lesson, he was still held, where he had been for almost two years. The authorities did not know what to do with him. The Jews sought for this was divided opinion among the Jews. On the Romans rested the responsibility of deciding as to Paul's future. But the Romans ducked away from the issue for, whether they decided to free him from prison or to sentence him, one section of the Jews would be dissatisfied. So the matter dragged and Paul was kept in jail waiting to have his case settled.

In the meantime there was a change in the governorship. Felix was succeeded by Porcius Festus. So, the problem of settling the case was left on the doorstep of Festus. When Festus made his first official visit to Jerusalem, prominent Jews urged him to bring Paul to Jerusalem for trial. This he refused to do, saying he would hear Paul himself in Caesarea, where he was imprisoned.

On his return to Caesarea he had Paul brought before him and asked if he would go to Jerusalem for trial. This Paul refused to do, declaring he had done nothing wrong. He then appealed to Caesar and from that there was no way out. The Governor had to send him to Rome.

It may be had time to send Paul to Rome. Festus was visited by Agrippa, a king of one of the smaller states who, along with his wife, came to pay their respects. The question of Paul was raised, and the Governor sent for Paul to present his case, himself. This he did in a great speech in which he recounted his conversion to Christianity. It is at this point in the address, when recounting the vision seen at his conversion, that he says: 'I was not disobedient to the heavenly vision.'

He tells that all he had done was to urge his hearers to repent. He protested that he had done nothing other than was done by Moses and the prophets.

The next two sections in the lesson are an expression of Paul's faith. Paul declares that we are saved by faith, that it is faith that sustains and supports us. He goes on to say that he rejoice in his sufferings, for sufferings produce endurance, and endurance produces character and character produces hope. This is a strong and beautiful statement. How often we have seen suffering produce endurance. Of course, it does not always do so. It is the faith and the Christian spirit that translates suffering into endurance. Lacking that suffering is a tragedy not easily borne.

Suffering produces character, Paul declares. Well, it does, if the sufferer is a Christian; if he has faith in the purposes of God. Otherwise, suffering breeds resentment, bitterness and despair — and character, hope. It is hard today, to maintain hope. It is hard in the face of the preparations that are being made by two great nations to destroy each other. It is hard in the face of the economic unrest and the trend towards socialism. Only as we see life through the eyes of faith is there hope for the future—the future of ourselves, the future of mankind.

The final section is taken from Hebrews. In this, the writer urges in the language of the racetrack, that Christians should remember those who have run the course and are watching the race from a higher level. They should then throw off all excess weight and run the race looking always to Jesus, who is the Author and Perfector of Faith. A great piece of advice by a great Christian. It is never easy to run the Christian race, but it can be lightened by the knowledge of the invisible grandstand and the goal towards which we run, which is Christ Himself.

TRAVELLERS' CLEVERNESS MATCHED EASILY BY GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS

Ottawa, Feb. 15.— Fines and forfeitures totalling $90,397 were imposed for infractions of Foreign Exchange Control regulations during the year 1949 it has been announced. A total of 1,065 convictions of $100 and under made by customs officials and 32 R.C.M.P. personnel, amounting to $33,726. Nine seizures totalling $18,882 were the subject of actions in the Exchequer Court, which dealt with 48 cases of $100 and over $100. In eight cases the Court ordered forfeiture of the goods or currency involved. In one case the charge was dismissed.

A total of 209 men and women were charged with offences under the Foreign Exchange Control Act and 201 convictions were obtained. Thirty-eight women and 163 men were fined a total of $37,943 for various offences involving foreign exchange.

Of the 291 convictions registered during the year, 164 involved attempts to evade travel restrictions. One hundred and three cases involved attempts to take more currency across the border than allowed by law or shown on travel permits. Forty - one men and women were convicted on charges of purchasing more than the amounts authorized for pleasure travel.

These offences followed an identical pattern. In each case the accused man or woman purchased $150 in United States funds on a Form H for pleasure travel and then a few months later returned to the same bank or to another bank and applied for $150 U.S. on another Form H. In each case the applicant signed a declaration that the aggregate amount of U. S. dollars purchased by him since the beginning of the travel ration period had not been more than $150. In most cases the ratitn was collected twice during the same year but one Toronto man made out nine separate applications for the full ration amount, receiving a total of $1,350 in United States currency. He was fined $50 and costs on each of eight charges, for a total of $400 and costs.

The remaining twenty infractions of travel ration regulations included five cases of individuals buying and selling United States dollars illegally. In one case a Saskatchewan man bought United States currency from two other Canadians who had obtained their travel rations and, in addition, sent several U. S. money orders as advance remittances to himself in care of his brother-in-law in the United States. Two others were convicted of obtaining funds for travel and then forwarding them by mail to other Canadians in the United States and two men were convicted of obtaining U.S. funds for business travel and using them for pleasure trips.

Other convictions for travel ration infringement came under the heading of "committing a breach of a general condition of a travel permit."

The ingenuity of persons attempting to smuggle U. S. or Canadian currency across the border was matched only by the alertness of customs officials in finding it. Women pinned money to their corsets, hid it in the heels of their shoes, underneath the linings of their handbags and among their cosmetics. Men, too, resorted to many crafts and stratagems in an effort to conceal funds which were discovered when searches were ordered.

Following are some of the more newsworthy cases in which convictions were secured:

An Oakville, Ont. man told customs officials at Fort Erie that he was carrying "eight or nine dollars" in Canadian funds as he was about to cross the border for a visit in the United States. Further investigation revealed that he was in possession of an envelope which he said contained papers but which actually contained $96 in U.S. funds and $20 in Canadian. A further $33 Canadian was found in his pocket. He was fined $50 for attempting to export currency from Canada without a permit and $25 for wilfuly attempting to deceive a customs officer.

A woman from St. Catharines, Ont. declared $25 in Canadian currency as she was about to cross the border from Niagara Falls. Further investigation revealed a total of $236 in Canadian currency in her purse. She was fined $50 costs for unlawfully attempting to export currency from Canada without a permit and a suspended sentence for wilfully attempting to deceive a customs officer.

A Canadian man evidently banked on customs officers having a short memory. On September 23rd, 1948 accompanied by his wife and son, he was proceeding by train to New York. To customs officials he declared that he had in his possession $250 in Dominion of Canada Bonds and 67 shares of a Canadian common stock. He was willing to surrender the bonds and stocks and arranged to leave the train at Welland Ontario so that he could turn them over to a relative. Later that evening he declared the second section of the train and when questioned declared he was carrying only $10 Canadian. Further investigation revealed the $250 in bonds and the 67 shares of stock hidden in cigarette packages in his pocket and tucked in his shoes. He was fined $100 and costs for attempting to export securities from Canada without a permit.

A man from Kapuskasing, enroute to Poland, declared $348 in Canadian currency at Niagara Falls but further investigation revealed that he has forty-six $100 Canadian bills in his sock. He was fined $500 and costs.

A Chinese from Seattle, Wash., returning to Seattle after a visit to Victoria, declared that he was carrying with him $85 in U. S. currency and $16 in Canadian currency. Further investigation revealed an additional $10,152 in U. S. currency hidden about his clothing. He was fined $525 and costs.

Two Toronto men applied for and were given U. S. funds for business travel but both were married shortly after receiving their funds and both took their brides along with them. As the business travel funds were issued on condition that they would be travelling alone, each man was fined $50 for committing a breach of a special condition of a travel permit.

One Toronto man presented a Form H. at the customs office in Fort Erie and passed through without question, but while customs officers were questioning other passengers, one of them noticed that the man had taken an envelope from his inside suit coat pocket and placed it in his suitcase. The customs officer then returned to the traveller, examined his baggage and discovered an envelope under some shirts, containing $350 U.S. He was fined $200 and costs for unlawfully attempting to export currency from Canada without a permit.

A Vancouver man found the business of buying a race horse particularly expensive. In all he paid out nearly $4,000 and still had no race horse to show for his money. In November 1946 he was given a permit to purchase $3,500 U.S. for the purpose of going to the United States to buy a race horse, on condition that all the U.S. dollars not used for this purpose would be brought back to Canada and sold to a bank in Canada. Months went by with no evidence of the import of the horse into Canada. The months rolled into years. The man was finally located in Vancouver in September 1949, where he stated that, as he was unable to locate a suitable horse in the United States he used all his American dollars for expenses and for pleasure purposes. He was fined $300 and costs for failing to comply with a general condition of a permit.

A Toronto woman operating a tourist home had her American visitors pay for their accommodation by cheque and did not cash the cheques until she had gone to the United States on a pleasure trip, at which time she opened a bank account in Florida by depositing American cheques to a total of $1,037. The woman was fined $300 and costs for this breach of foreign exchange regulations.

A Toronto man crossed the border quite legally for a visit in the United States by car, but sold the car in the United States for $1,100 which he spent in gambling in Florida. He was fined $200 and costs for failing to declare foreign currency to an authorized dealer.

Another Toronto man was apparently much more successful at the gaming tables. He was given $1,500 U.S. for a five week business trip to New York and Miami Beach on condition that he would travel alone but his wife joined him in New York a few weeks later. The couple travelled together to Miami Beach where they remained for six weeks. Their hotel bills amounted to over $2,100 which the man claimed to have been able to pay as a result of winnings at gambling. He was fined $250 for committing a breach of a general condition of a travel permit and $500 and costs for committing a breach of a special condition of his permit.

FARM FORUM REVIEW

Roy Watson, industrial worker, trudged up the dingy flights of stairs to his two-roomed cold-water flat, and paused in the shabby hall as his eyes — two only five — rushed out to meet him: 'Maw says to go down to the A and P and get some lettuce and celery," the oldest shrilled. The door opened, and his wife added wearily: 'Yes, and be sure to get yesterday's lettuce. It's three cents cheaper, and the rent is overdue."

For a moment, Roy paused and he muttered: "If only I had a little acre in the country, and a cow and some chickens . . . and a place for the kids . . ."

James Stevens climbed stiffly off the cordwood rack and with numb fingers began to uncouple his steaming horses. From the kitchen window, gleaming yellow in the fading twilight, he could see his wife working at the kitchen sink. Presently the door flew open: "Jim," her voice shrill with anxiety, "you'd better look at the big black cow. I think you're going to need the Vet. . . ." and, oh Jim ! the pump's froze up again."

"If ever I get enough money to buy a heated apartment . . ." grumbled Jim, "with no cows, no chores—just an easy chair when I've put in my eight hours. Boy! oh Boy !"

Robert Burns wrote a very wise and famous poem which contains the line: "To see ourselves as others see us." If that were only possible.

The mutual disillusion shared by laboure and farmer is disappointing, however and, according to the reports this week, there is a real desire for labour and agriculture to understand each other's problems.

This week, the discussion panel was, Do you agree or Disagree with the Following Statements :

1 The demand for higher industrial wages harms the farmer.
4 Farmers marketing schemes are against the interests of the city consumer.

The opinion on the first question was sharply divided:

Switzerville Forum says; the demand for higher wages harms the farmer, who wants to hire help. He cannot afford to pay it. Any increase in industrial wages is added to machinery prices and freight rates.

Selby Forum says; No. We feel that if our democratic way of life is to continue, we must maintain a high standard of living for all Canadians who are willing to work.

The second question was almost unanimously answered by saying that farmers had less free time than labourers, especially those engaged in dairying. 'Who ever heard of a cow going on a 40-hour week?"

Morven Forum plaintively asked:

Varty Lake thinks that on a year-round basis, farmers do have as much free time, but wants to know, why not? We pay for our own farms and thus for security, while the industrial worker must go on relief in hard times and we must support him. So says Varty Lake.

Concerning question (3):

Every forum was agreed that labour and agriculture have a great deal in common and should every thing possible to create the best understanding between these two factions. Deseronto Forum states that the press paints labour as being much blacker than it really is.

A great many forums complain about the share taken by the wholesaler and retailer. These people had better explain the necessity for their existence to many farmers in this district.

Question (4):

The majority of forums are for some sort of farmers' marketing scheme, primarily to reduce the mark up on basic produce when delivered to the consumer, and also to revert some of the handling costs back to the farmer. It is an important issue and one which we will hear a great deal more about, in the future.

Notes

Our little circular, last week, certainly had results. Many forums have forwarded their county dues. Have you sent yours?

Keep our rally in mind, April 10, at Napanee Town Hall, at 8 p.m.

Thought for discussion: by Hawley Forum — Why not some central milk marketing plant to reduce competitive trucking rates; equalize milk prices, and make more money for the farmer ?

DORLAND

Dorland, March 11. — The mild weather and disappearing snow, the early part of the week, led to the sleighing party planned by the Y.P.U. being advanced from Friday evening to Tuesday evening.

The heavy rain on Wednesday, followed by freezing on Thursday, left deep slush in many places on the roads and glare ice in others — a combination making driving uncertain.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Sanford were in Belleville on Monday, calling on Mrs. Sanford's sister, Mrs. A. E. Miles and Dr. Miles, whose home was badly damaged by fire, last Sunday.

WILTON W. A.

Mrs. Bruce Burt opened her home for the March W. A. meeting. The worship period and program were in charge of Rev. R. Bonsteel. The worship consisted of a hymn, responsive scripture reading led by Mrs. M. Perry and prayer by Rev. R. Bonsteel. Miss Keitha Babcock will be in charge of the sale of Everyday Cards, a motion carried that the Society be divided into two groups for the purpose of raising money. Mrs. George Emberley thanked all for the card shower she received recently.

Programe was on St. Patrick's readings were given by Rev. Bonsteel, Mrs. Murphy, Mrs. Harold Babcock, Mrs. B. Burt and Mrs. Don. Burt, followed with a solo by Barbara Knight. The meeting closed with a hymn and a contest prepared by Mrs. Don. Burt which was won by Barbara Knight.

Mrs. Perry expressed appreciation to Mrs. Burt for the use of her home and to Rev. Bonsteel for his excellent programme. All enjoyed a pot luck lunch.

A peaked leather - soled shoe, called the cracowe was considered the height of fashion during the Middle Ages — a chain tied around the knee held up the long toe.

TRINITY EVENING AUXILIARY
On Tuesday evening, February 21, Trinity United Church Evening Auxiliary entertained Grace United Ch. Evening Auxiliary, at a pot-luck supper. Following the supper, the president, Mrs. R. A. Ballantyne, took charge of the business, and thanked every member for coming out. Reports were read, after which Miss S. Sharey led in prayer.

The worship service and program were in charge of Grace Evening Auxiliary. The president, Mrs. R. Wightman, took as the theme, Mustard Seed People. The scripture, taken from St. Matthew, was read by Mrs. S. Harvey. The offering was taken and dedicated by Mrs. Wightman. Mrs. Fred Mellow gave a very interesting story, after which Mrs. J. Reid rendered a solo, accompanied by Mrs. Gertrude Wright. Prayer was given by Mrs. Wightman and a piano duet by Mrs. Wightman and Mrs. Wright. And his hand we cannot touch;
Still we have so many memories

Still loved, still missed, and dear.

Sleigh Riding Party

The C.G.I.T. girls had their sleigh riding party Thursday evening, at 7.30. The sleigh and horses were driven by Roy Baker. There were 23 girls and two leaders, Miss Vannest and Miss Derbyshire. We all piled into the sleigh and we were driven on the Palace Road. All had fun pushing each other off the sleigh and then trying to get back on. We arrived back in Napanee at 9.30 and we went to the church for refreshments. We all went home after having had an enjoyable evening.

School Hockey

Thursday night, the Flyers and Wings played at The Prince Charles School. It was a one-all tie. In the first period Gillott picked up a loose puck in front of the Flyers' net and scored to make it 1 to 0 for Wings. In the second period, from the faceoff Shaw got a hold of the puck and raced to tie it up. That's the way the score stood for the period and the rest of the game. McMillan and Lewis played good hockey in both nets. It was a fast and hard fought game.

Dear Mr. Bell :—

I get on the bus at 6 o'clock and get to school at half-past eight. The bus is free. We have half an hour for lunch and we get out at 2.00 or 2.30. Lunch costs $1.50 a week. We have all kinds of goody things to eat. Ice cream costs five cents extra.

The school is not as nice as ours, but the teachers are just as nice as ours.

They have a new high school here that is like our new school. The boys pick up high school children, too.

We have a playground with monkey-bars and slides and swings and things. We play a lot of new games.

The Principal's name is Mr. Hamilton.

Please give my love to all the teachers.

In Loving Memory

TRUMPOUR — In loving memory of a dear husband and father, Herbert Trumpour, who passed away on March 16th, 1948.

Though his smile has gone forever,
And his hand we cannot touch;
Still we have so many memories
Of the one we loved so much.
Though out of sight he's ever near—
Still loved, still missed, still ours;
He will live with us in memory
Until the end of time.

Ever remembered by
WIFE and FAMILY.

FRINK — In loving memory of our dear father, James Wilson Frink, who passed away March 16th, 1949.

Years of sacrifice and little of play,
Loving and giving and smoothing the way;
Kind and gentle, a friend ever true,
Our dearest possession, dear dad, was you.

Ever remembered by Daughters,
MYRA and HAZEL.

Dear Mr. Bell:—

I thought you would like a note put in the newspaper.

I get on the bus at 8 o'clock and get to school at half-past nine. The bus is free. We have half an hour for lunch and we get out at 2.00 o'clock. Lunch costs $1.60 a week. We have all kinds of goody things to eat. Ice cream costs five cents extra.

The school is not as nice as ours. The teachers are just as nice as ours.

They have a new high school here that is like our new school. The bus picks up high school children, too.

We have a playground with basketball and baseball and slides and swings and rings. We play a lot of new games.

The Principal's name is Mr. Hamilton.

Please give my love to all the teachers.

— Roberta Roy.

NAPANEE W. C. T. U.

On Friday, February 3rd, the W. C. T. U. met in Grace Church, with a good attendance. The president, Mrs. Longford, presided. The meeting was opened with a hymn, followed by prayer by Miss Mainprize. Mrs. Langford reported on the successful Silver Medal contest held at Newburgh, on January 27th. The minutes of the last meeting were read by Miss B. Hawley, secretary, after which the business was conducted.

Mrs. Thomas gave an interesting outline of the life of Frances Willard, founder of the W.C.T.U. whose memory is honoured in the month of February. Miss Willard came of fine ancestry, devoted to honour, progress and public welfare. After graduating from university and spending two years in study abroad, she became Dean of the Women's Department of Evanston University later, she gave up her literary career to give leadership in the W.C.T.U. organizing in fifty States of the Union, travelling thirty thousand miles. She organized the World's W. C.T.U. and is now carried on in fifty countries. Her own words were, 'To help forward the coming of Christ in all departments of life is in its last analysis, the purpose and a:m of the W.C.T.U.

Miss Mainprize, who had charge of the devotional part of the meeting, read Psalm 126. She told the story of Nehemiah who, after praying earnestly, was permitted to return from captivity to his own land, there he rebuilt the walls of Jerusalem. She said that prayer, work, and a living faith must go together. These three spell success. Prayer was offered by Mrs. W. Wartman.

The offering was dedicated by Mrs. Langford and the meeting was closed with the temperance doxology.

"White Queen" Defies Britain To Drag Her From African Tribe

London, Eng. — The white queen of African Bechuanaland said recently that the British Government will have to carry her, feet first, out of her husband's mudhut capital.

Ruth Williams, who was a London stenographer before she married the native chief-designate of the Bamangwato Tribe, defied the British Government in press interviews in the tribal capital of Serowe.

She stormed against the Government's reported ban on her husband's return to Serowe and rule over the Bamangwatos.

Seretse Khama, the chief-designate announced in London that the Government had exiled him from its Bechuanaland protectorate for five years and told him to get his wife out of Serowe before their baby is born, probably in July.

Khama charged he had been "tricked" by the Government into coming to London to hear its decision on the rumpus stirred up by his marriage to a white woman.

She said she is determined to remain with the tribe so that her child can be born among them.

"Seretse is a good man," she said. "I love him with all my life. The tribe loves him and wants him to be their chief.

"I will go on loving him until I die. And, believe me, I will die before I leave the tribe in the lurch. They must carry me out feet first if they want me to leave Bechuanaland."

She called a meeting of the tribal headmen to discuss the situation. Tribal drums throbbed through the bushland spreading word of the British Government's "betrayal" of Khama.

Khama said in London that he intends to consult further with his legal advisers before announcing his plans.

New Officers Recently Elected For County L.O.L.

Meeting Held in Napanee

The Annual Meeting of the Lennox and Addington Loyal Orange County Lodge was held recently in the Oddfellows Hall in the Town of Napanee. There was a good attendance present, representing the various Primary Lodges throughout the County. The Chairman for these annual sessions was the Most Worshipful County Master, Bro. S. Ronald Baker, of Forest Mills. The other County Lodge officers were present and in their places.

There were two main highlights of the day's sessions; one was the address by the retiring County Master, M.W. Bro. S.R. Baker. In a very fine way, Mr. Baker traced recent world-wide events which pointed out the work, worth and need for the glorious traditions of the Orange Order; and he summarized the work of the Orange Order within the County in the past year. The other highlight was the address, also on significant trends within the world, given by R.W. Bro. John Hammond, an officer in the Grand Lodge of Ontario East.

The business of the day was duly transacted. Amongst the business it was decided that the celebration of the Glorious Twelfth of July would be held under the auspices of Bay View L.O.L., in the Town of Napanee. Bay View Lodge has had the misfortune to lose, by fire, their hall, within the past year; and the proceeds from this celebration will be used in the erection of a new Hall.

Various resolutions were adopted as a part of the day's business; in part, these were as follows: "We, the Loyal Orange Lodge of the County of Lennox and Addington resolve that we are not in favour of the holding of commercial sports or regular games of amateur sports on Sunday, and we resolve to express our opinion in the Press, to the Representatives of the People in Parliament, and to the Grand Lodge of Ontario East."

"Whereas it has been publicly proclaimed both over the Radio and in the Press, that a certain Province would like to proclaim French as an official language within that Province . . therefore, we protest against the increase of the use of the French language within our nation as if to infer that French traditions are as real and as central a part of our national heritage as are English and British traditions."

OFFICERS ELECTED

The election of officers was held with Most Worthy Bro. Cyrus Edgar in the chair. The election resulted as follows:

Immediate Past County Master — M.W. Bro. S.R. Baker.
County Master — M.W. Bro. Kenneth Freeman.
Deputy County Master — The Rev. K. J. Crawford.
Chaplain — Bro. G. Barr.
Secretary — Bro. N. Kimmett.
Treasurer — Bro. W.E. Higgs.
Marshall — Bro. V. Drew.
First Lecturer — Bro. R. Potter.

TAMWORTH

Tamworth, March 11. — With the exception of some exhibition games, the hockey season is well spent for the local teams. On Thursday night the locals went to Napanee for the final play-off in the Addington League with Moscow boys, Tamworth winning the finals with a score of 6 to 1, which entitles them to hold the Addington Cup, this year. The cup should have been in Napanee to be presented to the winning team when the game was over. However, there seems to be some carelessness in regard to the Cup, as Newburgh won it last year, and they state now that they do not know where the cup is. However, it is felt by the people of Tamworth that, if a search were made it would not take long to locate the cup. There is one thing sure the locals hold the honours of a good, clean sportsman-like game throughout the season, whether the cup is found or not. The management of the local team expressed themselves as to the good spirit the Moscow boys proved themselves to be. They say, they never went on the ice with a finer team, and when it was all over they very heartily congratulated the Tamworth team upon their success.

The locals were very sorry that one of the Moscow team, Mr. James Evans had the misfortune to break his leg at a recent game. A benefit game is being arranged for him and will take place next Wednesday, if the ice is in good shape.

On Saturday night the League of Nations team, with headquarters at Tamworth, played the Napanee Pringles here, which ended with a score of 5 to 2 in favor of the League of Nations. This team was made up from four counties.

A WORLD CONGRESS OF FREE UNIONS

Early in t December, a new international organization of labour unions came into being, founded on the principles of democracy and international cooperation and created from the cutset to strong anti-Communist policy.

The International Confederation of Free Trade Unions was set up by delegates from unions groups in about fifty-three countries and represenring nearly fifty million workers, at a meeting held in London.

The new Confederation is designed specifically to replace the ill-starred World Federation of Trade Unions, the earlier international body which was established with high hopes only five years ago, and which has fallen into Communist hands. The ruthless determination of Soviet Russia and its satellite states to use the W.F.T.U. to further Communist policy at the expense of legitimate trade union objectives, not only alienated the responsible union leaders of the Western democracies but eventually made their further association with the W.F.T.U. impossible, since they were continually misrepresented as subserving to the propaganda line of the Communist group.

Finally, early in 1949, several of the world's free trade union organizations withdrew entirely. They included the British Trade Union Congress and the Congress of Industrial Organizations of the United States, as well as the Canadian Congress of Labour. The American Federation of Labour and the Trades and Labour Congress of Canada had remained aloof from the W.F.T.U., although both were active in the formation of the new body.

The founders of the International Confederation of Free Trade Unions, profiting by their experience with the W.F.T.U., are guarding against any such distortion of their purpose. Membership is limited to free trade unions in the democracies, and the new body has announced, as one of its aims, that it will "champion the cause of democracy and combat direct and indirect totalitarian aggression."

The policies and aims of the I.C.F.T.U. conform with the principles underlying such international declarations as the Declaration of Aims of the International Labour Organization and the Universal Declaration of Human Rights. It affirms the right of the individual to social justice, to work and to a free choice of employment, and to security of employment and of his person. It also affirms his right to join trade unions and to change his government by democratic means.

The Confederation is pledged by its constitution to co-ordinate the defence of free trade unions against any campaign "aiming at their destruction or restriction by totalitarian or other forces." It is pledged to work to enhance dignity of labour, to assist the growth of trade unions in economically and socially underdeveloped countries, to aid the economic, social and cultural interests of countries suffering from the aftermath of war, and to "protect the system of free labour and eliminate forced labour" throughout the world. It has set itself the task of working for a world system of collective security and, through the United Nations, of supporting all measures for assuring the defence of world democracy against any totalitarian aggression.

It is planned that the Confederation as a whole will meet in a World Congress once every two years. In the year between these sessions there will be a meeting of the General Council, which consists of representatives from each of the affiliated organizations. In addition, there is an Executive Board of eighteen members, elected on a regional basis, which will meet at least twice a year. Two Canadians have been elected to the Board, one from the Trades and Labour Congress of Canada and one from the Canadian Congress of Labour. The Board will direct the activities of the I.C.F.T.U. and give effect to the decisions of the Congress and the General Council.

The I.C.F.T.U. is establishing its permanent headquarters in Brussels. However, it has announced that it is trying to secure a decentralization of those activities which are not the direct responsibility of the central organization, and for this purpose it is setting up regional machinery to deal with the problems of particular areas of the world. These regional bodies will have a high degree of autonomy, although they will be directly responsible to the Confederation.

TAMWORTH W. A.

The February meeting of the Woman's Association of Trinity United Church, Tamworth, was held at the home of Mrs. F.W. Frosts, with the president, Mrs. C. Milligan, presiding. The meeting opened with a hymn and prayer by Rev. Mr. Throop. Mrs. Throop had charge of the devotional. She chose as her theme, Motives, and many worth while thoughts were brought out by the speaker. The president thanked Mrs. Throop for her splendid devotional.

Silent prayer was followed by prayer by Mrs. Throop for Mrs. Emma Richardson, one of our faithful members, who passed away recently. A few words of welcome were given to Mrs. Dan. Gilmore, who left our midst but has returned once more to reside in Tamworth. A report of the play committee was given by Mrs. W.G. Richmond. Mrs. Frank McLaughlin gave the second chapter of the book Growing with the Years, which was very interesting.

Cards were acknowledged by Mrs. Scanlin, Mrs. Reid and Mr. Alex Haggerty. Mrs. E. Bradshaw had charge of the program. Mrs. Wannamaker read two poems and a marriage contest was enjoyed, Mrs. J. Donovan winning the prize.

The meeting closed with the Mizpah benediction and lunch was served by the committee.

"White Queen" Defies Britain To Drag Her From African Tribe

London, Eng. — The white queen of African Bechuanaland said recently that the British Government will have to carry her, feet first, out of her husband's mudhut capital.

Ruth Williams, who was a London stenographer before she married the native chief-designate of the Bamangwato Tribe, defied the British Government in press interviews in the tribal capital of Serowe.

She stormed against the Government's reported ban on her husband's return to Serowe and rule over the Bamangwato.

Seretse Khama, the chief-designate announced in London that the Government had exiled him from its Bechuanaland protectorate for five years and told him to get his wife out of Serowe before their baby is born, probably in July.

Khama charged he had been 'tricked' by the Government into coming to London to hear its decision on the rumpus stirred up by his marriage to a white woman.

Miss Williams cabled him: "Everyone here extremely distressed. Please advise if coming back at all. Love, Ruth."

Miss Williams elaborated on her personal distress in Serowe, where she had been awaiting her husband's return.

She said she is determined to remain with the tribe so that her child can be born among them.

"Seretse is a good man," she said. "I love him with all my life. The tribe loves him and wants him to be their chief.

"I will go on loving him until I die. And, believe me, I will die before I leave the tribe in the lurch. They must carry me out feet first if they want me to leave Bechuanaland."

She called a meeting of the tribal headmen to discuss the situation. Tribal drums throbbed through the bushland spreading word of the British Government's "betrayal" of Khama.

Khama said in London that he intends to consult further with his legal advisers before announcing his plans.

New Officers Recently Elected For County L.O.L.

Meeting Held in Napanee

The Annual Meeting of the Lennox and Addington Loyal Orange County Lodge was held recently in the Oddfellows Hall in the Town of Napanee. There was a good attendance present, representing the various Primary Lodges throughout the County. The Chairman for these annual sessions was the Most Worshipful County Master, Bro. S. Ronald Baker, of Forest Mills. The other County Lodge officers were present and in their places.

There were two main highlights of the day's sessions; one was the address by the retiring County Master, M.W. Bro. S.R. Baker. In a very fine way, Mr. Baker traced recent world-wide events which pointed out the work, worth and need for the glorious traditions of the Orange Order; and he summed up the work of the Orange Order within the County in the past year. The other highlight was the address, also on significant trends within the world, given by R.W. Bro. John Hammond, an officer in the Grand Lodge of Ontario East.

The business of the day was duly transacted. Amongst the business it was decided that the celebration of the Glorious Twelfth of July would be held under the auspices of Bay View L.O.L. in the Town of Napanee. Bay View Lodge has had the misfortune to lose, by fire, their hall, within the past year; and the proceeds from this celebration will be used in the erection of a new Hall.

Various resolutions were adopted as a part of the day's business, in part these were as follows: "We, the Loyal Orange Lodge of the County of Lennox and Addington resolve that we are not in favour of the holding of commercial sports or regular games of amateur sports on Sunday, and we resolve to express our opinion in the Press, to the Representatives of the People in Parliament, and to the Grand Lodge of Ontario East."

"Whereas it has been publicly proclaimed both over the Radio and in the Press, that a certain Province would like to proclaim French as an official language within that Province . . . therefore, we protest against the increase of the use of the French language within our nation as if to infer that French traditions are as England as central a part of our national heritage as are English and British traditions."

OFFICERS ELECTED

The election of officers was held with Most Worthy Bro. Cyrus Edgar in the chair. The election resulted as follows:

Immediate Past County Master — M.W. Bro. E. R. Baker.
County Master — M.W. Bro. Kenneth Freeman.
Deputy County Master — The Rev. K. J. Crawford.
Chaplain — Bro. G. Barr.
Secretary — Bro. N. Kimmett.
Treasurer — Bro. W.E. Higgs.
Marshall — Bro. V. Drew.
First Lecturer — Bro. R. Potter.
Second Lecturer — Bro. H. Ed. Weese.
Deputy Lecturer — Bro. G. Garrison.

These officers were duly installed by Bro. W. Goodwin.

It was also decided to have the County L. O. L. Memorial Service in May this year, instead of in the fall; the Sunday chosen was May 21st. The arranging for this service was left with Tamworth Lodge.

After the various routine business of the Lodge was completed, the newly elected officers addressed the Lodge; and Lodge closed in due form.

Parking Meters To Be Given Trial In Napanee

About 100 Meters To Be Installed on Dundas St.

The Napanee Town Council, at a special meeting on Friday evening, March 17th, accepted a recommendation from the Police Committee, presented by Councillor Davy, to install parking meters on Dundas Street, from Adelphi Street to Robert Street and on Centre Street, from Dundas Street south to Mill Street. MI-CO meters, which require only the insertion of a coin and the turn of a switch, are to be used for a trial period of one year. The contract, which provides for 10 per cent. of any proceeds from the meters to go to the town and 50 per cent. to the installing company was chosen.

There was considerable discussion before the recommendation was accepted. All members of the Council were present except Councillor Kimmerly. A yes and nay vote asked for by Reeve Milligan, resulted in the following division: Yes: Councillors Ballantyne, Clark, Davy, Douglas, Vine and Wartman; nay: Councillors Loucks and Milligan.

Reeve Milligan said he was not in favour of parking meters and stated that the town, in his opinion, would be farther ahead if extra parking lots were established. The meters, he said, will cost about $19,000 and while there will be no cash outlay on the part of the municipality, the people who use the meters will have to pay for them. He said he was sure many town people and a majority of people in the rural districts would not favor them. He was of the opinion that the decision to install the meters should be delayed until the opinion of the Retail Merchants' Association had been given, at their meeting on Tuesday night, March 21st, and also more information should be secured as to the operation of meters in other towns comparable to the size of Napanee.

Deputy Reeve Doudiet said that parking on Dundas Street had reached the problem stage in Napanee and that installation of meters would definitely eliminate double parking, which was becoming a serious menace. Use of meters, he said, would keep traffic moving and make it possible for both rural and tow nshoppers to find a place to park on the main street. There will be free parking on the side streets and market square for motorists who wish to park for more than an hour.

Councillor Clark favored meters but thought it might be better to delay installation until the opinion of more people had been learned.

Councillor Ballantyne said that when the question came up some time ago the Retail Merchants' Association had not been in favor of meters but in his opinion individual merchants were the worst offenders regarding parking overtime on Dundas Street.

Councillor Loucks said that most of the people he had contacted were not in favor of meters. He also was of the opinion that more police staff would be required if the meters were installed.

Councillor Wartman said that personally, he did not like parking meters, but considered that they were the only solution to the parking problem.

Councillor Davy, who presented the recommendation of the Police Committee said he was entirely in favor of parking meters. He was sure that if meters were in use in Napanee, there would be better parking facilities for all shoppers. He also said that there would definitely be no additional cost to the present police force, if the meters are installed.

It was pointed out in the discussion that Napanee is the only town in the district which has not already installed parking meters.

HUTCHISON CASE AGAIN REMANDED

Hearing of the charge against Gordon Hutchison, Richelieu Hotel, of serving beverage to minors, was again adjourned by Magistrate Garvin, last Thursday, to Thursday, April 6th.

The motion by Hutchison, to have another Magistrate beside Magistrate Garvin preside at the hearing, was disallowed by the appeal court in Toronto, so the case will come up before Magistrate Garvin.

NAPANEE MAN ARRESTED AT DESERONTO

Arrested following a hit-and-run accident and a chase through the fields east of Dawson's Tourist Camp James Hart, of Napanee, will face a careless driving charge in police court, at Deseronto.

Hart is alleged to have been the driver of a car which struck a car owned by Harold Walker about 6:45 o'clock, Saturday night. The Walker car was parked on the north side of the highway near the Centre Street corner, in Deseronto, when it was hit by the eastbound vehicle, causing damage to the Walker car.

Allegedly Hart did not stop and Mr. Walker and companion, W. J. Old, gave chase. Hart's car went out of control near Dawson's Camp and Hart took out on foot, through the fields. He was followed by Mr. Walker and Mr. Old, who held him until the arrival of Chief of Police H. Pratt, who placed him under arrest.

DESERONTO DOCK BECOME PROPERTY FEDERAL GOV'T

The dock at Deseronto is soon to become the property of the Dominion Government. This has been disclosed by C.W. Duffield, who has been investigating the matter for the Deseronto Chamber of Commerce.

The question of who owns the dock, and who is therefore responsible for its upkeep and improvements, has been discussed for some time and the local Chamber of Commerce delegated Mr. Duffield to look into the matter.

Mr. Duffield says that the dock now belongs to the Canadian National Railways but is to become the property of the Federal Government, he has been informed, and will be taken over by the Department of Public Works.

The dock was originally constructed by the Bay of Quinte Railway and was taken over by the Canadian Northern Railway in 1912. When this system was taken over by the C.N.R. the dock became C.N.R. property, although it has never been used by them.

SEVERAL CASES SCARLET FEVER IN DISTRICT

A number of cases of Scarlet Fever have recently been reported to the County Health Unit. If there is any suspicion of this disease the family doctor should be called.

Uncomplicated Scarlet Fever is not usually a severe disease, but serious complications occasionally occur. And unusual complication is inflammation of the middle ear which may cause deafness. Kidney disease is an occasional complication of scarlet fever. In very young children there is danger of broncho pneumonia. Rheumatic fever can occur as a complication of scarlet fever and requires lengthy treatment.

When a case of scarlet fever is reported the house must be placarded for 21 days from the appearance of the rash. At the end of this period the card may be removed unless the Medical Officer of Health considers it in the interest of the control of the disease to leave the card on for a further period. In the presence of a contagious discharge from the ear of a scarlet fever patient the placard would be left on for a longer period.

People may have sore throat should not become close contacts of infants or young children as the streptococcic infection causing sore throat in an adult may cause scarlet fever in a child.

SCHOOL CHILDREN ENTERTAINED BY LIONS CLUB

On Monday afternoon, the pupils of both public schools, through the courtesy of the Board, were given an hour's holiday, when the Marion Dionette Show, which was brought to town by the Boys and Girls Committee of the local Lions Club, and in order to accommodate the large number of youngsters in the new school auditorium, the shows were put on by the performers.

Miss Faye Sexsmith was compli-mented by Mr. Marquette on her splendid piano accompaniment for the performance.

In the evening, the Marionettes were again shown to the members of the Club and their ladies at the Lions annual "Ladies Night."

Prior to the performance, Mr. Hal. Marquette, who with Mrs. Marquette operated the little people, spoke very highly of the conduct of the children at both shows and complimented the teachers on their splendid work, and also the School Board and the citizens of the town on their beautiful new school.

The arrangements for the affair were in charge of G. E. Gibbard, chairman of the committee with W. P. Barrett, B.F. Davy, H.W. Webster and William Dickie.

MR. HAWORTH ADDRESSES GATHERING

The guest speaker, Mr. Haworth, Secretary-Manager of the Retail Merchants' Association of Ontario, was introduced by Mr. Ralph Bell, and in his address outlined the work of the Ontario body and the many benefits and services his Association offered the retail merchants who had affiliated and advised the Napanee association to join.

He also spoke of the past and present methods of retailing, the carrying of recommended lines, advertising and the very important selection of sales clerks. The personal interest and service the latter rendered to the employer and the public was one of the most important in building up a trade and the goodwill of the buying public. Mr. Haworth pointed out the various reasons why many clerks bought positions in stores and informed his audience that the selection of help and their training was a major item in any business.

Touching on the subject of the tremendous growth of retail outlets, the speaker said it was a controlled growth, responsible largely to the supervision of the Retail Merchants' Association of Canada, an organization that watched over the interests of the small as well as the larger retail outlets.

In concluding his remarks, Mr. Haworth spoke of the advantages of affiliating and asked that the Association give some consideration to this matter.

Mr. J. D. Mayhew expressed the thanks of those present to the guest speaker for his interesting and informative address.

Mr. D. P. Roblin was Chairman of the meeting.

ENTERTAINMENT ST. PATRICK'S NIGHT

In spite of one of the worst snow blizzards of the winter the Napanee Town Hall was filled to capacity on Friday evening, March 17th, for the St. Patrick's entertainment sponsored by the Holy Name Society of St. Patrick's Roman Catholic Church. T. H. Breaugh acted as chairman for the programme.

The main item on the programme was a 3-act play, "The Luck of the Irish", which was received with hearty applause from the large audience for its wit and the excellent acting of those who portrayed the different characters.

Besides the play there were several musical numbers, the first of which Miss Agnes Cavanaugh acted as accompanist. Herb. Gaulin opened the programme with the singing of "The Kerry Dance", which was well received. Mr. Gaulin sang two songs, "When the Little Shamrock Flows" and "Dear Old Donegal". Later in the programme he gave a clog dance, which was especially good.

Miss Marguerite Kennelly contributed a tap dance number, accompanied on the piano by Herb. Gaulin and on the violin by Marion Kent.

A group of five small boys and five girls gave a song and dance number, which was very entertaining. The boys and girls, dressed in old-fashioned costumes, gave a folk dance and sang "The Low-Backed Car". This was composed of Beverly Jack, Dolly and Allan Luby, Bobby Quinn, Michael Breaugh, Mary Beasore, Mary Ann Exley, Marie Byrnes, Beverly Paquin and Mary McCarten.

The grand finale of the programme was "The Irish Shamrock".

Following the closing number the two leading characters in the play, Pat Murphy and Mike Kennelly, on behalf of the caste, presented Mrs. T. H. Breaugh with a bouquet in recognition of her services as director of the play.

A social evening followed, for which music was provided by Don Johnson's orchestra.

Ministerial Association Monthly Meeting

At the March meeting of the Napanee and District Ministerial Association the guest speaker was Rev. Dr. W. E. L. Smith of Queen's Theological College, formerly minister of Selby United Church. Dr. Smith spoke on the subject of the history of the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper. He compared the accounts of the Last Supper in the first three gospels and other New Testament passages which show the significance of this sacrament to the early Church.

It was a matter of much interest to the ministers to compare the orders for the celebration of the Lord's Supper of Holy Communion in different churches, and to trace their evolution from those used in the primitive Church.

The president of the ministerial, Rev. Noble Hutton, presided at the meeting which was held in Grace Church. During the business session several matters concerning the moral welfare of the community were discussed.

Seated at the head table, besides the hostess, were Mrs. George Drew, of Ottawa, Mrs. John Bracken of Manotick; Mrs. Russell Boucher of Ottawa, Mrs. Howard Green of British Columbia, Mrs. Geo. Pearkes, Vancouver Island, Mrs. C. McLure of Prince Edward Island, Miss Browne of Newfoundland, Mrs. A. L. Smith of Alberta and Mrs. L. Balcer, of Quebec. OF INTEREST TO FARMERS

Owing to increased requirements of requests for information pertaining to liquid fertilizers, the Ontario Fertilizer Board has released the following statement:

"Liquid fertilizers disregarding cost are very convenient for house plant use, greenhouses, etc. A gallon of commercial liquid fertilizer containing approximately two and one-half gallons of water to the acre costs approximately $3.00 The same quantity of plant food in the dry form costs around 30 cents. On a ton basis, a 5-10-5 fertilizer in the dry form costs approximately $45.00 The same quantity of plant food in the form of liquid fertilizer costs over $800.00.

To-date, there is no experimental evidence under Ontario conditions to indicate that liquid fertilizers have any more beneficial effects on growth of farm crops than ordinary dry fertilizers of the same analysis when properly applied."

The Antarctic winter became so bleak during 1948 that even the penguins deserted the inhospitable icebound shore and flocked inland, more than 2,000 miles southwest of Perth, Australia.

Boys' and Girls' Agricultural Clubs Conferences To Be Held

Four important conferences for local leaders for Boys' and Girls' Agricultural Clubs in Ontario have been arranged. One was held at the Western Ontario Experimental Farm, Ridgetown, on March 17th. Another will take place at the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, March 29th; another at Peterboro Normal School on March 31 and the fourth at the Kemptville Agricultural School, on April 19th.

Morning program for these conferences will include discussions on clubs work and a question period. Dealing with questions submitted will be A. E. MacLaurin, secretary of the Canadian Council on Boys and Girls' Work, E. F. Pineau, Associate Chief of Production Services, Federal Department of Agriculture, both of Ottawa, and T.R. Hilliard, Assistant Director of Extension, Ontario Department of Agriculture.

Club leaders will also participate in this part of the programme.

Practical demonstrations on preparation and showing of exhibits in dairy, and beef cattle, swine and field crop products will constitute the major part of the afternoon program. In addition, instruction will be given leaders of Tractor Clubs.

Young People Hear Address, Rev. Swayne

On Monday evening, March 6, the Young People of Grace and Trinity Churches had as their guest speaker, Rev. E. F. Swayne of the Bay Chapel. The worship service was in charge of the president, Mary Hambly. Rev. E. F. After a period of recreation led by Verna McTaggart, lunch was served by the girls of Trinity Church. The evening came to a close with a Friendship Circle and the singing of Taps.

County Council Talks Disposition Memorial Fund

Matter Referred To Committee

Discussion at the opening session of the March meeting of the Lennox and Addington County Council, centred around the disposition of the $63,000 reserve fund which has been set aside in the past few years for a War Memorial. Deputations were present at the Council meeting from Tamworth Legion, Camden Agricultural Society and Napanee, asking for funds for establishing recreation centres. Letters were also received regarding the fund's disposition, from South Addington Women's Institute, Sheffield Township Council and Tamworth Legion.

The matter was finally referred to a committee composed of the members of the Post War Planning Committee, the Reeves of Napanee, Camden and Richmond.

Tamworth Legion, in its letter and through spokesmen at the meeting, Mr. Davidson and Mr. Inkster, asked for a share from the fund for the building of a covered rink in Tamworth, which could be used the year round as a recreation centre.

George McGill, president of Addington Agricultural Society and Fred T. Bell, a director of the Society, stated ten acres of the Addington Fair grounds would be donated if a recreation centre could be established. Lorne Smart and Douglas Aikenbrack, representing a group of Napanee citizens, presented the case for the town of Napanee. Present facilities for recreation, they said, in the town of Napanee, are not a credit to the town or county. They asked that a committee of the Council meet with the Citizens' Committee of Napanee to discuss the erection of a recreation centre in the town. Mr. Smart and Mr. Aikenbrack told of visiting recreation centres in various parts of Ontario and mentioned in particular the Seaforth building, which includes an arena with seating capacity for 1,500, besides a community hall, rest rooms, lounge and snack bar, erected at a cost of $87,000, including an artificial ice plant.

Reeve Johnston of Adolphustown said that the original idea of establishing the fund was that whatever disposition was made of it, should be a county project. If the money was divided up among the municipalities, there would not be sufficient for any one to do anything worth while. He said that Napanee was the centre of the county and was the logical place for a memorial recreation hall.

Reeve Drew, of Camden, said that at least $15,000 of the fund was earmarked for rest rooms in the town of Napanee. He was in favor of splitting the balance among the other municipalities for recreational purposes, and said that a Council committee from Camden would like to consider the matter. Mr. Drew stated that sports in Napanee were given very little support by the citizens and that more interest was shown by rural people in the sports efforts of their communities. He was strongly in favor of dividing up the money.

Reeve Milligan of Napanee said that the fund was started in 1945 with the purpose of erecting a building in Napanee, equipped with rest rooms and offices, which could be used by the whole county. Later he said, a hospital was suggested as a memorial, but that idea had been shelved. He said that the original purpose of the fund would be defeated if the money was divided among the municipalities.

Reeve Courneya of Kaladar, chairman of the Post War Planning Committee, said he did not like the idea of splitting up the money. If it were done there would not be sufficient for any community to do something worth while.

Several other members of the Council spoke supporting the idea of splitting the money.

BOARD OF HEALTH SUGGESTION

A recommendation was received from the County Board of Health, that a by-law be passed by Council to provide for the licensing of eating places in the county at a yearly fee of $10.00 The result of licensing, it was said, would be that a certain standard would be enforced. A by-law has been submitted to the Municipal Board in Toronto by the Board of Health and will be considered later in the session, by the Council.

Mr. Drew asked the Council to give consideration to placing chairs and tables in the corridors of the Court House for the use of citizens who have to wait for interviews with the officials using offices in the building.

A report of the Property Committee stated that the Court Clerk had been asked to move into the room in the Court House, formerly used as a jury room, and that the Clerk in the County Road Office be allowed to use the room formerly used by the Provincial Police. It also was recommended that fluorescent lights be installed in the court room.

Fosbraey Trial At Spring Assizes Next Tuesday

Chief Justice of Ontario, J. C. McRuer To Preside at Trial

The Chief Justice of Ontario, Mr. Justice J.C. McRuer, will be the presiding judge at the Spring Assize of the Supreme Court of Ontario, which opens in Napanee on Tuesday, March 28th. There are just two cases on the docket — one a civil action for divorce, and the other the charge of murder under which James Fosbraey is being held in the County Jail. Mr. R.E. Nourse of Picton, has been engaged as counsel to act for Fosbraey.

Fosbraey is charged with the murder of his wife, June Fosbraey, in South Napanee, on the evening of Monday, November 28th, about 100 yards from the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Curran.

Fosbraey appeared before Magistrate Garvin at the Napanee Court House on Tuesday, December 20, for preliminary hearing and was committed for trial by Magistrate Garvin. At that time Fosbraey was not represented by counsel. Evidence was given at the preliminary hearing by Laverne O'Connor, Lieut. P. Gardner, officer in charge of the Napanee Salvation Army; Leo Blute, Miss Mildred Robinson, Mrs. Percy Minden, L. T. Spencer, Constable James Driscoll, O.P.P., Harold Foster, Dr. W. E. Burns, Dr. Day, pathologist at Queen's University and by police officers.

Fosbraey, who is 28 years old, is alleged to have killed his wife, June, aged 28, by stabbing her through the heart as she was returning to her home, from work. Shortly after June Fosbraey was found dying on the roadside near the residence of Mrs. N. B. Miller. Fosbraey gave himself up to officials at the county gaol and formally surrendered to T. B. Sharpe, Chief of Police of Napanee, and Constable Benn.

Fosbraey, who is a native of England, came to Canada with the R.A.F. during the recent war. He met his wife while she was working in England and married her a little over five years ago. They had one daughter, Carol, who is now four years old. He transferred from the Air Force to the Canadian Army and served overseas. He returned to Canada three years ago, and since then had worked at several jobs in the Napanee area. In September of last year he returned to England ,but came back to Napanee about a week before his wife was killed.

FIRE CHIEF TO MAKE INSPECTION

The Ontario Fire Marshal has ordered the Chief of the Napanee Fire Brigade to make an inspection of buildings in Napanee, where fire hazards are thought to exist.

Some recent fires in the town have revealed that unsafe conditions are being allowed to continue without efforts to correct them. Cellars have been found with ashes stored in wooden boxes and cartons. Other rubbish has been left near furnaces and pipes. Stove pipes are not being cleaned and, in many cases, are not properly protected where they pass through floors and partitions.

Householders and business men would do well, for their own protection, to check on fire hazards on their premises.

The Fire Chief was authorized to order unsafe conditions to be remedied and if his order is not carried out, to take steps to have the work done and charged to the occupier or owner of the premises.

R.C. Jackson Appointed County Solicitor

R. C. Jackson was appointed Solicitor of the County of Lennox and Addington by the County Council on Tuesday of this week.

HOOLIGANISM

Hardly a day passes but some new report is published about youthful hooligans who gang up on some innocent and unsuspecting adult, and beat him up. The toughs seem to frequent the larger centres of population, like Hamilton, Ont., Windsor and Toronto, Ont.

There have been many explanations of this. One thing that emerges from a study of the situation is that it is not, by any means, a local condition. It is world wide.

Figures released in Great Britain show how serious the situation has become. Since 1947, the offenders, under the age of seventeen, have jumped 24 per cent. One boy out of every fifty in the population has appeared in court. Of the fourteen-year-olds, 16,754 were found guilty of larceny, and 7,696, the highest total of any age group, of breaking and entering.

Jack Winocour, writing in a British magazine, says that a lot of reasons have been advanced for this state of things — the war, divorce, bad housing, bad movies. "But, this," he says, is to ignore the root cause. The pattern of children's behavior is modelled on that of adults. Juvenile delinquency does not exist in a vacuum; it is a reflection of a malaise in society. Juvenile crime is rising because adult crime is on the increase. . . . If adults pilfer and fiddle, it is only to be expected that children will follow suit."

Well, that is a new slant on why there is so much hooliganism in modern society, and there is probably a good deal in it. After all, if the home life of our country is what it ought to be, there might be the odd black sheep, but not organized gangs of teen-aged toughs would be scarcer than hen's teeth.

GREAT SMALL THINGS

Many apparently 'small things' have turned out to be milestones in history. It looks now, as though the Labor party in Great Britain might be able to weather the storm. It has survived three significant votes. But it may just be that it will have its worst trial, not because of these votes, but because a Negro in Africa married a White woman. The Negro is a second generation Christian, and a graduate of Oxford. But he is the head of a tribe in Africa — and that means things up a bit for the Labor party. He cannot rule without the consent of Britain, and Great Britain refuses it.

The reason why Great Britain will not approve the marriage is because of the tense color situation in South Africa. Color discrimination is written right into the constitution of South Africa. The initial constitution of the Transvaal, for example, said that "The people desire to permit no equality between Colored people and the White inhabitants, either in church or state." The whole life of South Africa has been based on this racial discrimination. Now, if Great Britain should sanction a wedding between a Negro chief and a White, it might well be the beginning of serious trouble in South Africa.

On the other hand, the Labor Party in Great Britain has been the champion of racial and economic equality, and many of the members of the party are opposed to the Government's policy of racial discrimination. Should the matter ever reach the floor of Westminster, for discussion, there will be plenty in the Labor Party who will oppose the Government's policy. But when it comes to a vote it may be a different story. Nevertheless, it is interesting to note what influence such a small thing at the wedding of a Negro and a White, in far off Africa, may have on world policies.

A GOOD BUDGET

The Budget address of Premier Frost, delivered on Friday last, was his eighth consecutive budget address. The Premier announced a surplus of $1,004,000, after providing $20,626,000 out of current revenue for debt retirement. That is a pretty good picture of Ontario's finances.

Some drastic changes in taxation were reported in the address. The amusement tax will be cut from 20 to 15 per cent on April 1st, on conditions that the saving is passed on to the patrons. Already the movie people have promised to pass on the savings.

The tax on horse racing will be increased from 19 per cent to 12½ per cent. That is not a great increase, but it will mean considerable revenue to the Province.

The Prime Minister has announced that, in future, an amusement tax will be applied to amateur sporting events, when those who take part in them are paid. This is a thorny subject, for it is difficult to determine at exactly what point the line between amateur and professional sport is to be drawn. It seems to be the intention of the Government to tax all sports events where athletes receive money—no matter how much or how little.

Other changes include a 25 per cent. bonus payment to hospitals. Increased grants of $810,000 to Universities, and increased grants of $5,136,000 to education.

Perhaps the item of most general interest was the announcement that the Government will spend more than $42,000,000 on highways, this year. It is planned, as well, to spend another $39,000,000 next year. Some of that will be spent to extend the dual highway east from Oshawa, where it now ends, to Port Hope. Some, too, is to be spent in the Peterborough - Belleville area. These are two projects in which the motorists from Napanee and district will have a share.

Perhaps the most notable feature of the address was the spirit of co-operation with the Federal Government which Mr. Frost displayed. This is a new experience for Ontario. Ever since the former Premier Hepburn broke with Ottawa, a spirit of antagonism has existed. Now, that seems happily ended. With good will between Ontario and Ottawa, legislation which has been hanging fire for some years, will be advanced a step nearer completion. The only stumbling block still in the way, is Quebec. Premier Duplessis, of Quebec, has not yet announced any change of attitude to Ottawa. . . . The announced policy of Ontario's co-operation may have some effect on Quebec's Premier.

THOUGHT IT WAS FINISHED!

It is a pretty safe prediction that most of us believed that the winter was over. Indeed, the warmth of the sun, last Thursday and Friday mornings, seemed conclusive evidence that winter was fading out of the picture. Come Friday noon and there was a wee flurry of snow, but the flurry continued and, in time, became a real old-fashioned storm. Roads were blocked, trains were late. Buses were hung up and time-tables were shot to pieces.

It may have been the equinoxial gales that did it. The spring equinoxes are called vernal and occur on March 21st — as in distinctin from the autumnal ones, which fall on September 22nd. Well! if there were equinoxial gales, there was nothing very "vernal" about them. They were anything, but.

However, it is all over now. Spring came in on Monday night at eleven thirty-six or something like that. The sun is getting higher, and the storm was probably winter's dying kick.

This was finally settled for us on Monday morning, when we heard the familiar honk-honk of the geese, flying north. The first thing we know there will be maple syrup on the market.

Our village is too small to bear the cost of extra policing.

Our tourist business will go ahead, not with the noise, dirt and hazard of more drinking, but with quiet sane development of our one natural asset — the shore-line.

Local merchants will probably pay out more in extra taxes than they will receive from extra business.

There will be more property damage.

There will be more fighting.

There will be more highway accidents.

There will be more husbands drinking, with women, not their wives.

There will be more ruined men.

There will be more hungry children.

There will be more bad children.

Good citizens will move away at every opportunity.

Character always degenerates when mixed with alcohol.

For these and other reasons, I hope the residents of Bath will vote NO, next Wednesday.

Yours respectfully,
A. T. DENHOLM.
Bath, Ontario, March 20th.

THE CHURCH IN ROME

Lesson Text: Romans1: 1, 7-12; Acts 28: 14b-15, 30 31.

One of Paul's great ambitions was to see Rome. He had his prayer answered, but not in the way he had expected. He got to Rome, right enough, but he goth there as a prisoner. It will be remembered that Paul had been in prison for a year and a half. The authorities had made a pawn of him. He was pushed around from one prison to another. His case was adjourned time and time again. Finally, in desperation, he appealed to Caesar. There could be no more calling. Once the appeal was made he had to be acted on; Paul had to be taken to Rome as a prisoner. The letter to the Romans was written before he went there. Probably there were a few Christians in Rome. It was to these he wrote.

In this first verse Paul declares his apostleship. There were those who continued to insist that Paul did not have any authority because he was not one of the original twelve disciples. He makes this position clear here. He was 'called to be an apostle' he was 'set apart for the Kingdom of God.'

Well! Paul's prayer was answered and he got to Rome. But his prayers had been answered in a way he had not looked for, nor expected. It often happens that way. Our prayers may not be answered; some may be answered directly and still others, like that of Paul, about Rome, in a round-about-way. The little group of Christians knew how to get wind of his coming, for a few of them were on hand to meet him when he arrived. Paul must have got wind of his coming, too, for he took courage. What a lot courage means to us. Not only the courage to go on with, but courage to be minded with us. Paul was a hard thing. He had gone through enough to discourage anybody. He was probably down in the depths when he arrived under guard at Rome. But the sight of a few Christians, bucked him up no end. He took courage. His subsequent actions in Rome showed just how courageous he was.

Here he was, a stranger in Rome and a prisoner at that. But he set to work to change the city. He got to work on everybody he touched. He talked religion to the guards; he talked to the servants. Fortunately, he was a sort of preferred prisoner, for he had a little house of his own and was able to see visitors. Paul got after his visitors, too. He preached to all he could get to listen. The authorities had no objection. He preached so the record has it 'quite openly and unhindered.'

Paul must have had not only indomitable courage but profound faith as well. Just think what he set out to do. He believed he could convert the whole city — and he went at it. Apparently the people Paul came in contact with in Rome were people in official positions and people of influence. By interesting this group, he was on the right track, for they would be able to influence others.

One of the big jobs the church has always been faced with is that of producing leaders. When our missionaries go to a foreign field, they have difficulty in attracting the devotees of leading people. Consequently it takes a long time to convert any of that group. More frequently than not, they have to develop leaders out of the lower groups. That takes a long time to convert any of that group. More frequently than not they have to develop leaders out of the lower groups. That takes a long time, but it is necessary. The church must have leaders. In our own country, too, it is good strategy for the church to get the leaders of a community as active and devoted folkewrs of Christ. They exert an influence over others. Paul would no doubt have preferred to be free and hold his meetings where he liked. When he could not do that, he set out to get leaders. He got them, too! for the time, though Paul did not live to see it, the whole of the Empire admitted that Jesus had won the day, and Christianity was recognized as the official religion.

Paul talked as naturally about his religion as he did about the weather. That is not easy. The Church was founded on witnessing — it is an art we could recapture with profit to curselves and to the Kingdom of God.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

To The Editor of
The Napanee Beaver.

Dear Sir:

In one week the citizens of Bath decide at the polls whether Local Option is to remain or not. May I make my position clear on this important matter.

The statement appearing in this paper, March 1st, is misleading. Villagers are not deciding whether or not they will have beverage rooms. The ballots merely refer to a WOMEN'S Beverage Room. That means, no man may enter unless he is escorting a woman. There can be no beverage room for men only.

The other ballot being voted on concerns a Dining Room Licence.

Voters have four possible choices: (1) Vote 'yes' on both ballots; (2), vote 'No' on both vallots; (3), vote 'yes' for the Women's Beverage Room and 'nb' for the Dining Room; (4), vote 'no' for the Beverage Room and 'yes' for the Dining Room.

If ever the Village wants a Men's Beverage Room, it will have to hold another plebiscite.

As an individual citizen of Bath I intend to vote NO on both ballots. I hope many others will do the same.

PSORIASIS

A New Concentrated Prescription Found

Psoriasis is a chronic skin eruption characterized by circumscribed red, scaly adhesions. We do not know that a cure for Psoriasis has been found, but this prescription will clear the skin for approximately six months to one year. The prescription is a clear, colorless and odorless liquid and it contains no oil or grease. Clothing and linens cannot be stained or marked. Application is simple. The affected parts are washed with a pure soap and warm water, the prescription Exoff Concentrated is then patted on with a small swab of cotton—apply night and morning. You can get this prescription at all druggists, simply ask for 3 ounces of Exoff Concentrated and if your skin is tender or gets dry, you should also obtain ½ ounce of Exoff Ointment. Cut this out as a reminder—it is well worth a trial.

LEADER in SALES

There's no question about this matter of leadership. FORD'S OUT FRONT! Look at the record . . . look at the leader . . . before you buy any new car.

HERE'S THE RECORD:

FORD	30,038 CARS
CAR #2	27,314 CARS

LEADER in STYLE

Twice-in-a-row style winner—only Ford has ever won such honor! Again in '50, Ford has been awarded the Fashion Academy Gold Medal as "Fashion Car of the Year"—over all makes in all price classes!

the '50 FORD

Here, we believe, is proof far more convincing than any mere "claim" of QUALITY in the field of low-priced cars. It is Ford's two-way leadership . . . leadership in sales, awarded to Ford by the buying preference of Canadian motorists . . . leadership in style and beauty, confirmed by the Gold Medal Award of the "last word" in fashion authority, the Fashion Academy of New York.

Ford leadership plainly underlines the fact that buyers who want the best are swinging their choice to the '50 Ford . . . 50 WAYS NEW . . . the One Fine Car in the Low-Price Field!

That's why we say it's wise for you to see and "Test-Drive" the '50 Ford before you accept less than the Leader offers!
